VOLUME 6 THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1916 NUMBER 16

ROAD INSPECTOR HERE NEXT WEEK

Jefferson Highway Manager to Be Accompanied on the Trip by Local Men.

SEE WESTERN ROUTE FIRST

Will Go to Border Over Red River Valley Line Returning Over Old Pembina Trail Through Kittson Marshall and Pennington.

Daniel Shaw, president, and C. L. Hanson, member of the executive committee of the Northern Minnesota Jefferson Highway association, have practically completed arrangements for the entertainment of J. D. Clarkson of Missouri, manager of the association, who will make a tour of inspection of the proposed routes through the state next week. The party starts from St. Paul in the 25, and will be accompanied by President H. H. Orme of the Minnesota Automobile association.

The plan now is to examine the western or Red River route first, returning over the Central or Pembina Trail route. It is likely that Mr. Shaw will accompany the expedition from the outset, he having been requested to act as representative of the Central route.

Want More Autos

It is impossible to state just on what day the party will be in Thief River Falls, much depending on in what shape the Red River Valley route is found. It is the intention, however, to have as good representation meet the expedition at Karlstad or Hallock, and accompany the members through Marshall and Pennington counties. C. L. Hansen and Matt Barzen have already placed their cars at the service of the commission, and as many more as care to make the trip are invited to volunteer the use of their machines.

The cities along the Western route are putting forth every effort to have the highway established so as to traverse their section, but the roads already available as well as the natural advantages of the Central and Eastern routes make it highly probable that one of these will be seelcted.

In Excellent Condition.

On Sunday Mr. Shaw made a trip over the route of the proposed highway as far as Karstad. He was accompanied by H. W. Protzeller, E. M. Schutt, George Werstlein and a Times representative. The road along the ridge is in excellent condition as far as the Kittson county town, and reports are to the effect that the remainder of the distance to the border is in fully as good shape. As a natural highway the Pembina ridge cannot be excelled by any similar stretch in this country. Rain only has the effect of packing it the harder while the surface for nearly the entire distance is sufficiently coarse to make it impossible for any ordinary wind to blow it about.

Is Judicial Highway.

After striking the old Pembina trail to the west of the city, this thoroughfare is followed for the entire distance to Karlstad. The stretch has been declared a judicial highway by the district court and the entire distance surveyed and staked out. When the new road is built it will follow the general line of the old trail, but all the crooks and turns will be straightened out. It is known that simply removing the surface sod and scraping to a low crown will produce a highway that will stand up under any kind of traffic. The ease with which such a highway can be maintained is one of the big features in its favor.

Four bridges will have to be constructed in order to make the greatest possible use of the natural advantages offered by the ridge—one overhead structure across the tracks of the Soo west of Viking, and regular highway bridges over the Middle, Snake and Tamarack rivers.

An All Year Road.

Gravel ridges are found along the entire course, and this is an item which will not be allowed to escape notice of the gentlemen making inspection trip. This will provide an easy and economical means of covering the short clay stretches on the route as well as furnish the very best leveling material where this is necessary.

There is no question but that the old Pembina Trail offers the best and most economical route for an all-year highway from the southern boundary of Red Lake county to the Canadian border, and when all its advantages are properly set forth there should be but little difficulty in establishing this fact in the minds of the commission.

Two Graduate From "U"

At the graduation exercises of the University of Minnesota held last Thursday evening, two Thief Riverites were awarded diplomas marking the completion of four years of hard study.

Morlan Bishop, son of Mr and Mrs. J. M. Bishop, 121 Duluth avenue north, who graduated from the local high school with the class of 1911, was awarded the degree of bachelor of arts, having completed his four year course. Morlan was the youngest to graduate from this department, and there were approximately 1,000 in this class. He was also the youngest to graduate with his class from the local high school in '11. The young man expects to continue his studies next year in some eastern university.

From the English department of the "U," Miss Agnes Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson, 223 Markley avenue north, graduated the same evening. Miss Wilson completed her studies in the local high school in 1912.

AMERICANS CLASH WITH MEXICANS

From Mexican sources comes the report of an engagement between Americna troops under command of Gen. Pershing and a portion of the Mexican army near Carrizal, Mexico. The report states that 12 Americans were killed and 17 taken prisoners. The Mexicans lost 14 dead and 30 wounded.

Washington has received no official report of the engagement from Gen. Pershing. Word from the commander of the American forces in Mexico is awaited with much anxiety, the general feeling being that war with Mexico is inevitable.

No formal declaration of war has been issued by either government.

ROAD AND BRIDGE WORK IS AWARDED

Ole Aasen Gets Job 3 on State Road No. 4; Enebeck Bros. Lowest on Job 4, Road 3.

The contracts for a number of roads, bridges and ditches were let by the board of county commissioners at the meeting on Thursday and Friday of last week. There were three bidders for the dragging, ditching and barrow work on State Road No. 4, job 5, the contract being let to Ole Aasen for $1,030.85. The other bidders were Lloyd Crown and Henry Wilder.

Lloyd Crown was the only bidder on job 3, Road No. 6, and he was awarded the contract.

Two bids were submitted for the work to be done on Job 4, State Road No. 6, one by Barrett & Co. and the other by Enebeck Bros. & Tripp. Action on this matter was laid over until the last day of the meeting, when it was awarded to the last named firm.

Bids for bridges across repair ditch No. 16 were opened as follows: Twin City Bridge company, $4,100; Minneapolis Bridge company, $3,750; Northern Construction company, Thief River Falls, $3,410.00; M. A Adams, $3,625. The Northern Construction company being the lowest bidder, was awarded the job.

FINISH TAKING TESTIMONY IN MUD LAKE CASES

The contest cases involving the ownership of lands on the ceded Mud Lake district, came to a close on Saturday morning after having occupied the attention of Municipal Judge W. N. Tarrant and Probate Judge Wilhelm Michelet for five days. There were 20 cases in all, each judge hearing the testimony in ten of these.

The cases will now be renewed by the United States Land officials at Crookston, who will rended their decisions as to the ownership of the tracts involved. The record covers something over 3000 folios, and it will take an expert an entire month to get the matter in shape for presentation.

Langum Winner in Minneapolis

Otto. S. Langum, sherrif of Hennepin county, is one of the candidates who will make the run for mayor of Minneapolis this fall. In a field of twelve candidates he received the next highest vote at the primaries on Monday, the top position going to Thomas Van Lear, Socialist. Otto S. Langum is a cousin of President G. M. Langum of the Thief River Falls Business College.

VOTE IS LIGHT AT PRIMARIES

About Half of Total Voting Population Turns Out to Express Their Preferences.

KELLOGG CARRIES COUNTY

Endorsement Accorded Congressman Steenerson, Representative Stenvick and Clerk of Court Ives is Feature of Monday's Balloting

The big outstanding feature of Monday's primary election is the remarkable vote received by Halvor Steenerson, who is a candidate to succeed himself as congressman from the Ninth district. He received a total of 897 votes, as compared to 195 for his opponent, A. G. Anderson of Fergus Falls. This is considerably better than four to one and is the most emphatic endorsement given Mr. Steenerson by any county in the district.

Frank B. Kellogg received a substantial plurality for United States senator, while Gov. Burnquist led S. G. Iverson by about 300 votes. Representative Stenvick made the best comparative showing of any of the candidates, having a clear majority of 65 in a field of four.

Harry E. Ives, candidate to succeed himself as clerk of the district court, was also accorded a very flattering endorsement, receiving 564 votes out of a total of 1,314, there being four candidates. Adolph Ecklund will be the November running mate of Mr. Ives, he having received the next highest vote, running 25 ahead of Herman Ohm.

For lieutenant governor J. A. Peterson received the endorsement of Pennington county, as did Julius Schmall for secretary of state, and Henry Rines for treasurer. Elias Steenerson carried the county against Judge Mills for railroad and warehouse commissioner, but failed of election. W. B. Anderson has a majority over his three opponents for supreme court justice.

Times Candidates Endorsed

To the Times the most gratifying feature of the election is the nomination of Kellogg for senator and renomination of Steenerson for congressman. This was the original Kellogg paper in this section, its publisher being one of the signers of the editors' announcement, pledging support in case that Mr. Kelogg would allow his name to be used. It is absolutely certain that the people will have no cause to regret the choice made, Mr. Kellogg being regarded everywhere as one of the very ablest men in America today. His attitude on the question now confronting the nation was clearly stated in his announcement, and that this is highly approved is evidenced by the result.

That Congressman Steenerson would be endorsed was a foregone conclusion. That his opponent would carry his home county of Otter Tail, however, was expected, but he even failed in this. The Ninth district representative goes into the campaign with a majority of the votes in every county in the district pledged to him, and there is not the slightest doubt but that he will be elected by the largest vote he has ever received. His majority was the largest given any congressman seeking reelection in Minnesota.

A table giving the official vote of each precinct will be found on page 2 of this issue.

Secretary Fred T. Lincoln of the Commercial club, has received asurances to the effect that the meeting here of "Telestevnet" will be the biggest thing of its kind ever seen in the northwest. From reports now at hand it seems probable that the delegates and other visitors will number over 2,000 persons and preparations have been made for the entertainment of a crowd of this size. During the past week a neat advertising folder has been gotten out at the office of the Times, and 1,200 of these have been sent out to prospective visitors. The invitation follows:

"The 'Telestevnet' of America will be held in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, Friday and Saturday, June 23-24, at which time we expect to entertain two thousand or more mebers of the 'Lag' from different states of the Union.

"We take pride in the prospect of having this large gathering of representative men and their families with us. Their entertainment and comfort will be our first and last thought during their stay here.

"Our handsome Auditorium is at their disposal and the modernly equipped club rooms of the business men's organization will be open for their entertainment. Auto tours of the city and into the surrounding country will be made and the day programs will be made interesting by prominent speakers, including Halvor Steenerson, congressman from this district and a member of the 'Lag.' The evenings will be given over to musical programs by (Hardanger) violinists and other artists.

"Good fellowship and good cheer will mark your stay in this, the Hub City of the most remarkably developing section of the northwest, where men know hospitality and where Opportunity knocks often at the door of all who will hear its call.

"Your presence is cordially invited to this gathering of the hosts and our assurance of a visit marked by interesting sights and scenes, enlivened by oratory, music and good cheer, is made with the firm conviction that our people will live up to every expectation.

"We urge your presence and that of your families and your friends and extend cordial good wishes for you and your's."

HAVE YOU ANY ROOMS?

All people having rooms that they wish to rent during the two days of the "Telelaget" meet are requested to notify the Commercial club at once. 2,000 people are coming.

LOCAL CHURCHES SEND DELEGATS TO MEETINGS

United Norwegian Lutheran Church and Hauges Synod ..Convention at Fargo and Red Wing

Two church meetings of great importance to the Norwegian people residing in America are being held this week. One of these is the yearly convention of the United Church at Fargo, and the other the meeting of Hauge's Synod at Red Wing. Delegates from the congregation of the first named body in Thief River Falls are Olaf Ramstad and T. P. Hamre, who will be accompanied by Rev. O. P. Staavas, pastor of the congregation. Bethany church, which is also included in the call of Rev. Staavas, is being represented by B. Hammer, Christ Larson and T. Skerping. Hauge's Synod congregation is being represented by Rev. A. N. Skogerbo. Two delegates were selected to make the trip with him, but business reasons at the last minute prevented their going.

The most important subject coming before these meetings has been the question of the union of all Norwegian churches in America under one head. The Synod at its last meeting in Minneapolis formulated articles of agreement upon all controverted questions and these have been favorably passed upon by the other conferences this week.

Called To Washington.

Owing to the fact that important duties called him to Washington, Congressman Halvor Steenerson will not be able to be in Thief River Falls to speak at the "Telelag" meet, which convenes Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Steenerson left for the national capitol on Monday.

To Dedicate School

The new school house recently erected at Strandquist will be dedicated on Friday, June 30, and appropriate services will be held in the afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock. Several speakers have been secured for the occasion, among these being Ex-Governor Eberhart, C. C. Swain of the state department of education, and County Superintendent David Johnson. The program will be interspersed by several musical numbers and songs by schol children and a mixed sextette.

SOME DETAILS OF A DECISIVE VICTORY

Pennington Proves Banner Steenerson County in the Primary Campaign Just Closed

Martin Widsten, who has been here the last six weeks in charge of the Steenerson campaign, left for his home at Warroad today.

He says that during the recent campaign 143,000 pieces of literature were used to promote the re-election of the congressman. This includes cards, circulars, letters and signs. Postage stamps to the amount of $500 were used, a large proportion of which went through the local office. In the primary campaign in competition with Mr. Bjorge, some years ago, 227,000 pieces of literature were used, and in the campaign between the congressman and Senator Peterson 85,000 pieces of literature were put out. Two years ago, when Mr. Osborn, of Glyndon, was Mr. Steenerson's opponent, the committee only used a little over 7,000 pieces of printed matter.

The victory won at the recent election was one of the most decisive of Mr. Steenerson's political career, and was notable for the great changes in the line-up supporting him. Red Lake Falls, which has always been a Steenerson stronghold, went for Anderson, while the townships in eastern Polk county, which have always been difficult, went almost solid for the congressman this year.

In the Sageng campaign the congressman lost three counties, Otter Tail, Norman and Polk, and in the Bjorge campaign Becker county returned a majority for its home candidate, but with these exceptions Steenerson carried every county in the district at every election since he was first nominated fourteen years ago.

This year Pennington county is his banner county in the percentage vote, closely followed by Roseau and Marshall.

This is the first year that Thief River Falls has been used as the location of the headquarters for the campaign, and the city has received a good deal of advertising because of the fact that nearly every piece of literature issued bears the name of this city.

Seven of the delegates from Minnesota to the Chicago convention were candidates at the recent primary election.

The successful ones are Henry Rines, Ernest Lundeen and L. E. Jepson—and they all voted for J. F. Jacobson for member of the resolutions committee.

The unsuccessful ones are R. L. Johnson, Eberhart, Anderson and Duxbury—and they did not vote for Jake.

Either it is lucky to vote for old Jake or else the people of Minnesota have come to the conclusion that they prefer the Jacobson kind of politicians to the Sullivan kind.

Anyway there is some significance in the fact that the Jacobson followers were successful and the four anti-Jacobson men were defeated.

GRAND JURY MEETS MONDAY MORNING

The June term of court of the Fourteenth Judicial district will convene on next Tuesday at the court rooms in the court house, Judge Andrew Grindeland presiding. The Grand jury will convene on Monday. Eighteen cases, in which the parties involved have been bound over from municipal court to this body will come up, Sixteen of these are for violations of the county option law, and the seventeenth for keeping an unlicensed drinking place. and the eighteenth is accused of manslaughter in the first degree. There are eight continued cases and eight new cases. A class of eight will be examined for the granting of naturalization papers on July 20.

RIG UP FLOAT FOR BIG PARADE

All Business Men of the City Urged to Take Active Part in the Big Pageant.

BOYS AND GIRLS TO MARCH

These Will be Equipped With Liberty and Uncle Sam Hats—Log Rolling Contest to be Interesting Feature.

In order to make the parade a success and one of the substantial features of the big Fourth of July carnival of fun and frolic, it is important that every merchant and business man have a float in the line of march and the general committee urges all to take an interest in this particular feature.

It has been decided to have the parade at 11:00 a. m. sharp, and floats will line up at the corner of Main and Second streets at 10:30 sharp in order to be in line and ready to start on time.

Incoming trains will bring a large number of people from towns down the line and it was decided to hold the parade at 11:00 o'clock on this account. Jesse LaBree will be marshall of the day and have full charge of the parade. Merchants are earnestly urged to be prompt and have a good representation in the line.

Boys and Girls.

The Commercial club needs 100 boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 10 years to march in the parade. Cocked hats for the boys and Liberty hats for the girls will be provided. Art Selvig, of Black's Sweet Shop, will be in charge of the boys. The Woman's club will detail one or two ladies to have charge of the little girls. Each boy and girl should carry a small flag and they can provide themselves with these. It is suggested that the little girls dress in white if possible.

Sports Program.

The program of sports down town will begin early in the morning and will be in charge of C. A. Pitkin. All who expect to enter the events should see Mr. Pitkin early, before the day of the celebration if possible. The different events will be pulled off on business streets in order to give the merchants the benefit of the crowds and stores will be open until 10:00 a. m. The confectioners and soft drink places will be open until later but in the afternoon there will be little doing down town and stores will be closed.

Log Rolling.

T. B. Stauff has agreed to put on the log rolling contest on the river, and has already secured at least two crack artists in this old time feat of the lumber jack. It is hinted that Tom has a "dark horse" in line who he expects to run in and win the $5.00 the committee is offering, but another report has it that St. Hilaire will send a lumber jack here who can dump anything or anybody who ever rode a log. This will be one of the big events of the day's program.

Nielsen's Defy

L. C. Nielsen, the LaBree avenue meat market man, is ready to race any man in the county a distance of five miles for a purse, and issues a challenge to that effect. He suggests that the contestants race two and one-half miles out the state road east and return. Don't all speak at once but if you want any of Nielsen's game, advise C. A. Pitkin.

Carnival at Night.

Merchants are laying in big stocks of confetti and the evening of the Fourth will be made gay with plenty of fun and frolic down town. The band boys are planning upon a fine dance music program for the big ball at the Auditorium and this will be one of the events of the celebration. The chairman will name his committe to have charge of the fire works this week and plans for this feature will be worked out.

Auto Races

Fred Haug has sent out entry blanks for the auto races and is having a number of inquiries. There promises to be several entries from out of the city and the races between the smaller cars will be interesting and exciting. Some events between high power machines are also expected. Motorcycle riders who care to compete are invited to communicate with Mr. Haug at once as he must make up his race schedule early.

Baby Cyclone.

Several hundred dollars in damage to property resulted from the strong wind this afternoon. Trees were uprooted, windows broken and car roofs blown off. The grand stand roof at the fair grounds was also blown off.

Velkommen, Telelaget. Tak for sist.

And to think there were people in the Ninth district who actually thought that Steenerson had a hard fight on his hands to retain his seat in the house of representatives.

Eberhart has sent a telegram of congratulation to Frank B. Kellogg, offering his aid in the coming election. That's what the ex-governor should have done when the rest of the state first demanded Kellogg.

The legislative scrap in the Sixty-fifth again narrowed down to the contestants of two years ago—E. T. Stenvick of Clearwater county, and J. A. Duffy of Red Lake county. If the primary showing is any criterion the final result will also be the same as at that time.

One of the surprises of the election was the defeat of Jim Peterson as a candidate for the lieutenant governorship. It looks as if his supporters took too much granted, while the Frankson people were up and coming all the time. The latter utilized the advertising columns of newspapers liberally, with the usual result.

Congressman George R. Smith of Minneapolis, was defeated for re-nomination. It is claimed that his vote on the McLemore resolution was responsible for this. Congressman Clarence B. Miller was nominated in the Eighth over one of the strongest and most popular men in the state. Miller voted just as Smith did on that more or less momentous resolution and was, presumably, endorsed because of that vote. As a matter of fact, their attitude on that particular measure had very little to do with the result in either case.

It looks very much as if the United States has started in on that clean-up job down in Mexico. It might have been better had this country stepped in and performed this task two years ago, but this delay is not near so serions a matter as the fact that we are no better prepared for an undertaking of the kind now than we were at that time. Our Mexican policy has been a mistake from the outset and it is now likely that we will pay dearly for it all. The start has at last been made, however, and it is to be hoped that there will be no let-up until a stable and responsible government has been provided for the harrassed and unhappy republic to the south.

And Duluth Went Dry.

There were a number of surprises in the results of the election on Tuesday, but none of these were greater than the outcome of the wet and dry fight in Duluth. While it was generally known that there was a strong sentiment in favor of no license at the head of the lakes, it was not thought likely that this would assume such proportions as to seriously threaten the existing order of things. The largest vote ever registered in the city was cast on the proposition, and the drys won by majority of 540. This result in the city of Duluth will in all likelihood mean a boozeless St. Louis county, which, in turn, will exert a tremendous influence on the outcome when the question of a dry Minnesota comes up before the next legislature.

Liquor is now prohibited in by far the largest section of the state, either by local option, county option or Indian treaty provision, and there is no question but that the sentiment of the majority of the people is against the traffic. When cities like Duluth, Portland, Seattle, Superior and Denver take the pledge it is an indication that state and national prohibition is not only on the way, but coming fast.

One outstanding feature of the Duluth campaign was the cleanliness and decency with which it was conducted. In this respect the Minnesota city has it over all the other municipalities of the same class which have gone through the same throes before her. The people there will consequently get over the scars of combat the sooner and will finally agree that all are better off for being forced to patronize old Lake Superior when thirst assails them.

The Model City Charter.

(From The Survey)

Shortly after the national municipal league was founded, 21 years ago, it organized a strong committee of men whose names afterwards became historic in municipal reform and who devised a model charter and municipal home rule constitutional article. They had no hope that any city would ever adopt their charter verbatim, and none ever did; but no charter committee could entirely ignore the document, and it had a profound influence during the next two decades, its main message being a plea for simplicity and for freedom from checks and balances and red tape. It called for an elective mayor with complete and undivided appointive power and a small council elected at large, very much like the present new governments of Boston and Cleveland

About 1910 the short ballot movement and the top wave of commission government came along, pushing the demand for simplicity still further, and so the league allowed its model charter to get out of print and studied the newer idea with considerable, but not complete, approval. It did, however, instantly accept the commission-manager plan when that appeared three years ago, and organized a new model charter committee in 1913, consisting of William Dudley Foulke, M. N. Baker, Richard Childs, John A. Fairlie, Mayo Fesler, A. R. Hatton, Herman G. James, A. Lawrence Lowell, William Bennet Munro, Robert Treat Paine, Delos F. Wilcox and Clinton Rogers Woodruff. The committee has made several partial reports and has finally produced a complete charter and a home rule article for a state constitution, embodying what it believes to be the best current experience and theory.

The new model charter is a commission-manager plan and calls for the election of a city council of variable size and methods of election. This council hires, from anywhere in the country, a city manager who is their sole agent and chief executive of the city, with appointive power over the rest of the city's administration, except the clerk, auditor and civil service commission, whom the council chooses.

This model charter demonstrates how modern municipal government has caught up with the reformers. At least a dozen cities with the commission-manager form have charters that differ from the model only in minor details and much of the draftmanship of the model has simply been discriminating work with shears and paste. The old model charter was a lonesome pioneer. The new model charter merely falls in line abreast of Dayton, Springfield, Niagara Falls, Cadillac and Ashtabula. It marks the close of a period in municipal reform—a period of forging tools for democracy to work with. So far as the tools are concerned, the reformers are now at the end of their inventiveness and can devote their entire attention to output, as Dayton, for instance, is already doing, with results that look most promising.

SPECIAL CONVENTION BARGAINS AT STORES

"Telelag" Visitors Will be Offered an Attractive List of Bargains During Thier Stay.

Not only will the delegates and other visitors to the big midsummer meeting of the "Telelag" be given the freedom of the city, but our merchants are competing each other in their attempt to furnish bargains so attractive that the visit here will prove one of of profit as well as pleasure. Every wide-awake and progressive store in the city will have something special to offer during the last two days of this week and their announcements will be found in this issue of the Times.

It is sometimes a matter of doubt whether or not newspaper readers in this section fully realize the fact that the stores of Thief River Falls are everywhere regarded as among the best in the state. The goods handled are of uniform high quality and the service of the very best. The merchants are for the most part consistent advertisers and are always offering something on which the careful reader can save money. Nowdays the advertisements in a newspaper are read even more carefully than the news matter. The high cost of living make any reduction in price a matter of much importance to every reader, and the newspaper is the medium to which he or she naturally looks to furnish the information concerning these saving opportunities.

The habit of reading the advertisements is one of the most instructive an entertaining, as well as the most sensible and valuable, which can be formed by anyone. The merchant who is ashamed of his goods never advertises, while the one who carries the kind of stock most in demand is always the party who most extensively utilizes the only accepted publicity mediums—the newspapers.

Merchants themselves are sometimes woefully ignnorant of the real benefit of their advertising. It happens occossionally that the particular article on which they are laying particular stress in their publicity matter does not sell as readily as they think it should. In such cases they ump at the conclusion that the advertisements have not been read. As a matter of fact this only proves that the one article offered was not wanted at that identical moment and that the merchant himself had not correctly gauged the time for offering it. Chances are, however, that when that article iswanted the newspaper reader will remember having seen it advertised and will go to the store having it. And this holds good in spite of the fact that the price inducement may no longer exist.

Sucessful merchants everywhere know that advertisements are being read with greater care and greater interest than ever bebore. They pay high salaries t o men who do nothing but get up their announcements, while the prices paid for newspaper space constitutes a considerable item in the fixed charges of running the business. In some cases this adds as much as ten per cent to the overhead, but they know that the money is well expended or they would not do it.

"THE TIMES IS ONE OF THE BEST"---JUDGE BANE

Former Resident of Thief River Falls Pays High Compliment to This Paper.

Judge John R. Bane, original owner of Riverside addittion to Thief River Falls and still heavily interested in real estate in this city, in renewing his subscription to the Times says: "By the way, you edit and publish one of the best weekly newspapers I know of. If you will 'dun' me about 30 days ahead of the expiration of my subscription it will teach me to be more prompt."

Mr. Bane is now judge of the superior court at Oelwein, Iowa, and a testimonial like the above from a man in his position, being rather unusual, is all the more highly appreciated. It goes to prove that people really interested in Thief River Falls and Pennington county recognize the fact that the Times is the medium through which they can keep thoroughly posted on what is going on in the neighborhood.

Harvey Mussey, editor of the Grygla Eagle, passed Tuesday in the city attending to business matters, and visiting at the home of his son, Homer.

Lincoln Portrayed in "Birth of a Nation."

Joseph Henabery, the actor who portrays President Lincoln in D. W. Griffith's historical spectacle, "The Birth of A Nation," was selected from twenty players who were coached and prepared for the part before the choice was made. Mr. Lincoln's appearance and mannerisms were carefully counterfeited, even to the small but interesting detail of the president reaching back for his shawl just a few minutes before Wilkes Booth attacked him.

It was a spring day in Washington. April 14, 1865, but a late frost had set in that night and it was raw and cold. Mr. Lincoln felt the chill and drew the shawl around him.

The first scene in "The Birth of a Nation" showing the war president, is of Lincoln signing the call for 75,000 volunters. Around him are his cabinet heads and private secretaries. Lincoln fully realized the momentous character of the act that summoned federal troops to subdue the individual soveriegnity of rebelliuos states. After the deed was done and the attending company departed, he slowly buried his face in his hands as if in prayer.

Another view of Lincoln's character is exhibited in his granting of a pardon. As this scene opens, the gorgeously uniformed diplomatic representatives are being received by the president. They then depart and he turns to a plain middle-aged woman dressed in sombre black, who had been waiting a hearing. She tries to kneel to him, but he gently raises her up and talks to her, reads her petition and signs the paper granting to her the life of her son.

After the Appomattox surrender the leader of congress calls with a proposal to deal harshly with the south for its rebellion. "I shall treat them as if they had never been away, is Lincoln's gentle answer. Then, two or three days later comes the awful tradgedy in Ford's Theatre, Washington, when southern hopes for clemency is blasted by the assassin Booth's maniac act. That great and terrible scene is reproduced in the play to the minutest detail. Mr. Henabery, the portrayer of the great president, has been widely compathos of his characteriation. See the "Birth of a Nation" at the Lyceum, July 6-7-8. Adv.

CITY MANAGER PLAN POPULAR

No Municipality in Which This System Has Been Tried Has Ever Returned to Old.

IS PRAISED EVERYWHERE

Not Only Insures That City Will Live Within Its Means, But That All Moneys Expended Go Where Most Needed

The way to find out whether or not a thing is good, is to ask someone who has tried it.

If the people in any one of the cities which have adopted the city manager plan of government were consulted, there is not the slightest doubt that the testimony in its favor would be overwhelming. The big argument in support of the system is that it centralizes responsibility and eliminates waste. There is someone to whom the people can look for results and of whom they can demand an explanation if these are not forthcoming. There is no such thing as blaming failure onto some other department or shifting responsibility onto someone else. A competent man at a fair salary is placed at the head of affairs, and he remains there only so long as he proves himself competent. This is the way any successful organization would conduct its business affairs, and the outstanding indictment against American municipalities is that they are not successful business concerns.

One City's Experience

In March, 1908, the City of Staunton, Va., with a population of 12,000 or more, threw off the yoke of municipal government by council committees and adopted the thorough business method known as the "city manager plan." whose prototype is found in every large private corporation. The people of that city would not go back to the cumbersome and expensive operation of municipal government through council committees, many of the leading business men claiming that the new system is so immeasurably superior to the antiquated council committee plan that the wonder is that it was not adopted years ago.

A Minnesota Example

The little city of Morris is the only Minnesota municipality having adopted a charter similar to the one proposed for Thief River Falls. S. A. Seiverts, Jr., the city manager for that town says that the plan is working better than anyone thought could be possible. As an example of the advantages of doing business sensibly, he says: "We are planning this summer improvements amounting to around $15,000 on our water works. Before the city manager plan went into effect this department was loosing money. The profits for the past year amount to about $2,500, exclusive of the permanent improvements This year, with a saving of 50 per cent of the power now used, which will be accomplished with the changes in contemplation, profits will amount to about $5,000. The biggest part of the water bonds, amounting to $25,000, due in 1918, will be retired. There was about $6,000 in the sinking fund two years ago when the change was made. By increasing the appropriations for this fund and adding the accrued profits of the department, the above retirement will be possible. When it is considered that after 18 years of operation only $1,000 had been accumulated to refund the original cost, while the amount of this cost had been practically repaid in interest, it will be seen that a system which, without any greater burden, provides for the clearing up of the entire amount in seven years must be welcomed."

A Business Proposition.

Hon. John Crosby, president of the common council of the city of Staunton, is the author of a brochure on the subject of the manager plan of city government, and as he is an official of a municipality which has tried out the plan, his words should have some weight. He says:

"The stockholders in a private corporation are the people who own the stock; the taxpayer in the municipal corporation is the one who owns the city, and is, therefore, one of its stockholders to the extent of the amount of taxes he pays. The stockholders of the private corporation elect their president and board of directors; the taxpayers elect their mayor and council. The board of directors of the private corporation elect their general manager, and the president and general manager are the paid employees, and they are the men to whom the stockholders look to make a success and produce dividends.

"Would any private corporation consider for a moment conducting their business through committees composed of stockholders who receive no pay for such service, and who had other business affairs to look after, and who would devote only spare moments, so to speak, to the business of the corporation? A corporation run on this plan would hardly produce dividends, neither would its stock be sold at a premium. Now, we have simply done as do the private corporations. We have elected a general manager, a paid employee, to attend to the business of the city and produce dividends for the taxpayer by keeping his taxes down to the minimum rate and giving him value received for every dollar he pays into the municipal treasury."

The Scheme in a Nutshell

The city manager plan simply means that you are hiring a competent man to see that you get a dollar's worth service or supplies for every dollar of your money expended. The same man also makes suggestions as to where any improvement can be made over the present way of doing business, just as if he were at the head of any other big corporation. It is his business to know where the best supplies can be secured for the least money, and to secure such supplies there. He will be supposed to study out the best, quickest and most economical way of performing labor necessary for the well being and progress of the entire municipality and to report the result of his studies to the council. It will be his duty to see to it that incompetents are kept off the city pay roll and that every man under his direction earns his wages just as conscientiously as if he were working for some other concern.

The adoption of the new charter will mean that Thief River Falls will be known all over the country as one of the cities which has adopted the modern, sensible and, only, approved method of doing business.

BIG MILEAGE MARKS MADE BY MAXWELLS

Recent Performances of Touring Cars Show a Minimized After-Cost

Fuel Tests in This Country and Abroad Prove Low Gasoline Consumption.

In South Africa —31.3 miles on two ounces less than a gallon of petrol.

In London, England—33.6 miles on a new mixture of oil and petrol.

In Seattle, Washington,—44 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

In Detroit, Michigan— 44 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

In Oakland, California—45.6 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

The attention of the automobile public has been drawn at various times this spring to notable mileage performances of Maxwell cars. In view of the upward trend in the price of gasoline, a great deal of importance is attached to the after-cost of automobiles and the officials of the Maxwell Motor company take great pride in the records that have been made by their product.

Above are listed some of the more remarkable of the series of economy marks registered by Maxwells. These are taken from a greater list of economy records. Unsolicited testimonials to the high mileage records made by Maxwell cars are constantly coming to the Maxwell offices at Detroit.

Oakland Run Largest.

The most encouraging feature of the economy runs is that the highest mileage was obtained in the more recent tests. The California run was made on May 3. On that day, Ray McNamara drove a stock Maxwell touring car from Oakland, California, to San Jose. The mileage obtained was 45.6 miles on a gallon of gasoline. This run was observed by the newspaper men and by the officials of the Lincoln Highway Association and the San Diego fair.

This run was a little better than the mark made by the same driver in Michigan, early in April, when he drove a stock car and made an even 44 miles on a gallon. On that day, the weather conditions were unfavorable, the temperature being close to freezing and a strong head wind prevailing most of the distance.

In Foreign Fields.

Most of the economy tests abroad have been staged in mountainous country and have proven the endurance as well as the economy of Maxwell cars. The South African test was made around Table Mountain, which has two fairly steep gradients. Adv.

Impossible To Get So Much Motor Car Value For The Money

WE FIND this is the attitude of many people who come into our salesroom—before they know anything about the Maxwell.

Not until the Maxwell is shown and demonstrated to them—until they sit in it and examine the finish—until they ride in it—or perhaps not until they drive it themselves, do they realize what a tremendous value is offered in the Maxwell car.

It is not unusual that Maxwell value should not be known to everyone, because it is uncommon to find such a car for a good margin more than the Maxwell price.

The Maxwell stands absolutely alone in a highly competitive field, for the amount of value it offers for the price.

Appearance—The lines of the Maxwell are decidedly attractive. There is no break in the contour from the radiator to the back of the car. The fenders are gracefully shaped. All metal parts are enameled or nickel-plated. The upholstery is deep and well-finished. From any angle it is a car that the owner can be proud of.

Motor—The engine in the Maxwell car is not equalled by any other four-cylinder engine of its size. And we know of larger and more expensive cars that have less able power plants. The Maxwell engine carries its load through mud and sand or over the steepest grades without a falter.

Quality—The materials in the Maxwell car are the best that can be bought and the workmanship that turns them into finished parts is no less excellent. It is only the large production of the Maxwell factories that makes it possible to put such quality of materials and workmanship into a car selling at the Maxwell price.

Economy—With its other attractive features, the Maxwell is a most economical car to own. Owners get 22 to 25 miles per gallon of gasoline and 8,000 to 12,000 miles per set of tires. And the car is so durably built that repair expense is negligible.

We are sure you want a car such as we have described the Maxwell to be. If you will give us a few minutes of your time we are sure we can convince you that the Maxwell Car is an exceptional value. Come in today.

At Lyceum Tuesday.

Dreaming by day and night, at work or in her lonely attic, the little girl found at last, that dreams, though in a modified form, are sometimes converted into realities. The prince of her dreams walked into the department store where her allotted work was to sell handkerchiefs to all who would buy—and then a beautiful photoplay resulted; a bluebird feature filled with thrills, fascinating in its love-theme, gripping in the tenseness of its interest and brimming with optical delights in the brillancy of its photography. Such is "The Crippled Hand," to be exhibited here at the Lyceum theatre on on Tuesday, June 27th, with Robert Leonard the prince of the dreamer's dreams, and Ella Hall the little dreamer.

SELLING PIKE PROVES UNPROFITABLE BUSINESS.

Game Warden William Munch of Crookston, has been in Thief River Falls during the past day or two bent upon seeing that the fish laws of the state were being obeyed. He found several infractions, and the offenders were brought before Judge Tarrant to answer the charges against them.

John Doe, accused of selling pike contrary to the statutes in such case made and provided, paid $10 and costs, amounting in all to $13. Henry Louse, against whom a similar charge was brought, was dealt with in the same manner.

Matt Anderson, giving his place of residence as North Dakota, was charged with catching fish without a license. This cost him $5 fine and $3 costs.

The warden also arrested Jake Sadloske of Red Lake Falls, for selling pike. Justice E. G. Busse of that city, fined the culprit $25 after he had been found guilty as charged.

Red Lake river has been stocked with pike, 124,000 fry having been put in this season and 160,000 last year. This fact makes it an offense against the laws to sell any fish of that species caught in the river. Mr. Munch also found that a number of small boys had been guilty of selling fish, but let them go with a reprimand. He did not wish to place them under arrest as it is likely they were unacquainted with the law, but warned them that repetition of the offense would get them into serious trouble.

PLACE FOR PICNICS IS NOW PROVIDED

Park Board Has Natural Beauty Spot Brushed and Cleaned Up and Leveled.

The park board has just completed the work of clearing, grading, leveling and otherwise beautifying the natural park along the river bank at the south end of town. This spot was formerly known as "Lovers Lane" and is one of the most delightful in this immediate neighborhood. Milton Forder had direct charge of the work, and as he is rather an artist when it comes to landscape improvement, the job is a particularly good one.

The underbrush has all been cleared away from around the trees, these latter consisting mostly of elms and box elder. They are the natural growth and the geometrical precision of the ordinary city park is thus lacking, but this fact only makes the place all the more alluring. Rustic seats and tables have been provided so that everything is in readiness for picnicers and all they have to bring with them is the necessary lunch.

One of the reasons why this park has not been made greater use of has been the steep approach. Many people have found the hill leading to the place too steep to be negotiated comfortably and have therefore never visited this really charming spot. This hill has now been cut down until it offers no terrors even for those who are somewhat short of wind.

This work has been done at very slight expense and the park board is entitled to the thanks of the people for having provided such a convient outing place.

RAILROAD MEN ARE DENIED 8 HOUR DAY

Meeting of Railroad Confrees to Avert Strike Came to an End Last Thursday in New York

Members and Non-Members of Brotherhood to Vote on General Strike

The railways of the United States have absolutely refused to comply with the requests of the railroad men and more than 500,000 union and non-union workers of America will vote within a month on the advisability of calling a general strike to enforce their demands for an eight hour day and time and a half for overtime. as a result of the failure by representatives of the railroads and the men to reach an agreement in New York City last Thursday afternoon, after a two weeks conference.

On Monday of last week the conference came to a sudden halt shortly after resuming sessions, when the railroads submitted a counter proposal to the demands of the men. The workers have asked for an eight hour day, time and a half for overtime and the continuation of the existing rules calling for double compensation for different classes of service during the same working day. The answer to their demands was a tentative offer to compromise, granting the eight-hour day and overtime, providing the double compensation rule was wiped out. In other words, the railroads maintain that if the men desire a shortened day, they must put in the full time whatever class of service they are assigned. Under existing rules an engineer on a 100 mile run—usually considered a day's work—is granted overtime, if within his working day he performs another class of service. The result of that days conference was unexpected.

A. B. Garreston, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors voiced the sentiments of the men when he said in reply to Elisha Lee, chairman of the railroad managers, shortly after the former had finished reading the outline of the "yard stick" method:

"Our proposition is not modfiable—it is either it, or nothing. Our chief demand is the eight hour day. The overtime is simply a penalty to enforce it. Our answer is that if the "yard stick" is your united offer, there is no reason for continuing this conference."

Chairman Lee declared that he could not agree with the brotherhood. "The overtime," he said, "would act as an incentive to the men to lengthon their day's work."

All hopes of adjusting the dispute faded when the railroads submitted a tentative compromise offer to the men, granting their demands, but eliminating the majority of existing "double compensation" rules. The conference adjourned on Wednesday of last week to give the railroad managers an opportunity to discuss further their stand on this point, but when they met the men the following day, they not only refused to make a specific offer covering the compensation rules, but advised that their differences be submitted either to the Interstate Commerce Commission or to a board of arbitration to arbitrate under the provisions of the Newlands act. The men declined both offers and the decision to take a strike vote followed. The 500 delegates of the four brotherhoods of railroad men who attended the conference, decided on the necessity of taking a strike vote at a secret meeting following the break. A. B. Garretson, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, announced shortly afterwards that the ballot would be drafted that evening and distributed to all railroad men, before the end of this week. Canvassing will take at least three weeks, and before August 1, 1916 the result will be known. If a general strike is voted, the leaders will return to New York City and again present their demands of the men in an effort to gain the demands in full or a compromise without the necessity of putting the strike actually into effect.

Extra Coach Needed.—Owing to the increased amount of traffic an extra day passenger coach is being carried on both 109 and 110, Winnipeg-Twin Cities flyers. The car is all steel, and is side tracked with the regular Thief River Falls Pullman sleeper and then attached in the evening to 110 going south.

To Take "Exams".—Several firemen at this division will go to Harvey, N. D., next week for the purpose of taking examinations to be promoted to locomotive engineers. Those who will leave are: Carl Johson, who is at present firing on the day switch engine; Elmer Holland and Fred Schultz. Traveling Engineer Staples will conduct the examinations.

BROTHERHOOD WINS HEADLIGHT BATTLE

Interstate Commerce Commission All Engines To Be Equipped With Strong Lights.

Delegate From Thief River Falls Tells of Proceedings at Brotherhood Convention.

All railroads of the United States have been ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission to equip their engines with uniform headlights of sufficient candlepower to distinguish an object on the tracks as large as a man for 1,500 yards. This information was sent to the international convention of the Brotherhood of locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at Denver, Colorado, on Tuesday of last week. The convention is still in session and will continue until July 1. There were exultant shouts on the part of the delegates. They had won a big battle. The message meant that they had at last gained a victory over the railroads, which has been going on for years, a battle which means much to the men and the public. It will undoubtedly cost the railways a large sum of money, because of the necessity of changing their headlights to conform to the standards to be ordered by the commission.

C. E. Hellquist, Soo Line fireman on the Winnipeg division, member of the Firemen's Protective Board of the local Firemen and Enginemen, lodge No. 103, who is a delegateto the convention, writes the Times under the date of June 15, telling of the work done by the assembly.

Mr. Hellquist states that one of the acts of the delegates was the passage of a resolution commending Governor Hunt, of Arizona, for his stand during the Clifton-Morenci strike of miners. The report of the resolutions committee recommended careful study by the delegates of the co-operative plan in distribution of the necessities of life. The legislative boards of firemen of various states were urged to obtain an enactment of anti-injunction laws similar to the section of the federal Clayton act dealing with the issuance of injunctions.

In the matter of claims it is interesting to know that the firemen and enginemen's brotherhood has paid out during the last fiscal year $883,974.55 to disabled members and to the beneficiaries of decedent members. In the last thirty five years the brotherhood had paid out the enormous sum of $18,189,167.75 for these classes of claims.

At Tuesday's session the delegates adopted resolutions of regret at the death of James J. Hill, empire builder. The delegates arose during the reading of the resolutions, which were adopted by unanimous vote.

The convention also adopted the report of the special committee, which recommended that the attitude of the brotherhood in the matter of prohibition remain unchanged. This is as follows:

"The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen is unequivocalably and uncompromisling a temperance organization. In fact, the percentage of men in its ranks who even occasionally take a drink of intoxicating beverages is very limited and none of its members drink to excess, and its officers are total abstainers.

"Prohibition of itself constitutes the platform of a political party, hence the committee in making its report on this resolution felt that inasmuch as it was entirely superfluous for the brotherhood in view of its attitude towards the liquor traffic, to declare itself anew, particularly as in so doing it would indorse a political party and there being no occasion therefore, recommended that no action be taken on the resolution advocating that the convention indorse prohibition and this recommedation of the committee was adopted.

The Strange Case of MARY PAGE

The Great McClure Mystery Story, Written by FREDERICK LEWIS In Collaboration With JOHN T. M'INTYRE, Author of the Ashton Kirk Detective Stories. Read the Story and See the Essanay Moving Pictures

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Publication

SYNOPSIS

MARY PAGE, an actress, is accused of the murder of James Pollock, and is defended by her lover Philip Langdon. Pollock has been pursuing Mary for many months endeavoring to win her love and her hand in marriage, but his attentions have been very unwelcome to her.

Knowing her stage aspirations, he has, unknown to her, financed her starring tour under the management of Daniels.

On the night of the murder, Mary leaves the banquet hall in the Hotel Republic and enters the Gray Room alone expecting to meet Langdon. She has been lured there by Pollock, who has been drinking.

A few moments later a shot is heard and Langdon and others, upon entering the Gray Room find James Pollock shot through the heart and Mary Page lying in a faint beside him with Pollock's revolver not six inches from the ends of her fingers.

At Mary's trial she admits she had the revolver. Pollock had invaded her dressing room at the theatre. Langdon had come to her rescue, the revolver had been knocked from Pollock's hand and Mary had seized and retained it. She had put it in her hand bag the night of the murder intending giving it to Langdon.

Her maid testifies that Mary threatened Pollock with it previously, and Mary's leading man implicates Langdon.

How Mary disappeared from the scene of the crime is a mystery. Brandon tells of a strange hand print he saw on Mary's shoulder.

Further evidence shows that horror of drink produces temporary insanity in Mary.

The defense is "repressed psychosis." Witnesses described Mary's flight from her intoxicated father and her father's suicide.

Nurse Walton describes the kidnaping of Mary by Pollock, and Amy Barton tells of Mary's struggles to become an actress, of Pollock's pursuit of her and of another occasion when the smell of liquor drove Mary insane.

There is evidence that Daniels, Mary's manager, threatened Pollock. Mary faints on the stand and again goes insane when a policeman offers her whisky.

Daniels testifies that Pollock threatened to kill Mary and Langdon and actually attempted to kill Langdon.

Two witnesses describe Mary's flight to the street from the hotel and her abduction by men from a gambling place near by. Further evidence seems to incriminate Daniels.

Maggie Hale, inmate of a gambling den, testifies that she was at the hotel and heard two men quarreling in the Gray Room a short time before the murder. Her evidence seems to increase suspicion against Daniels.

Daniels privately informs Langdon that Mary Page did not kill Pollock and that if Mary is in danger of going to the electric chair he will tell all he knows of the case.

Watson, a waiter, testifies that Pollock had a quarrel over the phone the night of the murder, and Pollock's chauffeur reveals the fact that Shale was with Pollock shortly before the shot was fired.

CONFESSION

WITH his hands clasped behind his back and his brows bent in a frown that made him look oddly old and tired, Langdon paced slowly up and down. Over and over in his mind he went back through the testimony of the long trial of Mary Page. He was confident now, as he had not been confident in the beginning, that she had not shot James Pollock in a frenzy of delirious fear.

But who HAD killed him?

That was the problem!

Never in all his experience had he remembered so baffling a case.

At least a half dozen times he had felt that his fingers were at last upon the right thread that would lead out of the maze, but each time his edifice of hope had crumbled.

But Who HAD Killed Him?

The doorman at the Hotel Republic had repeated only what the chauffeur had already told—that Shale had left Pollock as soon as he got out of the machine; but even so Langdon had sent Brennan and his confreres to scour the town for him.

He ought not to be hard to find; but, once found, could he tell anything?

That was the question.

And so, wearily and endlessly, Langdon paced the stone-paved room, doubly ugly in the clear light of the early morning.

Suddenly he was halted in his self imposed sentry duty by the sound of a knock on the door, and in response to his "come in," Daniels entered.

"I looked for you over at the office," he said, "but they told me you were here."

"Did you want me for anything special?" asked Langdon coldly, and the theatrical man flushed.

"Yes," he said, "I did. I had a long talk with my wife last night, and she and I decided that the hoodoo on The Covington is too black for us, anyway. No good can come out of that place for me, and she—she said, she wanted me to come down here and ask you to put me on the stand again. Do you understand what I mean?"

"I think I do," said Langdon quietly, though a flame had leaped into his eyes. "You want to tell what you didn't say before?"

He was too clever to let this man know how jubilant he was.

"Yes," said Daniels. "It may not be important, yet somehow I know it is. It's—it's about what I heard when I passed the door of the gray suite that night."

"Thank God!" cried Langdon, and drew his chair close to that of Daniels.

When they entered the courtroom together an hour later every trace of anxiety and suffering had been wiped from Langdon's face.

He looked buoyantly young, and when he passed Mary, he whispered something to her that brought a light to her eyes too, and though there was surprise there was no fear on her face when she herself was called as the first witness of the day.

"Miss Page," said Langdon in the vibrantly happy voice of one who sees success just ahead, "on the night when you went into the gray suite from the banquet room were you wearing or carrying your cloak?"

"I slipped it on as I came into the hall. I carried my gloves and my evening bag."

"Did you see Mr. Pollock the minute you entered the room?"

"No."

"What did you do?"

"I slipped off the cloak again because it was warm and laid it on a chair with my gloves and bag."

"Where was that chair?"

The question snapped like a whip lash, and for a moment Mary hesitated.

"I'm not quite sure," she said slowly; then, with more assurance: "Why, yes, I am! It was towards the door into the other room because it was then that I saw Mr. Pollock come out."

"And you retreated?"

"Yes." The answer was breathed rather than spoken, but Langdon pushed on, too eager to spare her.

"Did he come toward you?"

"Yes."

"Did he follow you so far that he came between you and that chair?"

"Why, of course. He—he—came right up to me."

She shuddered and hid her face in her hands, as the tide of recollection swept over her, but Langdon had only one more question.

"Then, in order to secure the revolver from your bag, you would have had to push past him and secure the bag from under your cloak, would you not?"

"Yes. But I—I—don't remember what happened."

"That is all, thank you, Miss Page," said Langdon, and turning to the bailiff he added briskly:

"Call Mr. Daniels."

A sense of something big impending stirred the spectators and the jury alike, and the Judge himself, keenly alive to that new note in Langdon's voice, turned deliberately in his chair as Daniels began his testimony.

Everyone in the room leaned forward, tense with excitement.

"Mr. Daniels," began Langdon with no preliminaries, "on the night of the banquet you walked with Miss Page past the door of the gray suite, did you not?"

"Yes. But I—I—don't remember what happened."

"I did."

"Did you know that Mr. Pollock was in there?"

"No. But as I passed I heard his voice."

"Could you hear what he said?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

Langdon was firing his questions like shells from a gun.

"He said, 'Let's understand each other once and for all on this thing. I've got you, and got you good. I can send you up tomorrow if I want to. You've no more chance than a snowball in h—.'"

"Did anyone answer him?"

"Yes. A man said, 'You'll make that threat once too often, James Pollock. I'll make you eat your words at the point of a gun some day.'

"Then I heard James laugh contemptuously and I had to walk on towards the banquet."

"Did you know whom that other voice belonged to?"

"I thought I did. That's why I left the banquet-room and came back to listen at the door. I was startled when I heard Miss Page's voice instead of the one I expected."

"Whose voice did you think it was?"

"That of a man named Shale. 'Jim's jackal,' we used to call him."

"Mr. Daniels, do you know of any reason why Mr. Pollock should threaten to send this man Shale 'up'?"

"Well, Pollock told me once that he had 'got the goods' on Shale for some shady work that would easily send him to prison, and that he kept him out of jail because he was useful."

"Mr. Daniels, have you seen Mr. Shale since the death of Mr. Pollock?"

"Yes, I have."

"When?"

"The—the—day before I came back home. I ran into him on the street. We had a talk, and he told me that—he thought he could get me fresh backing for The Covington."

"Daniels has snitched. Well he can't prove anything."

"Did he see you again?"

"Yes. A few days ago he came to me and told me that a syndicate had been formed and had raised the money to put on a musical comedy, and that I was to be manager of the theater and look after the financial interests of the syndicate. He was very nice to me."

"Mr. Daniels," Langdon's voice became suddenly grave and freighted with meaning, "did Shale know you had heard his voice in that hotel room?"

"Yes. I asked him if he had been there."

"What did he say?"

"He said I couldn't testify to what I wasn't sure of, and that it was wiser not to ask too many questions."

"Did you understand that the backing for your theatre was in order to keep you from testifying?"

"I object!" cried the district attorney, on his feet in an instant.

There was much wrangling as to whether this question could be admitted; but the Judge finally ruled that it was material evidence.

"It was never put into words, Mr. Langdon, though I gathered it," the witness said. "But there are some bigger things than business success, and I wanted to set this straight."

A sudden commotion arose at the back of the room, and as the spectators turned and stared, and the Judge's gavel rapped for order a man's voice rose shrill and exasperated.

"So that's what you've got me here for, is it? Daniels has snitched. Well he can't prove anything—I tell you he don't know nothin'."

A pallid-faced man in a light-checked suit was struggling in the grip of Brennan and a policeman, who drew him steadily down through the gaping crowds as Langdon called his next witness.

"George Shale."

"I won't testify!" stormed the newcomer, twisting angrily under the by no means light handling of the detectives. "What do you want of me?"

"I shall tell you that when you are on the stand," said Langdon briefly, and his Honor, leaning forward, said sharply:

"A refusal to testify is contempt of court. You can be sent to prison for that."

For a moment Shale stared wildly about, then his eyes narrowed shrewdly, and he said gruffly, "All right," and allowed himself to be led up into the stand.

The excitement of the spectators can be imagined.

Here was drama of the most thrilling kind—an unwilling witness in a sensational murder trial, dragged to the stand, forced to open his sealed lips and tell what he knew.

"Mr. Shale," cried Langdon, "what had James Pollock asked you to do for him on the night when he was shot?"

"He asked me to get him the grey suite at the Republic. He wanted to get Miss Page in there for a quiet chat—so he said."

"Did you do it?"

"Yes. But I was kind of sore, because a man gets tired playin' errand boy for a guy that's dead crazy about a skirt."

"What were you doing on the fire-escape?"

The question came so sharply that it held the whole room tense with its unexpectedness; but Shale did not wince.

"Jim told me to get out there, and keep an eye out for anybody likely to butt in. He knew you could reach the different rooms by it."

"Isn't it true that you and James Pollock quarreled that night?"

Shale blanched.

"Yes, it's true," he said hoarsely. "Jim was a devil when he was drunk."

His face was beaded with perspiration and his hand gripped the edge of the witness stand till the knuckles showed lividly.

He tried to look angry, but he succeeded only in being tragically ridiculous.

Suddenly Langdon softened his voice.

"Where were you when Miss Page came into the room?"

"On the fire-escape, standing flattened against the wall, so that anybody looking at the steps wouldn't see me."

"Why did you re-enter the room?"

Shale moistened his dry lips, then with a gust of defiance flung up his head.

"I went in because Jim called me," he said loudly. "The girl had gone hysterical. She was laughin' and shriekin', and he calls to me, 'For God's sake, Shale, see if she's got any smelling salts or anything in that bag.'"

"And when you opened that bag you found a revolver, didn't you?" Langdon's voice rang out triumphantly. "George Shale, what did you do with that revolver?"

For a moment the man swayed as he stood, then he laughed and flung his hands wide.

"I shot him with it!" he shrieked. "I shot him! I didn't intend to do it, but he was a dirty dog. He had threatened me again that very night. He struck me—he called me his jackal—and when I saw the gun—I knew my chance had come. I took it out and walked around and said, 'Here's your smelling salts—and when he turned to take it I shot him. Oh, my God—"

He broke off with a storm of gasping sobs.

Everyone in the room was on his feet.

Even the Judge had risen.

Mary herself was standing swaying like some lovely lily, the light of a wondrous joy shining in her eyes, while her lips murmured over and over, "Philip—Philip—Philip!"

Then, high above the turmoil rose the voice of the District Attorney:

"George Shale, you are hereby declared under arrest, to be held to await the action of the Grand Jury!"

Again pandemonium broke out but fell to silence when Mary, her eyes drenched with happy tears, cried softly:

"What's to become of me now?"

"Your Honor," Langdon's voice was exultantly happy, and his hand caught and clung to Mary's, "Your Honor, the defendant desires to know what is to become of her?"

"She is discharged," answered his Honor with a smile, and made no effort to stem the cheers that rose, filling the room and echoing far down the corridors proclaiming to the world at large that Mary Page was free!

"George Shale, what did you do with that revolver?"

Still more cheering throngs greeted her when she emerged from the prison a little later with Philip and her mother besides her, and they followed the speeding motor for blocks shouting their acclamations and congratulations, while Mary nestled contentedly against Philip.

Forgotten were the days of horror following the death of Pollock and her arrest for a crime she knew nothing of; forgotten even were the unpleasant moments when Pollock pursued her with manifestations of his unwelcome love.

It was the most wonderful moment of her life.

"And you never suspected?" she said at last, and Philip shook his head.

"Not Shale," he said. "I was looking for someone else."

"Now don't talk any more about it," said Mrs. Page quietly. "Tomorrow, Mary, I am going to take you back to the country, and keep you until you have put this dreadful thing out of your mind forever."

Forgotten Were the Days When Pollock Pursued Her With His Unwelcome Love.

"And then," said Mary wistfully, "I will come back and take up my work."

Langdon tightened his arm about her.

"And then," said he, "you will come back and marry me. A fee is always paid a lawyer for services rendered. I ask the biggest one in the world, Mary—will you pay it?"

And what her low-voiced reply was not even her mother knew.

THE END.

ROUND UP TO BE ANNUAL EVENT

Success Crowned Efforts of J. H. Hay and H. W. Werner in Staging First Event of its Kind

MANY FINE ADDRESSES

Prof. F. E. Balmer, of Duluth, Federal Supervisor of County Agents Urges Farmers to Secure Such a Man.

The first Pennington county Farmers and Business Men's Round-Up, held at the Fred Beerbower farm, southeast of Thief River Falls, on Wednesday afternoon of last week was a glowing success from all angles. It was pretty nearly as good as a county fair, and will hereafter become an annual event. Approximately 1,000 people were in attendance, there being a large number of Pennington county farmers and their families and a splendid gathering of local business and professional men. There were over twenty-five car owners on the grounds. The affair was held under the auspices of the Pennington County Live Stock Breeder's association, while the event was originally planned by Supt. J. H. Hay and Prof. Werner.

Supt. Hay is Chairman.

The program began at 1:30 p. m. After a short concert by the Thief River Falls band. Supt. Hay made the opening remarks by stating that the purpose of the Round-Up. "It will become an annual event," said Mr. Hay. His remarks were brief and he then made way for C. L. Hanson, president of the First National bank, to "break the ice," in a short talk. "Farming has changed—and of course for the better. It requires skill to farm now days, as well as in any other business . The man who is a detriment to the community is a man who is satisfied with present conditions," said Mr. Hanson. Owing to the fact that George Johnson, president of the Commercial club, had just recovered from an illness, he was unable to make any remarks, and Mr. Hanson acted in his place by inviting the farmers to the club room to make use of them whenever they had any business to transact or meeting to hold.

Hoverstad Makes Address

T. A. Hoverstad, agricultural specialist for the Soo railroad, who had been secured for the Round-Up, was the next speaker, and he gave an excellent talk on matters pertaining to community work. Mr. Hoverstad had just returned from the western part of the United States, and was stopping over in this city when the Division Superintendent. W. A. Barnard notified him of the meeting. "The progress made by the farmers in this section is much greater than I expected," said Mr. Hoverstad, "and I believe it is the beginning of a big movement." He then dwelt a short time on the passing of a bill in congress in 1862 providing for the establishment of agricultural colleges. "The good done by these agricultural colleges cannot be estimated," he said. Mr. Hoverstad then told of the Hatch Act passed by Congress, which provides for the establishment of experimental stations, and the Lieber Bill, which allows for extension work to be carried on. The Soo Line agriculturist also urged the farmers to secure a county agent and told of their success in other counties. He paid Congressman Steenerson a high compliment in his efforts to pass the rural Credits Bill. now before Congress, which will furnish operating money for the farmer, if passed.

Other Short Talks

President O. F. Mellby, of the board of education, was called upon. His remarks were brief and he complimented the farmers for the manner in which they are working together. Senator D. P. O'Neil also madea brief talk.

Balmer Had A Big Message

Prof. F. E. Balmer, of Duluth, federal supervisor of county agents in Minnesota, was the next speaker and delivered the main message of the day. He told of the work of the county agents in Minnesota and of the work of organization. Prof. Balmer urged the farmers to secure an agent, and told of the wonderful results obtained in Southern Minnesota counties. "He helps to make farming more profitable and efficient," said Prof. Balmer, "as he is a co-worker of the people." He then went on to discuss the success of county farm burehus in Traverse county, and urged the farmers in Pennington county to form a county-wide organization, and stated that he would be pleased to return and help the farmers organize, should they decide on this move. Prof. Balmer's address was delivered in an excellent manner and it will no doubt have much influence on the farmers.

Advocates Better Cows

L. A. Hanson, prominent stock raiser of Westberry, was present, having paid his own fare to Thief River Falls to attend the Round-Up to say a few words with regard to pure bred stock and to help make the meet a success. Mr. Hanson took occassion to congratulate the farmers and business men on their close relationship. "I believe we have two classes of dairy cattle and dairymen" said Mr. Hanson. He then went on to show from a bulletin prepared by a university of Illinois professor that there were 21 million cows in the United States and that only seven million were making a profit of $26. Dairying is not as profitable as some people think," he said, and paid a compliment to the dairymen in this section on their move. "I am glad to know that the farmers are specialising" he continued. Mr. Hanson urged harmony between the farmers stating that this way better results can be accomplished. He also spoke of the importance of the dairy sire. "A dairy sire is half the herd," said Mr. Hanson "and the better sire you buy, the more money you will make." He warned the farmers against sires advertised at $25 and $50. "They are worse than scrubs," he said, "aim at high production. The next thing is better care and proper breeding. These go together, although some people think that proper breeding is all." In conclusion Mr. Hanson dwelt a short time on the cow that produces 30 pounds of butter in seven days. He urged the farmers to have the spirit of Thomas Jefferson, signer of the Declaration of Independence, by not striving for the almighty dollar at all times but by working together do some good for the county.

Prof. Donovan Present.

Prof. Donovan, of the extension department of the Minnesota University was present and gave a dairy demonstration, showing the five good points in a dairy cow. He demonstrated very clearly the chief points of a cow that produces milk from her feed instead of producing fat to lay on her ribs.

Races and Sports..

Following the close of the program all interest was centered on the races. The result follows:

100 yard dash for boys only—Robert Lind first, prize, jacknife.

50 yard dash for girls won by Miss Fern Beerbower, prize, pair of scissors.

100 yard dash for young men, won by Robert Lind.

In the tug of war between the North and South side farmers, the North were the victors after a strenuous pull. Each side was composed of eight men.

The final event was another tug between the Thief Riverites and the farmers, for a two minutes pull. At the starter's whistle both sides tugged furiously. For a half minute each side failed to budge, and then a sudden change came. The rope came forward in favor of the Thief Riverites, but at that moment two husky farmer lads joined the losing side and helped them to victory.

Was Big Event.

Taken all in all the Round-Up was a most educational and interesting gathering, of city and county and the northwest. Fred Beerbower is deserving of much credit for the splendid manner in which things had been arranged and the excellent picnic dinner provided.

Post (NEW) Toasties
Superior Corn Flakes
Made of Indian Corn, Sugar and Salt
Postum Cereal Company, Ltd.

The Factory Behind the Food

More than forty different kinds of corn flakes were prepared experimentally before New Post Toasties were finally developed to perfection. As a distinguishing feature, note the tiny bubbles on each flake—raised by the quick, intense heat of a new, patented process of manufacture.

New Post Toasties are the first corn flakes with a self-developed flavour—the full true flavour of choice white Indian Corn—unlike common "corn flakes" depend largely on cream and sugar for their palatability.

Try a handful dry—this simple test will demonstrate the delicious new flavour. But the flakes are usually served with cream or rich milk.

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package, and they "stand-up" when cream or milk is added. They're untouched by human hands and put up in moisture-proof packages to preserve their oven freshness until served.

RIVER IS FULL OF DANGEROUS SNAGS

Now While Water is Law Would be Good Time to Remove These Obstructions

Presumably it is nobody's business, but the matter should be attended to just the same. Now while the water in the river is low someone should remove the snags and obstructions which are a menace to pleasure craft on Red Lake river. The stream between the Soo bridge and the Kretszchmar dam is studded with rotten logs, broken piers and divers other descriptions of flotsam, and these are continuous sources of danger to craft of any kind plying the river. Because of these conditions owners of pleasure boats have been slow in getting their vessels into the water and unless they are remidied it is likely that boating, the healthiest and most delightful of all summer recreations, will have to be practically abandoned.

Inasmuch as the river is down in the war department records as a navigable stream, it is presumably a government job to remove any obstructions which may impede navigation. It is likely, however, that if we wait until an appropriation for the purpose is provided by Washington it will come to late to be of any use, as all boats will have rotted long before.

It would take but a few hours to clear the channel of this nuisance, but as everbody is interested in having it done it is altogether likely that no one will do it. The matter is hardly up to the city, and it is not probable that the county commisioners will feel justified in making any outlay for the purpose. All anyone seems to known about it is that it ought to be done.

COMING

The magnitude of David W. Griffith's feat in staging "The Birth of a Nation," is almost appaling—at least to the devotees of the older forms of theatrical entertainment. Where are now the little groups of actors, the pinchbeck, scenery and the petty properties of the so-called "legitimate drama?" By comparison with the new art, the "legitimate" measures to the mountain like a molehill. Instead of scenery for his background, Griffith has used Nature. For a subject he has covered 150 years of American life and history. Eighteen thousand people have done his biding and in the hair-raising rides of the Ku Klux Klan three thousand riders and horses swept over the dusty roads.

No wonder that this magnificent historical spectacle is the talk of the country. It has established an entirely new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacles with an orchestral score synchronized to the action. It has also created a tremendous sensation because of its vaster and more forceful treatment of the theme of Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman," which both as book and play created the greatest furore of the last decade.

The great deeds of the civil war and the horrors of reconstruction are made to live again and the nation reborn is apothesized. Mr. Griffith, pioneer among directors managed this stupendous achievement without the aid of dialouge or speech, for motion pictures with music and effects tell vividly this thrilling tale of fifty years ago. At the Lyceum July 6-7-8. Adv

GRAND JURY IS HARD AT WORK

Fourteen Indictments Are Returned Up to Noon Today—Bootlegging Principal Offense

DAHLE FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Civil Callendar Very Short, Occupying But Little of Court's Time—Booze Trials Set for July 6 Other Cases Tried

Indications are that the grand jury which reported for duty to Judge Andrew Grindeland of the district court on Monday morning will break the record for the number of indictments returned. Up to noon today fifteen true bills had been found, all but one of them being against parties accused of violating the liquor laws. The one exception was the case of Jens Dahle, charged with manslaughter. He is accused of having caused the death of Ole O. Vatne at the latter's farm in Star township last winter.

The bootlegging cases are the outcome of the activities of detectives operating under the direction of County Attorney Hans O. Kjomme and the city authorities. The evidence upon which the arrests were made was secured early this spring, at which time the accused were bound over under bond to await the action of the grand jury.

Two Plead Guilty

Tallack Froisress and Arnt Auli, two of the men indicted on this charge, plead guilty. George Larson has left for parts unknown and his bond was declared forfeited. The others pleaded not guilty and their trial will begin on July 6. They are: Martin Strum, James Farr, G. H. Gaslin, Edd. Davis, Harold Provencher, Hans Angell and Howard Gessel, who was indicted on three separate counts, two for liquor selling and one for assualting an officer. His bond for the latter offense was fixed at $500.

BIRTH OF A NATION IS LYCEUM FEATURE

Big Spectacular Production to Be Seen Here for Six Performances—July 6—8

Many of the critics who have been the sternest in their exactions of American dramatists announce their belief that D. W. Griffith has "put over" the great American play at last. Mr. Griffith's wonderful spectacle-drama, "The Birth of A Nation," is referred to—the unique offering at the Lyceum theatre for 3 days commencing Thursday, July 6.

For many years American dramatists wrote able plays for particular states, cities or localities, ranging from "Alabama" to the "Henerietta" and from "Way Down East" to "The Great Divide." But no one man seemed to grasp the whole spirit and genius of America until David Ward Griffith picked a suggestion for his theme out of Dixon's "The Leopard's Spots" and the "Clansman" and started to develop it.

A remarkable feature of Mr. Griffith's plan is that wors(except for leaders and titles) did not enter into it. Perhaps words had cramped rather than aided previous fictionists and dramatists. At any rate, he replaced speech with music, and the old fashioned stage action and scenery by the pictorialized action of thousands of players in the great out of doors. In brief, he staged the great battles, struggles and critical events of 1861-'80 under conditions as nearly as possible similar to the original.

The result of Mr. Griffith's efforts is a new and stupendous art for which no adequate name has yet been found. "The Birth of A Nation" combines spectacle, romance, domestic drama, comedy, tragedy, music, and mechanical effects into harmonious ensemble that captivates equally the eye and the ear. In a presentation lasting 2 hours and 45 minutes, it epitomizes the life of a nation. This is something that the old art could never do. The obsolete so-called "stage unities" are thrown to the winds, and Griffith carries the magnificent story from the introduction of African slavery right down through Civil war and Reconstruction days to the final real union of the South and North in the bonds of love and peace.

Among the distinguished actors in the cast are Henry B. Walthall, Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh, Miriam Cooper, Mary Alden, Josephine Crowell Ralph Lewis, Joseph Henabery, Raoul Walsh, Donald Crisp, Howard Gaye, George Siegman, Walter Long, Elmer Clifton, and Robert Herron.

Eighteen thousand people, 3,000 horses and no less than 5,000 scenes went into the making of the big spectacle.

GREAT NORTHERN WILL BUILD, BUT NO DEPOT

Highly Probable That "West End of Third Street" Will Not be Site Selected

The Great Northern railroad is going to build in Thief River Falls. No new depot will be erected, however, in spite of the assurances to this effect received from Vice President Gruber, "who is at present in Montana," but with whom a certain local publication is steadily "in communication." In fact, no new depot for Thief River Falls has even been contemplated by the Great Northern, although one is assuredly needed. The railroad does, however, intend making certain improvements. The extent of these may be gathered from the following letter sent to City Attorney Quale by Thomas Yapp, assistant secretary of the railroad and warehouse commission:

"Replying to your letter of the 5th inst., relating to toilet facilities at Thief River Falls in the Great Northern depot, will say that we are today in receipt of a letter from the vice president of the company in which he states as follows:

> "Our folks would not approve a new station building at this time and have therefore instructed our chief engineer to take this up without delay and put in the flush toilets as were required by the board of health of Thief River Falls through the Railway commission."

It will thus be seen that while the Great Northern cannot see its way clear to put up a new depot here, that the company is willing to compromise the matter and put in toilets. These will in all likelihood not be located at the "west end of Third street," however, even though certain local people have assurances from Vice President Gruber, "with whom they are in communication," to that effect. With the depot remaining at its present location it would prove somewhat inconvenient to have the proposed additions so far away.

RED LAKE FALLS WINS IN WELL PLAYED GAME

Thief River Falls Had Best of Argument until Eighth Inning—Score 3 and 2

The Thief River Falls ball team sustained a defeat at the hands of Red Lake Falls in that city on Monday afternoon, after having all the best of the entertainment until up to the eighth inning.

Thief River started out to score in the first inning, getting one run across the pan. Another was secured latter in the game, but this is all they were allowed. Red Lake Falls did not score until the eighth, when a low throw to first by Lee, a wild pitch by Menzel and a general relapse all along the line permitted three runs.

This is the second game the locals have lost this season, the first being to Warren, while they have seven to their credit.

FATHER IS SHOT BY INSANE SON

Shooting Took Place Late Monday Afternoon 8 Miles Northeast of Holt Minnesota

HID BODY IN MACHINE SHED

Inquest Held Tuesday Afternoon On Dead Man's Farm—Son is Taken to Warren For Examination—Is Totally Insane.

John Hanson, farmer residing 8 miles northeast of Holt, is dead as a result of a bullet having entered the back of his head, fired from a 22 calibre rifle held in the hands of his son, Lewis, age 28, late Monday afternoon. The son is declared to be totally insane and has been mentally deranged for the past two years.

Returned From Town

John Hanson returned to the farm late in the afternoon in his Ford and was stooping down by the auto when the son came from the kitchen and fired the fatal shot. He then dragged his dead father to a machine shed and hid him under a buggy. He also hid the rifle in the neighborhood of the shed.

Son Returns From Field

One of the younger sons came to the kitchen from the field, where he had been working and on seeing the auto inquired, "where is father." The insane man said, "you'll have to look around for him." The younger boy then went to a neighboring farm, but his search was futile. He returned with the farmer and the two again asked Lewis, where father was. He then lead them to the shed and pointed the dead man out.

Sheriff Arrives

The sheriff was immediately notified of the crime and arrived in a short time. The young man was taken into custody and began inquiring for a gun. The young man told the sheriff that if he did not tell anyone he would procure a gun for him. Going in the direction of the machine shed he soon furnished a 22 calibre rifle. On being asked for bullets the young man at first retorted that he did not have any, but after dikering with him the young man went to a clump of woods and started to dig. He returned with a handful of shining 22 calibre bullets.

Taken To Warren

He was taken to Holt late Monday afternoon and kept there until Tuesday, when the coroner's jury was selected. The jury, sheriff and the young man returned again to the scene Tuesday and the inquest was held. When asked why he did it, he said he "did not know." On Tuesday afternoon he was taken to Warren, where an examination was held to test his sanity

Neighbors residing near the farm have stated that for two years past the man has been acting queer.

Cigar Factory To Move

The cigar manufacturing firm of Swartz & Anderson, now located at 217 First street east, will on Saturday remove to the building formerly occupied by the Roberts Bowling alley, 112 LaBree avenue north. Owing to the large amount of business done by this firm, their present quarters have been deemed inadequate. The new place will give them more of an up-town location, and besides it will be large enough to take care of the business done.

Ralph Werner, who is operating a stock farm near Middle River is spending the week in Thief River Falls receiving medical treatment for a boil. While in the city he is the guest of his brother, Henry Werner, agricultural instructor at the Lincoln high school, 606 Kendall avenue south.

PEMBINA TRAIL IS BIG SURPRISE

Jefferson Highway Inspectors Find Proposed Central Route Much to Their Liking.

IS ALWAYS HIGH AND DRY

Local Committee Meets Party at Hallock—Came Through From Moorhead, 300 Miles in One Day—Pleased at Interest Shown

There is no way of knowing which one of the three routes the Jefferson highway commission will select for the road through northern Minnesota, but unless all indications are at fault the old Pembina trail will be incorporated as an integral part of the system.

J. D. Clarkson of Missouri, and H. H. Orme of St. Paul, who started from the last named city on Sunday for the purpose of making a trip over the three different routes proposed and deciding by actual experience which one offered the beter inducements, were here on Tuesday evening. They had been accompanied the entire distance from the capital by Daniel Shaw, president of the Northern Minnesota Jefferson hgihway asociation, Sen. P. McGarry of Walker, and Dr. J. L. Morey of Crookston. The journey northward was made by way of the Red River valley cities, over what is known as the western route, as far as Hallock. From that city the Central or Pembina Trail route was followed to Thief River Falls. The journey was continued on Wednesday morning, the next points to be visited being Bemidji and Itasca park, the round trip to wind up at St. Paul sometime on Friday.

Escort is Formed

A party composed of Math Barzen, C. L. Hanson, F. T. Lincoln, Fred Haug and Bernard Barzen left here at 10:30 o'clock in two autos and met the party at Hallock. I. M. Myrbo of Viking, and C. J. Forsburg of Karlstad joined the party when those places were reached and accompanied the tourists back to Thief River Falls, arriving here about 9:30 in the evening. They were met by the Minnesota State band and a large party of representative citizens, and short addresses were made from autos in front of the Evelyn hotel. The local committee took charge of the visitors and they were asked to join in a sort of impromtu banquet tendered by the Pennington County Fair association directors at the Soo cafe.

Mr. Clarkson and Mr. Orme both expressed themselves as being much pleased at the reception recorded them, complimented the people upon the appearance of their city and said they entertained the hope that they would be enabled to make other visits of a similar nature. They did not of course commit themselves as to what they thought of our chances for securing the highway, but it is understood that they were very much impressed with our claims. The final decision will rest largely with Mr. Clarkson, who is manager of the highway project, and it is certain that he was greatly pleased with the excellent road conditions existing along the Pembina Trail. The historical data connected with the old highway interested the visitors greatly and there is no doubt but that its claims will loom large in their calculations when the final decision is made.

FIRST VOLUNTEER LEAVES THIS CITY TO ENLIST

Jim Silverton Leaves to Join Fargo Company—How About Former Company

Jim Silverton, a machinist who has been working in Thief River Falls for some time, but whose home is at Montgomery, N. D., left on Monday for Fargo, where he enlisted with the militia company going out from that city the first of the week. Mr. Silverton is, so far as known, the first to volunteer from Thief River Falls, but former militia officers are daily receiving inquiries as to the best means of reaching some point of enlistment. There is no company of the national guard enrolled at Thief River Falls at present although several former militia men are residents of the city. A number of these have asked for instructions as to whether or not it will be possible to enroll a company as a reserve guard during the absence of the enlisted men. Most of these former guardsmen are now married men and have families and would thus not be called upon for duty in Mexico—for the present, at least. They could however, act as state troops in the place of the men who have been incorporated into the regular army, and are anxious and willing to do so.

It is understood that the militia company formerly accredited to Thief River Falls has never been properly disbanded or mustered out and that there is some question regarding the exact status of the members. Inquiries have been sent to Adjt. Gen. Wood of the state troops asking that this matter be fully cleared up in order that the former members of Company L may know exactly where they stand.

O. L. CRONSTROM BUYS LOKEN'S GROCETY ANNEX

Retiring Firm Will Conduct Clearance Sale in Order to Reduce the Stock

A deal was closed the first of the week whereby by O. L. Cronstrom will become the owner of the store now known as Loken's Grocery Annex after July 10. This is one of the most up-to-date groceries in the city, and the Lokens have always enjoyed an excellent patronage. The growing business at the other departments of their big store, however, has made it advisable for them to drop the grocery line, and the move has been in contemplation for some time.

The new proprietor is a grocery man with years of experience, and as he enjoys a wide acquaintance in and about the city the venture should be a success from the start. Being able to devote his entire attention to the business, he will be in the very best position to give the people the best possible service.

Before the deal could be consummated Mr. Cronstrom insisted that the stock be greatly reduced in all departments, and this the old proprietors agreed to do. A full page advertisement in this issue contains the announcement of their price cutting campaign, and a glance through the offerings will prove that an exceptional opportunity is presented for the securing high grade groceries at greatly reduced prices.

EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS

Stage All Set For the Greatest Fourth of July Celebration in the History of the World

FINE WEATHER PROMISED

Every Business House Will Be in Gala Attire and Every Effort Devoted to Making One Big, Rousing Patriotic Splurge.

Fair Weather

General Guess Weather Bureau, Mount Pleasant, P. G. June 29—Special to Commercial Club Fourth of July Committe. ..If it does not rain on Monday before the Fourth, it may on the Fourth but not until after the evening program is over and then, not unless there are clouds filled with rain water. We have been expending so much water of late that the supply is running short. Shall try to curtail until after your big blow-out. Sunshine and smiling weather is what I have you booked for.

Signed, Weather Man.

Rather ecnouraging news from the front, friends, in fact, most encouraging to the committee who have been working so hard to make the big Fourth of July celebration a success. And now the weather man promises to be good and we have it that King Joy is due here on time. All that remains is for a little enthusiasm and "pep" on the part of the business men to make it a real Fourth of July.

The committee have been very faithful in their duties and all the little details have been carefully worked out. If the merchants who are to be represented in the parade only line up on time, and the ladies of the Womans club see that they have their autos gaily decorated and on the spot at 10:30, (not 11:00 a. m.) and the boys and girls meet at the Auditorium where they are to have those hats ditsributed; and the sports committee arranges the down-town events systematically so that there may be no delay; and the public be advised of just what is coming off and when and where and—oh, a few of the little minor matters that go to spell "get-together," why the work of the publicity committee and finance committee will not have been in vain. And they will, but just one final reminder, for this is the last call to arms for the big holiday event.

Please remember: The parade will form at the Auditorium front at 10:30 sharp, and the line will move at 11:00 sharp. Jesse LaBree will be in charge. All auto owners are urged to decorate their cars and be in the parade. Holiday hats for the ladies are available at the Commercial club rooms on the morning of the Fourth.

The directors and all members of the Commercial club who can possibly spare the time, are urged to be at the club rooms no later than 10:00 a. m. to march to the Auditorium and join the parade. Holiday hats for club members have been provided.

The march to the fair grounds will be made at 1:00 p. m. sharp, ball teams, band and autos carrying the crowds.

Address by Hans O. Kjomme will be made at the fair grounds at 1:15 p. m. Then come the races, and Fred Haug says they will be real warm ones. Autos and motorcycle races—local cars mostly—and some lively contests are assured. C. A. Pitkin is hard at work on the details of the down-town sports program and there will be plenty doing in the forenoon, foot races, wheel-barrow races, climbing the greased pole, chasing the greased pig—in fact all the old-time events which go to make a real holiday frolic.

T. B. Stauff has arranged a log rolling contest on the river between two crack river drivers and this will be great sport. You can watch them from the bridge, and rumor has it a "dark horse" from over Bemidji way is to take down that $5,000, but he will know he is on a log before Stauff's man is through with him.

Fireworks in the evening, after all the big doings of the day and that base ball game between Red Lake Falls and Nasons Nobles for $100. The grand ball at the Auditorium in the evening, with the famous Minnesota State band of Thief River Falls furnishing the music—surely some day of festivities. And best of all, the people are coming from the entire country around us and Thief River Falls will do its best to entertain them.

On July 18th, a proposition of the greatest importance to the welfare and progress of the city of Thief River Falls will be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection. This is the new city charter—revised, corrected, brought up-to-date, and providing for the establishment of the city manager form of government.

The charter under which the city is at present operating is as good as most if its kind—in fact, is probably better than many of them. Because of this there seems to be no particular demand as yet among our people for a change. The city manager form is admitted by all who have studied the question to be the nearest thing to an ideal system yet devised, but even then people seem to fear that it will work out differetnly here from what it has in other localities. This is equivalent to saying that they do not think there are men in Thief River Falls with sufficient ability, patriotism and brains to carry out successfully the measures found economical and wise by the people of these other cities

This a peculiar view to take of the matter. If the city has gotten along well under an antiquated, cumbersome and inelastic system because the men at the head of things have been honest and capable, would not these same men be able to give the city a better government if the charter under which they were working was brought up-to-date and made to meet the conditions now existing instead of those obtaining at the time the city was in its infancy? There is nothing in the new charter which prevents these same men, or others like them, from holding the reins of the city government under the proposed new order of things. City manager government is not revolutionary. It is simply applying the same business principles to the people's affairs that every successful concern has found it necessary to apply. It means the elimination of waste, the prevention of graft, the minimizing of the liability to error. More than this, it means thorough investigation and sensible selection by a man whose business it will be to know before he makes his recommendations.

The Times, realizing that the adoption of this charter is a matter of vast importance to the city, has been at some trouble to secure opinions from people residing in cities operating under the manager plan. Among the dozen replies received there is not one in favor of going back to the old way of doing business. The experience of the city of Dayton with the manager plan of government is recounted in another column of this issue. But there are others, and their experiences have all been the same—a vast general improvement.

Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the Board of City Development of Amerillo, Texas, says:

"Would Say briefly that we claim to have a strictly modern city in every respect, with an aggresive and efficient management, highly satisfactory to everybody. After the first two years the plan received the endorsement of the voters by a large majority—almost unanimously—and the accumulative results in the third year promise a more hearty approval at the next election. So far no friction has developed."

E. J. Reardon, managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Sumter, South Carolina, which has a charter under which the commission form of government and the manager plan is combined, says:

"Sumter has not solved the municipal problems entirely. But by virtue of an attempt to inagurate a new system of city government we have, by investigation, learned a great deal. That is one of the chief advantages of the city manager form of government. The tendency towards investigation and experiment, and trying out new plans by leaving the beaten track of custom where the indications are that improvements might be made regarding efficiency and economy."

"I Think that a large majority of of our people agree that in theory the city manager plan is a success."

W. A. Stilwell, secretary of the Board of Trade of Big Rapids, Mich., which city has been operating for two years under a charter similar to that proposed for Thief River Falls, says:

"With our old council we had ten councilmen and a mayor and it was almost impossible to locate anyone who would shoulder any responsibility. The committees were large and very inactive. Now we have just three men to talk to and we can get results quicker and much better. These men can now command the services of an engineer to advise them on important matters rather than a committee's report by men who know little of the subject they are reporting on. In looking back I do not think we have any regrets to make for adopting the new charter."

Harry Welch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Phoenix, Ariz., says that the new form of government has been a big improvement in his city. Part of his communication follows:

"However, as you know, success of any form of government depends more upon the men elected to carry out the wishes of the people, and also the willingness of the people to support the officials who are elected.

"Personally I believe a great many reforms in governmental methods have been seriously discredited because the changes have received only the half hearted support of the officials and citizens."

The above are excerpts from but a few of the communications received. Does it not occur to you that a system found so satisfactory in other places might work well in Thief River Falls?

Then there is another thing. Our people are always looking out for something that will advertise and call attention of the outside world to our advancement and progress. Nothing we could do would so thoroughly advertise the city as the adoption of this charter. It would prove to the rest of the country that we are on the lookout for the best in governmental systems, that we are a community run on business principles, and that our united efforts are bent toward securing economy and efficiency in our municipal daministration.

We did not expect Warren to pull that small town stuff about being "robbed by the umpire." The base ball team from that city was simply outclassed in the game here, and they know it. The Thief River bunch lost to Warren a few days before that event, an dit was good for them. Had they played the kind of ball of [illegible] they are capable they would not have been defeated. Any time the outfit comes back to this town after losing a game and begins bellyaching about having been "robbed by the umpire" they are going to hear something which should prove of much benefit if properly taken to heart. Umpires make mistakes, but these are seldom severe enough to be responsible for a defeat whe there is a difference of two to one in the score. Unless Warren fans can see their very excellent ball team take an occassional drubbing they had better confine its schedule to Karlstad, Grygla and Sunbeam.

Kate Richards O'Hara, of St. Louis, Mo., will lecture in Thief River Falls at the Auditorium July 3, at 8:30 p. m. Mrs. O'Hara is an orator of the highest order and has spoken in all the large cities of the United States.

The people in this district should be greatly pleased to have the opportunity of hearing this wonderful woman speak on the most vital issues now confronting the American people. This should be an inducement enough to come miles to hear.

CITY MANAGER PLAN IS EVERYWHERE ENDORSED

Municipalities Having Tried Out This System Are Unanimous in Their Opinion That It Offers The Best Solution of Governmental Problems.

INSURES INCREASED EFFICIENCY

The Placing of All Departments Under One Responsibile Head Answerable Only to City Council Simplifies Proceedings and Insures Economical Operation in Every Division.

The 18th of July is not so very far away, and on that day the people of Thief River Falls will have the opportunity of adopting or rejecting a city charter which provides for the city manager form of government.

This system of municipal administration has been tried out by cities in nearly every section of the country, and without exception these have found it good. Not one of them would return to the old ward plan if they were given the opportunity. Seldom, if ever, has a practically new theory met with such universal approval. In the cities where it has been given an honest trial the only persons opposed to its retention are the professional politicians and chronic office holders. This gentry have found the new order of things but little to their liking, as it eliminates all possibilities of contract graft, ringing in of extras ,subtution of material or shirking of contracts. The people, however, like the plan. It means that they will get a dollar's worth for every dollar expended and that every man holding a job must be worth the money paid him or make room for someone who is worth it.

What Dayton Thinks of It.

One of the best examples of what the commission form of government can do for a city is found in the case of Dayton, Ohio. H. C. Trehane, publicity manager of the Greater Dayton association, replying to an inquiry from the publisher of the Times as to how the plan was working out in his city, replies as follows:

"Mr. R. H. Ross, Editor The Times Thief River Falls, Minn. My Dear Sir: I am glad to have your letter of June 16 regarding the success of the city manager plan of government in Dayton.

"The new form of government has indeed been a great succes with us here. Never before have the citizens of Dayton received so much value for every cent of taxes. Never before has there been such a marked degree of business efficiency and consequent good for the community as the result of good government—and we have it here.

"Sometime before the flood the matter of the city manager government and a new charter was talked about; then came the flood in 1913, and after a considerable degree of chaos, which fortunately was averted by John R. Patterson of the N. C. R. company. In the fall the city manager form was adopted and although partisan politicians declared it would be a failure, nevertheless it is living triumphantly and I do not believe that anybody would want to go back to the mayor and council plan.

"I am enclosing you a report of the city commission for January 1, 1914, (the report for 1915 is now on the press.) By looking over this report you will see just how much more we have been able to do under the new plan than under the old.

"While other cities of the state are going down on garbage and ash removal and necessary improvements, or are issuing bonds, Dayton is coming all right and will see the year through safely without inconveniencing our citizens.

"I trust that this information may be of assistance to you and will be glad to hear from you again."

The report submitted to the citizens of Dayton by Mayor George W. Shroyer, contains the following information, besides a large number of other matters going to prove the value of the new mode of doing business:

No bonds were issued during the year of 1914, notwithstanding which fact there was $35,393.39 more expended for all purposes than in 1913. Street repairs in 1913 were made by bond sisues. In 1914 37,477 square yards of paved streets were repaired; forty miles of gravelled streets were scraped, cleaned rolled and repaired; twenty-five miles of gravelled streets scraped, cleaned and oiled—and no bonds issued.

Nearly double the amount expended in 1913 was allowed for street cleaning without additional burden to the taxpayers.

The money available permitted of an increase of $15,000 for the safeguarding of public health.

By centralizing the efforts of the philantrophic, city and school agencies the sum for parks and playgrounds was increased $8,330 over the year before without raising the tax or issuing interest bearing obligations.

Seven policemen and two women police were added to the force at a yearly cost of $6,720. No extra provision in the tax levy had to be made for raising this amount.

A saving of $33,000 effected over the previous year in the cost of supplies for the various departments.

No money previously available for the creation of a police and firemen's pension fund. In 1914, $5,600 could be diverted for this purpose.

Paid $5,767.78 in the year of 1914 for services rendered the city in 1913 and not previously paid for the lack of funds.

A temporary loan of $125,000 was staring the city in the face on the first of January, 1914. Out of the city's income $50,000 of this was retired.

Established eight hour day for all laborers on street and other work and increased wages 25 per cent per hour.

Four miles of new paving laid. Nearly nine miles of new sewers built. No bonds issued for these purposes.

A saving of $700 per year was made in the cost of heating the city hall.

Workhouse conditions improved. New beds, new clothing and new cots were added.

Extensive plans to improve water supply throughout the city are made and the funds provided. New wells have been drilled and new pipe connections made. Preparations are going on for improving water supply throughout entire city. For this work bonds have been issued.

The above are only a few of the things which the people of Dayton have found themselves able to accomplish under the new form of government. Do the people of Thief River Falls consider it worth while to adopt a charter which would permit of similar conditions in their city? All the above work, with the exception of the elaborate water works improvement, was accomplished without a bond issue and without raising the rate of taxation.

The Times has reports from a half-dozen other cities where the same system has been adopted and will print some of them every week until the day of election. Our people should be permitted to know something of the experiences of others who have taken the step now advised for Thief River Falls, and the evidence is at hand. The original letters, besides a wealth of other information are on file at the office of the Times and anyone desiring to do so are invited to look them over at anytime. They are unanimously in favor of the new system for transacting a municipality's businss and give the reasons for having arrived at this conclusion.

GOOD CROWDS AT "TELELAG" MEET

Approximately Eight Hundred Delegates Enjoy Themselves in Spite of Unfavorable Weather.

TROVATEN IS RE-ELECTED

Made President For Another Year. Hans Ryg of Joice, Iowa, Awarded $200 Violin in Competition of Handanger Players.

"Telelaget i America" ended its twenty-first annual session here on Saturday night, concluding one of the most enjoyable and successful meetings in the history of the organization. There were between eight hundred and a thousand people present from the states of Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin, and in spite of the disagreeable weather which prevailed nearly all through their stay, they were unanimous in declaring that the event had been one of the best ever held. The attendance was not as large as that at Glenwood or Montevideo, but would have been larger than either of these under favorable weather conditions.

Committee is Busy

Every train arriving during Thursday night and all through Friday carried large numbers of Telemarkings, their wives and children. These were taken care of at the Commercial club and directed by Secretary Fred T. Lincoln and the committee in charge to hotels and private residences where provision had been made for their reception. The city proved its ability to easily take care of crowds of this kind, there being no trouble at any time in finding room for the visitors. As many of these were taken charge of by friends and in private houses it is impossible to get the exact number in attendance.

Friday Evening's Program

The Auditorium was well filled for the entertainment on Friday evening This consisted of addresses, singing and instrumental music. The first speaker introduced by President Trovatin was Knute Steenerson of Upham, N. D., a brother of Congressman Steenerson of this district. This gentleman looks much like his famous brother, and kept his audience in an uproar with his witty sayings and sallies. Bjorgev Bjornaraa of Oklee, and Hans Samuelson of Climax, followed with short addresses, after which Knute Vittleson of Garness, rendered one of the old folk songs of the Telemarken district. "Brage" chorus of Thief River Falls, under the leadership of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, greatly pleased the big audience by their handling of a Norwegian classic, and Miss Doris Halvorson, also of Thief River Falls, played a piano solo in her usual graceful and expressive manner. A feature of the entertainment was the violin trio played by S. Braaten of Hoople, N. D., Kittle Kittleson of Park River, N. D., and Hans Ryg of Joice, Iowa. A number of other Hardanger violinists also played selections from the popular airs in that particular section of Norway. An admission fee was charged on Friday night, the $225 realized going to the lag treasury.

Officers Elected

The regular business meeting of the organization was held on Saturday forenoon. Reports of the officers showed that the lag was in a flourishing condition, the number of members being greater than at any time since its organization. A. A. Trovatin of Barnesville, was re-elected president without any opposition; H. C. Slaberg of Minneapolis, vice vice president; A. Haukom, of Badger, secretary, and Torjus Lundevald of Greenbush, treasurer. No place for meeting next year was selected, this being left to the executive committee. it is likely, however, that the 1917 gathering will be either at Albert Lea or LaCrosse. A resolution thanking the people of Thief River Falls for the courtesies extended them was adopted unanimously and with enthusiasm.

The Violin Contest.

The $200 violin offered as a prize to the best player of old Telemarken tunes was awarded to Hans Ryg of Joice, Iowa. There were 14 contestants for this prize and to an outsider it looked as if the judges would have a hard time deciding who the winner should be. Everyone seemed agreed, however, that the fine instrument had been awarded to the proper party.

The "Spring" dance prize was awarded to Mrs. Bergland of Grygla. This dance is a great favorite in Norway and requires considerable skill in its execution. It is only at the gatherings of the different "lags" that it is seen in America, however, and its presentation is always much appreciated.

Old Friends Meet.

Among those attending this convention were people who had not seen one another since they parted in Norway years ago. Among these was O. Hadeland, a merchant of Fargo, who made it a point to look up County Auditor T. P. Anderson as soon as he arrived. Mr. Hadeland was formerly captain of the Norwegian sailing ship, "Kong Sverre," upon which an older brother of Mr. Anderson had been first mate. The old gentleman remembered the time when the present county auditor, with his father and sister, had visited his ship, back in 1878. Shortly after this the first mate was transferred to a vessel which was in trouble because of its navigating officer having been swept over board. First Mate Anderson was loaned to the captain of this ship and sailed her safely to Havana harbor. He was appointed captain by the owners and for years made successful voyages to nearly every part of the world.

Two old and furrowed descendants of the Vikings met at the Commercial club rooms as strangers. They kept looking at one another for some time, when recognition seemed to strike both at once. Although any display of emotion is as a rule sternly repressed among these people, these two old gentlemen rushed into an embrace and were thereafter inseparable. They had been boys together among the fjords of the old country, had attended school before school houses were established in their section and when it was necessary for the teacher to hold classes in the widely-scattered farm houses of the neighborhood. They had been confirmed at the same time and then had drifted to America. This was 35 years ago and they had never heard of one another until they met at the Commercial club room in Thief River Falls. Many witnessed this little by-play, which was only one of many similar instances.

Were Highly Pleased

President Trovaten and other officers of the lag were unstinting in their praise for the manner in which the preliminaries had been conducted, and wished particularly to thank Secretary Lincoln and the committee in charge of the affair for the thorough manner in which everything had been looked after. The meeting was one of the best the organization has ever held, and had the weather not misbehaved it would have doubtless set a record both for attendance and interest.

IOWA FARMER SAYS MANY WILL SEEK LAND HERE

Renters in the Buckeye State Are Looking Northward For Relief From High Prices.

D. J. Gavin, formerly of Emmetsburg, Iowa, is one of the arrivals from the Buckeye state this spring who will take advantage of the greater opportunities offered in northwestern Minnesota Mr. Gavin has bought the Halvor Olson quarter section located one-half mile west of Mavie, and is busy putting up a fine residence on the property. A large barn and other outbuildings are also being built and drilling for water is in progress.

Mr. Gavin was a renter on a farm in Iowa for some years previous to coming here, and he says that a man in his position has no business trying to make a success of farming in that section. "Things go well enough while crops are good and no hard luck interferes with the running of things," said Mr. Gavin, "but one bad year is liable to wipe away everything a man has accumulated. The Iowa law provides that anything in the way of stock or farm machinery brough onto a rented place by a tenant remains there as security for the rent. Thus many a man has been practically ruined by one bad season. The price of land is so high that it is almost impossible to derive a reasonable income from a farm, and a great many people situated as I was, are looking toward Minnesota." The cheaper lands and growing markets here make it possible for a man with limited capital to get a start, says Mr. Gavin, and he predicts that the demand for farm property in this neighborhood will during the next year or two will be the greatest in the history of the west.

FIRE LOSSES NEARLY EQUAL PREMIUMS

The total amount of loss by fire in the city of Thief River Falls during the year of 1915 was $24,613.88, while the premium receipts amounted to $27,517.84, leaving a balance of $2,903.96 to cover the expense of writing this amount of insurance, cost of adjustment etc. This will in some degree explain why the rates are steep, the loss here being proportionately among the highest in the state.

During the period covered by the 23 years during which the state insurance commissioner's office has been in existence the total paid in premiums in the city amounts to $343,399.17, while the losses foot up $150,755.50, which is a very good average.

A comparison of losses with cities of what may be termed the $20,000 premium class is interesting. During the year 1915 the city of Eveleth with a premium outlay of $25[illegible] had fire losses amounting to $[illegible]44; Northfield paid $20,470.39 in premiums and sustained losses amounting to $5,318.07; in the city of Owtannoa there was paid $27,216-38 in premiums, while the fire loss amounted to $11,190.41; Two Harbors paid out $26,540.64 and was paid $11,377.53.

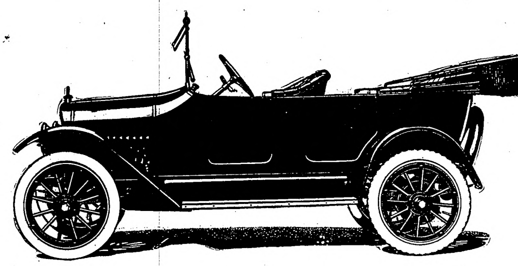
This simply indicates one of three things— that people are carless with fire, that our buildings are particularly inflamable, or that insurance rates are too high. The proper attention paid to the first two causes mentioned would automatically bring the third into correct proportion.

"Lost Without The Times"

E. O. Hagglund, formerly a resident here, now located at Spokane, Wash., writes this office under the date of June 22: "Kindly send us the Times for one year as we feel lost without our old home paper.

"Everything looks like a garden here. Harvest is at hand and ripe cherries are hanging down close to our windows.

"The soldiers are mobilizing in this city and 1,200 of them will leave for Fort Wright tomorrow on their way to Mexico."



A Timely Warning

ELEVEN well-known automobiles have advanced in price within the last ninety days.

The Maxwell Company has not increased their prices. We do not know what their plans are, but we do know and you know that materials entering into the construction of good automobiles now cost from 20 to 300 per cent more than they did six months ago.

Nothing is to be gained by delay. Much may be lost.

Not only may you lose several dollars in the purchase price, but you are sacrificing the enjoyment, the relaxation, the health-giving properties—everything, in fact, that makes motoring the favorite pastime of the nation.

We urge you to come in and investigate the Maxwell.

Or, we will refer you to any number of Maxwell owners and let them tell you their own story in their own way.

They will tell you what they have told us. That the Maxwell is good-looking—that it is powerful—that it is comfortable—that it is economical—in short, that it is the best investment they ever made. They will tell you more and they will tell you gladly and freely.

That's the way they feel toward us and the Maxwell Car.

Whatever you do, don't put this off. We have a few cars on hand and can take orders for immediate or future delivery—at present prices. If you can't come in today, phone us for a Maxwell demonstration.

Flying Dutchman Low Down Spreader

Both Apron and Beater Take Power Direct from Axle

Look at other endless apron spreaders. See how the apron is driven from one end of the Beater? That wastes power and puts an awful strain on the Beater.

On the Flying Dutchman Spreader the Apron and Beater are entirely independent of each other. Each takes its power direct from the axle. You can readily see how this greatly increases the power and lightens the draft.

Lightest Draft Low Down Spreader

Beater driven by one wheel—Apron by the other.

You do not waste half of your traction power as you do when you drive entire machine from one side of the axle. Then, there's the great advantage of simplicity.

Entire Machine is operated by ONE lever.

There is no chance for an inexperienced driver to make a mistake and damage the machine. He cannot get hold of the wrong lever—for there is only one—it operates both Beater and Apron.

It is positively impossible to start the Apron until after the Beater has been put in operation.

The range of adjustment is very great. You can spread any amount from 4 to 28 loads to the acre. And in addition there is a reserve speed of over 40 loads — which quickly cleans out the last part of the load.

Whether the Flying Dutchman is in or out of gear, it is securely locked in that position. It cannot possibly change until you move the lever. If you have ever used a spreader, you will appreciate this feature.

Flying Dutchman Hay Loader

Loads out of Swath or Windrow without adjustment

No Ropes
No Chains
No Cogs
No Gears
No Delays

A One-Man Loader

The Flying Dutchman Loader will last a lifetime and save you money every year.

One man can go out with it and get a good load of hay. It will pile up a big half a load before it needs to be touched with a fork at all.

Any one who can drive a team can handle it; for it works on an entirely new principle that does away with trouble making cams, drums, chains, sprockets, rope webs, and gear wheels.

Light Draft and Long Life—The long swinging pitmans get their power direct from the axles. There's nothing to wear out or get out of order, and the extra long stroke does not break up the hay, nor shake the machine to pieces.

No clogging — the yielding deck effectually prevents clogging. Heavy or light hay, swath or windrow can be handled without adjustment of any kind.

All-Steel Frame — it cannot warp, sag, rot, nor get out of shape,

Flying Dutchman Side Delivery Rake and Tedder

Two tools in one—a Rake all the time and a Tedder when you need it. Changed from one to the other in five minutes by merely taking out one bolt and shifting the gears. Saves the price and storage room of one tool, and does the work of two.

With exception of the tongue it is built entirely of steel. Has simplest possible gearing—no chains being used.

By means of one lever the entire machine can be raised or lowered without the driver leaving his seat.

The Delight of Children

The self-developed, inner-flavour of New Post Toasties bear a unique attraction for the kiddies—they even like them dry from the package for their lunches. A box of Toasties provides "eats" that will delight the children.

New Post Toasties are usually served with cream and sugar, in which form the flavour is more pronounced and the flakes more delicious. These New Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package and they don't mush down in cream—both common defects of old-fashioned "corn flakes."

Then, too, notice the tiny bubbles on the flakes, produced by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of making which imparts delightful crispness and a substantial body to the flakes.

New Post Toasties are a vast improvement over any old-style "corn flakes."

have to say about cream separators this week

YOU will find the De Laval is the easiest and most satisfactory to use and keep in good running order. There is nothing about the operation, cleaning, adjustment or care of a modern De Laval which requires expert knowledge or special tools.

Only tool required

There are no parts which require frequent adjustment in order to keep the machine running smoothly or to conform to varying conditions in the every day use of a cream separator.

There is nothing about this machine that cannot be taken apart, removed or replaced by any one who can use a wrench or screw driver. In fact, the only tool which is needed for the operation of a De Laval Cream Separator is the combination wrench and screw driver illustrated above, furnished free with the machine.

We will be glad to have you examine a De Laval and see for yourself the simplicity and convenience of its construction.

OBITUARY

Mrs. H. L. Rolland

Mrs. H. L. Rolland, for over four years a resident of Thief River Falls, died at her home in Erskine, Sunday, June 25, at 10:00 a. m. death resulting from heart failure after an illness of twenty minutes. Five weeks ago a child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rolland and complications set in thereafter. The decased had been ill for five weeks previous to her death, suffering from Pleuro-pneumonia. Sunday morning she was suddenly attacked with a stroke of heart failure and death ensued shortly afterwards. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Erskine, Rev. G. O. Parish of this city officiating. Services were also held at Dane Prarie, Minn., Mrs. Rolland's birthplace, and interment was made in the cemetery at that place.

Mrs. H. L. Rolland was born September, 10th, 1886 at Dane Prarie, making her age at the time of death, 29 years, 9 months and 15 days. She received her early education at Dane Prairie and resided with her parents until June 7, 1907, when she was united in marriage to H. L. Rolland. To this union were born three children, all surviving as follows: Morris Elliott, age 7 Harold Curtis, age 5, and Maria Christine, age 5 weeks. Other survivors of the deceased are: H. L. Rolland, husband, Mrs. R. Moller, mother residing at Dane Prairie, Mrs. J. Krewvinle, sister residing at Flemming, Sask., A. R. Moller, brother of Crookston, P. C. Moller, brother of Roseau, Robert Moller, a brother, of Carp, and Hans and George, brothers of Dane Prairie.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Rolland left for St. Hilaire, where they resided for three years. They then came to Thief River Falls in 1911 and made their home here until the fall of 1915, Mr. Rolland being engaged in the bazaar store business. Last fall they departed for Erskine, where Mr. Rolland is engaged in the same line of business. During her residence in this city Mrs. Rolland enjoyed a large circle of friends, all of whom regret her sudden parting from this earthly life.

In the sudden death of Mrs. Rolland, a dear and beloved mother and wife has been called to her reward, and a vacancy has been created that can never be filled. She was a christian woman, a woman of high ideals, rigid honesty, sterling worth of character and unfailing friendship.

The Times extends its most sincere sympathy to the bereaved members of the family and relatives.

Edward Smith

Edward Smith, laborer, who for the past year has made Thief River Falls his home at irregular intervals, died in the city Saturday, June 24th, at 11:45 a. m., death coming from edma of the lungs and diabetis mellitus, after an illness of ten days. The deceased was born in Sleepy Eye, Minn., 38 years 8 months and 4 days ago. The remains were shipped to that place Monday evening, and funeral services were held Wednesday. The deceased is survived by his mother, a brother and relatives.

Ed. Emerson has just returned from Jordan, Minn., where he had been taking mud bath treatment for rheumatism.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

> "Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:
>
> 1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
>
> 2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employes as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

BONDS SOLD AT GOOD PREMIUM

Water Works Extension Issue, 30 Years, at Five and One-Half, Bring $1,800.

RAILWAY FRANCHISE SOLD

Minnesota Northwestern Electric Line Only Bidder For Privilege of Entering City Along West Side of Davis Avenue

The $30,000 issue of five and one-half per cent water works extension bonds recently authorized by the city council was sold on Tuesday evening to Kalman, Matteson & Co., of St. Paul, their bid being a premium of $1,800 and the accrued interest from July 1, 1916. This is equivalent to about five per cent par, and is perhaps the best figure ever received for a bond issue by the city.

Eight concerns were bidders for the securities, and the premiums offered indicated that the credit of the city is considered the very best by people whose business it is to know these things. One offer, that of the Hanchett Bond company of Chicago, might at first glance be considered better than the one accepted, this proposition offering a premium of $617 for the bonds at five per cent. As the issue had been advertised for sale at five per cent, however, it was feared that legal technicalities might ensue if bids at any other figure were accepted. The council unanimously agreed that inasmuch as there would be but little difference in the final outcome, it were safer to accept the best figure for the five and one-half per cent proposition.

Sewer Contract Awarded

The contract for the construction of a sewer on the east side of the river was awarded to Roberston, Van-Alstein & Co., of Grand Forks, their bid being as follows: For eight inch pipe, laid, $1.30 per foot; ten inch pipe $1.50; twelve inch pipe, $1.80; manholes, $70:00 each; sewage well and machinery, $1,775.00; extra concrete, per cubic yard, $9.00. The total will be approximately $8,024. Other bids for this work were as follows: Aiken Construction company, Fargo, $8,361; E. T. Webster, St. Paul, $8,182.85; Holt & George, Thief River Falls, $8,998.50.

Railway Franchise Granted

The franchise permitting the use of Davis avenue between Eighth street and Third street for the purpose of operating a railroad thereon was sold to the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway for the sum of $25, this concern being the only bidder. Councilman Froseth cast the only negative vote on this proposition.

The granting of this franchise will meet with general approval of the people of the city. The line was originally laid out to follow Davis avenue to Third tsreet, but the property owners objected and were upheld by the courts. This compelled the trains of the company to stop at Eighth street, necessitating a long walk on the part of the passengers in order to reach the center of the city. The franchise as now granted will require the moving of the tracks to the west side of the street, but will permit the trains to run to the Soo depot on Third street.

Minor Matters.

President Ackerman reported the Soo railroad officials had assured him that the gravel wanted for street work would be forthcoming as soon as the company was able to furnish it. New pits are being opened and it will be impossible to secure the material until it can be taken from these.

The band boys were granted permission to use five feet of space on the outside of the curbing for their Fourth of July booths.

TOWNSHIPS GET MONEY FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

County Commissioners Also Order Preliminary Work for Bridge Across Thief River

The board of county commissioners at the meeting on Monday ordered the county auditor to advertise for bids for a bridge across the Thief River north of the city, at the same time requesting the county engineer to draw up plans and specifications for the structure. This is the bridge toward which the farmers living in the neighborhood have contributed some $1,800, the project also receiving a small bonus from the city.

Appropriations were made for the purpose of aiding certain townships in the building of roads. The town of Reiner received $75 for a road on the line between sections 20 and 21.

Kratka township was given $150 for a road running between sections 36, 25, 35, and 26. The town of Hickory will receive $250 for a line road between sections 35 and 34, while Highlanding was awarded aid to the extent of $150 for that section of the highway between Kratka and Highlanding extending from Section 7 southward to the river.

Deer Park township was given $150 for a road on the west side of sections 18 and 19, and $50 for the section line between 10 and 11. Black River and Polk Center townships each received $300 for the construction of a highway between ranges 44 and 45, beginning at the county line between Pennington and Red Lake counties and terminating at the line dividing townships 152 and 153.

The county auditor was ordered to prepare all papers and take such other steps as may be necessary for a bond issue in the matter of judicial ditch No. 14 and county ditch No. 55.

CELEBRATION A GREAT SUCCESS

Town and Country People Join in Making Day One of Greatest in City's History

THE PARADE BIG FEATURE

Sports Program at Fair Grounds Packs Grand Stand, Bleachers and Auto Park—Patriotic Address by County Attorney Kjomme

The Fourth of July celebration in Thief River Falls was a hummer from every point of view. Nothing much which would have added to the success of the celebration had been omitted by the committee in charge, and the only superfluous feature was the heavy rain storm of the night before. This put a damper on the festivities during the forenoon, but by one o'clock the streets were dry enough to permit of the parade taking place.

An Excellent Showing

Sheriff W. J. LaBree acted as marshal of the day, and lined the procession up at the Auditorium. Councilman Ole Ihle, rigged out as Uncle Sam, with Miss Columbia in the person of Miss Lylabelle Schuster, occupied the first rig behind the Schuster shetlands, followed by the Commercial Club Boosters wearing Uncle Sam hats. After these came the Minnesota State band. The city and county officials in automobiles were next in line, followed by the fire department, school children, boy scouts and the Pembina Camp Fire girls. The floats of the different business houses of the city wound up the procession.

Some Fine Displays

The float of the Tri State Telephone company was awarded first prize by the judges. This display showed the operators at work at a regular switchboard, wires being strung from the cross arms of a pole erected at the rear of the platform. The sides of the float contained the words "Tri State" worked out from the little red, white and blue shields which is the trade mark of the company. The whole idea was very pretty and appropriate and represented much hard work on the part of the young ladies employed at the central station here.

Second prize was awarded to Loken Brothers for their float representing the departments of their store. The ready-to-wear section was prettily advertised by young ladies dressed in the latest costumes for summer wear. Mirrors were arranged throughout the display, and the whole effect was novel and pleasing.

The Laing Hardware company had a particularly effective display in the parade, this consisting of the goods handled by the concern, arranged in tasty and convincing detail. The United Commercial Travelers also attracted much attention because of their novel float. Others of appropriate design and artistic execution were the displays of the Winton-Nichols Lumber company, Spink Hardware company, Lieberman Bros.. Thief River Falls Manufacturing company, Thief River Produce company, and Korstad Bros. The latter had rigged up the most comical arrangement of the entire parade, and it was the particular delight of the juvenile population.

The Afternoon Program

County Attorney Hans O. Kjomme was the orator of the day, speaking from an auto in front of the grand stand. Mr. Kjomme spoke of the significance of the day and recounted in a general way the histories of kings and countries previous to the establishment of the American republic. He said that the struggle now going on in Europe should teach us the value of preparedness, not that we should wish to be aggressors or oppressors, but simply in order that if the occasion should arise, we would be in a position to defend our heritage and prove that a republican form of government is not an impossibility among nations. The address was listened to with rapt attention and every indication that the sentiments of the speaker were approved.

The Games and Races

The track was wet and sticky from the rain of the previous evening and the race events were therefore somewhat curtailed. The tug -of-war between the city men and the farmers was won by the latter without much of an effort. The auto race was won by Emil Ostby, followed by Robert Anderson and Earl Inmann. Leon Leon Beauclee attempted to lower the auto record with his motorcycle, but the condition of the track made this impossible.

There were three entries in the foot race—George and Frank Posten, and John Nielsen. The latter dropped out after running a mile and the contest was finished by the Posten brothers, Frank being the winner.

The Ball Game

Thief River Falls was the victor in the ball game with Red Lake Falls, the score being 9 to 2. Menzel and Hofmeister preformed at the cardinal points for Thief River Falls, while Ducharme, Kosack and Reed were used by the visitors. Rainey Walbaum of the local team rather starred in the batting, getting two doubles and a triple. Hofmesiter rapped out his usual home run. The work of the fast outfield of the visitors was most noticeable. The Red Lakers are particularly strong in this department, and altogether put up an excellent game.

Boys' and Girls' Races

The races for the boys and girls were held down town in the evening. These proved interesting events and attracted big crowds. The relay race between the boys was particularly good. The winner in this was the team composed of James Pranteau, Harry Olson, Walter Truelson and Deloris Goulet, while second prize was won by Edward Fiterman, the two Hagen boys and Fred Wills.

The ball given by the band at the Auditorium was well attended and very much enjoyed. The proceedings of the entire day were more or less under the auspices of the band, and the members share with Secretary Lincoln and the Commercial club committee the credit of making the event the decided success it proved to be.

WANT REPAIR WORK STARTED ON DAM

City Council Claims That Reasonable Time Has Elapsed Since Damage Was Done

At a special meeting of the city council held on Monday, City Attorney Quale was instructed to notify owners of the Kretzschmar dam that a reasonable length of time had elapsed since that source of power was made useless by the ice last spring, and that some action had better be taken in the matter.

The company is under contract to furnish power to the city at all times when the stage of water in the Red Lake river makes this possible, and as the city is now under considerably greater expense than when the power is available, the council wants to know what is going to be done about it.

The people of the city have been very lenient in this matter, realizing that the condition was brought about through no fault of the company, but as the latter thus far has made no effort to place the dam in condition to furnish power, the city is being forced to shoulder a considerable extra outlay in order to keep the people supplied with electric current.

Competent legal opinion is to the effect that inasmuch as a reasonable time has elapsed since the damage was done the company is laying itself liable for any cost over and above the price which the city would have to pay if the dam were in working order.

New Bids Asked For

A technicality in the awarding of the sewer contract on the east side will make re-advertisement for bids on the job necessary. The contractor to whom the work was let found something which did not exactly suit him in the publication of the notice, and the council fearing that the matter might come up to cause trouble when the work was completed, decided to re-advertise and be on the safe side.

New Flag For Court House.

As soon as someone with sufficient time to place a flag pole on the court house building can be found, the new star spangled banner this week received will float proudly therefrom. The new flag is 8x15 feet and the pole will be 30 feet in height. County Auditor Anderson tried in every way known to science to secure the services of someone competent to put up the staff in order that the new emblem might be unfurled for the first time on the Fourth, but was unsuccessful. The staff will have to be securely anchored in order to withstand the strain and it will be necessary to cut a hole in the roof to get the proper foundation. In the meantime you can see the flag at the auditor's office.

COMPARISON OF HIGHWAY ROUTES

A MOST INTERESTING TRIP

All Three Routes Are Traversed With a View to Selecting the Best For All-Year Purposes—Took One Week

The first party to officially make a tour over the different routes proposed for the Jefferson Highway in Minnesota completed their trip at Brainerd last Saturday night, having occupied exactly one week on the run. The party was composed of J. D. Clarkson, of Missouri, general manager of the Jefferson highway project; H. H. Orme of St. Paul, president of the State Automobile association and director of the Jefferson highway; Daniel Shaw of Thief River Falls, president of the Northern Minnesota Jefferson Highway association, representing the central route; J. H. Mullen, chief deputy state highway commissioner; J. K. West of Detroit, representing the western route, and Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, representing the eastern route.

Western Route First

The start was made from St. Paul on Sunday morning, June 25, and the first route inspected was that traversing the Red River valley. This thrip was by the way of Anoka, Elk River and St. Cloud, westward to Melrose, at which point the party passed the first night. The next day's journey was through Alexandria, north to Detroit, thence westward to Moorhead, where the night was spent. An early start was made the next morning, it being the aim to reach Thief River Falls by way of Karlstad before night.

Escorted Into Town

The party was met near Hallock by autos from this city, the number being augmented when Viking was reached. This part of the trip over the Pembina trail proved one of the most interesting of the journey, and as it is the section in which the people here are more particularly interested, no part of its advantages were allowed to escape the notice of the inspectors. Entertainment for the party had been looked after by a local committee, the detail of this appearing in the Times last week.

The Eastern Route

On Thursday morning the journey eastward was continued, the route being by way of Red Lake Falls and Bemidji. A bad storm was encountered between Bagley and the last named city, but because of the nature of the roadbed, this caused but little inconvenience. The Commercial

FAIR ATTRACTIONS TO BE CAREFULLY CHOSEN

Management is Determined That Amusement Concern Secured Shall be of the Best

Preparations for the annual Pennington county fair are progressing satisfactorily, although the management has had some disappointments to contend with. There seems to be a scarcity of desirable carnival companies to take over the amusement division of the big show this year. Secretary LaBree has had a number of offers but something has always prevented their being signed up. The management is determined that this part of the fair this year shall be a particularly attractive feature and is therefore carefully looking into the claims of all offering their services. Mr. LaBree has several applications under consideration at this time, however, and guarantees that this division will be properly taken care of.

The track at the fair grounds is in the best shape it has ever been. The regular race card will be issued shortly, and contains some particularly interesting entries. A crew of men is at work repairing the damage done to the grand stand by the wind a week ago, and this will be in good shape by the time it is needed. The premium book is out giving the list of awards in every division, and shows that the number of prizes has been largely increased and the awards raised.

If the exhibitors will do their part, the 1916 fair of the Pennington County Agricultural association will be the best of its entire history.

Auto Accdent

Miss Vivian Peterson, of Pelan, Minn., who finished her Sophmore year in the Lincoln high school in May, and who enters in September as a Junior, is at present in the Roseau hospital receiving treatment for a broken leg, which she sustained in an auto accident near Roseau. The Roseau Region says:

"A flat tire and the sudden application of the brakes caused an automobile driven by Chas. Engelbert of Bronson to skid and turn turtle about a mile west of town Sunday afternoon. The car was traveling at a fast clip, and it was only a miracle that prevented more serious injuries than what resulted. The occupants, Mr. Engelbert, Mr. Frederickson and Mr. Lofgren of Karlstad, and Miss Peterson of Pelan, and Misses Nubson and Christianson of Greenbush, were pioned under the car, which is practically a total wreck. Miss Peterson sustained a broken leg, while the others escaped with mionor injuries and a bad shaking up. The injured girl was taken to the Norin hospital."

PLEASANT VISIT AT MARSHALL CO. FAIR

Thief River Falls Autos Parade the Town and Base Ball Team is Beaten.

A number of Thief River Falls boosters accompanied the bunch up to Warren and took in the Marshall county fair on Wednesday. The party leaving the Commercial club rooms at the scheduled hour was composed of Ed. Korstad, Dr. Crandall, Joseph Lutz and Robert Anderson, each taking a load that tested the capacity of their autos, while others kept leaving at different hours during the day. President Herbert Fuller and Secretary W. J. LaBree of the Pennington County Agricultural association went up in the morning and were strongly in evidence with the Pennington fair boosting matter.

About 30 Thief River autos formed a parade at 6:00 o'clock in the evening, and, with the band at their head, made the rounds of the business streets. They were given an ovation by the people of Warren and the trip as a whole did much to cement the good feeling existing between the people of the two cities.

Thief River Falls was defeated in the base ball game by a score of nine to two. Rusling, the pitcher for Nason's bunch got away with a bad start, hitting two men in the first inning. There were eight errors chalked up against the Thief River Falls nine in the first two innings, and their entire performance was ragged and inexcusable. It was the poorest sample of base ball they have handed out this season, bearing no resemblance whatever to the fast, snappy article they put up against Red Lake Falls on the home grounds on the Fourth.

The visit, however, was much enjoyed and all who made the trip speak in the highest terms of the excellent fair and the fine treatment accorded the visitors from this city.

CONFIRMATION CLASS AT SYNOD CHURCH IS LARGE

Twenty-eight Young Men and Women Will be Re-affirmed in the Faith Next Sunday.

One of the largest confirmation classes in the history of the Synod Norwegian Lutheran church in this city will give their pledge of faith before the congregation next Sunday. Rev. I. T. Aastad, pastor of the church, will officiate, and the class is composed of the following: Henry Theodore Aastad, Corine Josephine Adsers, Edwin Arthur Anderson, Norman Arthur Amble, Alpha May Bishop, Stanton Raustad Dahlen, Lillian Jeanette Eide, Norman Elmer Wybrig, Ray M. O. Flattum, Gudrun Elvira Granum, Helma Hanson, Henry Oliver Hjelden, Alvin Theodore Johnson, John Arnold Jacobson, Elmer Syvert Larson, Ella Olive Linstad, Margaret Mary Kaushaugen, Clara Mathilda Moe, Arthur William Myren, Einar O. Overland, Gerda I. Sorlom, R. A. Clayton Stienerson, Clarence Alfred Veavea, Sealla Theodora Williams, Andy Lorentz Williamson, Ralph O. S. Wold, Ruth Isabel Wold, Olive Luella Wold.

Former Resident Here

L. M. Bothun, former resident of Thief River Falls, passed yesterday in the city greeting his friends, while enroute to his home at Dalton after a trip to Henning and other towns south of here for the purpose of delivering several copies of a book which he has written, entitled "Pioneer Days in the Red River Valley." He left in the afternoon for his home via Crookston.

INDIAN INVASION NOBLY REPELLED

Brunette Base Ball Aggregation From White Earth Receive Second Beating of Season.

FAIRBANKS' CIRCUS STUNT

Makes Backhanded Catch of Long Fly Which Brings Fans to Their Feet— A pile-up at Home Plate

It still remains for Nason's Nobles to lose a game on the local grounds. These national pastime experts nipped a threatened Indian invasion in the bud last Sunday when they defeated the White Earth ball team by a score of six to two. The red men, having already lost one game to the locals, came to this city with the firm intention of getting a few paleface scalps, and the fans expected a battle royal. It was a good game, with enough sensational plays to keep the fans in high gear throughout. The attendance was small, owing to the free open air band concert in the park, the conflict in dates resulting from a misunderstanding on the part of the band management.

Double Play Unassisted.

"Slugger" Murray was on the mound for the visitors and with the exception of one bad inning, pitched a consistent game. Heisler at the receiving end did his share of the heavy work. "Strike out" Menzel did the heaving for the locals with "Dutch" Hofmeister behind the bat. The honors were about even as to battery work, although Menzel is credited with ten strike outs, to four for Murray. Fairbank's one-handed grab of Menzel's long drive into right field in the sixth frame, and Heisler's double play at the home plate in the fourth were unusual plays. Fairbanks, running with the ball, made a leap into the air and picked the pellet out of the ozone backhanded, the fans showing their appreciation of the circus catch by loud applause. Heisler's double came after Hofmeister and German had been given a life. Christensen popped an infield grounder. Hofmeister started for home, followed by Gorman and both were in a heap at the plate as Heisler made the put-outs.

The locals scored in the third and fifth frames. In the third, Johnson was out at first by Berry, unassisted.

NEWELL PLEADS GUILTY; GESELL ON TRIAL TODAY

The district court of the 14th Judicial district began trying criminal cases this morning. Dr. H. B. Newell indicted by the grand jury on five counts, pleaded guilty this forenoon to two charges, one being for selling liquor to a minor and the other for selling liquor without a license. The other three charges were dropped. This afternoon was partly taken up in impaneling a jury in the case of the State of Minnesota vs Howard Gesell, the latter being charged with assaulting an officer on May 26 when Chief of Police Berge and Patrolman Erickson made a raid on his "nest" in Oakland addition. At 3:30 the jury was sworn in and a fifteen minute recess taken. The jury chosen are: Peter Bugge, John Heherness, Hans Rudd, J. O. Swanson, Fred Lawerenson, Arthur Peterson, Frank Peterson, Joe Olson, John Dahl, Ole Johnsrud, Salve Myrum and Halvor Christianson.

At 3:45 p. m. the trial commenced when County Attorney H. O. Kjomme read the written indictment to the jury. Judge Tarrant then took the witness stand for 5 minutes. Chief of Police Berge, went on next and told of the fight between Gesell and the officers, and up to going to press he still occupied the stand. Charles Boughten is representing the defendant.

Last Friday Editor Hunt of the Sunbeam, was indicted by the grand jury on three counts for libel. These these cases are expected to come up next week.

CELEBRATION A GREAT SUCCESS

Town and Country People Join in Making Day One of Greatest in City's History

THE PARADE BIG FEATURE

Sports Program at Fair Grounds Packs Grand Stand, Bleachers and Auto Park—Patriotic Address by County Attorney Kjomme

The Fourth of July celebration in Thief River Falls was a hummer from every point of view. Nothing much which would have added to the success of the celebration had been omitted by the committee in charge, and the only superfluous feature was the heavy rain storm of the night before. This put a damper on the festivities during the forenoon, but by one o'clock the streets were dry enough to permit of the parade taking place.

An Excellent Showing

Sheriff W. J. LaBree acted as marshal of the day, and lined the procession up at the Auditorium. Councilman Ole Ihle, rigged out as Uncle Sam, with Miss Columbia in the person of Miss Lylabelle Schuster, occupied the first rig behind the Schuster shetlands, followed by the Commercial Club Boosters wearing Uncle Sam hats. After these came the Minnesota State band. The city and county officials in automobiles were next in line, followed by the fire department, school children, boy scouts and the Pembina Camp Fire girls. The floats of the different business houses of the city wound up the procession.

Some Fine Displays

The float of the Tri State Telephone company was awarded first prize by the judges. This display showed the operators at work at a regular switchboard, wires being strung from the cross arms of a pole erected at the rear of the platform. The sides of the float contained the words "Tri State" worked out from the little red, white and blue shields which is the trade mark of the company. The whole idea was very pretty and appropriate and represented much hard work on the part of the young ladies employed at the central station here.

Second prize was awarded to Loken Brothers for their float representing the departments of their store. The ready-to-wear section was prettily advertised by young ladies dressed in the latest costumes for summer wear. Mirrors were arranged throughout the display, and the whole effect was novel and pleasing.

The Laing Hardware company had a particularly effective display in the parade, this consisting of the goods handled by the concern, arranged in tasty and convincing detail. The United Commercial Travelers also attracted much attention because of their novel float. Others of appropriate design and artistic execution were the displays of the Winton-Nichols Lumber company, Spink Hardware company, Lieberman Bros., Thief River Falls Manufacturing company, Thief River Produce company, and Korstad Bros. The latter had rigged up the most comical arrangement of the entire parade, and it was the particular delight of the juvenile population.

The Afternoon Program

County Attorney Hans O. Kjomme was the orator of the day, speaking from an auto in front of the grand stand. Mr. Kjomme spoke of the significance of the day and recounted in a general way the histories of kings and countries previous to the establishment of the American republic. He said that the struggle now going on in Europe should teach us the value of preparedness, not that we should wish to be aggressors or oppressors, but simply in order that if the occasion should arise, we would be in a position to defend our heritage and prove that a republican form of government is not an impossibility among nations. The address was listened to with rapt attention and every indication that the sentiments of the speaker were approved.

The Games and Races

The track was wet and sticky from the rain of the previous evening and the race events were therefore somewhat curtailed. The tug-of-war between the city men and the farmers was won by the latter without much of an effort. The auto race was won by Emil Ostby, followed by Robert Anderson and Earl Inmann. Leon Leon Beauclee attempted to lower the auto record with his motorcycle, but the condition of the track made this impossible.

There were three entries in the foot race—George and Frank Posten, and John Nielsen. The latter dropped out after running a mile and the contest was finished by the Posten brothers, Frank being the winner.

The Ball Game

Thief River Falls was the victor in the ball game with Red Lake Falls, the score being 9 to 2. Menzel and Hofmeister preformed at the cardinal points for Thief River Falls, while Ducharme, Kosack and Reed were used by the visitors. Rainey Walbaum of the local team rather starred in the batting, getting two doubles and a triple. Hofmesiter rapped out his usual home run. The work of the fast outfield of the visitors was most noticeable. The Red Lakers are particularly strong in this department, and altogether put up an excellent game.

Boys' and Girls' Races

The races for the boys and girls were held down town in the evening. These proved interesting events and attracted big crowds. The relay race between the boys was particularly good. The winner in this was the team composed of James Pranteau, Harry Olson, Walter Truelson and Deloris Goulet, while second prize was won by Edward Fiterman, the two Hagen boys and Fred Wills.

The ball given by the band at the Auditorium was well attended and very much enjoyed. The proceedings of the entire day were more or less under the auspices of the band, and the members share with Secretary Lincoln and the Commercial club committee the credit of making the event the decided success it proved to be.

WANT REPAIR WORK STARTED ON DAM

City Council Claims That Reasonable Time Has Elapsed Since Damage Was Done

At a special meeting of the city council held on Monday, City Attorney Quale was instructed to notify owners of the Kretzschmar dam that a reasonable length of time had elapsed since that source of power was made useless by the ice last spring, and that some action had better be taken in the matter.

The company is under contract to furnish power to the city at all times when the stage of water in the Red Lake river makes this possible, and as the city is now under considerably greater expense than when the power is available, the council wants to know what is going to be done about it.

The people of the city have been very lenient in this matter, realizing that the condition was brought about through no fault of the company, but as the latter thus far has made no effort to place the dam in condition to furnish power, the city is being forced to shoulder a considerable extra outlay in order to keep the people supplied with electric current.

Competent legal opinion is to the effect that inasmuch as a reasonable time has elapsed since the damage was done the company is laying itself liable for any cost over and above the price which the city would have to pay if the dam were in working order.

New Bids Asked For

A technicality in the awarding of the sewer contract on the east side will make re-advertisement for bids on the job necessary. Auto Accdent

Miss Vivian Peterson, of Pelan, Minn., who finished her Sophmore year in the Lincoln high school in May, and who enters in September as a Junior, is at present in the Roseau hospital receiving treatment for a broken leg, which she sustained in an auto accident near Roseau. The Roseau Region says:

"A flat tire and the sudden application of the brakes caused an automobile driven by Chas. Engelbert of Bronson to skid and turn turtle about a mile west of town Sunday afternoon. The car was traveling at a fast clip, and it was only a miracle that prevented more serious injuries than what resulted. The occupants, Mr. Engelbert, Mr. Frederickson and Mr. Lofgren of Karlstad, and Miss Peterson of Pelan, and Misses Nubson and Christianson of Greenbush, were pioned under the car, which is practically a total wreck. Miss Peterson sustained a broken leg, while the others escaped with mionor injuries and a bad shaking up. The injured girl was taken to the Norin hospital."

PLEASANT VISIT AT MARSHALL CO. FAIR

Thief River Falls Autos Parade the Town and Base Ball Team is Beaten.

A number of Thief River Falls boosters accompanied the bunch up to Warren and took in the Marshall county fair on Wednesday. The party leaving the Commercial club rooms at the scheduled hour was composed of Ed. Korstad, Dr. Crandall, Joseph Lutz and Robert Anderson, each taking a load that tested the capacity of their autos, while others kept leaving at different hours during the day. President Herbert Fuller and Secretary W. J. LaBree of the Pennington County Agricultural association went up in the morning and were strongly in evidence with the Pennington fair boosting matter.

About 30 Thief River autos formed a parade at 6:00 o'clock in the evening, and, with the band at their head, made the rounds of the business streets. They were given an ovation by the people of Warren and the trip as a whole did much to cement the good feeling existing between the people of the two cities.

Thief River Falls was defeated in the base ball game by a score of nine to two. Rusling, the pitcher for Nason's bunch got away with a bad start, hitting two men in the first inning. There were eight errors chalked up against the Thief River Falls nine in the first two innings, and their entire performance was ragged and inexcusable. It was the poorest sample of base ball they have handed out this season, bearing no resemblance whatever to the fast, snappy article they put up against Red Lake Falls on the home grounds on the Fourth.

The visit, however, was much enjoyed and all who made the trip speak in the highest terms of the excellent fair and the fine treatment accorded the visitors from this city.

Former Resident Here

L. M. Bothun, former resident of Thief River Falls, passed yesterday in the city greeting his friends, while enroute to his home at Dalton after a trip to Henning and other towns south of here for the purpose of delivering several copies of a book which he has written, entitled "Pioneer Days in the Red River Valley." He left in the afternoon for his home via Crookston.

INDIAN INVASION NOBLY REPELLED

Brunette Base Ball Aggregation From White Earth Receive Second Beating of Season.

FAIRBANKS' CIRCUS STUNT

Makes Backhanded Catch of Long Fly Which Brings Fans to Their Feet— A pile-up at Home Plate

It still remains for Nason's Nobles to lose a game on the local grounds. These national pastime experts nipped a threatened Indian invasion in the bud last Sunday when they defeated the White Earth ball team by a score of six to two. The red men, having already lost one game to the locals, came to this city with the firm intention of getting a few paleface scalps, and the fans expected a battle royal. It was a good game, with enough sensational plays to keep the fans in high gear throughout. The attendance was small, owing to the free open air band concert in the park, the conflict in dates resulting from a misunderstanding on the part of the band management.

Double Play Unassisted.

"Slugger" Murray was on the mound for the visitors and with the exception of one bad inning, pitched a consistent game. Heisler at the receiving end did his share of the heavy work. "Strike out" Menzel did the heaving for the locals with "Dutch" Hofmeister behind the bat. The honors were about even as to battery work, although Menzel is credited with ten strike outs, to four for Murray. Fairbank's one-handed grab of Menzel's long drive into right field in the sixth frame, and Heisler's double play at the home plate in the fourth were unusual plays. Fairbanks, running with the ball, made a leap into the air and picked the pellet out of the ozone backhanded, the fans showing their appreciation of the circus catch by loud applause. Heisler's double came after Hofmeister and German had been given a life. Christensen popped an infield grounder. Hofmeister started for home, followed by Gorman and both were in a heap at the plate as Heisler made the put-outs.

The locals scored in the third and fifth frames. In the third, Johnson was out at first by Berry, unassisted.

NEWELL PLEADS GUILTY; GESELL ON TRIAL TODAY

The district court of the 14th Judicial district began trying criminal cases this morning. Dr. H. B. Newell indicted by the grand jury on five counts, pleaded guilty this forenoon to two charges, one being for selling liquor to a minor and the other for selling liquor without a license. The other three charges were dropped. This afternoon was partly taken up in impaneling a jury in the case of the State of Minnesota vs Howard Gesell, the latter being charged with assaulting an officer on May 26 when Chief of Police Berge and Patrolman Erickson made a raid on his "nest" in Oakland addition. At 3:30 the jury was sworn in and a fifteen minute recess taken. The jury chosen are: Peter Bugge, John Heherness, Hans Rudd, J. O. Swanson, Fred Lawerenson, Arthur Peterson, Frank Peterson, Joe Olson, John Dahl, Ole Johnsrud, Salve Myrum and Halvor Christianson.

At 3:45 p. m. the trial commenced when County Attorney H. O. Kjomme read the written indictment to the jury. Judge Tarrant then took the witness stand for 5 minutes. Chief of Police Berge, went on next and told of the fight between Gesell and the officers, and up to going to press he still occupied the stand. Charles Boughten is representing the defendant.

Last Friday Editor Hunt of the Sunbeam, was indicted by the grand jury on three counts for libel. These these cases are expected to come up next week.

Should Take Some Action

The question has been asked—and is being asked more insistently every day: "Why is not the Thief River Falls Commercial club displaying some interest in, and taking some action on, the proposition to change to the city manager form?" It would seem that a proposition of such importance should originate with the club, let alone receive its enthusiastic endorsement after being originated. So far as we are able to learn the subject has never been a matter for discussion in the club rooms.

Things are handled somewhat differently by bodies organized in other places for much the same purpose as the Commercial club here. In practically every instance where the commission or city manager form has been adopted it has been at the instance of the men comprising the Commercial clubs of the cities in which this sensible and modern change has been made. To enumerate a few: The Greater Dayton association of Dayton, Ohio; the Board of Trade of Big Rapids, Mich.; Board of City Development of Amerillo, Texas.; the Manistee Board of Commerce; The Chamber of Commerce of Sumter S. C.; the Chamber of Commerce, Phoenix, Ariz.;The Commercial club of LaGrande, Ore.; the Chamber of Commerce of Staunton, Va., and the similar civic bodies in a dozen other places where a municipal government similar to that now proposed for Thief River Falls has been adopted. In each and every instance has the proposition to make the change first been broached by these orginaziations and they have from that time forward never lost sight of the issue until it has been adopted by the people at the poles.

This is but natural. The members of business men's organizations are invariably the leading citizens and heavy taxpayers in a community. They are on the lookout for systems that insure the lowering of taxes and the raising of efficiency. They know that they could not apply the haphazzard methods usually found in city governments to their own business and survive because of the incident waste. They know that the centralization of authority is the only method by which any enterprise can be made to go forward and prosper, and they have come to regard their city simply as the product of their joint enterprise. They know that the old order is unsatisfactory, slow and inedequate, and are on the lookout for anything which promises improvement. That is why they are in the very forefront of any movement which has for its object the simplification and consequent economical handling of their community's affairs. And they win—they always win where they take the proper hold.

It is less than two weeks to election day and the Commercial club of the city of Thief River Falls has not gone on record as being either for or against the new charter. Why?

The Other Side

The railway brotherhoods claim that the associated railroads have as yet no right to assume that there will be a strike. Such action cannot be taken among the railroaders because someone at headquarters has a grievance or an axe to grind. The matter is submitted to a referendum vote of the membership and a majority must favor the strike before it can be called. The men have been criticised in some quarters because refused to submit their case to the abjudication of the Interstate Commerce commision. This criticism is met by the assertion that the commission has no authority under the law to act in this matter. The brotherhoods maintain that the commission can no more regulate the wages of a railway's employees than it can stipulate the price the railroad must pay for its rails or other supplies. If the interstate commission should assume the responsibility of agreeing that the demands of the men should be met, it would clearly be up to the commision to provide the railroads with means for meeting them. The men claim that this is exactly what the railroads are aiming at—to place the matter in the hands of the only body empowered to grant an advance in rates. Their contention is that no raise is necessary in order to meet their demands, and that therefore the services of the commision are not called for. The answer of the men to the suggestion that the matter be arbitrated may be summed up as follows:

"If it is right and proper for the freight train employees to go into an arbitration as to whether they shall be worked excessive hours and as to what they shall sell their labor for, then it would only be consistent for the railway car and engine builders and railway supply dealers to agree to arbitrate with the railroads as to the price the railroads should pay for these things."

Much stress has been laid upon the assertion that the railroads, because of their financial condition, are unable to accede to the demands made upon them. This does not seem like a particularly sound argument. If the demands of the men are just and reasonable, means for meeting them should be found. If railroading conditions do not permit of this, there must be something wrong with the conditions, in which case the matter should be remedied. It is manifestly unjust to ask the brotherhood members to bear the burden. If the contentions of the companies are valid, their argument is with the interstate commerce commission and not with the men.

Those who have been in a hurry to condemn the railroaders for not embracing the arbitration proposition should ponder both sides of this matter before delivering themselves of their weighty opinions.

The biggest Fourth of July celebration in the history of Northern Minnesota and not a single arrest for drunkeness. It may be there is just as much liquor consumed in a dry town, but if so, those imbibing carry it differently.

Are you aware that there is going to be a special election held in Thief River Falls on the 18th of July? If you do not know all about its purpose, its possibilities and the history connected with the proposed measures in places where they have been tried, you are certainly not to be congratulated upon the quality of your citizenship.

Lower taxes, more improvements, increased efficiency, centralized responsibility, elastic amendment provisions, civil service for employees, no grafting, no shirking, full value for every dollar expended, a voice in your own government—these are a few of the things other cities have discovered is meant by the city manager system. Do you think it worth while for Thief River Falls?

There is not a single chapter of the proposed new city charter that is not an improvement over the old one. That is what a new charter was devised for. Any one of its 183 sections contains provisions calculated to make Thief River Falls a better city in which to live. Hard-headed taxpayers have spent months in searching out, investigating and compiling the material in this new code for the municipality's administration, and everyone who has taken the trouble to look over their work says it is well done. Do you not think that it might prove to your interest to look into the matter for yourself? If you will do this you will also cast your vote for the new charter on July 18.

Not Quite Consistent

The bitterest journalistic opponent of Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candiate for President of the United States, is the New York World, a newspaper which basks in the sunshine of independence, but usually finds a way at campaign time of supporting Democratic candidates, whether Tammanyite in local politics, or regular in the national field, remarks the Boston Herald. The World is now particularly furious against Hughes.

It has insisted for months that the G. O. P. must not nominate him. He was too much like the sacrosanct Wilson to prove a real opponent. Hughes, in fine, would never do. This it could not say with too much emphasis or too frequent reiteration.

The World must know what a bad man Hughes is because it has the evidence of it from the pen of Joseph Pulitzer, its founder. When that discriminating man came to write his will he named as one of the trustees of the great newspaper property which he had established, a lawyer, in whose integrity and capacity the brilliant publisher had come to have an exceptional degree of confidence.

That lawyer was Charles E. Hughes. He did not accept the assignment, but the record of it stands, throwing a touch of humor over the World's frantic appeals to save the country from such a man.

PUBLIC UTILITIES MEASURE LIKELY

Advocates to Push Bill Before Next Legislature.

STATE LACKING IN CONTROL

Minnesota One of Few Commonwealths Where Natural Resources Are Left Unprotected.

St. Paul—(Special)—The next legislature now has the attention of those officially and politically interested, and their chief concern is its law output. That prohibition, either statutory or constitutional, will have considerable of the legislative spotlight is certain, and there are a number of other matters of great importance to the state that are likely to be considered. When Frank Minnette of Stearns county failed to connect at the primaries he passed on to his successors and the Fortieth legislature one matter of importance that may overshadow everything else when the 1917 session convenes. This particular bit of trouble is the Minnette telephone act, which puts all telephone companies operating in the state under the control of the state railroad and warehouse commission. The law as it now stands on the statute books is due to be materially amended and its reconstruction may take the form of a general public utilities act. Out of it all may come something constructive and beneficial to the people as a whole. Whether intentional or not when the Minnette act was passed and approved by former Governor Eberhart a burden of better than $1,000,000 in the shape of additional toll charges was inflicted by the companies on the telephone using public. During the period between the approval of the act and the date it became operative toll rates were raised from 30 to 50 per cent and the profits of the companies have been climbing as a result. It is not generally known that more than one legislative contest had as its basis promised relief from this burden and it is here where the promoters of a public utility act hope to realize. Here, they point out, is the best opportunity ever to place on the statute books a line of needed public relief several times attempted but never accomplished because of interference on the part of the big utilities. Minnesota is one of the few states without a law of any kind regulating the control and operation of its water powers. Such are now the most valuable asset of a state. Wire power companies are likewise without any general control. There are other utilities just as important and the big bill, when drafted, will cover them all.

✣ ✣ ✣

Eric L. Thornton of Benson will endeavor to pilot the Republican forces of the state to victory this fall. He was named chairman of the Republican state central committee at a recent meeting of party nominees and his selection was without opposition. Mr. Thornton is an old Twin City newspaper man. Josiah Chase of Minneapolis was named secretary of the committee and Fred Snyder of the same city treasurer. In the makeup of the committee practically an entire new bunch was selected. Few of the old guard were chosen. The new committee is undeniably followers of I. A. Caswell, who is now very much in the party saddle. While the Republican nominess were completing their organization the Democrats and Prohibitionists also held meetings for the same purpose, but the Democrats delayed action until July 27. The Prohibitionists elected O. O. Stageberg of Red Wing chairman and C. A. Fowble of Mahtomehdi vice chairman. W. G. Calderwood of Minneapolis is chairman of the executive committee and George D. Haggard of Minneapolis is vice chairman. John A. Shields is secretary and W. C. Thompson secretary.

✣ ✣ ✣

The state canvassing board has completed its compilation of the primary returns and the majorities and pluralities in some of the contests are quite interesting. Governor Burnquist's majority was 93,169. Frank B. Kellogg prevailed in the contest for United States senator by a plurality of 18,928, and Thomas Frankson won out for lieutenant governor by a plurality of 8,127. Other majorities on the Republican ticket were Julius Schmahl, secretary of state, 56,623; Henry Rines, treasurer, 18,137, and Ira B. Mills, railroad commissioner, 25,879. T. P. Dwyer of Minneapolis won out for the Democratic nomination for governor by a plurality of 3,296, and D .W. Lawler, the candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, had a majority of 14,104. S. G. Iverson, who contested Governor Burnquist's right to the Republican gubernatorial nomination, received only 42,995 votes. Governor Burnquist had a total of 136,122.

✣ ✣ ✣

Thomas Frankson, though the winner of the Republican contest for lieutenant governor, will have to protect his right in the court. He has been attacked in the Ramsey county district court by a number of followers of James Peterson of Minneapolis, one of his rivals, who made charges that Frankson violated the corrupt practices act in spending more than the law permits. Under its terms a candidate for lieutenant governor is limited to an expenditure of $3,500. If the charges can be proven it will eliminate Mr. Frankson as the party candidate for the office at the fall election. The St. Paul man put up a spectacular advertising campaign and this is largely responsible for the many rumors concerning his expenditures. He says that the cost was within the limit and that he is not worrying over the outcome. Capitol circles generally believe that the attack will fail. While the law compels a candidate to keep within a certain limit it says nothing about what friends or his campaign committee expend.

✣ ✣ ✣

Should the Minnesota national guard go to the front the state may lose its auditor, J. A. O. Preus. Mr. Preus, who is a captain in the quartermaster's department of the guard, has been drafted into the federal service and now fears are entertained that his federal connection may stick. Should State Auditor Preus go to the front it would undoubtedly compel his resignation, as the majority of his official duties cannot be handled by a deputy. He is also a member of many boards which demand his constant presence in the state.

✣ ✣ ✣

There is no denying that the future of the state Democracy is not overbright, but at a meeting of party nominees D. W. Lawler, candidate for United States senator, promised to give the enemy the time of its life. Thomas Dwyer, candidate for governor, also announced that he would be on the job. The state organization as a result of the primary is pretty much Lynch and the followers of the national committeeman will be in control. The attack on Thomas Frankson, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, because of alleged violations of the corrupt practices act, the Democratic leaders believe will materially help Julius Thorson, their candidate for the same office.

✣ ✣ ✣

Adjutant General Wood is being hauled over the coals because of charges that the Minnesota national guard is not up to standard. Since the mobilization of the guard at Fort Snelling certain of the Twin City papers have been indulging in considerable criticism and General Wood has been blamed for it all. If the truth is to be told the condition of the guard in Minnesota is due more to public indifference than anything else. Organized labor does not look upon the militia with favor and in the cities this feeling is reflected in the absence of union men from the ranks.

✣ ✣ ✣

Analysis of the Republican senatorial vote shows that Frank B. Kellogg's strength was general and well distributed over the state. In less degree A. O. Eberhart's following makes the same showing. The support of the other two candidates was somewhat bunched, being strong and right up with the leaders in some sections and very weak in other places. Kellogg carried fifty-five counties by pluralities, Eberhart carried twenty-one, Clapp two and Lindbergh eight. The usual order was Kellogg first, Eberhart second, and, in counties carried by Eberhart, Kellogg was almost invariably second.

✣ ✣ ✣

The strike situation on the Iron Range is becoming more serious and may call for interference by the governor at any time. The sheriff of St. Louis county conferred with the state executive the other day and was advised by Governor Burnquist to swear in every man in the county as a deputy if it was necessary to preserve order. This is Governor Burnquist's first encounter with troubles of this kind and he does not relish the job at all

PHOENIX AND MANISTEE ENDORSE MANAGER PLAN

People of These Progressive Municipalities Find It Means Lower Tax Rate, Less Politics and Increased Efficiency in Every Department.

"THE BEST GOVERNMENT IN AMERICA"

This is The Concensus of Opinion Where Plan Has Been Given Honest Trial---No Shifting of Responsibility and No Evasion of Duty Possible.

The proposition to change the entire system of municipal government for the City of Thief River Falls is apparently creating less interest than would the appointment of a new poundmaster. A special election is to to be held on the 18th of July, at which time the people will decide whether or not they wish their city to be numbered among the progressive and enlightened municipalities of the country, orare satisfied to drift along in the same old rut. A new city charter, based upon the experiences of other cities in the United States and embodying the latest and most improved methods of municipal administration will be adopted or rejected by the voters on that day. Less concern is manifested over the outcome than was shown in the result of the municipal election in Duluth, while the proposed construction of two blocks of sewer on the east side is causing vastly more interest.

A Surprising Situation

It is doubtful if such absolute lethargy could be displayed on a subject of such importance in any other community in the United States. The committee appointed by Judge Andrew Grindeland for the purpose of drafting this charter devoted months of time and a large amount of hard work and study toward evolving a document which they thought would best meet the conditions existing here. H. C. Rowberg, attorney for the commission, sent far and wide for copies of city charters and these were diligently studied and the best features copied. The mistakes made by the communities first trying out the city manager plan of government have thus, as far as possible, been avoided, while the features that have proven valuable and workable have been incorporated into this charter. Every city which has adopted the city manager plan has advanced a few steps further than the city which preceded it in this direction. This being the case, Thief River Falls should present to the voters on July 18th the very best thus far evolved, because the charter makers profitted by the mistakes of others.

Endorsed Everywhere

Last week The Times contained an article telling of the experiences of Dayton. under this form of municipal government. This progressive Ohio city is perhaps the best known of the city manager municipalities, but it is by no means the only one. As a concrete instance of what the new system means, attention is called to the following, written by Mr. H. N. Clark, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Manistee, Mich. Mr. Clark says:

"Mr. R. H. Ross, Thief River Falls, Minn. Dear Sir: I am glad to answer your recent letter relative to the operation of the city manager plan of municipal government in Manistee.

"The fact that fully 90 per cent of the voters are now in favor of the city manager plan only goes to show the success with which this plan has operated here. It has made for increased efficiency in all departments, and has resulted in a considerable saving of money. To be exact, $30,000 has been saved in the last two years and better results obtained than with what was spent prior to that time. Sixty-three hundred dollars alone was saved in the fire and water departments.

"President Smith of the board of commerce, recently went on record in a speech for the statement that he considered the city manager plan, as operated in Manistee, to be the best form of municipal government in America.

"One of the best features of this form of government lies in the fact that a citizen can procure redress or the correction of an error or abuse almost at once. He knows exactly to whom to go to have the matter straightened out. In other words, he can put his finger on the 'sore spot' immediately. Heretofore he was frequently passed along from one department to another and from one official to another before he finally reached the man in whom responsibility lay."

Great Success in Phoenix.

In a recent issue the Engineering News of New York contained a lengthy article dealing with the success of the city manager plan at Phoenix, the principal city of the state of Arizona. Inasmuch as this article was written by a staff correspondent in the general line of his duties it cannot be charged that he was blinded by local predjuice. The article, after recounting the history leading up to the adoption of the present system in Phoenix, goes on to call the attention to some of the benefits derived from the change, as follows:

"The city tax rate, which formerly ranged from $1.00 to $1.30, was this year reduced to 85 cents, and yet the administration will complete the fiscal year with a surplus of over $50,000. This reduction in the tax rate is all the more noteworthy because there was a revenue loss of $26,000 from the liqour licenses, due to state prohibition, and $28,000 loss from occupational taxes, which were abolished.

"There was also a loss of revenue from a dropping off of police court fines, and there was a reduction in the assessed valuation of property to the extent of $2,000,000. Had conditions remained the same, the tax rate would have been reduced to 60 cents.

"The amount of public improvement work has remained about the same, but many economies have been effected in its performance. To mention but one, there is the abolition of the city corral and the substitution of motor-driven vehicles throughout the city departments. The city corral was a well established institution for petty grafting—the renting out of worn out and skinny horses to the city to be cared for and fattened at public expense. Increased efficiency of the city fire department has reduced the annual fire loss from about $200,000 to less than $25,000.

None Have Gone Back

The Times cannot too strongly urge upon the people of Thief River Falls the advisability of reading and studying the charter proposed for their city. They should remember that none of the municipalities having once adopted the proposed plan have ever gone back to the old system. Charters have been altered and modified, it is true, and this is one of the best things about the new order. If a better method is found, machinery for applying that method is at hand. Should any of the provisions now contained in the charter be found impossible of application, or should their alteration make for a better result, this fact would be discovered and the indicated changes made.

Should this charter be turned down at the coming election it would advertise to the rest of the country the fact that our people are not as progressive as they wish to be considered. It would also mean that Thief River Falls, given the opportunity to adopt the latest and best method of municipal government, refused to do so because its citizens did not consider the matter of enough importance to get out and vote for the change.

Better Binding at Less Cost

There are many reasons why thousands of ADRIANCE Binders are replacing other makes in all parts of the globe.

The ADRIANCE is the best built binder in the world—better materials, better workmanship—therefore the ADRIANCE requires much less expense for repairs.

No other binder can stand the hard usage which the ADRIANCE is subjected to. Every ADRIANCE Binder is built to do thorough work under the most trying conditions and has a world wide reputation for high class service and durability.

There is absolutely nothing experimental about ADRIANCE Harvesting Machinery. For 56 years it has stood the test of handling millions of acres of grain.

Best for Heavy Crops—Best for Light Crops—
Best for Short Grain—Best for Long Grain

The ADRIANCE delivers good, well tied, square butted bundles, bound anywhere you desire from 7 to 25 inches from the butts. It is absolutely free from the weak parts of other binders and is really stronger than ordinary use demands.

The ADRIANCE is wonderfully light in draft, has a smooth, easy, steady motion, possessed by no other binder.

All working parts are driven direct. The work is equally divided—no undue strain anywhere.

It is so simple that a boy can operate it.

Take the ADRIANCE Binder, part for part right through the entire machine and compare it with any binder made and the ADRIANCE will show better materials, better workmanship, stronger and simpler working parts, and is nearer a thoroughly trouble-proof machine than any binder ever offered to the farmer.

Very little time is lost for repairs. Very few repairs are needed.

Should any parts be required, they can be quickly procured as large stocks of ADRIANCE parts are carried in every locality.

NORTHWESTERN FAIR JULY 11-15

City of Crookston Has Made Elaborate Preparations For This Big Annual Event

VERY FINE STOCK DISPLAY

Ehibits from the Foremost Herds in the State Will be Entered—Exceptional Amusement Program Race Card Big Feature.

An exposition of constructive work being done by the farmers of this section, exhibits showing the progressive trend of agriculture combined with the best amusement features ever seen, will be dominant features of the annual fair of the Northwestern Minnesota Agricultural association to be held in Crookston July 11-15 inclusive. The grounds will be in better shape this year than ever before. Last year the walks and streets were gravelled, making a good foundation, and this year 200 additional loads of gravel have been donated by farmers, which will make the grounds rain-proof.

The stock and produce exhibits this year will far surpass those of any previous year. The stock entries have been so numerous that two additional stock barns have been erected which will make it unnecessary to use tents for stock. Among the celebrated herds that have been entered already are the Jean Duluth herd from Duluth, consisting of 17 Guernseys, and 21 Polled animals; Carlson Bros., short horns from Erskine; M. L. Enright, Holsteins, East Grand Forks; Walter Hill, Aberdeen, Angus and Short Horns, Northcote; The short horn herd of Silas Pettigrew and Son of Flandrau, S. D.; Finkinbinder's milking short horns; the Jersey herd of Mrs. Moen of East Grand Forks, and scores of others representing the best types of the various breeds to be found anywhere.

The lovers of track events will be given the best there is to be had. There will be three days of horse racing, with over 100 entries, including the best horses in four states. On one evening there will be some hair raising motorcycle races, in which all the riders of note in the Northwest will enter. Bob Crawford, of Chicago, recent winner of the big races here, will return for the speed-fest.

Great Automobile races will be held on the last day of the fair, Saturday, July 15, in which six of the fastest circular dirt track cars in America have been entered. Such drivers as Johnny Raimey, H. Juddy Kilpatrick, holder of four official world's records, Geo. Clark of Dallas, Tex., Louis LeCoq. and Putty Hoffman, insure the fastest meet ever witnessed anywhere in the Northwest. Among the cars entered are the famous Briscoe, with which Johnny Briscoe last year lowered the circular dirt half-mile track record; Case No. 5. with which the late Bob Burman drove the fastest lap in the Vanderbilt Cup race in 1915; the Maxwell which Barney Oldfield drove 302 miles for the world's non-stop record. These alone would insure fast time on any circular dirt track in the world.

The field day events will be a new feature in which rural and high school athletes and members of the city athletic association will participate, and is already arousing the greatest interest.

There will be a big carnival company on the grounds with a $10,000 "carry-us-all," a ferris wheel, a fine list of clean tent shows, and a splendid list of free attractions in front of the grand stand daily.

Dickson's Mule Derby daily will be a side splitting attraction, and with the Whangdoodle Comedy Four, The Three Weber Girls, and Wilson Schnedier's bouncing wagon, insure an abundance of high-class intertainment.

In the music line the Crookston Juvenile band of 75 pieces will be a new feature, with the citizen's band of Crookston on deck all the time and a half dozen other bands here for special occasions.

There will be spectacular fire works on two evenings with everything modern invention has devised in the set piece line.

The women's department, the educational exhibits, the machinery, silos and everything that indicates and illustrates progress will be more complete than ever before, on a much larger scale and better placed.

The efforts of the fair board this year have been to completely outstrip all previous efforts to provide a comprehensive fair with no weak points. No one department has been sacrificed to emphasize some other department. It will be highly educational, no man woman or child should miss it, and still there will be enough high class entertainment to prevent its becoming tedious.

It will be essentially a fair for the farmers, to advance their interests, to show the city folks what the farmers are doing, and at the same time to entertain everybody in a wholesome manner. It will be a fair that to miss seeing will be the cause of much regret. Bad weather only will pervent it from being the best fair, by far, ever held by the Northwestern Minnesota Agricultural Association.

COMMERCIAL GRADUATES ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

Thief River Falls Business College Has Calls For Students From Many Sections

Fourteen students are at present enrolled in the classes of the Thief River Falls Business college, and several others have signified their intention of joining the classes about the 10th of July. A number of those already enrolled are from the surrounding country towns and will in all probability go back to good jobs in their own neighborhood upon the completion of their college course. The city itself furnishes less than its proportionate quota of those who are taking these advanced courses, but Mr. Langum says he is assured that a larger number will shortly join.

One young lady writes from Bottineau, N. D., to the effect that she will be here to begin work in a short time, and others from a distance who have heard of the success of the students graduated by Mr. Langum will be drifting in durng the summer. The college already has a number of calls for graduates, and these will be supplied as soon as competent pupils can be turned out. Following the rule laid down in his other colleges, Mr. Langum refuses to send out students before graduation, but when this point is reached he has no hesitancy in recommending them for any position.

The majority of the pupils are taking up a combination course of shorthand and commercial work, the demand for young men and women with this equipment far exceeding that of any other branch.

MORE WONDERFUL THAN 'PHONE OR TELEGRAPH

The American Telegraphone, Invented by W. F. Kretcher, is One of World's Wonders.

A. L. Neurauter, of the Falls Electric mcopany, has on display at his store one of the most wonderful machines ever produced. It what is known as the American Telegraphone, combining all the qualities of the telegraph and dictagraph. The message or communication is magnitized onto a wire passing from one spool to another and is reproduced through an instrument similiar to a telephone receiver. The wire is six thousand feet in length and no indentations are made in order to reproduce the sounds. When the message has been delivered the wire is demagnitized and is again ready for more communications.

The messages can also be magnitized onto a small disk which may be sent by mail at a cost of two cents. This disk will reproduce the message upon being placed onto the telegraphone by the person receiving it. A stroke across its surface by the opposite poles of a magnetized rod entirely obliterates the message and the disk is ready for further use. The disks cost at present about two and one-half cents apiece, and this is likely to be greatly reduced.

It will be worth the time for anyone to ask Mr. Neurauter to demonstrate the workings of this wonderful instrument.

BIG REALTY DEAL BY LOCAL COMPANY

Empire Land Company Takes Over Kittson County Holdings of C. R. I. & P. Railway

L. B. Arnold of Duluth, land commissioner for the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific railway, last week completed arrangements with the Empire Farms company of Thief River Falls, whereby the latter become the colonizing agents for a tract of 4,200 acres of choice farming lands in Kittson county. These lands are located near Halma, Bronson, Karlstad, nad Lancaster and are among the best remaining unoccupied in that section.

President Thos. A. Way of the Empire company, says that it is the intention of his company to at once improve the tracts and offer them for settlement. Buildings will be erected, silos and barns built and the farms put into condition to produce crops as soon as possible. Mr. Way believes that it will be better to dispose of the land in this manner than to put farmers onto the properties who will have to struggle along for some years before they can get a start.

All of this land is now lying idle and the program outlined by the Empire company will turn it into productive farms. It is highly desirable property in every way and with the improvements contemplated for each parcel the company should have no trouble in disposing of it to settlers of the most desirable kind.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES

The rural school have now closed for the year. Our teachers have done well considering the handicap of a severe winter. The attendance has been fair though not up to the average.

Many of our teachers are now attending the session of summer school now convened at the Northwestern Agriculture college at Crookston. A few are attending the summer school at the University Farm, St. Paul.

The teachers state examinations will be held immediately after the close of the summer schools. Watch the local press for announcement of same.

No special circular of information will be issued to the district school boards this year. We trust that all school districts will consider carefully the matter of state aid for their respective schools. You make a clear gain of hard cash by qualifying for state aid, besides one or two months more of school and the best teacher almost free of cost to the district.

Let me remind the school boards as to the necessity of meeting three days before the annual meeting to make out the treasurer's annual report. Please see that it is balanced. Remember also to have the clerk's annual report sent to this office before August 10th.

Now is the golden opportunity for the school board to obtain the teachers for next year. Prepare to open your schools the first week in September.

The following blanks are now being sent to the clerks: 1— clerks annual report; 2—school c ensus and compulsory attendance blank.

The Bethlehem Steel Company's Offer to Serve the United States

At a time when the expenses of the Government are so enormous—

Isn't it worth while finding out the actual facts before plunging ahead into an expenditure of $11,000,000 of the people's money for a Government armor plant?

To clear up the whole situation, and to put it on a basis as fair and business-like as we know how to express it, we now make this offer to the Government:

The Bethlehem Steel Company will manufacture armor plate for the Government of the United States at actual cost of operation plus such charges for overhead expenses, interest and depreciation as the Federal Trade Commission may fix. We will agree to this for such period as the Government may designate.

The House of Representatives voted down a proposal to empower the Federal Trade Commission to determine a fair price for armor, and allow private manufacturers opportunity to meet that price before the Government built its plant.

Isn't our proposition fair and ought it not to be accepted?

The measure is now before the United States Senate.

Mr. Provencher has, however, permitted their being borrowed by the citizens generally and has thereby gotten himself into difficulties. Life Story of Al Jennings

Perhaps the most interesting biography ever written is the life story of Al Jennings under the title of "Beating Back" which was published in the Saturday evening Post as a continued story.

"Beating Back" has been dramatized and filmed with Al Jennings in the leading role. Many and varied have been his experiences. To see Mr. Jennings today one would hardly believe that this little man of one hundred and forty pounds, wearing a number four shoe, could have stirred up a community and gained the reputation he once had in Indian Territory and Oklahoma.

The film drama shows him at his old vocation of train bandit and after many exciting incidents we see him captured and later serving time in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus.

At the end of five years of his life sentence, President McKinley pardoned Mr. Jennings and President Roosevelt restored his citizenship and the good work done by this one time bandit adds another chapter of a different shade. "Beating Back" is condensed nad complete in six parts and carries a powerful moral lesson.

It shows that the laws of our country mean something and that he who trangresses—pays. Also that the least reward for any man who plays square with society is the honor and respect of his fellow men.

"Beating Back" will be shown at the Princess theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, July, 11th and 12th.

Hair-Trigger Nerves, Bendy Eyes—That's Al Jennings

In a recent interview in New York, evangelist Jennings was asked by a representative of the Brooklyn Sunday Eagle if he believed in a real heaven and hell.

Characteristic of the man who has never been a hypocrite his answer was, "I dont' know, but I hope there is something beyond. To those who do not believe there is a heaven I always say—Give me a fireside with plenty of sunshine and laughter in the home and I will show you a pretty good heaven on earth."

Mr. Jennings said something when he made this statement. If we live this life we should have little to fear of the hereafter.

FIRST CIRCUS COMING

Wheeler Bros. An Old Show, But New Here— Entire New Circus Program is Promised.

Friday it was finally decided and agreed that Thief River Falls is to have its first circus of the season on Friday, July 14. The agents and advance advertisers will soon announce its coming on every available space and location, for there are eighty-five men ahead of the Wheeler Bros. Enormous Shows, traveling in two special advertising cars, followed by an extra brigade of experts whose automobiles are used "to bill the country for miles around." The Wheller Bros. show is famous in the East and South where for many years its visits have been so popular as to place this organization up in the millionare class of showmen, and now seeking new territory for this tour, hopes to become an established favorite here.

That the circus, like base ball, is Ameirca's chosen recreation will hardly be disputed, and it is likely no popular local event gives such all 'round pleasure: the big free open den street parade, the costly display of magnificent horses, handsome women, and gorgeous trappings; the money paid out for provisions and feed, the local advertising bills and the railroad expense, all run into a grand total. But the crowds on the streets, the crowds from the country, the crowds at the show, if it don't rain, all go to make the circus worth while. It is the one popular holiday event, and the circus pays the bill, rain or shine.

Miss Hildegaard Effinger came down from Lancaster Monday evening to spend the Fourth with friends in the city.

SHADE TREES SHOULD BE TRIMMED AT ONCE

"I have had to walk into the street three different times to prevent my hat being swept off or from getting my eyes put out by the branches of trees while coming down this morning," said an irate lady to The Times this week. "In some places these branches hang down to within five feet of the sidewalk, and are not only a nuisance, but a constant danger. I do not know whose business it is to look after matters of this kind, but it certainly should be somebody's."

This is not the only kick that has been regestired against this trouble. The trees along the residence sereets are among the finest to be seen anywhere, but they are beginning to show a decided disregard for the convenience of pedestrians. On Duluth avenue and on the residence streets of the east side these shade trees have been allowed to become a positive nusiance. It is almost necessary for a man to walk with his hat in his hand in order to keep it from being swept off his head, and while this probably would not hurt him in any way,.he rather feels as if he should not be forced to remove his lid unless he choses to do so. Ladies being shorter having besides the advantage of certain fastenings for their headgear, manage better, but even these are now objecting. There are many places in the city where it is impossible to navigate unless you continually keep ducking and sidestepping, and this is trying to the temper. On North LaBree avenue the lower branches have been uct of for a distance, and not only has this made the thoroughfare most delightful for travel, but it has also improved the appearance of the trees themselves. There can be too much of even a good thing.

May Establish Branch Here

George Veilleux of Minneapolis, representing the Jewell Tea company, with branches in practically every large city in the United States, has been here during the past week looking over the field with a view to recommending Thief River Falls as a distributing center for this section. The Jewell company seldom selects cities of less than 100,000 population as locations for its depots, but the large trading territory tributory to this city has attracted the attention of the sales managers and if the field proves as good as it promises it is likely that a very important branch house will be in operation here before long.

COMPARISON OF HIGHWAY ROUTES

club of Bemidji took care of the visitors in royal style that evening, and the next day a side trip was made over what isknown as "McGarry's Road" to Cass Lake. Returning to Bemidji, the next objective was Itasca Park. Here the party spent some time, and it is altogether likely that the route finally selected will have this park and the headwaters of the Mississippi as one of the principal points of interest.

Wadena, Sauk Center and St. Cloud were next visited, Little Falls and Staples being taken in enroute. At St. Cloud the pilgrims were given a rousing welcome, the Commercial club of that city taking charge of their reception and entertainment. The next morning the journey was continued to Elk River and north to Princeton and Mille Lacs.

Some Observations

There are 22 crews of men at work on the road between Brainerd and Cass Lake.

The iron mines of Crow Wing county are but a short side trip on the Eastern route.

Leech Lake is claimed to have 1,000 miles of shore line. This lake is on the Eastern route.

There is a national forst reserve of 250,000 acres near Cass Lake. This is a vast, permanent play ground.

Bemidji is only 35 miles from the
Some of the most beautiful and interesting country traversed was that between Wadena and Sauk Rapids. This is a central route feature.
source of the Mississippi.

A short side trip takes the tourist to the lake of the Woods at Warroad over one of the finest highways in the country.

Good Advertising

A history of the trip and description of the country traversed will be printed in the Jefferson Highway magazine and other publications of national circulation. There is at this time no way of telling which route will be decided upon for the road through Northern Minnesota, but the claims of each will be carefully weighed and the decision reached on points. Thief River Falls people have, however, every reason for believening that this city will be made the last principal station south of the northern terminue at Winnipeg.

St. Cloud on the Eastern, is a hummning, thriving city—the largest and finest in Central Minnesota.

TRIANGLE AND METRO FILMS AT THE PRINCESS

These Famous Productions Will be Featured During the Summer Appreciation Shown

The increasing patronage at the Princess theatre since Manager. W. H. Seitzler concluded to again book the Triangle and Metro productions has proven that the people of Thief River Falls know and appreciate something particularly good when it is offered. The films released by these concerns are without exception the best to be had anywhere in the world and are only seen at houses catering to the most discriminating trade. The great artists of the profession seem to have gravitated toward these producers. Bessie Bariscale. Billie Burke, Marguerite Snow, Theda Bara, Edith Markey Mabel Normand, David Warfield, Roscoe Arbuckle, Douglass Fairbanks—these are only a few of the stars playing under their direction.

The cost of this service is very much greater than that of many others but the investment is proving a good one as far as the Prinsess is concerned. In spite of the added cost the house is filled almost every night, which encourages the management to keep on putting forth only the best. Read the program for the coming week appearing this issue of The Times.

FARMERS NEED AID

Something Should be Done at Once to Drain the Lands of Highlanding, Star, Hickory and Deer Park Townships.

By IRA C. RICHARDSON

In the towns of Highlanding, Star, Hickory and Deer Park in Pennington county, Minnesota, there are 500 land-holders whose acres are as fertile as any in the United States, but surface water for the past two years has rendered the greater part of that area unfit for farming and the remainder has been injuriously affected.

The United States did not give that land to those people, but sold it to them and gave the proceeds to the Indians.

Those 500 land-holders are tax payers in this county and have to support their families.

Recently different good meaning persons advocated an improvement of the Red Lake and its outlet, the Red Lake river, by congress, to prevent the inundation of those lands, and that is a commendable project.

But the improvements of waterways by the government are proverbially slow, and the cry of "less pork" for congressmen will further postpone many needed improvements. Many of those land-holders had to mortgage their farms several years ago. The interest comes due regularly regardless of crop conditions, and mortgagees are inclined to insist on the prompt payment of it.

When the land is relieved of its burden of surface water, its value will be five times the amount of the mortgages. As a rule mortgage loans are made to reap interest, but insistence upon prompt payment of it in this case means the confiscation of many farms. Most of those loans were made by bankers and other money loaners in Pennington and Red Lake counties, but a large part of the money invested is that of foreign investors who will want their interest as it falls due.

I do not ask mortgagees to abate the interest for one, two or three years, but to extend the time of the payment of it. Foreign investors do not know the real value of the land nor will they reap any incidental benefits, and will not agree to the proposed extension.

All in this community engaged in loaning money have plenty for that purpose.

If they have faith in Congressional relief for those people and others more or less affected by the overflow of the Red Lake and the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers, they can prove their faith by extending the time of the payment of interest payable to them, and by buying mortgages held elsewhere.

The security is ample, because there is not a worthless acre in all that territory. And it is none too early to consider this plan.

Our declaration of Independence is for the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of all men, and "life" implies opportunity to earn a living.

Promises of a prize necessarily deferred are glittering hopes, but immediate help is gold.

Those land-holders need seed grain for next year. Why not apply to the Minnesota legislature for a seed grain loan as was done in 1887 and 1897?

Nondof these plans will prevent or postpone action by the government.

CROP CONDITION HERE SUBJECT OF COMMENT

Visitors Are Surprised at the Fine Appearance of Everything in This Neighborhood

During the past month there have been visitors in the city from nearly every agricultural section of the North Central states. Without exception these claimed the crop outlook in this neighborhood is better than in their home section or in any district they passed through in reaching here.

The Telelag visitors, for instance, were for the most part farmers and could be depended upon to note crop conditions during their visit. Even those coming from sections as far south as northern Iowa claimed that the outlook for a good harvest in this part of Minnesota is far better than in their home state. The late spring and heavy rains have held things back to an unusual extent, they claimed, corn particularly having suffered. According to these visitors it is very doubtful if the yield of this cereal will be as great as that of last year, which was a decidedly poor season.

Particularly were these visitors struck with the appearance of our meadows. Nowhere is such a stand of grass observed as in this section. Grain also, although somewhat late, promises proportionately as great a yield as last year. The total will be smaller because of the decreased acreage, but the production per acre will in all likelihood be even greater.

Leonard Zaiser came up from Red Lake Falls Monday morning to attend the 4th of July celebration. While in the city he was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Homer Mussey.

WILL BE CONTENDERS FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Local Base Ball Team is After the Independent Pennant and a $200 Prize

The Thief River Falls base ball team is after the independent base ball championship of the state and doesn't care who knows it. It has joined the Minnesota State Fair base ball league, and jumped into the race for blood.

There four divisions in the league. One is for teams from towns of 1,500 and under, another is for teams from cities of 5,000 and over, exclusive of the Twin Cities, while the other is for Twin City teams. The winner of each division championship shall be entitled to temporary possession of a beautiful $500 silver loving cup, which must be won three times out of five to insure permanent possession. If the local team wins the division championship it will also be given a cash prize of $200.

As fast as games are played by the home team, the reports will be sent to the director of the league at the Minnesota State Fair, where careful record is being kept of all games played in the state. Records are to be kept of all games played with any team in the league from June 20 to Auguet 27, no matter to what division the team may belong. The leading teams in each division will be eligible to play for the championship of the four divisions at the Minnesota State fair, September 4 to 9.

We are for the home team, first last and always. They'll win.

In less than six months of official existence, this wonderful undertaking is giving the Lincoln Highway a close race in importance. High powered energy, indomitable will, hard work and great intelligence are building a "way to travel" from the palms of the South to the Pines of the North, from the snows to the semi-tropics. "New Post Toasties"

From House to House the Good News Spreads

Many housewives have found a happy solution of the breakfast problem in New Post Toasties.

These new corn flakes are distinctive in that they bear a self-developed flavor of their own—the delicate, facinating flavor of choice, white Indian corn. Unlike other flakes, they do not depend on cream and sugar to make them palitable.

Try a handful without cream and sugar—note the fine flavor and new form; also the tiny "bubbles" on each flake. These bubbles are a distinguishing characteristic and are produced by the quick, intense heat of the new process of making, which also brings out the wonderful flavor.

Although the New Post Toasties are a great improvement in flavor and form, they cost no more than ordinary flakes. Have a package delivered for tomorrow's breakfast.

MEDIATION PLEA MADE BY MEXICO

Carranza Would Accept Offer of Latin-Americans.

IS EAGER TO AVERT WAR

Proposes to Use All Efforts to Prevent New Acts of Its Military and Civil Authorities That Might Cause New Complications.

Washington, July 6.—The reply of the de facto government of Mexico to the demands of the United States, conciliatory in tone and giving assurances of a desire to reach a friendly adjustment of the difficulties between the two countries, was delivered to the state department by a Mexican attache. The text of the note follows:

"Mr. Secretary: Referring to the notes of June 20 and 25 last, I have the honor to say to your excellency that the immediate release of the Carrizal prisoners was a further proof of the sincerity of the leaders of this government to reach a pacific and satisfactory arrangement of present difficulties.

"This government is anxious to solve the present conflict, and it would be unjust if its attitude were misinterpreted.

"It was also the Mexican government that earnestly suggested a plan for cantonments along the boundary line during the conference of Ciudad Juarez and El Paso.

"This government is disposed now, as it always has been, to seek an immediate solution of the two points which constitute the cause of the conflict between the two countries, to-wit—the United States thinks reasonably that the insecurity of its frontier is a source of difficulty, and the Mexican government on its part believes that the stay of American troops on Mexican territory, aside from being a trespass on the sovereignty of Mexico, is the immediate cause of the conflicts

The Two Essential Problems.

"Therefore, the withdrawal of American troops on one hand, and the protection of the frontier on the other, are the two essential problems, the solution of which must be the directing object of the efforts of both governments.

"The Mexican government is willing to consider in a quick and practical way, and prompted by a spirit of concord, the remedies which should be applied to the present situation.

"Several Latin-American countries have offered their friendly mediation to the Mexican government and the latter has accepted it in principle.

"Therefore, the Mexican government only awaits information that the government of the United States would be disposed to accept this mediation for the purpose mentioned above or whether it still is of the belief that the same results may be attained by means of direct negotiations between both governments.

"In the meantime this government proposes to employ all efforts that may be at its disposal to avoid the recurrence of new incidents which may complicate and aggravate the situation.

"At the same time it hopes that the American government on its part may make use of all efforts to prevent also new acts of its military and civil authorities of the frontier that might cause new complications."

MEXICO IS RAISING VOLUNTEER TROOPS

El Paso, Tex., July 6.—While the national guard organizations are being recruited, drilled and equipped to bring them to the highest possible point of efficiency the Mexican de facto government is taking similar steps with volunteer troops, concentrated in some of the larger cities of Northern Mexico, according to Mexican reports.

These reports indicate that large commands of volunteers mobilized at Chihuahua City, Jiminez, Parral, Rosario, Torreon and Durango City are being drilled daily, while Carranzista recruiting agents in those districts never have slackened the activities begun several weeks ago.

Mexican military authorities offer similar explanations for these activities to those advanced in the United States for the border mobilization, asserting that they are merely "measures of precaution."

Everywhere along the border American military authorities are attempting to make the frontier concentration of as much practical value as possible to the state soldiers.

LEMMON MAYOR RECALLED

Head of South Dakota City Defeated by Thirteen Votes.

Lemmon, S. D., July 6.—At a recall election Mayor B. R. Watt was defeated by Leo Gilman by thirteen votes. The opposition to Watt, it is said, arose from a dispute as to who should manage the municipal saloon.

FRENCH REACH OPEN COUNTRY

Engaged in Organizing Positions Lost by Germans.

PRESSURE ON ALL FRONTS

First Phase of Anglo-French Offensive Has Ended and Great Strategic Gains Are Claimed—Italians and Russians Continue Attacks in Force.

London, July 6.—Pressure by the entente allies on the central powers continues without abatement and while no great amount of territory has been recovered great strategic gains are claimed on the Western, Eastern and Italian fronts.

So far as the Western front is concerned the first phase of the Anglo-French offensive is thought to be nearing the end.

Both north and south of the Somme the French and British are engaged in organizing positions captured since Saturday.

The French, having taken all the German defensive positions south of the Somme, are fighting in open country and cavalry which has been so long idle is employed for patrol work.

The next objective of the French in this region is the village of Barleux, which is the junction point of three highways leading to the Somme south of Peronne.

Second Thrust Expected.

If this point is gained, the French will be in a position to attack the bridgeheads opposite Peronne, which the Germans are strengthening.

North of the river the Anglo-French advance is slower because the Germans have massed between the river and Hebuterne the bulk of the twenty-six divisions which originally held this front and of the reserves they have since brought up.

After the ground gained has been concentrated it is expected artillery preparation for a second big thrust will be made.

The Italians, after regaining territory in the Trentino, are going back to their original plans and are attacking along the lower Isonzo, where they have gained some lesser successes.

Important news comes from Petrograd. Russian advance guards on General Letchitky's extreme left are engaged with Austrian rear guards on the spurs of the Carpathians and unofficial reports say Cossacks have been raiding Hungary.

RUSS CAVALRY FORCE BELIEVED IN HUNGARY

London, July 6.—Russians and Italians are lending all their strength to the combined blow against the Central powers and Bucharest reports a significant move of Russian patrols, who are said to have advanced from Kimpolung, in Bukowina, and entered Hungarian territory.

All along the Russian front engagements of the severest character are in progress and the Russians, driving north from Kolomea, have advanced more than twenty miles and are threatening to outflank General von Bothmer's army and the Austro-Hungarian forces in the Tarnopol region.

Should this Russian movement prove successful Von Bothmer may have to fall back on Lemberg.

FIGHTING IN OPEN FIELD

French Carry All German Fortified Positions.

London, July 6.—"Only German soldiers in open field formation now stand between the French and the River Somme," said Major General F. B. Maurice, referring to the part of the river which flows northward to the east of the sector along which the French have made their greatest gains.

"The last of the enemy's defensive works in that sector have been captured by our allies."

"We are not disappointed with our own advance, which we expected to be slow, and we are enormously pleased with the wonderful progress made by the French, who with comparatively light losses are sweeping forward to the Somme."

DID NOT MENTION POLITICS

Colonel Roosevelt Ready to Raise Division for War.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 6.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt made his first public declaration of his intention to raise a division for service in Mexico.

After endorsing the prediction of Frederic R. Coudert, orator of the day, that "we may become involved in the great conflict and are certain to be involved in a minor conflict," the leader of the old Rough Riders served notice upon the young unmarried men of Nassau county that he expects them to follow him in battle if war comes. He did not mention politics.

"COUNTY JAIL IN POOR CONDITION"--GRAND JURY

Reccommends That Interior be Painted, Ventilation Improved and Other Changes Made

The Grand Jury which completed its duties on Thursday afternoon submitted its report on the condition of the county buildings to Judge Grindeldan, and made the following recomendations, signed W. W. Pritchard, Sr., as foreman.

"The county jail is in our opinion damp and poorly ventilated. The bedding is inadequate and not in a sanitary condition. We recommed that the interior of the jail be painted or kalsomined and that adequate ventilation be provided. The present method of opening the windows for ventilation is not sufficient or satisfactory. We recommend that sufficient blankets and sanitary pillows be purchased; that one set may be clean and ready for use while the other is being laundered. Quilts or comforts now used should be discarded as same are unwashable and unsanitary.

"We find the court house building in good condition, and the offices orderly and neat. The room occupied by the register of deeds seems to be crowded and additional room could be used to advantage. The office of the Auditor is lacking in vault space and additional vault space should be provided for the orderly filing and safekeeping of the public records.

"No charges of official misconduct has been made against any of the public officers of the county.

"All of which is respectfully submitted for your Honor's consideration."

OBITUARY

Christ Wickum

On Monday morning of last week at the home of his parents in Southam, N. D., occurred the death of Christ Selmer Wickum, age 23 years and 9 months. The deceased had been ill for six months, suffering from tuberculosis. The funeral services were held Wednesday, June 28, at Crary, N. D., and the interment was made in the church cemetery. He is survived by his parents, a sister and brother.

Christ Wickum was born in North Dakota and received his education in the schools of that state. He came to Thief River Falls about six years ago with his parents and accepted a position as apprentice at the Press office, then located in the basement of what is now the Dahlquist Millinery store. Later he was employed at Badger in a printing office. He resigned his position at Badger and was employed in the mechanical department of the Times up to last spring, after which he left for Brainerd. When his parents removed to their farm at Southam, N. D. last fall fall Christ accompanied them.

Christ was a young man of pleasant personality, ambitious and energetic, and his being called away in the prime of life will be regretted deeply by his relatives and many friends.

The Times extends its most sincere sympathy to the bereaved members of the family and relatives.

Corns Come Off Like Banana Peel

Wonderful, Simple "Gets-It" Never Fails to Remove Any Corn Easily.

"Wouldn't it jar you? Here I've been going along for years, with one desperate corn after another, trying to get rid of them with salves that

What Oen Merc. Co. of Thief River Falls have to say about cream separators this week

REMEMBER that a cream separator has to be used 730 times every year. If it runs hard, or isn't easy to wash, or doesn't skim clean, it is a constant annoyance and bother.

No machine or implement on the farm receives such constant use and there is no other machine on the farm where quality of work means so much and first cost means so little.

A little loss of cream with a cream separator, multiplied 730 times, soon runs into money. It's too big a handicap for any cow owner to try to work under.

Creamerymen all over the world long ago came to the conclusion that the De Laval was the only machine they could afford to use. That's why 98% of the cream separators used in creameries the world over are De Lavals.

You will find the biggest and best dairymen almost invariably using De Lavals

Experience has taught them that it is the most economical.

You can't afford to take any chances with your cream separator, and we know that if you will come to us and let us put in a De Laval for you, 730 times a year you will say to yourself "I made a good move when I bought that De Laval."

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

Gilbert Benson of Germantown Secures Five Wagonloads at the Salverson Sale.

What is perhaps the largest sale of merchandise ever made to one man by a Thief River Falls store was closed on Monday by Theo. Salverson. The purchaser was Gilbert Benson of Germantown, and the price paid for the goods secured was in the the neighborhood of $3,000. Mr. Benson had been watching the advertisements of Mr. Salverson, and concluded that the prices suited him particularly well. As he knew that the goods offered were lately purchased for the trade in this city he considered it an excellent opportunity to save some money. He arrived at four o'clock in the morning and before noon had made his selections and was on his way home.

For the transportation of the goods bought, which consisted largely of hardware and the more staple lines, Mr. Benson hitched five wagons behind his traction engine and hauled them away as soon as the trade was completed and the train loaded up. It was perhaps the biggest forenoon's business ever recorded by a retail store in this section.

The large Salverson stock is going to be sold out completely, and the Times next week will contain an announcement calling more particular attention to this matter.

The Only Bargain Directory
(Crookston Times)

It has become the fixed habit with many people to look through the newspaper advertisements before starting to buy things. It is a great time saver, and saves both disappointment and embarrassment.

The shopper feels that she saves going through a number of stores if she can learn in advance from the newspapers where she can find what she wants. The tendency becomes marked as customers get a personal acquaintance with the store people. Often they hate to enter a store where they are known as they feel that they would be expected to buy something., whether they find what they want or not.

If they can find in advance what stores are making special offers along the line of their desires, they go there first, so as to avoid fruitless calls and failure to buy. In that way, places that do not advertise are seldom bothered with.

PICK SEED CORN EARLY.

1. Pick seed corn before October 1st, 1915.
2. Pick at least five times as much as needed.
3. Hang in dry, well-ventilated place.
4. Hang so ears will not touch each other.

CORN WORK FOR SCHOOLS.

The Schools Should Help in the Movement to Save the Seed Corn for Next Year.

Do not assign lessons by bulletins and booklet. Teach by things, not words. Then we shall be teaching the boy and girl and not the subject.

Let the pupils go into the field and select what they consider good ears of corn. Now, look them over for strong and weak points.

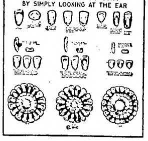
They haven't been told what to look for? True—but let us not tell them; let us work it out together.

Shell off half the corn from two or three ears, keeping that from each ear by itself. Measure the amounts and compare them. Can you tell by looking at the half-shelled ears why one ear produces a larger amount of shelled corn than another ear of apparently the same size?

We must examine the kernels more closely. Some are too short, some taper too much, some are chaffy. Some will not drop evenly in the planter.

EXAMINE THE KERNELS

DON'T SELECT SEED CORN BY SIMPLY LOOKING AT THE EAR



Ears should be of medium size, not too long nor too short. If they are too long they are likely to mature late; if they are too short, they will mature too early and will not produce as large a quantity of corn. Ears which are too large around are late maturing and are likely to have too much cob; while ears which are too slender will not yield a large amount of corn.

Now we know what sort of an ear is best for seed, but why should we select it so early and why gather it from the field? This is so we may select as seed, corn which matures early. In short seasons, when the frosts come late in the spring or early in the fall, a late maturing corn will not ripen for seed. We should have corn which we are sure will ripen before the frosts. You understand, of course, that if frost touches the corn before it ripens, the germ may be destroyed and this corn will not grow.

When it is late enough so that all the corn is ripened, we cannot tell which ears ripened early; so we will go into the field early and gather our corn, selecting that which is already matured.

Then we must know the type of stalk on which the ear grew.

Study bulletins and articles on selecting seed corn and let the schools lead the county in this movement vital to the country's corn crop next year.

The Agricultural Extension Department of The International Harvester Company issues a special school bulletin on selecting seed corn from the field which is sent for the asking.

I. H. C. LECTURE CHARTS.

Your Chamber of Commerce Should Put on a Series of Lectures With I. H. C. Charts and Slides—Get Your Farm Demonstrator or Superintendent of Schools to Give You a Practical Talk on Agriculture.

You will be surprised to see how intensely interested your bankers and merchants will be. If you want to put your organization on the map, plan an agricultural campaign of education. Arrange a program. Give one lecture a week on any of these subjects: Soils, Corn, Alfalfa, Poultry, Weeds, Live Stock, Flies, etc. Follow each lecture with a discussion of the subject. Make your chamber of commerce an educational center, not just a "club." Your town is built on the surplus earnings of the farm. Business men in town should take a keen interest in the industrial welfare of the town's "trade territory."

There is nothing constructive in grabbing business from other communities—create new business in your own community. Have a chamber of agriculture and commerce.

If you want to make your organization a place of interest, plan a three months' lecture course. Use I. H. C. lecture charts and slides. You can, no doubt, find among the members of your chamber of commerce men who can give interesting and instructive talks on any of the subjects treated in these charts.

WHY CROPS RUN OUT.

The question is often raised as to whether crops "run out" or not. To say that crops do not "run out" would be to deny that any variations are produced by changed conditions or environment. When plants are brought into new conditions of soil, climate, or methods of farming less favorable, they will tend to deteriorate or "run out."

Desirable Qualities Suffer First Under Unfavorable Conditions. If corn is planted too thick (seven or eight stalks per hill) a large yield of foliage will be obtained, but the yield of grain will be small. Under unfavorable conditions the plant tends to revert to its original condition, and the particular thing for which the plant is grown and which gives it value suffers first and most.

Best Methods Necessary. It is only by the best methods of seed selection and of cultivation that the farmer can hope to maintain the valuable qualities of his crops, otherwise they will deteriorate or "run out" and it will be necessary for him to secure seed from someone who has paid more attention to the improvement of his crops.

ASSAULT CASE WON BY STATE

Case Went To Jury Friday Morning And Verdict of "Guilty" Brought In at 5:30 P. M.

ACQUITTED ON 2ND CHARGE

Convicted On First Charge, Gesell Will Appeal Case To Higher Court—Held For Two More Charges

"We find the defendant. Howard Gesell, guilty as charged in the indictment." This was the verdict rendered by the twelve men, who composed the ury to try Howard Gesell for assaulting Chief of Police E. O. Berge on May 26, 1916. As the men filed in from the juryroom, Gesell was being tried on a second charge, it being for "storing and keeping liquor for sale," and two more charges awaiting him for selling liquor. In the second case Gesell was found "Not guilty," the jurymen coming to a verdict Saturday evening about 9:45 p. m.

First Trial

The first trial came to a close Friday morning at about 10 o'clock, when Attorney Charles Boughten for the defendnat finished his plea to the jury. Miss Cora Ryland, an employee at the Gesell factory, was called to the witness stand Friday morning and testified for the defense. Miss Ryland related the incident to the jury that occurred on the afternoon of the 26th of May, when Chief of Police Berge, assisted by Patrolman Erickson, armed with a search warrant raided the cigar factory. Gesell was placed on the stand in his own behalf many times during the trial. Gesell testified that he picked ant. Gesell testified that he picked the eyelet press up on seeing the officers coming to his factory. "You knew the officers had a warrant for your arrest didn't you?" inquired County Attorney Kjomme. Gesell knew nothing of it and continued. "I didn't know that they had a warrant for the factory and that is the reason I didn't let them in at first. Then Erickson spoke up and said that they had a search warrant for both the house and factory, so told them to come in." The testimony showed that when the officers entered the house, Gesell, stood leaning against a tobacco box with an eyelet press in his hand. Chief Berge attempted to wrest the press from Gesell's hands and a scuffle ensued, both officiers and Gesell falling through the doorway. Handcuffs were then applied and the search continued and a large quanity of "booze" was found. Chief Berge was on the stand and testified to Gesell's objection to letting them enter his place of business. Gesell stood in the doorway swinging an eyelet press and saying that they could not come in. Mr. Berge then told how he was forced to draw his gun and Gesell then permitted them to enter. "Was it the gun that moved you to let the officers in." sharply inquired County Attorney Kjomme. "I wasn't afraid of the gun replied Gesell.

At 5:30 p. m. the jury foreman knocked on the jury door and announced that they had come to a verdict. Deputy Fred Quale read the verdict: "We find the defendant, Howard Gesell, guilty as charged in the indictment."

Gesell will appear again tomorrow in court at which time he will receive his sentence,

Second Trial Resumed

A few seconds after the verdict in the first case had been read Gesell flung a smile, and the matter of choosing jurors for the trial charging him with storing liquor for sale was resumed.

For Own Use

Gesell testified that a shipment of liquor was received at the cigar factory on the afternoon of May 26, but was unaware of the fact that it had been placed in a tobacco box and covered with leaves. He also brought out many facts showing how he used liquor in the making of his cheaper cigars. Gesell said he used whiskey mixed with tonka bean to flavor tobacco.

Verdict In Evening

Charles Boughton finished his plea to the jury about 4:20 p. m. Saturday and a verdict was reached about ten o'clock in the evening. On all ballots eleven were for acquittal and one for conviction. After some arguing the lone jury member switched and a verdict was returned of "not guilty."

UNIVERSITY WEEK FOR THIS CITY NEXT YEAR

R. B. Oshier, representing the Extension Division of the University of Minnesota, was in the city Tuesday and completed arrangements with the Commercial club for a University Week Program in Thief River Falls next year. The entertainment will be held at the Auditorium during the week of June 11th, two programs being scheduled for each day of the week, afternoon and evening.

This is planned to take the place of the Chautauqua and many are of the opinion that the programs will be superior to those offered by the Chautauqua organization and no guarantee such as the Chautauqua people demand is asked by the Extension Division. These programs will be given in but twelve cities of the state and that Thief River Falls has been selected as one of the twelve speaks well for the city.

Practically all of the twelves programs will be given by University students and graduates and all are certain to be of the highest standard, entertaining and instructive.

BALL TEAN WINS FROM FOSSTON ON TUESDAY

Playing a fast and consistent game Nason's Nobles defeated Fosston the third time this season at Fosston Tuesday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2. Menzel was on the mound for Thief River Falls and Hofmeister on the receiving end. Menzel pitched an excellent game allowing the Fosstonites but two runs, and both were made in the fifth inning. The locals scored five in the first and one during the sixth.

K. Berry, formerly with the Mahnomen Indians made his initial appearance with the locals and played a splendid game at first base.

Sunday afternoon at the fair grounds diamond a base ball duel, par excellence, is predicted when an aggregation from Argyle will compete with Nason's Nobles for honors. Argyle has defeated Thief River Falls two times at the former's diamond and it is expected that the locals will make a supreme effort to "come back strong." The visiting team is one of the strongest "semi-pro" teams in this section and an exhibition of "big league stuff," as Advertising Manager Charles A. Pitkin puts it, is looked for.

ATTY. H. C. ROWBERG JOINS STATE MILITIA

Will Be Commissioned To Field Artillery of Minnesota National Guard

Attorney H. C. Rowberg, of the law firm of Stanton, Rowberg, & Hoge, who left for Virginia Sunday evening as a delegate from the local Sons of Norway lodge to the state convention, has joined the Minnesota National guard for service at the Mexican border. Attorney Rowberg enlisted at Duluth Monday, July 10.

The Duluth Herald says:

The work of gathering recruits for the field artillery of the Minnesota National Guard is progressing rapidly under the direction of Lieut. Fletcher Rockwood at the Spalding hotel, eight men being added to the list yesterday. The recruiting party will remain here for several days and will probably bring back a large list of additions to the under-sized Minnesota batteries now on their way to the border.

ATTORNEY H. C. ROWBERG

"The Minnesota batteries at the border now are considerably under war strength, about 175 men being needed to fill them. The field artillery service, according to the authorities, offers many more attractions in more ways than one for the young man wishing to join the army. Mounted work is the order for the most part, and all of the men must be of the highest intelligence.

"Among those who enlisted yesterday was H. C. Rowberg, a lawyer from Thief River Falls. It is probable that the men recruited here will be added to Battery B, composed for the most part of University of Minnesota graduates."

GIRL FALLS INTO CISTERN; DROWNS

Clarice Inez Ness, Aged 7, Meets With Tragic Death Yesterday Morning at 10:30 a. m.

RESCUED IN TEN MINUTES

Little Girl Went To Get Drink of Water at Sink—Failed To See Open Trap Door and Falls In.

By failing to see an open trap door for the cistern in the kitchen at the H. F. Rogers home, 417 Red Lake Boulevard, little Clarice Ness, age 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ness, 406 Red Lake Boulevard was drowned Wednesday morning at 10:30 a. m., when she fell into the cistern while going to the sink for a drink of water. The door of the cistern was only partially covering the opening and the little girl stepped on the edge of it, causing it to tip and let her fall. The little girl was taken from the cold water ten minutes after the accident. All efforts to resuscitate life were futile, death having ensued shortly after the cold plunge.

Warned of Open Door.

Little Clarice Ness had spent part of the morning playing at the Rogers home, and was warned of the open cistern door on coming into the house Mrs. Rogers was washing clothes in the kitchen and was obliged to take water from the cistern with pails. Owing to the recent rains the cistern held a considerable amount of water, there being from 6 to 7 feet at the time of the girl's death

Funeral Friday

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon from the Trinity church, at 2 o'clock, and Rev Skogerbo will officiate. Clarice Inez Ness was born April 17. 1909 in Thief River Falls making her age at the time of death, 7 years, 2 months and 25 days. She is survived by her parents, four sisters, one of whom is her twin sister, and a little brother, who arrived at the Ness home last Sunday.

Little Clarice Ness was a scholar in the primary department of the public schools, and had just finished her first year. She was a cheerful and pleasant little girl and will be missed by her companions in the futre.

The Times joins with the many friends of the bereaved parents in extending sympathy during their hour of sorrow.

$200,000 GAIN IN BANK DEPOSITS

Every Bank In The City Shows Substantial Gain in Deposits Over Same Month Last Year

HIGH MARK OF $1,500,000

Nearly Quarter of a Million Gain Over Last Year—Substantial Proof That Abolishing of Saloons Has Not Retarded Prosperity

The statements of the four banks of the city as published this week show that practically $1,500,000 is now on deposit. This is a gain of nearly a quarter of a million over the same month a year ago. The exact figures are $1,492,865.99 as compared with $1,274,483.30 last year, the gain being $218,382.69.

The deposits are the largest in the history of the city and they show in substantial form that the city is enjoying prosperity. With anything like favorable weather for the remainder of the season the farmers of the county will harvest a crop even larger than the bumper yield of last year and with prices certain to be top notch, a wave of unprecedented prosperity is sure to follow and the bank deposits will undoubtedly reach the two million mark before winter.

The present deposits show practically $250.00 per capita for the city, which is a remarkable showing and a strong argument in favor of a "dry" town. It shows the abolishing of the saloons from Pennington county has not retarded prosperity. It would indicate in an undeniable manner that a "dry" city is preferable to a "wet" one and that more money finds its way to the deposit vaults of the banks than during the reign of the saloon in our midst.

Without a single exception the four banks of the. city all show a remarkable gain in deposits. There has been no industrial boom of any kind to cause this either, the increase being steady and during a year when business conditions of the entire country are a trifle below rather than above the normal.

WORK ON DAM TO BE STARTED

President Ackerman, of The Council, Makes Report of Situation At Meeting Tuesday Evening

PLANS FOR CONCRETE DAM

City Clerk's Report Accepted and Placed on File—To Investigate Well on Red Lake Boulevard

"The letter that City Attorney Quale and City Clerk Fasel wrote to the Kretzschmar dam owners notifying them that a reasonable amount of time had elapsed since the source of power was made useless by the ice of last spring, resulted to the extent that Mr. Schrieter called on me Monday afternoon and said that work on the dam would begin at once," said President of the Council C. W. Ackerman at a regular meeting Tuesday evening. "Mr. Schrieter also said that they were negotiating for the sale of the dam, and that the party's option expired the 26th of this month, and that they were anticipating the deal would be closed. Any improvements that the Kretzschmar people make on the dam, the party will pay for," continued President Ackerman.

Two Plans Under Way

According to Mr. Schrieter two plans for the dam are under consideration. One is for the erection of an entirely new concrete dam, and the other for the repairing of the damaged parts, and before a week or two things will be moving. Mr. Ackerman said it would take a considerable amount of time to build an entire new dam but by October 1, power could be obtained.

To Build Coffer Dam

By building a cofferdam of large steel sheets, which slide into holders, the flour mill will be able to get some power when operations begin. Mr. Ackerman also stated that when repairs had been made to the flumes so water can go through, and when the large box, which had been undermined by water, has been repaired the city would be able to get some use of the power plant.

Much Business Transacted

The first order of business at the meeting was the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by City Clerk Fasel. Alderman Ihle was absent at Tuesday's meeting. On a motion made Bakken and seconded by Amble the city clerk's monthly report was accepted and placed on file. The report showed that at this time there was a sum of $16,582.62 in the sinking fund. City Attorney Theodore Quale suggested that the councilmen get together and try and arrange some scheme to combine several of the funds into one fund to prevent an overdraft on certain funds now being over-drawn.

To Investigate Well.

Louis Kruse appeared before the council in the interests of those residing on Red Lake Boulevard, and reported that the city well located in that section of the city was in a bad condition, and inquired if the councilmen would not investigate. The well is located at the intersection of Dewel avenue, 5th street and Red Lake Boulevard, supplies between thirty and forty families with water and Mr. Kruse claimed that "it tasted bad even when boiled." A motion was made by Froseth and seconded by Amble that Street Commissioner Ostrom be authorized to see one, Mr. Larson, regarding the matter and report at the next regular meeting. Motion carried. The matter of the whereabouts of L. S. Larson of Wylie, who was awarded the contract for drilling test wells for the city was also brought up. City Clerk Fasel reported he had heard nothing from the man.

May Build Bathhouse

Mayor Gambell was present at the meeting and brought up the matter of providing for a bathhouse at Squaw Point. He also stated that several influential citizens had complained to him regarding bathers at that place not wearing bathing suits. Mayor Gambell then went on and told the council that he and Patolman Erickson made a trip to Squaw Point and found nothing that coincided with the complaints. According to Mayor Gambell he has also several inquiries regarding the possibility of the city erecting a house where the bathers could hang their clothes. Alderman Bakken made a motion seconded by Amble that Mayor Gambell take the matter up with Chairman C. L. Hansen of the park board, and if they thought it advisable, action should be taken.

Complaint Made

Street Commissioner Elmer Ostrom brought the council's attention to the condition of the crossing at the Great Northern tracks at 6th street. Mr. Ostrom said it did not comply with the law, in that there was but one plank on the side of each outside rail and none in the inside of the track. He was instructed by the council to take the matter up with the Great Northern Section foreman and Agent Baker.

To Choose Inspector

On a motion made by Bakken and seconded by Amble, Street Commissioner Ostrom was authorized to select a man, to act as sewer inspector for that work that is being done on the East Side, submitted to the approval of City Engineer George Walker.

To Build Concrete Base

The matter of providing for a cement base at the street sprinkler supply station at the corner of Main avenue and Third street, was next. and a motion was made by Bakken, seconded by Benson, that the Street Commissioner look after this matter. A cement base large enough for both the team and wagon to stand on was ordered.

To Build Sidewalks

Alderman Bakken moved the adoption of the sidewalk resolution, all the aldermen answering "yes" on roll call. The council has ordered sidewalks to be constructed in several sections of the city and that said sidewalks should have been completed July 1. The resolution calls for the construction of these sidewalks during the summer and will be paid for from the city funds, while the cost of the sidewalks will be charged up to the taxes of the property owners.

$28,000 AVAILABLE FOR ROAD WORK NEXT YEAR

The board of County Commissioners met Monday and Tuesday of this week at the courthouse and made the levy for the various county funds for the year 1916. The levy calls for $10,750 more than last year. The following table shows the levy for 1915 and 1916.

Fund	1915	1916
County Revenue	$21,250	$21,000
Road and Bridge	8,500	13,000
Bond and interest	3,500	4,000
Sinking	3,500	2,500
Sanitorium		5,000
Sanitorium Maintenance		2,000
Total	$336,750	$347,500

It will be noted that hte levy for the road and bridge fund is $4,500 more than for 1915,, making the total for 1916 $13,000. Added to this amount will be the state aid money for road and bridge work. This year the county received $15,000 from the state for this purpose and as much, if not more, will be received next year which will make the total amount available for road and bridge work at least $28,000. A great deal of effective work is being done on the roads of Pennington county this year and with the additional money availabie next year, by reason of the board's increased levy, the commissioners will be in a position to accomplish much more in this desirable line of public improvements.

The commissioners are to be heartily commended for their foresight and progressiveness in the matter of road building and the taxes for this branch of the county's business will be cheerfully turned over to the county treasurer by every taxpayer in the county. A few years of active work, with ample appropriation, will give Pennington county a system of roads that will be one of its strongest assets.

In the levy for the other funds, as will be seen from the above table, the revenue was decreased $250, bond and interest increased $500 and the sinking fund decreased $1,000. The sanitorium fund of $5,000 and the sanitorium maintenance fund of $2,000 have not appeared in the levy before.

DAHLE FOUND "GUILTY" TODAY

Jurymen File Into Room At 2:37 To decide Guilt or Innocence of Accused Man.

DEFENSE PLEADS 2 HOURS

County Atorney Kjomme Finishes Case For State At 11 a. m.—Trial Begun Monday Afternoon.

A VERDICT OF "GUILTY" OF MANSLAUGHTER IN THE SECOND DEGREE WAS BROUGHT IN BY THE JURY AGAINST JENS DAHLE THIS EVENING. AT 6 P. M. THE JURY WAS OUT 3 HOURS AND 23 MINUTES. THE CRIME IS PUNISHABLE BY NOT LESS THAN ONE YEAR IN STATE'S PRISON NOR MORE THAN FIFTEEN YEARS, OR A FINE OF $1.000 OR BOTH.

The case of Jens Dahle, the alleged slayer of Olaf Vatne, who died at the Grygla hospital February 22, as the result of an assault by Dahle, went to the jury this afternoon at 2:37, after Judge Grindeland made his charge to the jury. County Attorney Kjomme finished his plea this morning at 11 o'clock. Attorney G. Halvorson, for the defense, spoke from 11 to 12 o'clock and then resumed his plea at 1:15 p. m. and continued until 2 p. m. The twelve jurymen filed into the juryroom at 2:37 p. m. to decide Dahle's guilt or innocence.

Jury Members

The trial began Monday afternoon after a jury had been chosen, the members of which are as follows:

Tom Rynstad, John Dahl, Iver Rolstad, Hans P. Rudd, C. M. Wilson, Peter Bugge, O. L. Larson, J. O. Swanson, Frank Peterson, Halvor Fodstad, Berner Levos and John Engelbart.

On Monday afternoon Dr. J. E. Douglass, Dr. H. [illegible] Froehlich and Dr. Adkins, of Grygla, were called upon to show their findings in the post mortem examination, which was performed upon Olaf Vatne, after his death.

Dahle On Stand

Jens Dahle was placed on the stand yesterday afternoon told his story. The young man had a hazy idea of what happened last February and Attorney Kjomme had a job on his hands in getting a straightforward answer to many of his questions. Jens Dahle said Olaf Vatne grabbed a stick and was about to strike him down, when he walked over to him and took it from his hands. Another man in the room had a stove cover, and stood waving it at him. Ole Danielson, witness for the state, testified on the stand that he was awakened by the crashing of chairs, and on awakening saw Dahle shaking Olaf Vatne. After that both men fell asleep and it was not until evening that it was discovered that Vatne was injured.

$100,00 Gain In One Year

As is shown by the ad of the Peoples State Bank, appearing elsewhere in this issue, that financial institution has made the remarkable record of a gain of $100,000 in the past year. This is the youngest bank in the city, it having been established in 1906, and the substantial increase in its business is indeed a credit to the managing officers of the bank, H. S. Dahlen, vice-president, and Oscar Sponheim, cashier. A new site for a building was purchased this spring by the bank and next year one of the finest banking houses in the state will be erected here.

SPECIAL CHARTER ELECTION WILL BE HELD TUESDAY

Every Voter Should Cast His Ballot And Thus Take A Part In Deciding This Important Question--Polls Open From 6 A. M. to 9 P. M.

The special election for the adoption or rejection of the proposed new city charter will be held next Tuesday. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. and the voting booths will be at the same places as the last election.

This is without question the most important matter that has come before the voters of this city in many years and all should take a part in deciding it. If the charter is rejected it will be because the voters fail to take sufficient interest to attend the polls and all should do their part in thus preventing it from being defeated by default. It takes but a few miuntes to go to the polls and cast your ballot and by so doing you will prove the quality of your citizenship.

If you want the business of the city conducted in an efficient careful and businesslike manner, the same as you would conduct your own affairs, go to the polls next Tuesday and place your mark X after YES.

HEAVY FIGHTING NOW PROCEEDING

Carranza Troops Engage Villa Forces at Parral.

AMERICANS ON THE MOVE

Rumor of Possible Raids Along the Border Results in Order for Departure of Troops to Threatened Sections—Militia to Participate.

Chihuahua City, Mex., July 13.—Heavy fighting is now proceeding between de facto government troops under General Ernesto Garcia and a large force of Villistas at Cerro Blanco, some distance below Parral, according to dispatches received by General Jacinto Trevino.

El Paso, Tex., July 13.—Two battalions of Pennsylvania infantry, one of the Second regiment and one of the Tenth, broke camp here and prepared to entrain for Marathon, Tex.

It was announced at military headquarters that the state troops had been ordered to increase the border patrol in the Big Bend district.

The order followed closely reports from this district that Mexican bandits had raided the Lamula mine, an American property, 100 miles south of the border, and that residents along the border near Boquila, Tex., feared the outlaws were moving north.

Belief was expressed in military circles that it was this band that General Carranza referred to when he repeatedly warned the state department that he was informed that Villista bandits were moving north from Jiminez with the intention of attacking the American border.

TROOPS START FOR BORDER

First Regiment of Minnesotans Now on the Way.

Camp Bobleter, Fort Snelling, Minn., July 13.—The First regiment, Minnesota National Guard, entrained for "somewhere in Texas," there to join the Third regiment, which left Camp Bobleter Monday.

Hundreds of automobiles and a big crowd on foot accompanied the troops on their march from the camp to the Fort Snelling station.

AMERICAN TROOPS READY FOR BANDITS

San Antonio, Tex., July 13.—When the Mexican bandits reported marching toward the Big Bend country reach American territory, if they ever do, they will find the United States army waiting for them.

General Funston is concentrating large bodies of cavalry in that district, particularly in the vicinity of Presidio, Tex.

Officers of the Southern department say that not many men could march to Boquilas from the direction of Coralitos owing to lack of water, but that about 1,000 could find food and water on the way to Ojinaga, opposite Presidio.

All available cavalry at El Paso and other border sections are preparing to begin patrolling the Rio Grande.

They are hampered by lack of horses, but these are being issued rapidly.

BARS SHIPMENTS OF BEER

Iowa Judge Rules Against General Distribution.

Hampton, Ia., July 13.—If an opinion handed down in the district court here by Judge Frey of Boone is upheld in the supreme court it is said beer cannot be shipped anywhere in the state and other intoxicating liquors can only be shipped to druggists having permits to sell liquor as medicine.

The decision is in the case of the state against the Theodore Hamm Brewing company of St. Paul, the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad and the Adams Express company.

CONGRESS ASKED TO HELP

Appropriation Urged to Fight Infantile Paralysis.

Washington, July 13.—Secretary McAdoo has asked congress to appropriate $135,000 for the public health service to aid in the fight against the infantile paralysis epidemic in New York and to prevent its spread to other states. The estimate was approved by President Wilson. Dr. W. C. Rucker, who has been in active charge of the fight against the epidemic, believes it will cost about $10,000 a month for the work of the service alone.

American Mine Raided.

Bouquilla, Tex., July 13.—Word was received here that the Lamula mine, an American-owned property about 130 miles south of here, has been raided by Mexican bandits. Fear was expressed that the raiders may continue their march toward the border.

TEUTONS DENT BRITISH LINES

Make Strong Counter Attack on Somme Front.

ACTIVITY AROUND VERDUN

Crown Prince's Troops Attempt to Follow Up Tuesday's Successes, but Are Repulsed—Austrians on Italian Frontier Forced Further Back.

London, July 13.—German resistance to the British offensive along the Somme front took the form of strong counter attacks which at two points made dents in the line established by General Haig's army.

Heavily reinforced the Germans made a determined drive at the British front.

According to the British official account of the fighting all the attacks were futile except those directed at Mametz and Trones woods, in the Montauban sector of the British right, where some ground was gained by the German columns.

The French have not resumed their offensive in the Somme region, Paris reporting that the night there passed quietly.

There has been notable activity in the Verdun sector.

The crown prince's troops, after their success of Tuesday in Fumin wood and at the Damloup battery, where they gained a footing, struck at the French in the vicinity of Dead Man hill, west of the Meuse, but were repulsed.

German troops on the right bank of the River Meuse pushed forward their positions to a point near Souvillo and the Laufee works, taking thirty-nine officers and 2,106 men.

To the east of the Meuse the French report having reoccupied some of the ground lost in the Fumin wood region.

They also drove the Germans out of trenches near Reillon, in Lorraine, where a footing had been gained, and carried out further successful surprise operations in the Champagne.

Austrians Driven Back.

The Italian offensive has been pushed recently not only in the Trentino, where the Austrians have been driven back long distances from their furthest points of advance, but along the Isonzo, where Gorizia is the objective.

In the face of this latter movement the Austrians, according to an unconfirmed report through Paris, are said to have evacuated Tolmino, twenty miles north of Gorizia.

German harrying of the English coast was continued with the bombardment by a submarine of Seeham harbor, a small colliery port on the North sea near Sunderland.

One woman was killed, but no property damage of consequence was inflicted, according to the British official announcement.

The Russians have attempted to check the Turkish troops in the Caucasus by means of counter attacks, but the Turkish war office announced that these onslaughts had been beaten off. In Mesopotamia a small body of British troops was put to flight.

Russian troops, which attempted to establish themselves on the left bank of the Stokhod river in the advance toward Kovel, were attacked by German troops and defeated, the Berlin war office announced.

ON AN EIGHT-MILE FRONT

British Capture All German First Line Positions.

London, July 13.—The capture of the whole of the Germans' first system of defenses on a front of 14,000 yards, nearly eight miles, after ten days and nights of continuous fighting, is announced in the official report from British headquarters in France. The number of prisoners taken exceeds 7,500. The text reads:

"After ten days and nights of continuous fighting our troops have completed the methodical capture of the whole of the enemy's first system of defense on a front of 14,000 yards. The system of defense consisted of numerous and continuous lines of fire trenches, support trenches and reserve trenches, extending for various depths from 2,000 to 4,000 yards.

"It included five strongly fortified villages, numerous heavily wired and entrenched woods and a large number of immensely strong redoubts. The capture of each of these trenches represented an operation of some importance."

RUSSIANS MAKE BIG HAUL

Capture About 70,000 Austrians in Recent Operations.

Petrograd, July 13.—The approximate total of prisoners taken by the Russians during General Brussiloff's operations to July 10 amounted to 5,620 officers and 266,000 men, the war department announced.

Guns to the number of 312 and 866 machine guns have been captured.

Goethals to Retire Shortly.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilson has agreed to accept the resignation of Major General Goethals as governor of the Panama canal at an early date, to be fixed by the general.

SMALLER HARVEST THIS YEAR SAYS DEPARTMENT

Improvement in Crop Condition of U. S. Is Large Over Past Years, However.

Basing its estimates on conditions up to July 1, the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. predicted a smaller harvest for 1916 than last years. Crops, however, are better than the average from 1910 to 1914.

The crops at this time showed a good improvement over conditions as reported on June 1. Feature's of the government report are a forecast of a record breaking tobacco yield and announcement of a heavy quanity of wheat held on farms July 1. The latter was more than double the amount usually held.

A summary of the July crop report for the State of Minnesota, as compiled by the Bureau of Crop Estimates (and transmitted through the (Weather Bureau) U. S. Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

Corn

State: July 1, forecast 55,300,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate,) 62,100,000 bushels.

Oats

State: July 1 forecast, 121,000,000 bushels, production last year(final estimate,) 134,375,000 bushels.

Barley

State: July 1 forecast, 38,900,000 bushels, production last year, (final estimate,) 41,375,000 bushels.

STATE'S OLDEST EDITOR QUITS NEWSPAPER GAME

Francis Ives, Editor of Cass Lake Times, and Father of Clerk of Court Harry Ives, Sells Plant

Francis Ives is better known as Judge Ives, the oldest man editing a paper in the state of Minnesota, and father of the present clerk of court of Pennington county, has sold the Cass Lake Times to I. F. Ittner and Grant Utley, both of Cass Lake, both of whom have for years been associated with the management. Judge Ives will celebrate his 85th birthday next Sunday, July 16.

The retiring editor located at Cass Lake 17 years ago, going to that place from Crookston, and started the Cass Lake Times. Before going to Cass Lake he was for a number of years Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial district. Mr. Ive's thorough education combined with travel in many climes fitted him especially for the splendid work he has done along newspaper lines, and there will be a deep regret at his departure from the newspaper field. The loss of the work of Mrs. Francis Ives will also be of no less regret. Her valuable work as assistant editor did much to promote the success of the paper.

The veteran newspaper man will arrive in Thief River Falls Saturday evening from Cass Lake to celebrate the 85th anniversary of his birth at the home of his son, Clerk of Court Harry Ives. He has no definite plans at this time where he will make his future home.

CIRCUS DAY IN THIEF RIVER FALLS TOMORROW

Wheeler Brothers Enormous Shows Have Many New Features in Store In Circus Line

Tomorrow, Friday July 14, Wheeler Brothers Enormous Shows will appear in Thief River Falls for two performances, rain or shine. This is a three ring circus and will probably will be the largest, if not the only circus to come to Thief River Falls this summer, and the program as promulgated by the advance men is widely different from the average run of shows in many ways. The spectacular "David and Goliath," will be seen for the first time anywhere. This is both an historical and biblical production, and embraces a cast of over six hundred men, women and horses. The "World at War," "Preparedness," two huge military displays, introducing the celebrated Pekin guards, boy scouts, armored guns, armored autos and motorcycles, airships, Blue Ribbon horse fair will be given. There will be two herds of performing elephants; a royal sporting event, the fox hunt, with red coated hunters and their hounds from across the "pond;" M'lle Alberta's polar bears in a separate steel arena.. Champions from all nations will participate in polo games; three rings and fancy track. And the clowns, yes, there will be lots of 'em. Ten troupes of athletic celebrities will perform in acrobatic and mid-air evolutions, and all have records in their home countries.

NORTHERN CONSTRUCTION CO. SECURES LARGE JOB

Contract Awarded to Local Firm Last Week For Building of $42,000 School at Hitterdahl.

The Northern Construction company of this city was awarded the contract for building a $42,000 school house at Hitterdahl the latter part of last week, and the company has already put a crew of men to work to begin its erection. The work of excavating the ground for the structure was begun on Friday.

"The school house when completed will be one of the best and most modern of any in the country," said J. Pfeffer to the Times representative last week. The structure will have eight rooms, and will be equipped with all modern conveniences. "It is surprising to know what a splendid building the people are putting up," said Mr. Pefeffer, "and for such a small town it certainly is out of the ordinary."

Hitterdahl is an enterprising place, and is located near Fargo, N. D.

SEC'Y OF STATE TO BE PRESIDENT FOR A DAY

President Wilson's Term Expires On Sunday, March 4, 1917, Preventing Inaguration.

Don't make any presidential bets unless you are fully aware of the situation.

There are at present several "slickers" who are trying to extract money form the unsuspecting by offering to bet that neither Woodrow Wilson nor Charles Evans Hughes will be the next president.

Here's the secret:

When President Wilson's term expires on March 4, 1917, it falls on a Sunday. To have an inaugration on Sunday is contrary to former customs.

An act of congress dated January 19, 1886, provides that the secretary of state and other cabinet officers shall succeed to the presidency in case both president and vice president are eliminated. Hence, barring his death or his resignation, Robert Lansing, now secretary of state, will be president of the United States for 24 hours, beginning at noon Sunday. In 1849 United States Senator David Atchison Rise, of Liberty, Mo., as president pro tempore of the senate, succeeded to the presidency when the term of president James Polk expired, and he held office over Sunday until Zachary Taylor, president elect, was inaugurated.

THIEF RIVER PRINTER IS "TYPO" PRESIDENT

Fred Zeh, Brother of Phil Zeh, Elected To That Position July 2, At Missoula, Mont.

Fred Zeh, former resident of Thief River Falls connected with one of the first newspapers of this city, was elected as president of the Missoula, Montana, Typographical union at their annual election of officers, July 2. Mr. Zeh left this city for Montana twenty-five years ago and on arriving there went to work in a daily office. After working a short time he showed his calibre and was given his choice of being floor man or operator. He accepted the former and held this position for a long term of years, after which he transferred and went to work on the linotype.

The Daily Missoulian says:

"Fred Zeh, one of the veteran members of the Missoulian force and a widely admired printer and person, was elected president of the Missoula local of the International Typograhical union at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Zeh has worked in the Missoulian shop for many years and has turned out more and cleaner type than old Ben Franklin ever dreamed of."

Thirty-five years ago Mr. Zeh managed a newspaper at Red Lake Falls for Messrs. P. and J. Meehan.

Commercial Club Notes

(By The Secretary)

June has been a busy month for the commercial club and it has been almost impossible to devote much time to meetings, work and plenty of it being the order of things for active members.

The gathering of the Telemarkens brought approximately 1,000 visitors to the city according to the estimate of the president of the organization. Estimating their expenses here at $5.00 each for the two days, this would mean $5,000 left in Thief River Falls by the visitors. They were well entertained, went away with pleasant recollections and as good boosters for this city and country.

The convention was so financed as to cost the commercial club less than $10.00, and at the same time, 1200 circular invitations were sent out to Telemarkens in widely separated sections of the country, in different states of the union, making excellent advertising for Thief River Falls and Pennington county. This might be taken as in favor of organization and as indicative of what can be accomplished through it.

The Commercial club will present a plan for a monster parade of autos by night at the fair grounds on the closing day of the rair, with a display of fireworks to add to the attractiveness of the spectacle. This has been carried out in eastern cities with much success and can be here. Details will be outlined in the near future.

The auto run to Warren reminds one of the old Scotch song, "Ye Take the High Road, I'll take the Low Road and I'll be in Scotland before Ye." It seems next to impossible to convince local people that there is much to be gained in leaving a given point in a body and making a showing on entering the city where the neighborly call is to be made. Over 40 autos from this city made the run to Warren; but they went singly and as they pleased; in consequence it was with considerable difficulty that machines to carry the band could be pressed into service and the showing in Warren was not what it might have been.

The auto run to Warroad will probably not be made until the last of August or early in September. The calendar for July is pretty full and the Commercial club will take an active part in the work of making the Pennington county fair a success. A shorter run to towns nearby and taking but one days' time is being considered.

The Fourth of July carnival and celebration proved such a success as to convince the most skeptical that we are still ready and prepared to fittingly observe the national holiday. Even those who allowed that we were "too big a city to carry on such old-fashioned doings," enjoyed the celebration and there were but few complaints from visitors.

With about $500.00 to do it with, it seems fairly good financing to make it possible for the band to net $500.00 and pay all expenses of the celebration and have sufficient balance to pay off an obligation to the Pennington county fair association. This is the result of the Fourth of July celebration. It shows what combining efforts in one common cause can accomplish.

The general committee wishes to express its appreciation of the efforts of all who assisted in the Fourth of July celebration. In very few instances was there any indication to shirk responsibility but on the contrary, the public and private citizens as well, co-operated in a most encouraging manner.

The petition in favor of a new Great Northern depot will soon be in circulation, the committee having been instructed to draft one and to begin definite action in an effort to bring this properly before the state Railway and Warehouse commission. The Great Northern has indicated that it will not build, "at this time." The commission will be asked to consider the situation here and may have an influence in the matter. The needs of a new depot are so woefully apparent that there seems to be no argument against the proposition.

The Thief River Falls Business college is slowly but surely establishing itself and with fourteen regular students enrolled and prospects for a large number entering in the fall, the future of the institution seems assured. The good to be derived from such a college is not easily reckoned but in other cities, where united efforts to secure a college have been made, the results are considered very gratifying. Estimate a school of say 50 pupils, paying at least $25.00 a month for board and room. This sums up to $1,250 a month for this item alone. Consider their clothing, incidental expense, entertainment, the money their relatives spend when they come to visit them and in dollars and cents, alone, you arrive at a most satisfactory conclusion. Again, it is worth considerable to the city to be able to afford an opportunity for education along business lines and will advertise the city and community in no small degree. It can no longer be said that young men and women desiring a business course, or one in shorthand and typewriting must of necessity go to Fargo, Grand Forks or some other city to secure it. Thief River Falls offers them every opportunity along this line nad Professor Langum states that he can place every graduate in a good position, when competent to fill it.

To those who are shouting, "we want more factories," it might be said that the stock in at least one money making local industry can be purchased right now and that there is a fine opportunity to boost the manufacturing industries we already have without seeking other worlds to conquer. The secretary can place before the club a dozen different factory propositions, anxious and ready to receive your bonus, come here, try it out and—move on to the next bonus. Look over the records and see how many towns of this size are ignoring the home industries and the farming country around them in the forlorn pursuit of factories—It answers this unhappy vagary most emphatically.

Concert at Hazel

The Cheerville Chorus, of Hazel, will render a concert at the Farmer's Club hall Saturday evening, July 22. Dr. J. N. Nesse of this city will be present to sing several solos. This singing organization has worked conscientiously to make the event a success, and all lovers of good music should attend. An admission fee of 25c to adults and 10c for children will be charged.

A detailed program of the concert will appear in the Times. J13

MINING EXPERT TELLS OF MEXICO

Oscar Thompson, Who Has Spent Past Nine Years in Mines, Arrives For Visit With Relatives

SAYS VILLA CAN'T BE TAKEN

Has Known This Famous Bandit For Years—Ate, Drank and Slept in Same Camp—Trouble Will Continue He Says.

"Panchoo Villa the Mexican bandit, was not in the raid made upon Columbus, New Mexico, when a score of American soldiers and women were killed," said Oscar Thompson, mining expert and mine holder, who has spent the past nine years in Mexico, to the Times reporter in an interview yesterday afternoon. Mr. Thompson is at present visiting with his brother, Charles, 107 Duluth avenue north, having been obliged to leave Mxeico on account of serious complications which have resulted of late between the U. S. and Mexican governments. "At the time of the raid was made Villa was many miles from Columbus, and I know personally that he was in the vicinity of Llano," said the mining expert. "I have known Villa most intimately for several years; I have eaten with him, slept in the same camp with him and have even drank with him, and I'll say in straight plain words that Villa is a first-class man. He is the greatest man in Mexico today," he continued.

Could Have Ordered Attack.

When asked if he thought the bandit was in any danger of being captured, Mr. Thompson retorted, "Villa will not be taken unless he allows himself to be trapped or by giving himself up. He has been a bandit since a young man and he knows the country like a rat. But he is a different kind of bandit from what you people up here in Minnesota think. He does not rob to store up money for himself, but instead he gets it and then divides it among the poor people," Said Mr. Thompson He stated that it were possible that Villa could have ordered an attack on Columbus and he also said that it were possible that the Carranza factions may have made the attack. "Everything that happens is blamed onto Villa," he said.

Villa is Americans Friend

"The Americans never had a better friend in Mexico," said Pancho Villa to Mr. Thompson at one time. Carranza's recognition by President Wilson and the consequent operations of the first chief's troops caused Villa to look upon the U. S. as a sworn enemy. "There will always be trouble in Mexico as long as the U. S. fails to recognize Villa as commander-in chief of Mexico's armies, and the consequent ousting of Carranza. Until Villa sees a man, who stands for justice in the presidents chair, Villa will always fight," he said "Villa is a good-hearted and liberal fellow and he sticks by a friend regardless of public opinion."

Mexicans Are Treacherous

"All the Mexicans are treacherous," said Mr. Thompson, "and all it takes to kill a man in that country is to pay a Mexican 5 or 50 cents for the job. They think nothing of it."

Mine Blown Up

Mr. Thompson has a gold and silver mine in the state of Sonora and when operations are going on he employs 300 Mexicans. Roving bands of these come to his camp and demand food, because they are toc lazy to work. Gold laying on top of the ground would mean nothing to them, according to the mine expert. A short time ago Mr. Thompson's mine was partially wrecked by bandits, who tried to kill his entire crew by dynamiting the mine. These bandits came upon the place, and thinking all the men were underground started blasting. Luckily none of the workmen were in the ground. In the explosion that followed over 40 feet of shafting was destroyed and many feet of mine caved in. "I may own the mine today," said Mr. Thompson, "but tomorrow a bandit gang might come along and order me off." Mr. Thompson obtained title to this land during the Madero administration. "Madero was Villa's best friend," said Mr. Thompson, "and you know what they did to him. Madero believed in justice among the lower class and Villa has taken up his work."

Knows Where Villa Is

"Villa is today many miles from the American troops and they will never be able to get him," he said, "and he is at this time, if I am not badly mistaken, in his haunts in Durango state."

Soldiers Coming Fast.

While enroute to Thief River Falls, Mr. Thmopson stated that he saw several trains composed of fifteen to eighteen passengers cars loaded down with national guardsmen bound for the Mexican border. "People at the border towns and cities are begining to feel a little safer now," he says. He then told of the many sleepless nights the people on the border endured. "I know of one family not sleeping for three nights," said Mr. Thompson, "and finally they had to leave home."

Mr. Thompson is undecided as to how long he will remain here, but intends to return at his most early convenience.

LUTHER LEAGUES HAD BIG MEETING

Convention Was Well Attended, Over 1,000 Being in attendance—1917 Meet at Roseau

The Luther Leagues of the Red River Valley district held its annual meeting June 30 to July 2 inclusive, at the Swedish Lutheran church in this city. There was a large attendance and the meet was declared to have been one of the most delightful and educational ever held.

The convention opened Friday evening June 30th, with divine services, when Rev. J. M. Persenius, of Grand Forks, delivered an able sermon upon the theme: "Thy people Shall Offer Themselves Willingly." This was followed by a short, warm hearted address of welcome by the local pastor, Rev. Albin A. Larson, and a fitting response was made by the president of the league, Prof. C. E. Sjorstrand of Warren.

Saturday's program was begun in somewhat of an unusual manner. Under the leadership of Rev. P. G. Carlstedt and Rev. A. F. Hoorn, the various delegates gathered at the church at 6 a. m. after which they took a hike to "Squaw Point," where an early morning inspirational meeting was conducted. Short talks, songs and prayer did much to set off the true sipirit of the day. After an hour in the wildwood they returned to the church, where a delicious breakfast awaited them and no one was heard complaining of a lost appetite.

At nine the convention took up its business with the reporting of all delegates, there being approximately 70 present. All reports showed a very prosperous year and the leagues everywhere showed gains and much progress. The league decided to again uphold a scholarship for some girl in India.

At the annual election of officers, the following were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Prof C. E. Sjorstrand of Warren.

Vice President—Rev A. F. Hoorn, of Warroad.

Sec'y—Miss Martha Mortenson, of Warren.

Treas.—Miss Nanice Hanson, of Halock.

Both the afternoon and evening programs were given over to the various delegates and consisted of recitations, readings, speeches and various musical selections. All the numbers were exceptionally well rendered and those taking part are deserving of much credit.

Sunday was the festive day for the local congregation. The morning services were conducted by Rev. M. A. Hendrickson, of Lancaster, and J. W. Lundgren, of Alvarado. Both delivered a sermon upon the text of the day, the former with an explanation and application to the day, while the latter drew a picture from the experience in life illustrating various portions of the text.

At the close of the service dinner was served in the church basement so as to present a chance to all to become better acquainted and also to begin the afternoon session a trifle ealier. This program was given over to the dedication of the church, and Rev. S. W. Swanson, of Evansville, delivered a very fitting sermon, chosing as his theme: "The Church of Our Fathers." Rev. Swenson is president of the Red River Valley Conference. Other speakers were James Moody, of Fergus Falls, vice president of the conference and first organizer of the church here. Rev. Gronberg, of Eglund, also spoke. The dedicatory service was rendered by Rev. Swenson assisted by eight pastors.

At 5:30 p. m. the delegates were all served a bounteous supper in the various homes in which they were guests. At 8 o'clock all assembled for the clsoing services. Rev. James Moody delivered a splendid preparatory sermon especially appropriate for the occasion. As a parting remembrance all joined at the holy altar and partook of the Lord's Supper, and brought to a close one of the most successful conventions of the Luther League's history.

Much credit is due to the local Luther League, choir and church congregation and to the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Albin Larson.

The League voted to accept the invitation of Roseau for holding its next meeting.

Street Commissioner Elmer Ostrom had a crew of men engaged in leveling the main thoroughfares during the past week. Gravel is being used to fill several of the low places along the sidewalks and in the center of the streets. The improvement is a good one and adds much to the appearance of the city. Recently mechanical traffic "cops" were placed at the intersections of the principal business streets and auto drivers and others are obeying the law very religiously. Auto owners, however, have one objection against the "cops" in that they are unable to see them in the evening owing to the stem being painted black, and as a result several drivers have collided with these sign posts. Last week at the corner of Horace avenue and Third street the "mechanical traffic manager" was broken off at the cement base as the result of a collision.

The Charter Election

The special election to be held in this city next Tuesday is a matter of vital importance to every taxpayer in the city. It will decide whether the people wish to continue conducting the affairs of the city under the present cumbersome, antiquated charter or adopt one that will meet the demands of the present day. If the charter fails to carry because of the indifference of the voters and failure on their part to go to the polls and vote, the day will go down in the history of Thief River Falls as a lasting mark against the quality of the citizenship of our present population.

There is every reason for carrying this charter by a big majority and not a single one against it that will stand up under the test of patriotic and unprejudiced discussion. If every voter is fair with himself and the city, forgets any petty feelings of jealousy or hatred that may be lurking in his mind toward any city official or member of the charter commission, and looks the matter square in the face, judging the charter on its merits alone, he can reach but one conclusion and he will cast his ballot in favor of the charter. It is the best measure of the size of a man and the quality of his citizenship when he can look at any matter that concerns the public welfare in a fair and unbiased manner and support or oppose it wholly upon its merits.

The proposed charter is a vast improvement from beginning to end over the one under which the city is operating at the present time. It provides, among other things, for the city manager form of government, acknowledged as the most efficient manner in which the affairs of any municipality can be conducted. This form of government has been adopted in numerous cities in all parts of the country and there remains to be cited the first instance where it has been given up for any other form. The city manager plan places the business of the city in the hands of one man, who is hired by the city council and is responsible to that body. This is the proper way to conduct any business and the only successful way. Every business institution in the world today has one man at its head. He is employed by the board of directors who, in turn are selected by the stockholders. If the man at the head of the business fails to conduct it on a profitable and satisfactory basis he is replaced by one who will. So it is with the city's business. The people elect the members of the city council and they secure a man to run the business. If he fails to produce results he is re placed by one who will. Is this not the sensible way to conduct the affairs of the city? The proposed new charter will give us this form of government.

Are the streets of Thief River Falls ever to be paved? Not while the city operates under its present charter. If the council were to order the streets paved now the property owners would have to pay for the improvement in one year. Under the proposed new charter payments for this valuable asset to any city may be extended over a term of twenty years. Does this appeal to the property owner? Does it appeal to every person interested in the growth and progressiveness of the city?

Under the present charter the entire council is elected at the same time, leaving none of the members to hold over who have become familiar with the affairs of the city by experience. The proposed new charter provides for the election of half the members of the council at one time, always leaving half of the "seasoned" members to hold over until the next election. It also abolishes the wards of the city as far as the election of aldermen is concerned. All members of the council are elected at large. Another feature that alone makes it worthy of support.

The new charter provides for the initiative, referendum and recall, thus giving the people absolute power in the affairs of the city. If, after the charter has been adopted, the people find that any part of it is unsatisfactory or desire any amendments to it they have the machinery with which to bring about the changes. Under the present charter they must accept conditions as they are. There is absolutely no remedy except through the state legislature and we all know that this is a long and stony road.

The adoption of this charter means increased efficiency, centralized responsibility, more improvements, lower taxes and numerous other things of the utmost importance to the future of the city. The Times has never supported a public measure with more enthusiasm and deeper concern than it has supported the new charter. It has been thoroughly looked into and impartially discussed. The adoption of this charter means everything to the city. Will the voters do their duty by giving it a big majority? The Times believes they will.

A very beautiful home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vr Meer, 1138 West Tenth street, Des Moines, Iowa, Wednesday, June 21, when their daughter, Helen, was united in marriage to Stewart E. Mulky, of this city, Rev E. E. Higley, of the Grace M. E. church, officiating. The bride was daintily attired in white embroidered voile, wearing a beautiful bouquet of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley. The groom wore conventional black. Mr. Mulky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Mulky, who live southeast of town. They came to Knoxville on the evening train, and will make their home here. All of their friends wish them success on their new journey.—Des Moines Reporter.

The bride formerly resided in Thief River Falls with her parents on a farm, north of the city. After the Vr Meer home was destroyed by fire last spring, the family moved to Des Moines to make their future home.

On Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Anton Langseth, 204 La Bree avenue south, occurred the wedding ceremony which united Peter Myrom and Minnie Brown, F. J. Seltz, pastor of the German Lutheran church officiating. The ceremony was attended only by the intimate friends of the bride and groom and relatives. The bride wore a beautiful gown of cream silk trimmed with lace and silk, and carried a bouquet of Red Roses. Miss Laura Brown, carrying a beautiful bouquet of white carnations, acted as bride's maid and Fred D. Haug acted as groomsman.

A reception dinner was served at 8 o'clock following the wedding at the Langseth home for the happy couple and those in attendance. The color scheme throughout was pink and white and roses and carnations of that color were used profusively. Large vases filled with pink and white carnations were placed on the banquet tables.

Miss Minnie Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Brown, 211 Conely avenue south, and has grown to womanhood here. She is a charming girl of pleasant personality and agreeable manners and has a host of friends in Thief River Falls. Miss Brown is a former student of the Thief River Falls high school and has been teaching school for the past few years. Peter Myrom came to this city several years ago and acted as instructor in the Commercial-Normal school at one time located in the Evenson building that was destroyed by fire in 1912. Later he accepted a position as bookkeeper at the Hanson & Barzen flour mill and has remained in that position to the present time.

Mr. Myrom's parents reside at Foston. He has followed his chosen profession with much success and is an accountant of excellent attainments.

The newlyweds had contemplated on taking an extended honeymoon, but have decided not to leave at this time. They are at present residing at 211 LaBree avenue south, where they will go to housekeeping.

The Times joins with their large circle of friends in wishing them success, happiness and prosperity on their new journey.

CROWDS JAM SHOWHOUSE TO SEE GREAT PICTURE

"The Birth of A Nation," David Griffith's masterpiece, and the greatest picture ever produced for the American screen, played to record breaking houses Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon and evenings at the Lyceum theatre last week. Each evening the popular playhouse was crowded to its capacity, it being necessary to hang out the S. R. O. sign at an early hour. At the first performance many who desired to witness the film were turned away.

Splendid orchestral music was furnished by the company's twenty-five piece symphony orchestra from the beginning to the end of the picture, and all who attended declare it to be "half of the show." From the opening scene, where the slave was introduced into America from Africa to the closing where peace and happiness reigned, the picture was one of gripping interest. At times scenes were shown of such exciting nature that some of the audience found themselves half way out of their seats when the excitement had died down. Exultant shouts and hand clapping came forth at various times, especially when the famous Ku Klux clansmen were depicted.

The performance was attended by a large number of out of town people, and many came from miles around. Grygla, the thriving little hamlet east of here, can probably be credited with having the largest number in attendance from one single town, the receipts from this town having amounted to over $70.

Manager Mugridge is derserving of much credit for securing this famous film, and it is in keeping with his policy of "nothing but the best."

Mme Petrova At Princess

A five part photodrama at the Princess theatre Sunday, July 16. The story deals with a problem of a very young woman, is used to every luxury. She is confronted with the question of choosing between the man of her heart and the man who can give her the luxuries to which she has been accustomed.

The Princess theatre management has booked some of the very latest and best photo-plays to be had with casts taking in some of the biggest stars in the world. Some people are under the impression that all theatres are hot and full of foul air. Such is not the case with the New Princess. The New Princess has a ventilating system that is far superior to any other in the Northwest. There is no foul air in the New Princess because the large ventilating fan is constantly bringing in fresh air and taking out foul air.

The Princess is flushed out every morning with water from a hose which keeps it clean and comfortable and cool at all stages of the weather. If you will ask your family doctor about a healthy place to spend your evenings he will most certainly say the New Princess is the best place for your entertainment and health.

Austin John Quale.

On Friday, July 7, occurred the death of Austin John Quale, age one month, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Quale. The son was born June 7, and had been ill for a short period. Funeral services were held at the residence Saturday afternoon, Rev. I. T. Aastad, officiating. Interment was made at greenwood cemetery.

Bluebird Feature Coming.

"Undine," a Bluebird feature, similar to—yet far more lavish than "Neptune's" Daughter," will be shown at the lyceum theatre Teusday evening, July 18. "Undine" is adapted from the classic French legend of the sea, by Pierre de la Motte, and features Ida Schmall, embellished by a bevy of beautiful girl swimmers. It is wonderfully staged and declared to be a triumph of the silent drama. The story tells of a knight entering a forest seeking adventure. He is commissioned to go forth and find Undine, who has been banned from her forest home and forced to live with earthly mortals. The Knight comes to a fisherman's cottage and sees there a girl, who when a babe was washed upon the shores and adopted by the fisherman. The knight falls in love with her and the are married. He takes her to his castle and is later informed by the Sea nymphs that he has performed his duty. Other incidents happen.

Miss Martha Iverson was discharged from the hospital Sunday after having received medical treatment. Miss Iverson, who resides west of town, is very much improved in health.

Harvest Will Soon Be Here

Never before in the history of this State, has there been a prospect of so great a crop of small grain as this year. Not only is the acreage great, but conditions are splendid.

Harvest time will be short. A day or two may make a great deal of difference to you. You cannot afford to take any chances with an old, unreliable or untried Binder.

For many years—56 to be exact—ADRIANCE Harvesting Machines have given satisfactory service to farmers in all parts of the world—from the fertile valleys of Siberia to the great plains of the Argentine, and now, under the ownership of the Moline Plow Co., are being extensively sold and used in the great Middle West. Read this letter:

Moline Plow Co., Attica, Iowa.

Gentlemen: I bought one of your ADRIANCE Binders from your dealer, J. T. Robuck, of Attica, and I wish in this way to let you know that the Binder gave me the best of satisfaction. The draft and ease with which it performs its work was really surprising, in fact I could not notice any difference in draft when the bundle was being tied, and I also wish to say, It Never Missed Tying a Bundle. The convenience and ease of all the levers for shifting the working parts, beats any Binder that I have ever seen. I can gladly recommend this Binder to any one wishing a new Binder. (Signed) D. K. Smith.

Costs more to build—sells at the same price.

If we could take you through the ADRIANCE Factory; if we could show you the care used in the selection of materials; the painstaking supervision in the manufacture of every part in its construction, you would appreciate thoroughly the secret of the splendid success and superiority of the ADRIANCE Binder.

The ADRIANCE Binder is so simple anyone who can drive a team can operate it. Its adjustments are so easily made that even a boy can run it.

Cannot Get Out of Time—The ADRIANCE one-piece driving arm can never get out of time. No gears, chains or cams to give trouble and cause expensive delay in the harvest season.

New Post Toasties were perfected to overcome the defects of old-style corn flakes. And the hearty welcome they have received is ample proof that their superiority is recognized.

New Post Toasties have a self-developed, inner-flavor—the rich flavor of choice Indian corn. Try a handful dry — They're mighty good that way, and the test will prove that, unlike common flakes, they do not depend on cream and sugar for their palatability.

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" in the package, and they don't mush down in cream like common "corn flakes." The New Post Toasties are identified by tiny bubbles on each flake—produced by the quick, intense heat of the new process of manufacture, which also develops their wonderful new flavor.

Have your grocer send a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

What Oen Merc. Co. of Thief River Falls

have to say about cream separators this week

IN the last ten or fifteen years there have been dozens of cream separators come on the market which claimed to be "world beaters." But they couldn't make good in the hands of the users and one by one they dropped out of sight. Their owners were willing to take a risk and they lost.

If you buy a cream separator from us you run no risk of dissatisfaction or loss.

The De Laval is tested and time proved.

Why experiment? What's the use of taking chances with a machine you don't know much about, or an inferior machine, when you know that a De Laval is recognized everywhere as the "World's Standard."

More than thirty five years of experiment and experience have made the De Laval pre-eminently the best machine on the market for the separation of cream.

If you have no separator now, or an inferior one, we can sell you a De Laval on such terms that it will pay for itself while you are using it.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

COURT ADJOURNS UNTIL JULY 24

Four Criminal Cases Yet Left to Dispose of at This Term of Court.

JUDGE SENTENCES THREE

Dahle Taken to St. Cloud For Indeterminate Period—Fensand in Jail at Warren—Davis Sentenced.

Judge Grindeland on Friday pronounced sentence upon Jens Dahle, who was found guilty of manslaughter in the second degree last Thursday evening. He was taken to the St. Cloud reformatory Friday morning at 6 o'clock to spend an indeterminate period at that institution. Judge Grindeland told Dahle on sentencing him to write to his grandfather, who resides in this county and all possible would be done to pardon him at some later date. The judge also warned him of his habit of getting drunk. The same day Lewis Fensand was sentenced to thirty days in jail and a fine of $50 and costs, he being found guilty of "bootlegging." In default of payment of the fine he will spend an additional 30 days in jail. Fensand told on the stand that on or about February 3 or 4 he gave Olaf Johnson, witness for the state, some whiskey for which he received no money. Johnson, however, testified to that he paid Fensand $1.50. Fensand was taken to Warren Saturday morning and is at present serving his time. Edward Davis, indicted for selling liquor without a license, who pleaded guilty, was given a fine of $50 and a suspended jail sentence of thirty days.

Adjourns for a Week.

Court adjourned Saturday afternoon for a week and will not convene until July 24, at 9 a. m. The fact that Judge Grindeland was called to Warren and Hallock to attend two ditch hearings, court could not be held. Judge Watts, of Crookston, was also in a similar position and he too was unable to come up and preside during Mr. Grindeland's absence.

Friday and Saturday of last week were taken up in disposing of the cases of Bennie Vigen, charged with storing and keeping liquor for sale, and Lewis Fensand, charged with having violated the county option law. Sentences were also pronounced by Judge Grindeland in three cases, where the person had been found "guilty."

Vigen Dismissed.

A jury for Ben Vigen was selected Friday morning and the trial began. Axel Anderson, also indicted on the charge of keeping and storing liquor for sale, was on the witness stand for the state. No evidence was shown on the part of the state and the case was dismissed. No action was taken in the case of Axel Anderson.

Four Criminal Cases.

Among the criminal cases that have not been tried are those of G. H. Gaslin, Harold Provencher, James Farr and Howard Gesell, all indicted by the grand jury on the charge of selling liquor without a license. Gesell is held on two charges of this nature. Among those who have pleaded guilty to liquor selling charges are: Arnt Auli, H. B. Newell, Martin Strom, Tallak Froisness and Ed. Davis.

Two Court Cases.

Two court cases will come up next week. They are: Henry W. Kiel vs. Thief River Valley Land Co., William J. Brown, George Johnson and William H. Frederick. Martin Archer vs. Thief River Valley Land Co., William J. Brown and William H. Frederick.

Court's Work.

The following cases have been up for consideration at this term of court to the present date:

Q. L. Lewis vs. James Thornhill. Judgement for plaintiff.

State of Minnesota vs. Gopher Real Estate company, a corporation, stricken from calendar.

Illinois Steel Bridge company vs. County of Pennington, tried to court, judgment for plaintiff.

Thief River Falls Farmers Exchange Elevator company, a corporation, vs. Chas. O. Evenson; submitted to court by consent of parties and taken under advisement.

J. C. R. Charest vs. J. M. Bishop; argued for demurer; no decision.

Christ L. Peterson, as executor of the estate of the last will and testament of Peter Peterson, deceased, vs. W. J. LaBree; continued to next term by consent.

In the matter of the petition of H. R. Allen and C. Bakko to vacate a portion of the plat known as original townsite of St. Hilaire, and of the plat known as the St. Hilaire Townsite company's second addition to St. Hilaire; tried to court and taken under advisement.

Nick Bornhoft vs. J. B. Fulton; continued to next term.

Martin Cole vs. John P. Papberg; continued to next term.

Minor B. Palmer vs. F. W. Bruce; continued to next term.

Lawrence W. Larson vs Betsey Martinson, Advance Thresher company, Advance Rumley Thresher company, Inc., and Peoples State bank, of Thief River Falls, Minn., a corporation; continued.

Sanitarium Board Meets.

A meeting of the Tri-county Sanitarium board was held at the Commercial club rooms Monday evening. Plans for the sanitarium with a few changes were brought there by State Architects Sunn and Dunham, and were accepted. The architects were authorized to advertise for bids for the digging of a well, which will also include the clearing away of the grounds so building operations can be started. Members of the board who were present were: Dr. O. F. Mellby, of this city; K. O. Gigstad, of St. Hilaire; A. C. Tvedt, Goodridge; Jonas Schoberg, Middle River; Louis Enstrom, Roseau; V. B. Gislason, Badger, and Dr. W. Anderson, Warren.

AUGUST 2-3-4 WILL BE RED LETTER DAYS IN THIS CITY

Pennington County's Fifteenth Annual Fair and Exposition Promises to be the Biggest Event of its Kind in the Northwest

SEC. LABREE SECURES SHOW COMPANY

Excellent Race Card Arranged For Last Two Days—Free Acts in Front of Grandstand—Stock Exhibits Will Be of the Best—Amusements to be Furnished by the Clifton Kelly Company—Wednesday Will Be "Ford" Day—Ball Game on First Day

But twelve days more remain before the fair ground gates will swing open for Pennington county's 15th annual fair and exposition. Secretary LaBree has for the past week been busy lining up different features and making arrangements for the big event. They will be red letter days in Thief River Falls.

The Clifton-Kelly shows, ranking among the best on the road, will furnish the amusement features for the big fair, which will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 2, 3 and 4. Secretary LaBree made this announcement the latter part of last week when final negotations had been made. Four other concerns submitted contracts for the 1916 fair but the Kelly concern offered what was considered as the best inducements, and as a result they were chosen.

This organization is one of the largest and best carnival shows now traveling, and comprises between twelve and fifteen "pay" shows and about twenty excellent concessions. The company travels in fifteen special cars and carries a large force of men. A$9,000 merry-go-round is carried besides a large Ferris wheel.

Two free attractions will be given in front of the grand stand daily by the Clifton-Kelly people in the afternoon. In order to accommodate those who desire to attend the carnival in the evening, the management of the fair has decided to open the grounds to the public free of charge.

Wednesday, August 2, will be known as "Ford" day and the grounds will be given over to owners of Ford cars. Special arrangements will later be made for the entertainment of the many hundred "Ford" guests from out of town, who have already signified their intention of coming. There will be a base ball game between Nason's Nobles and a fast aggregation from Warren.

Mule Derby.

Dickson's mule derby, something new and certainly good, will stand out as a feature for "Ford" day. Local business men will act as drivers of the steeds. The mules are coming from Fox Lake, Wisconsin, and is something entirely new to Northern Minnesota fairs.

"Thief River Falls Day."

Thursday, August 3, will be known as "Thief River Falls Day," and it is expected that all previous attendance records will be shattered. Local business houses will close during the afternoon. The race program for Thursday includes the 3:00 trot or pace, for a purse of $250; the 2:15 trot or pace for a purse of $350, and the novelty running race for a purse of $100, to be paid $25 at each quarter mile.

"Red Lake Falls Day."

"Red Lake Falls Day" will be Friday the last day and a large attendance from the down river city is expected to arrive. A big delegation of Thief River Falls people attended the fair at Red Lake Falls Tuesday and that Red Lake Falls will try to outdo this is evident. A special race has been prepared for the last day, in addition to the regula rprogram which includes the 2:25 trot or pace for a purse of $100.

The famous Minnesota State band of Thief River Falls will be on hand to furnish music during the three days, and it is Director Greenfield's intentions to have the Juvenile band on deck for the first day. The ecicient bandmaster is working the youngsters hard and hopes to have them in shape for the occasion.

The fair management has gone to a considerable expense and trouble in an effort to make the 1916 exhibition the best ever, and to secure first class attractions. It asks that the business men of the city co-operate in every way possible, and their efforts will be appreciated. Those desiring booths, and the number should be large, are urged to see the secretary and make reservations early. The grounds will be placed in as fine a condition as possible, and anyone desiring to erect a stand, will be given every consideration.

The surrounding country has been billed, announcing the three big days and that all attendance records made in former years will be shattered is looked for.

RED LAKE RIVER CLAIMS VICTIM

Ellsworth LeRoy Kellenbarger, Age 16, Drowned While Swimming Last Thursday at 8:25 p. m.

BODY FOUND ON FRIDAY

Young Man Goes Down When About to Grab Log at Pier and Fails to Come Up—Funeral Held Sunday.

Failing to grasp a log at the Squaw Point pier after completing a long distance swim, and sinking thereafter, Ellsworth LeRoy Kellenbarger, age 16, was drowned in the Red Lake river last Thursday evening at 8:25. The young man is said to have been afflicted with heart trouble, but whether he suffered a stroke while within an arm's reach of safety, or whether he was suddenly overtaken with cramps is unknown. The body was found Friday morning at 11 a. m. about 200 feet from where he was last seen.

Young Kellenbarger, in company with Jim Smith and Clyde Green, connected with a merry-go-round which has been in the city since the 4th of July, started from a point on the east side of the river and swam downward with the current, and were headed for a pier which stands in the center of the river. Jim Smith and Clyde Green reached the pier first and were standing upon this structure waiting for Kellenbarger, who was still swimming. On reaching the pier Green dove in and was going to the west shore to rest when he was called back by Simth, who said a man was drowning. Green turned back and climbed onto the top of the pier.

Eye Witness Tells Story.

According to Clyde Green, eye witness to the drowning, Kellenbarger had swam against the swift current in reaching the pier and appeared to be pretty well tired out. On seeing him he yelled: "Can you make it?" Kellenbarger replied: "Yes, I can make it." About that moment Kellenbarger reached for a log at the pier and missed it, sinking immediately. Through the confusion and panic of horror stricken swimmers and spectators, Green, braving the danger, coolly dove in to rescue Kellenbarger, who had sunk before his eyes. Green came up failing to touch the boy and again dove valiantly in to save him. His diving near the pier proved futile and he then swam to the east shore to procure a boat and continue search. The search was continued all evening by a number of men in row boats and provided with pike poles. After searching at Squaw Point the party moved down river thinking that possibly the swift current had taken him down stream.

Green Is Injured.

Green, who is an expert swimmer, did a large part of the searching under water by diving. It was thought by those searching that his body might be in the neighborhood of the Soo bridge and a search was begun there at 11:30 p. m. Green dove and in doing so struck a deadhead at the river's bottom, it being necessary to assist him from the water into the boat.

Search is Resumed.

Friday morning Edward Brooten and Vernon Tyler went in search of the boy near the pier, where he was last seen.

The fact that there is nothing available in the way of a drag net in this city, Mr. Brooten made a unique dragging implement by taking a gas pipe, about six inches long, screwing a heavy cap on one end and putting a wooden plug in the other. In the plug several long spikes were driven through and a long rope fastened to the end. The heavy cap on the end of the pipe dragged on the bottom leaving the other end, which had the hooks on, escape all snags. After working for several hours dragging the river's bottom, they were successful in catching one of the hooks in the boy's swimming suit. The body was brought to the surface of the water at 11 a. m., after being submerged for fourteen hours and twenty-five minutes. Deputy Coroner Dr. J. E. Douglass was notified and decided that no inquest was necessary. The place of finding the body was about 200 feet from where the boy sank, the current having moved him down stream.

Funeral Sunday.

Ellsworth LeRoy Kellenbarger was born in North Dakota, April 19, 1900. He came with his parents to Thief River Falls about a year ago, and had for a short time up to the day of his death been employed as porter at the Brumund hotel. The body was taken to his former home at Cando, N. D., Saturday morning, funeral services being held on Sunday. He is survived by his mother and a stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. William Konsher, 1332 Bridge street.

Grade Cow Sells for $125.

Albert Johnson last week purchased a grade cow from Fr. Adolph for $125. As far as is known this is the highest price ever paid for a grade cow in Pennington county. Fr. Adolph has been the owner of the cow for several years and for the past two years it has been entered at the county fair where it won first prize. The cow is an exceptionally valuable one and Mr. Johnson has made a good addition to his herd.

VALUABLE ADVERTISING FOR CITY AND COUNTRY

Motion Pictures Taken That Will Be Shown in the Middle and Eastern States.

Thief River Falls and Pennington county are to receive some valuable advertising as the result of moving pictures that were taken in the city and farm country around here Wednesday. Messrs. Bady and Ingraham, accompanied by Mr. Staples of the imigration department of the Soo line, arrived in the city Wednesday morning and spent the day in this city and vicinity, taking pictures that will be shown through the middle and eastern states in connection with other scenes in Northern Minnesota along the Soo Line.

Daniel Shaw, John Bratrud and John Bordewick spent the day with the motion picture men and were of valuable assistance to them in selecting scenes that will show the country to best advantage and give those who see the pictures a true and thorough knowledge of the farming country in this section of the state. It is of particular importance to impress upon those who might wish to locate in Northwestern Minnesota that this section of the state is a prairie country and not cut-over timber land like Northeastern Minnesota. With this object in view several scenes were taken showing the broad expanse of fertile prairie land. The pictures taken in this vicinity were at the farms of Albert Johnson, P. Engelstad, Halvor Fodstad and Ole Flattum. Views were also taken of the electric car on its regular trip, the fire team in action and one of the city from the top of the E. Mogenson Clothing store building.

Messrs. Bady, Ingraham and Staples were enthusiastic over the country and views obtained here and it is certain that this form of advertising being carried on by the Soo will be very effective.

$700 Appropriated.

The Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners' hearing which was to have been held last evening at the Commercial club, was cancelled when the commissioners were notified that $700 had been appropriated for the installation of two flush toilets at the Great Northern station. It was also made known that work would begin at once.

The commissioners will meet in this city August 2, however, for the purpose of settling a dispute between two Goodridge telephone lines.

NEW CHARTER IS DEFEATED

358 Votes Cast at Special Election Tuesday—Less Than One-Third of Voters Attend Polls.

241 "NO" VOTES ARE CAST

Thief River Falls Now Remains One of But Two Cities in the State Operating Under Charter of 1895 —Others Have Discarded It.

By a vote of 241 to 117 the proposed new charter for Thief River Falls was defeated at the special election held Tuesday and thus does the city take a step backward and remains one of but two cities in the entire state still operating under the charter passed by the state legislature in 1895. All of the many other cities that once operated under the same charter have discarded it for a home rule charter that meets the demands of the present day.

Although the election was one of the most important ever held in the city, less than one-third of the total vote was cast and for this reason a small minority of the voters of the city were allowed to defeat the proposed new charter. The election failed to create the slightest ripple of interest and aside from a few who were active against the charter no one would have known that an election was being held in the city. The first ward cast 80 votes, second, 101; third, 70; fourth, 107. Although the polls were open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m., but 94 more votes were cast than at the election of school directors Saturday night when the polls were open for only one hour, 7 to 8 p. m.

The vote in the four wards was as follows:

	Yes	No
First Ward	20	60
Second Ward	33	68
Third Ward	28	42
Fourth Word	36	71
Total	117	241

Mr. Hanson brought suit against Mr. Sorlom in Municipal court last fall and Mr. Hanson carried the case to district court, where he secured the judgment for costs and damages. G. Halvorson was attorney for Mr. Sorlom and Mr. Hanson was represented by Attorney C. A. Pitkin.

Two local ball teams, named the Hopes and the Hopeless, clashed at the fair grounds diamond last Sunday morning, the Hopes winning by a score of 7 to 5. Jens Erickson and Derby Anderson formed the battery for the Hopes, while Harry Miller and Clifford Rice and Alex Welsh formed the opposing battery. A number of fans were present to witness the game.

Back on the Job.

Claude W. Blunt, linotype operator, at the Times office, returned Sunday morning from a five weeks' vacation spent in Illinois and Wisconsin, visiting at the home of his parents and other relatives. Mrs. Blunt and daughter, Dorothy, who accompanied him on the trip south, are at present visiting at the home of Mrs. Blunt's brother at Reedsburg, Wisconsin.

$50,000 BUILDING FOR THIS CITY

Public Building Bill Reported to Congress Includes $50,000 Federal Building For Thief River Falls.

"PORK" SYSTEM DEFENDED

Congressman Steenerson Secures Building For This City—Only Place in His District Included in Public Building Bill.

In the public building bill reported to the house by the public building and grounds committee this week was included a $50,000 building for Thief River Falls. This was secured by Congressman Steenerson who determined that this city should be the next place in his district to have a federal building. It will, of course, be several years before the building is erected in this city, the usual amount of "red tape" being necessary in the matter of public buildings the same as in all government transactions.

The report contains a vigorous defense of the existing system of making public buildings appropriations. In this connection it says:

"For several years certain metropolitan newspapers, magazines and other publications have been loud in their denunciation of congress for what they have been pleased to term 'pork barrel legislation.' And much of it has been leveled at public building legislation. Much of the criticism and abuse leveled at this committee and congress has been on account of appropriations for public buildings in the smaller cities and towns of the country.

"Aside, however, from the mere matter of the dollars and cents involved, the committee desires to call attention to the fact that in the small cities and towns of the country about all the people ever see of the government of the United States is the postoffice, and about all they get in return for the stream of taxes which they pour into the federal treasury is their mail facilities. The carping critics of the policy of constructing buildings in which to transact the business of the republic in the small cities and towns vociferously applaud the committee and the congress when millions are named for monumental structures in the great cities of the country, and declare before all the world that we are vaciliant patriots, but when $25,000 or $50,000 is to be appropriated for construction of a building in one of the small cities or towns of the country, to economically and efficiently provide for the public service in a rural community, this committee and congress is denounced as an aggregation of 'pork barrel advocates' and 'looters of the treasury.'"

$47,000 TAX LEVY FOR CITY SCHOOL PURPOSES

Lars Backe and Dr. O. F. Mellby Reelected as Members of Board of Education.

The most important transaction at the annual school meeting of the electors of School District No. 18 was the resolution passed authorizing the board of education to levy $47,000 taxes for school purposes for the ensuing year (1916-1917). When this matter was disposed of about ten voters were present but during the hour that followed 264 voters cast their ballots for school directors. Evidently the matter of the people of the district paying $47,000 in taxes for school purposes is a small item compared with the election of two directors.

Up to a late hour Saturday afternoon there was no indication that there would be any contest for the two offices on the school board but at the eleventh hour E. M. Korstad and E. J. Overland were placed in the field by their friends. Both appeared on tickets with Dr. O. F. Mellby, the evident desire being to defeat Lars Backe. A total of 264 votes were cast.

The Vote.

O. F. Mellby	221
Lars Backe	154
E. M. Korstad	81
E. J. Overland	43

A "Democratic" Race.

Three prominent figures in the grand stand at the Red Lake county fair one day this week were Postmaster John Morgan, Judge N. W. Tarrant and Milton Forder. They witnessed a real "Democratic" race too—four mules and all "going some."

RUSSIANS AGAIN IN HUNGARY

Czar's Troops Cross Carpathians.

REAR GUARD IN DANGER

Rapid Advance of Slavs May Cut Off Austrian Force.

London, July 20.—The Russians have crossed the Carpathians and have penetrated a day's march into Hungary, according to a dispatch to the Star from Petrograd.

The Germans have recaptured a portion of Delville wood and obtained a footing in the northern outskirts of Longueval, the war office announced.

The dispatch says the Russians are threatening the Austrian rear in the mountains.

The advance is being made, according to this information, by the armies of General Letchitzky, which are again on the move after an interval of quiet.

Another vote of credit will be asked for next week, the premier informed the house of commons.

It will be the eleventh vote since the outbreak of the war and probably will be for £300,000,000, the same amount as the last one.

This will bring up the total for the war to £2,682,000,000.

Announcement was made by the chancellor of the exchequer, Reginald McKenna, that the government had decided to take in taxation 77 per cent of the excess profits of shipping firms.

Paris, July 20.—The French made some progress on the Verdun front in the course of hand grenade fighting in the vicinity of Fleury.

Artillery actions continue energetically in this sector.

A German raid in the region of Paschendaal, Belgium, was checked by the French fire, as was a raid north of the Aisne near Paezzy.

Rome, July 20.—A new advance for the Italians in the Upper Posina valley, where they succeeded in capturing positions on Corno Del Coston, was announced by the war office. A strong attack by the Austrians on the Italian lines in the Pasubio sector was repulsed.

THINKS WAR MUST BURN ITSELF OUT

New York, July 20.—The Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked of San Francisco and Miss Emily Balch of Wellesley college, American delegates to the neutral conference for continuous mediation, which is the outgrowth of Henry Ford's peace expedition and has been sitting in Stockholm, reached New York aboard the liner Frederik VII. on their way to consult with Mr. Ford regarding further work for peace.

"Peace in Europe is not possible before spring," said Dr. Aked on his arrival.

"The war simply must burn itself out. France cannot make peace; England is too proud to; Germany offers only unacceptable terms. The recent allied success is negligible and the chance of a military decision very remote. Talk of German exhaustion is absurd, for, though there is economy of bread, butter and meat, there is no starvation, merely inconvenience. The German spirit is wonderfully calm, courageous and confident."

THREE TRANSPORTS SUNK

Turks Report Destruction of Russian Vessels.

Berlin, July 20.—Three large enemy transports were sunk by submarines in the eastern part of the Black sea and a fourth forced to run ashore, according to a statement by the Turkish admiralty.

Since Grand Duke Nicholas assumed command in the Caucasus and began the offensive the Russians have moved many thousand troops to the Caucasus by steamer rather than by marching overland.

Ritter and Polk Discuss Peace.

Washington, July 20.—The minister from Switzerland, Dr. Paul Ritter, discussed the prospects of peace in Europe with Acting Secretary of State Polk. He indicated afterward that his talk had been without tangible results.

DRY CONVENTION BEGINS BUSINESS

Gathering at St. Paul Is Largely Attended.

CHAFIN BOOM LAUNCHED

Hanly-Sulzer Contest May Result in Deadlock and Friends of Former Candidate for President Boost Him for Compromise Choice.

St. Paul July 20.—With the Hanly-Sulzer battle for the presidential nomination waxing more bitter 1,000 delegates to the Prohibition party's twelfth quadrennial convention opened their first session at the Auditorium.

Factional feeling was submerged in the excess of enthusiasm evoked by the eloquent keynote address of Daniel A. Poling, but the partisans espousing the rival candidates waited only for the luncheon recess to renew their campaign among the scattered delegates.

The Sulzer meeting in the palm room of the Saint Paul hotel opened inauspiciously, but before the managers could decide on a later hour to which they might adjourn the crowd increased and the affair developed enthusiasm too great for the Hanly adherents to ignore.

Sulzer's candidacy is so closely linked with the organized opposition to the Catholic church that it was almost impossible to discuss the nomination without injecting religious questions.

Charges Against Sulzer.

An early morning Sulzer meeting at a downtown hotel was the signal for the unmasking of the batteries of the Sulzer and Hanly forces, and bitter debates took place in hotel lobbies, in which the New Yorker's followers accused Hanly of trying to seize control of the party, while some of Hanly's adherents accused Sulzer of accepting the support of the liquor interests in his candidacy for the Prohibition nomination.

Although it is an outside chance some delegates are considering the prospect for a deadlock between Hanly and Sulzer and members of the Lotus club, an official body of forty state leaders, say Eugene W. Chafin may be chosen as a compromise when the Hanly and Sulzer adherents have exhausted their strength in opposing each other.

Mr. Chafin, who was the party's candidate in 1908 and 1912, is frank in his effort to nominate "any one to beat Hanly." He is believed to be a receptive candidate, though he is not seeking the nomination this year. He is active in Sulzer's support and considers Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts out of the running.

Convention Called to Order.

It was 10:20 when the convention formally was opened by Chairman Hinshaw. Bishop Samuel Cook Edsall of Minnesota offered prayer, asking divine guidance for the Prohibition party and the dethronement of the liquor traffic. Chairman Hinshaw said:

"The Greenbackers and the Bull Moosers may come and go, but the Prohibition party goes on forever. We stand for emancipated womanhood and childhood and the abolition of crime's greatest producer."

The secretary, Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, read the official call for the convention and the roll call of states. The chairman of each delegation walked to the platform and left the names and credentials with the secretary.

The greatest demonstration of the convention took place when Daniel A. Poling of Boston, temporary chairman, was escorted to the platform to give the keynote speech. When Mr. Poling concluded he was cheered for several minutes. Men and women arose and waved their hats and handkerchiefs,

TWELVE HUNDRED INVITED

Moosers to Have Seats at Hughes Notification.

New York, July 20.—Three thousand invitations to attend the meeting in Carnegie hall here, on the evening of July 31, to give Charles E. Hughes formal notification of his nomination, are being sent out by James B. Reynolds, secretary of the Republican national committee. Twelve hundred seats will be turned over to George W. Perkins for distribution among prominent Progressives. Among those who will receive invitations are Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft.

IHLE CAR IS HIT BY G. N. CABOOSE

Accident Occurred Tuesday Evening At 9 O'clock on Returning Home.

MRS. OLE IHLE IS INJURED

Other Occupants of Car Were Badly Shaken Up—Little Son Receives Bad Gash on His Head When Crash Comes.

Alderman Ole Ihle's car was struck by a Great Northern caboose Tuesday evening at about 9 o'clock, when in the act of attempting to drive over the south crossing. At the time Mr. Ihle was coming to the south tracks the train men made a "flying switch" and owing to the darkness of the night, and the fact that the caboose was not provided with lights as alleged by Mr. Ihle, he failed to see the caboose until a few feet from the crossing. On seeing the car he made a quick turn to the right, failing to clear it, and as a result the trainmen's car hit the left side of the automobile.

Mrs. Ihle Injured.

Occupants of the car at that time were Mr. and Mrs. Ole Ihle, the former's mother, Mrs. L. Ihle, and the Ihle children, Lee, age 13; Orden, age 8; Ruby, age 5, and Lester, age 12. Mrs. Ihle was thrown against the side of the automobile and was seriously injured, several ribs being broken. Orden, received a gash in the head by the sudden jar, he being thrown in some unknown manner. Both are receiving medical attention and are recovering rapidly.

The party had been out east of town enjoying a short ride and were forced to return home about nine o'clock when heavy clouds began to draw up, and wished to reach home before the rain.

No Lights on Caboose.

According to Mr. Ihle there were no lights on the caboose and stated that he was not able to see the moving car before he was forced to make a swing or have his car completely demolished. The auto is badly damaged and it will be necessary to replace the present body with a new one. The trainmen claim that the caboose was lighted on the inside and that a brakeman and conductor were standing on the rear platform with a lantern when the car was coming down to the crossing.

AVIATOR WEBSTER IS FIGHTING FOR ALLIES

Performed at Pennington County Fair in August 1915—Has Brought Down Three Planes.

A dispatch in the Grand Forks Herald from Billings, Montana, states that Harry Webster, aviator, has brought down his third German Fokker. It will be remembered that one Harry Webster performed at the Pennington county fair in August 1915, and judging from the report and his exhibition in this city he must have improved wonderfully in flying. The report says: "with an associate, Webster, purchased a Curtiss biplane and his first flight was made in this city on Memorial day, 1915. He was on a tour of North Dakota last year when he was summoned to England and soon thereafter became a regular member of the aerial squad. Within two weeks he brought down his first German aeroplane at a height of 2,500 feet. On another occasion he attacked and crippled a German air machine."

WORK IS RESUMED ON BIG $10,000 GARAGE

Failure of Brick and Tile to Arrive Has Caused Forced Delay in Construction.

Work on the $10,000 garage of Messrs, C. E. Rossmon & A. C. Rasmusson on Main avenue north has again begun in full blast after a forced delay of several weeks, owing to the failure of a shipment of brick and tile to arrive.

On Tuesday of last week a large supply of material arrived, however, and a crew of masons and carpenters were at once rushed to work. The work of building has progressed nicely during the past week, the iron beams having been placed in position and part of the rafters for the roof have been erected. Hans Rustad, contractor in charge of the building, expects to have the structure nearly completed by August 1. On opening the new firm will have a force of competent auto mechanics, and will carry a full line of automobile accessories.

A deal was closed this week whereby H. O. Mugridge, leasee of the Lyceum theatre, sold his lease to G. Final negotations were completed on Monday, Mr. Brockway taking charge yesterday evening.

Mr. Mugridge has had charge of the Lyceum for several months taking possession during the first of the year. DAVIS AVE. TRACK MOVED THIS WEEK

Electric Car Will Make Run Into City On New Right-Of-Way Next Saturday.

H. W. Protzeller, manager of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway company, stated yesterday that the company's car will make its first run into Thief River Falls next Saturday on the right-of-way purchased recently. This will be the initial trip of the car into this city to its former terminal since the decision handed down from the supreme court prevented them from using Davis avenue. The franchise purchased from the city allows them the use of the west side of the street and the problem now appears to have been solved. Announcement to this effect is being gladly received among business men and others.

A large crew of men has been engaged in removing the track from the center of Davis avenue to the west side of the street and by next Saturday all will be in readiness.

The electric line was built into eastern Pennington county over two years ago and tapped a rich and fertile country making possible its rapid settlement. Towns have sprung up and the result thus far has been amazing. Farmers have settled in this part of the county and in turn they have poured into Thief River Falls to buy the necessities of life, machinery for the farm, and spend money in numerous ways that help to augment the greatest business center in the northwest.

Last November the electric line carried over 4,000 people, which goes to show the vast amount of passenger traffic done on this line.

Advice.

Advice is a veiled but egotistical attempt to show your neighbor how you surpass him intellectually. It is a magnifying glass which you hand to him, after which you make certain that you are standing at the proper focal distance.

Advice is also used as a sugar coating for criticism, as a diplomatic method of checking offensive conduct and as a pastime.

There are two classes of people ebullient with a desire to give advice—those who have had experience and those who have not.

A request for advice is usually a subtle form of flattery or else a method of dodging responsibility.

The person who is wise enough to take good advice and the one who is too wise to give it generally tie the knot of perfect friendship.

Advice is a drug on the market. The principal reason why the supply exceeds the demand is because those who need the most take the least.

Advice should never be followed. If it is good advice it cannot be followed. The only advice which is good is that which drives you.—Judge.

Proved It.

"Whenever I see Griffiths I am reminded that the good die young," said a business man one day.

"But Griffiths is over seventy," said his friend.

"Exactly," was the reply. "That is just my point."—Chicago Herald.

Wiley Back.—"Jim" Wiley, Soo train dispatcher on the second trick, returned Sunday morning from Seattle and Spokane, Wash., where he had spent a week on a business trip.

To Alexandria.—Willis Fasel, graduate from the local high school, with the class of 1916, left for Alexandria last Friday evening to be employed by the Soo Line in the freight department at that place.

Nearly Caused Mixup.—The Mahnomen Pioneer tells of what came nearly being a serious mixup in the Soo railroad yards at that place last Thursday during the high wind as follows: "The storm came up just as the local was coming into town. A string of box cars standing on the sidetrack was blown through the switch and onto the main line, starting down to meet the local. The engineer of the local seeing what was coming stopped his train and started to back up. Agent Isaacson and his two operators climbed onto the moving cars and setting the brakes, stopped the cars before they reached the incoming train. About the time that they succeeded in stopping the first string another string of five empty cars from another side track started onto the main line. These bumped into the first string with a considerable force. This in face of the storm made the position of those on top of the cars rather perilous. Jack Riley, a section hand, was blown from the top of the train as it first came onto the main track."

Skog Returns.—Mr. and Mrs. John Skog returned Saturday morning from a month's visit with friends and relatives. Mr. Skog, who is employed at the Soo round house as machinist, spent the month visiting with his parents at Wadena while Mrs. Skog was the guest of her parents at Barron, Wisconsin.

NO INFANTILE PARALYSIS IN THIEF RIVER FALLS

First Case of This Kind In This Territory Reported At Bemidji Where One Child is Sick

"As far as Thief River Falls is concerned there hasn't been a case of infantile paralysis that I can recollect. There isn't any way to foretell a case of this desease, so every case that shows any symptoms of it, should be isolated; then let the physician use his skill," said Dr. J. E. Douglas, City Health Officer this morning, as a matter of warning to the public against a disease that has been playing havoc with infant life in New York and Chicago.

One case of infantile paralysis was reported in Bemidji, Arthur, son of Evan Olson being taken sick July 4.

Infantile Paralysis

Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the State Board of Health of Illinois, points out the course of the dread disease that leaves children helpless wrecks as follows:

Polomyeltis, or infantile paralysis is, as it name suggests, a form of paralysis. It effects the gray matter of the anterior portion of the spine.

It has has its conception in an inflamatory state which merges upon a parlysis of the lower and upper limbs but finally, in most instances, devotes itself to the lower limbs exclusively.

Sense of motion is lost and waste begins. Growth in the effected limb ceases and the result is a club foot, shortened limbs, and other deformities if death does not intervene.

AUTO LICENSE FEES TO PAY FOR GOOD ROADS

Arrangements Made For Interchange of Auto Licenses Between Canada and Eleven States.

$16,213,387, or ninety percent of the registration and license fees paid in 1915 by automobile owners to the states, was spent for building and maintaining country and state roads, according to a compilation just given out by the office of public roads, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. In all, 2,445,664 motor vehicles were registered in that year and their owners paid a total of $18,245,713 for registration and drivers' and dealers' licenses. This shows an increase of $5,863,760 over 1914, and an increase of 734,325 in the number of vehicles registered. Nearly 7 percent of the total amount spent on rural road and bridge building is now defrayed by automobile fees, whereas in 1906 the income from this source was less than three-tenths of one per cent of the total expenditure. These fees and licenses are, of course, in addition to the regular taxes paid upon automobiles.

Arrangements between eleven states and Canada for the interchange of automobile licenses, according to D. J. A. Smith, collector of customs at Windsor, who received this advice from W. A. McLean, deputy minister of highways of Ontario. The states that have agreed upon this matter are: Minnesota, Michigan, New York, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Maryland, Vermont, Maine and Rhode Island.

MINNESOTA CHIPPEWAS WILL GET $131.50 EACH

Congressman Steenerson Says Payment Will be Made "As Soon As Practicable."

Under an act of Congress, which became effective July 1st, each Chippewa Indian or mixed blood in Minnesota will receive approximately $130 by a distribution of one-fourth of the tribal fund of $1,500,000.

The Indian Department says the distribution will not be made until a roll of the Indians has been made, so as to enable them to determine the exact amount of each share. F. W. Peake of Minneapolis, who has been acting in the matter, states there are 11,400 Chippewas in Minnesota, which would therefore mean $131.50 for each man, woman and child.

Mr. Peake has asked Congressman Steenerson to find out when the distribution would be made, and has been notified that payment will be made "as soon as practicable."

SERMON PREACHED BY EARL WEEKS SUNDAY

Former High School Boy Delivered Morning Service at the Synod Church Last Sunday.

Earl Weeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks, 322 Second street west, who graduated from the Thief River Falls high school with the class of 1910, and who has finished his course at the Luther theological seminary at St. Paul, delivered the sermon at the Norwegian Synod church last Sunday morning.

Mr. Weeks has attained a reputation as a speaker, though local people have had little opportunity to hear him. After graduating from high school he left for Fergus Falls, where he finished his college course in the Park Region Luther seminary. After finishing at Fergus Falls Mr. Weeks enrolled in the Luther Seminary in St. Paul and has completed the course at that institution.

On Sunday, July 30th, the young man will be ordained into the ministry in this city at the Norwegian Synod church.

Dan is "Firey" Orator.

Hon. D. P. O'Neill, better known as "Dad," of Thief River Falls, spoke at Neving, the 4th. Dan is a fast and firey orator, and has lost none of his alertness. He is up-to-date in his road talk, believes in loaning state money to our farmers, and let it develop our state and community in place of the fat boys getting all the benefit. He believes in rural credit by the U. S. Government, and in fact is a better booster than ever. He is a top-notcher and a live wire booster for the Jefferson highway. It is to be regretted that more people were not present to hear "Daddy" in his happy mood.—Clearbrook Journal.

LAKE OF WOODS TRIP ON FOR NEXT MONTH

Will Be Conducted On More Extensive Scale Than Last Year's Successful Trip.

Plans are now being laid by the Commercial club for an auto tour to beautiful Lake of the Woods the latter part of next month. One aim of the club is to conduct the run on a far more extensive scale than last year's run to Roseau and other northern towns for the purpose of trade extension.

According to plans now mapped out, about one hundred cars will leave this city on a Saturday morning so that all may reach Warroad in the evening. Sunday morning will be spent in taking a trip on beautiful Lake of the Woods on a special chartered steamer. An invitation of a fish dinner on one of the 10,000 islands in the lake, has been extended by the residents of Warroad. On the return trip cars will leave there early Sunday evening or early Monday morning. Invitations to Commercial organizations in this section of the state to join in the party will be issued soon and an outing for business men and their ladies is being planned which will include many prominent residents in this locality.

They All Demand It

Thief River Falls, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Thief River Falls evidence of their merit.

Mrs. A. Crief, 221 Atlantic Ave., N., Thief River Falls, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our home with satisfaction. A year or so ago, one of my family used them for pains in the back, brought on by hard work. The trouble quickly yielded to Doan's Kidney Pills. That there has been no return of the complaint is proof that Doan's Kidney Pills cure to stay cured."

Notice To School Clerks

To the School Clerks—Let me remind you that the annual report, for which blanks have been sent to all the clerks is due at this office on August 10th. You will confer a great favor upon this office by sending it promptly. Who will be the first on the honorary roll?

Boards must understand that the Treasurer's annual report, of which the clerk's is an identical copy, must be made out, balanced and accepted by the school board at its meeting called for this purpose three days before the Annual meeting. The treasurer's report is then read and approved by the meeting. This being done, the clerk's annual report of the district is then sent to the county superintendent not later than August 10th. As a matter of fact it could and ought to be sent not latter than the following Monday after the annual meeting.

The school census report ought to be sent not later than August 1st.

Let me call the attention of the School Board to the following announcement of the State Department.

CERTAIN SPECIFIED CONDITIONS IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Drinking Fountains

Sections 8,790 and 8,791 of the General Statutes of 1913 provide:

"In order to prevent the spread of communicable diseases, the use of common drinking cups in public places and public conveyances is hereby prohibited. Whoever violates the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five (25) dollars for each offense."

When this law became operative, the Department of Education included among the provisions for receiving state aid the abolishment of the common drinking cup. There being at that time no suitable device for country schools by means of which water could be obtained, except by individual drinking cups, this was made a requirement of each school. For several years, however, bubbling drinking fountains of the type which can be readily installed in rural schools are now available at a reasonable price, and several designs suitable for school purposes are sold by different firms.

Considering the great advantages which these fountains possess over the individual drinking cup, it has been deemed advisable to require of state aided schools that drinking water be made available by means of some suitable drinking fountain. This requirement goes into effect with the opening of the next school year, 1916-17, and each school, in order to be entitled to state aid, must have a bubbling drinking fountain as a part of its equipment.

School Grounds

Every effort should be put forth to make the school grounds homelike and attractive, by planting trees and shrubs, laying out walks and arranging playgrounds. This should be done according to some well prepared plan. Assistance in the preparation of this plan may be obtained through a local nursery-man, through the high or graded schools maintaining industrial departments, or from any of the three state agricultural experiment stations at the University Farm St. Paul, Crookston or Morris. The plat before the planting should show the location of the school house, outbuildings, playgrounds, fences, trees and shrubs.

A windbreak on the north and west is essential for protection and shelter in open or prairie sections.

Seating

In too many schools the children are seated at desks that are too large. A pupil should not sit in a seat so high that he cannot place his feet flat on the floor, or at a desk so high that he cannot place his arms upon it without elbows to the height of his shoulders. The desks should be arranged to suit the convenience and comfort of the children. Those of one size should be in one row. Do not place Number 3, 4, and 5 desks in the same row. All future purchases must be of single or adjustable desks.

The department asks that county superintendents make known the contents of this circular to members of school boards and to teachers in all the rural schools of each county. In order to carry out the suggestions made, notice should be given, either before the annual school meeting or as soon following the annual meeting as may be, so that the needed supplies and changes and be arranged for before the opening of school.

4TH OF JULY COMMITTEE HANDS IN ITS REPORT

Report Shows That $355.89 Is Balance Checked in to Commercial Club From Celebration.

The directors of the Commercial club met Saturday afternoon for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee on Fourth of July celebration and to consider the disposition of any balance which may have been left after the payment of the bills incident to the celebration.

C. W. McDaniel, chairman of the finance committee and who has been untiring in his efforts to make the celebration a success, reported as follows, the report being accepted with a vote of thanks to Mr. McDaniel:

The Report.

RECEIPTS—
Donations from Business Men and Societies	$ 477.50
Gate Receipts July 4th	425.25
Total Receipts	$ 902.75
DISBURSEMENTS—
Publicity	$ 100.00
Base Ball	100.00
Fire Works	141.71
Auto and Motorcycle Races	95.00
Down-town Sports	41.10
Float Prizes	15.00
McGinn Bros., Concession bought up for band boys	10.00
Incidentals	44.05
Total Disbursements	$ 546.86
Balance checked in to Commercial club	355.89
Unpaid Donations	15.00

The Commercial club instructed the secretary to issue checks to the band for $218.30 in payment of the club's donation for the summer months and a bill for expenses on the Warren trip July 5. The bill of Anderson & Sons' garage for transportation for band on that trip, amounting to $12, has also been paid. The Fair association was also given a check for $100 in payment of the Commercial club base ball donation of 1915 which account was previously turned to the association. A small balance remains which will be used to pay any bills for the Fourth of July celebration which may have been overlooked.

The different committees were advised at the start just what money they would have to do with and to their credit it can be said that each kept within the limit. The band netted something like $500 from the celebration, the Commercial club has turned over $200 to them, the fair association profits $100 and few if any, industries or business establishments but profited in one way or another by the celebration.—Secretary.

"POTATOES O. K."---OSKI; DAKOTA FARMERS WORRY

Good Yield In All Grains Predicted By Pennington County Farmers Says "Potato King."

"Potato crops east of here are O. K." said Joe Oski, the Mavie "Potato King," to The Times Tuesday afternoon. "There has been lots of rain alright but not enough to cause potatoes to rot in the ground. Everything is looking fine, vegetables, grain and everything else. I have some wheat that has already headed out and have cut some oats for hay," he continued.

According to the "Potato King" a good crop in this section of the country is to be looked for. Farmers in Grand Forks county, North Dakota, are considerably worried at present on account of the fact that recent rains have caused the potato crop to rot in the fields. Fields have been tested and in every instance hardly any have escaped rot. An investigation will probably be made to try and discover some means to prevent the entire crop from being lost. Farmers in that vicinity realize how serious the result will be if something is not done to prevent the complete destruction of the crop, although the trouble is just beginning.

TOWN, CITY AND VILLAGE CLERKS MUST BE PAID

Attorney General Smith Reverses Ruling of Public Examiner of State.

On March 8th the public examiner of the state of Minnesota sent out a circular to all county auditors of the state saying there was no law authorizing them to pay the claims of village, city or town clerks for going to the express and post offices to procure the ballots and election supplies. This ruling, however, has been reversed by Attorney General Lyndon Smith and all the clerks in counties who have not received their pay for such work can now present their claims to the county commissioners.

County Auditor Welte, of Polk county, took the matter up with the attorney general, who in turn notified him that all claims can be paid. Blanks for presenting a verified claim are being sent to the village, town and city clerks.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson has paid all these officials in Pennington county the amount they had coming for their work previous to election time.

NASON'S NOBLES AFTER STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Thief River Falls Team May Play At State Fair At Hamline—Playing Roster is Completed.

It is entirely probable that the Thief River base ball team will be in the final contests held at the state fair at Hamline, in September, to determine the amateur championship of the state. While on a recent trip to the Twin Cities, Manager Nason registered for the series, and last week received notice that the team has been accepted as one of the contestants. The total entry list for the tournament includes 230 fast teams in sixty-nine counties of the state. Thirty-nine of these teams are from Minneapolis and thirty-seven are from St. Paul. Nineteen are registered in Class A, from cities having a population of more than 5,000. Thirty-five entries are registered in Class B, from towns with a population of from 1,500 to 5,000, and Class C entries, from towns of less than 1,500, total 100.

Teams in the League.

Entered in Class A, the local team will contest with such teams as the Oak Halls, Freimuths, Electrics, and Rowells of Duluth, and with teams from Albert Lea, Austin, Chisholm, Fergus Falls, Hibbing, Little Falls, Mankato, Moorhead, Owatonna, Red Wing, St. Cloud, Virginia, Winona, and Worthington.

Teams from Ada, Detroit, Red Lake Falls, and Warren are entered in Class B, while class C includes teams from Argyle, Clearbrook, Fertile, Fosston, Hallock, McIntosh, Mahnomen, Oklee, Plummer, Roseau and Twin Valley.

New Players Signed.

The Thief River Falls team completed its playing roster last week and between July 15 and the close of the tournament, no changes can be made in the line-up. Fifteen men will compose the squad, and week-day games will be arranged as often as possible. A complete record of all games played between June 20 and Aug. 27, will be kept, and filed with the secretary of the amateur league, and this will be used in determining the standing of the team.

Additions to the team made last week include "Bob" Hallett, at third, Ed. Nason at second, and Charley Berry at first. "Doc" Bailey, late of the pitching staff of the Superior Northern League team, has been signed up, and has participated in two games.

Realizing that a requirement to the affect that teams in each class must play with other teams in the same class would work a financial hardship upon the teams, the management of the league last week re-arranged the teams according to districts, thus giving each team an opportunity to play with its neighbors. Included in the Thief River Falls district are teams from Ada, Red Lake Falls and Warren, from Class B; Argyle, St. Vincent, Hallock, Kennedy, Roseau, Plummer, Oklee, Clearbrook, Twin Valley, Mahnomen, McIntosh, Fosston and Fertile, from Class C.

The team in each district, having the highest percentage on Sept. 4, will be entitled to participate in the championship finals to be played during the state fair. The championship team of each class will receive $200 cash and a silver loving cup, which may become the permanent property of the holder after it has been won three times out of five successive years. The state champions will receive a mammoth silver cup, under the same holding conditions.

Manager Nason announces the booking of the following games to date, and this list will be added to as fast as arrangements can be made. Only games with teams entered in the tournament, will count in figuring the percentage for the state fair contests.

July 23—Red Lake Falls at Thief River Falls.

July 25—McIntosh at Thief River Falls.

July 28—Westby, Mont., at Thief River Falls.

July 30—Argyle at Thief River Falls.

August 2—Warren at Thief River Falls.

August 6—Twin Valley at Thief River Falls.

Moon Has Vacation.

The old man in the moon had a vacation last Friday evening. It was almost a total eclipse as seen from Thief River Falls. The moon which shone brightly in a clear sky began to get dark at 10:10 p. m., when the shadow of the earth began to show on the lunar surface. The shadow that darkened the moon was 5,700 miles wide and about 239,999 miles long. At 12:30 nearly 80 per cent of the moon was covered and the eclipse terminated at 2:05 a. m.

The Perfect Corn Flakes

New Post Toasties are not only inexpensive but they bear a new deliciousness, produced by a new process of cookery—the first to produce corn flakes with the self-developed true corn flavor.

So fine is this flavor that New Post Toasties are wondrous good eaten dry. Unlike common corn flakes, they do not require cream and sugar to make them palatable. Try some that way—you'll appreciate the point, though they're even better when served with cream or good milk.

These New Post Toasties don't mush down in cream, and they are not "chaffy" in the package, like common flakes. They're new in form, new in flavor, and new in appearance. Note the tiny bubbles on each flake—an identifying feature.

Put up in wax-sealed packages, New Post Toasties retain their oven-crispness and flavor until served at your table.

Have your grocer deliver a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

In line with the policy of the Times, this paper supported the proposed new charter and recommended it to the voters because it believed it to be a means of progressive advancement for the city. Because the charter was defeated has not in the least lessened our belief that it would have given the city a form of government far superior to the new one now in operation. We look upon its defeat as a "black eye" for the city and a step backward for the community. The total vote cast on the proposition, 358—less than one-third of the vote of the city—is a reflection on the voting population of the city. Some 700 voters failed to go to the polls and register their vote and because of their lack of interest in the welfare of the city 241 voters were allowed to deprive the city of a form of government that would mean greater economy and efficiency in the administration of the public business.

For several months fifteen of the heaviest taxpayers of the city—men who have made their home here for ten years or more—worked faithfully in preparing the proposed new charter. Many meetings were held, various parts of the charter were drafted and redrafted, charters of other cities were secured from all parts of the country for guidance and not until every chapter had been thoroughly discussed and the entire charter carefully prepared was it submitted to the voters. These men devoted time and effort to preparing a charter that they believed would give the city the best possible form of government and meet the demands of the present day. They did this willingly and without pay and then only 358 voters of the city took sufficient interest in the matter after it had been presented to them to go to the polls and express a choice.

The adoption of the charter was not a personal matter. No individual would have profited by it. It was a matter that concerned the future welfare of the entire city. True, some made it a personal matter and opposed it because they didn't like certain members of the commission, made themselves and others believe that it was designed to give somebody a job on the city council—yes many opposed it without ever reading it. Those who were opposed to it were active while few felt it their duty to go out and work for it.

The one and only organization in the city that should have taken the matter up, discussed it and either gone on record for or against it, did absolutely nothing. This organization is the Commercial club of Thief River Falls. If matters of this kind do not concern the Commercial club, if the discussion of measures that are of vital importance to the entire city are to be "tabooed" by it and it is to be maintained solely for the purpose of promoting picnics, celebrations and dinners it certainly has long since outlived its usefulness and remains simply a $5,000 luxury.

HIBBING COMING FOR THREE DAYS

Nason's Nobles to Play Series With Fastest Independent Team in Northern Minnesota.

DOUBLE HEADER SUNDAY

Red Lake Falls Booked for Second Half of Grand Bargain Offering on Local Grounds Next Sunday Afternoon.

Hibbing, Friday, at 6:30 p. m.
Hibbing, Saturday, at 4:00 p. m.
Hibbing, Sunday, at 2:00 p. m.
Red Lake Falls, Sunday, at 4 p. m.

That is the schedule of week-end games for this city, as announced this afternoon by Manager Nason. The three games with the Hibbing aggregation will furnish the fans with the fastest exhibition of the national pastime seen on the local grounds this season. For a number of years, Hibbing held a berth in the Northern League. It is an enthusiastic ball town, and as such, has been able to create a remarkably speedy team. In securing these games Manager Nason feels sure that the local fans will turn out en masse and show their appreciation.

The first game will be played Friday evening, commencing at 6:30 sharp, the second will be played Saturday afternoon, commencing at 4:00, and the third game with Hibbing will be played Sunday afternoon, as the first half of a double offering. Nason's Nobles are after the state championship as is also the Hibbing team, and the result of these three games will have a vital bearing upon the result of the league contests.

The second half of Sunday's double bill, will be a contest between the Nobles and the fast Red Lake Falls team, also a contender for honors in the state fair league. One admission pays the way for the two games, and either contest will be worth the price. The second game will start at 4:00, and there will be no noticeable intermission between the two battles.

One of the surprises in baseballdom in this section was sprung last Sunday when the locals, got away with a flying start, early in the game, and defeated Argyle by a score of 3 to 0. The contest was a fast one from start to finish, and the better team won. "Doc" Bailey made his debut on the local grounds and his performance was entirely satisfactory to the fans. His control was good, and his curves broke in fine shape. He allowed but three hits, and passed but one man. Shoulders, a former Northern Leaguer, was on the mound for the visitors, and also in excellent trim, allowing but four hits, and walking one.

Thief River Falls scored in the fourth inning, after a series of hits by Walbaun and Hofmeister, had started the ball a-rolling. In the fifth frame, Argyle succeeded in getting one man to third, on a freak three-base hit, this being the only visitor to see either second or third base during the game. The following box score tells the tale:

It is easily the biggest spectacle Ringling Bros. have ever staged and its glorious "Ballet of the Faries," with 300 dancing girls, is in itself worth going many miles to see. Following "Cinderella" 400 arenic artists appear in the main tent program. Because of the great European war the Ringlings have secured scores of circus performers never before seen in America. An entire trained animal show has been made a part of the main tent program this season. The menagerie now numbers 1,009 wild animals. The elephants, including "Big Bingo," the earth's largest pachyderm, have been increased to 41 and almost 800 horses are carried. There will be 60 clowns and a big free three-mile street parade show day morning.

Goodridge Has Small Circus.

Goodridge, a little over a year old, had a miniature circus on Monday. McDonald Brothers, a two-car organization, left for that village Monday morning over the Electric line to give two performances. The show laid over in Thief River Falls at the Soo yards on Sunday, there being one passenger coach and one car for circus property.

Laid At Rest.

The funeral services of little Clarice Inez Ness, age 7, who was drowned on Wednesday morning of last week, was held Friday afternoon at the Trinity church, Rev. A. N. Skogerbo officiating. The services were attended by a large number of friends of the bereaved parents, to pay a final tribute to the little girl. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Why Plow with Dull Shares?

You wouldn't use a dull razor. Why burden your team with dull plow shares?

Ordinary soft center shares when sharpened by the blacksmith are not re-hardened. Why? Because he is cautioned against it by the manufacturer—he can't afford to take the risk.

ACME SOFT CENTER STEEL SHARES can be re-tempered any number of times, any place that fire and water can be found and at our risk. Both user and blacksmith are protected by

OUR GUARANTEE

Acme steel hardened shares, shovels and shapes are warranted not to break under any condition where plowing for crop is being done. Shares guaranteed against breakage under same conditions of usage after blacksmith has drawn the temper, sharpened, heated to a cherry red and re-tempered same. Acme shares are guaranteed to wear as long as any other soft-center steel shares made.

By re-tempering, you get hard shares—hard shares wear—retain their sharp edge—reduce the cost of plowing per acre. "Acme Shares Don't Break."

They SATISFY!

How America's largest cigarette manufacturer has accomplished "the Impossible" by producing a MILD cigarette that SATISFIES. It is the CHESTERFIELD Cigarette : :

ALMOST anybody can make a cup of coffee. But there are said to be not over a half-dozen restaurants in the United States where they know how to make it right.

Similarly, almost anyone can make a cigarette. Just roll up some tobacco in a piece of pure paper—and there you are.

There are, perhaps, over 800 brands of cigarettes sold in this country today. But not one of them does what Chesterfields do—for Chesterfields are MILD; and yet they SATISFY.

Some cigarettes may be mild, but they don't satisfy. Only one cigarette does BOTH—Chesterfield!

This truly unique cigarette has all of that refreshing taste-delicacy (or mildness) which any good cigarette must have. Yet, without sacrificing any of this delightful mildness, Chesterfields go one step further—they do more than merely "please your taste"—they let you know you've been smoking. They satisfy!

And yet they're mild!

A Step Forward in Cigarette-Making

WE are proud to be the firm that has brought about this important new development in cigarette enjoyment—for that is exactly what the Chesterfield blend is.

This cigarette is an outgrowth of long, earnest effort on the part of this, the largest cigarette manufacturing concern in the United States.

The mild, yet satisfying Chesterfield blend is not the result of happy chance. It is one of the results of our many years of cigarette experience—of the heavy volume of our purchases of cigarette tobacco—of the prestige and advantage these enormous purchases give us in securing the choicest leaf from the tobacco fields of the world.

Chesterfields are an achievement.

A New Thing for a Cigarette to Do

CHESTERFIELDS do the one thing you have always wished a cigarette would do—they satisfy!

Smoke them and we believe you will find that ordinary cigarettes seem by comparison almost flat.

Give Chesterfields (20 for 10 cents) a trial. We believe you will be glad to learn what they can teach you about cigarette enjoyment.

* * *

You have been reading here some rather unusual, almost daring, statements about a cigarette. If Chesterfields were an untried cigarette—if we had not been observing their behavior in other cities—if we did not KNOW that they make good with smokers, we could not afford to make these statements to you over our signature.

But these statements, strong as they are, can mean little or nothing to you until you have actually smoked your first Chesterfield.

You will find that your own dealer has Chesterfields waiting for you.

TEACHING BOYS TO SAVE.

A certain father has devised a rather novel plan to develop resisting power in his boys. Knowing the value of self-control, especially in money matters, he gives each boy a weekly allowance, with the stipulation that it must be carried in the pocket during the week, and only half of it spent. One boy receives twenty cents each week. If he produces a dime at the week end, he gets another twenty cents; if he doesn't he gets only a dime. The other boy receives a dime and must produce a nickel to get another dime. There is thus a constant opportunity to spend, but a constant incentive to save—to resist. It may be that the reward spurs them on, but the fact remains that this father is developing resisting power in the boys that will stand them in good stead in after years.

Chinese Schools.

Each Chinese schoolboy has to furnish his own stool and table for school work as well as the "four precious articles," which are the ink slab, a cake of India ink, a brush for writing and paper. With these he begins his weary task of learning to write and read the thousands of Chinese characters. These are to open the way to the Chinese classics, and a knowledge of this ancient literature and wisdom means education to the Chinese. At the opening of a Chinese school a paper on which is written the name of the ancient Chinese sage, Confucius, is pasted on the wall. Before this honored name the pupils and masters burn paper money and incense and bow their heads three times to the floor. The master then tells Confucius the day, the month and the year the school is opened and begs for his favor. Every morning when the pupils arrive they must bow twice, once for the master and once for Confucius.

Historic Spelling.

There is a sentiment against simplified spelling because it tends to destroy the historical continuity of the English language, but this claim is answered by the assertion that the present spelling very materially infringes upon former methods. Upon this point a correspondent of the New York Times says: We have only to go back a very short way in order to see the modern upstart character of what is called historical spelling. We now write "pleasure," "measure" and "feather," but not very long ago those words were spelled "plesure," "mesure," "fether." Again, "tung" and "yung," as spelled by Spenser, have a more historical aspect than "tongue" and "young." Why write "girdle" when the old spelling was "girdel?" The only answer to this argument and similar ones is that our immediate ancestors learned how to spell better than our remote ancestors, which is only claiming that the makers of the words left their spelling to succeeding generations, which is absurd. There is abundant proof that our ancestors were better spellers than the succeeding generations.—Ohio State Journal.

Every One Was Satisfied.

A very angry client entered a New York lawyer's office. He had called upon a debtor and asked him politely to pay a bill of $2.50 and had been abused for his pains. Now he wanted the lawyer to collect it.

The lawyer demurred. The bill was so small that it would cost the whole amount to collect it.

"No matter," said the angry one. "I don't care if I don't get a cent as long as that fellow has to pay it!"

So the lawyer wrote the debtor a letter, and in a day or two the latter appeared in high dudgeon. He did not owe any $2.50, and he would not pay.

"Very well," said the lawyer; "then my instructions are to sue. But I should hardly think it would pay you to stand a suit for so small a sum."

"Who will get the money if I pay it?" asked the man.

The lawyer was obliged to confess that he should.

"Very well," said the debtor, "that's another matter. If Smith isn't going to get it I am perfectly willing to pay it."—Youth's Companion.

Airedale Terriers.

Here is the case of a dog made to order for a very definite purpose and meeting all the specifications. The Airedale as a breed is only a little over half a century old. Yorkshire was his birthplace. As to the work that the new dog was expected to do, there were foxes and badgers in the hills, otters in the streams and hares in the fields and woods. This meant that the all around dog must have courage, a keen nose, strength of legs and jaw and must be equally at home in the water and on land.

The breed found its way to this country in the middle eighties and soon caught on among the fanciers despite the cry that no terrier should run above twenty pounds.

His habit of working for a living has kept the Airedale from becoming too much the top of the shows and has given him many opportunities to show his worth on the farm and in hunting. He has the terrier willingness to tackle anything without regard to size or teeth. One thing the Airedale demands is room. For that reason he is not an ideal house dog. He is at his best in the country with plenty of elbow room and work enough to keep him interested in life.—Outing.

What Oen Merc. Co. of Thief River Falls
have to say about cream separators this week

Don't delay buying a De Laval Cream Separator a single day longer.

IF you are selling cream or making butter and have no separator, or an inferior one, you are wasting cream every day you delay the purchase of a De Laval.

There can be only two real reasons for putting off buying a De Laval. Either you don't really appreciate how great your loss in dollars and cents actually is, or else you don't believe the De Laval Separator will make the savings we claim for it.

In either case, there is one sensible way to settle this matter. Let us set up a machine for you on your place and then you can see for yourself what the De Laval will do.

You have nothing to risk, and nearly two million other cow owners who have made this test have found they had much to gain. You can't afford to wait. Let the De Laval Separator start saving cream for you RIGHT NOW.

If you would really like to know just how much more cream you can get with a De Laval let us set up a machine for you on your place and have you try it out for yourself. Isn't this as fair a proposition as you ever heard of?

Just phone or drop us a postal and we will be glad to bring a machine out to your place any time you say.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

HIGHWAY ROUTE IS RECOMMENDED

State Highway Commission Recommends Loop Route For Highway Through Minnesota.

THIS CITY ON MAIN ROUTE

Much Credit Due Daniel Shaw, Whose Efforts Were An Important Factor in Securing Highway For This City.

That the main route of the Jefferson Highway through Minnesota will pass through Thief River Falls is practically an established fact, the State Highway Commission having this week recommended to the Jefferson Highway association a route for Minnesota that includes this city. A loop route for the state was suggested by the commission, the eastern route being the main highway with a branch from Elk River to Crookston connecting with the main route at the Pembina trail west of Thief River Falls.

It now remains for the Jefferson Highway association to officially designate the route through Minnesota but it is more than likely that the recommendation of the highway commission will be followed. Word was received from the highway association the first of the week by Daniel Shaw that owing to other presing matters it will be impossible to act on the Minnesota route until about August 1st.

That Thief River Falls has secured a place on the highway is largely due to the efforts of Daniel Shaw, who as president of the association representing the eastern route, has devoted a great deal of time and effort to the project. Because of his wide acquaintance throughout the state and thorough knowledge of soil conditions and other important factors in determining the selection of the route, he has been in a position to present undisputable arguments for the designation of the route through Thief River Falls. He made several trips to the Twin Cities in the interest of the highway and also accompanied the officials of the Jefferson Highway association, as representative of the eastern route, on their trip of inspection over the three proposed routes. The citizens of Thief River Falls are deeply indebted to Mr. Shaw for securing this highway that will mean much more to the city than the people now realize.

Following is the resolution passed by the state highway commission:

Therefore, Be it resolved, that the location of the Jefferson Highway in Minnesota be recommended as a loop route to be described as follows:

Commencing at a point on the Minnesota-Iowa line south of Albert Lea, thence north thru Albert Lea, Owatonna, Faribault, Northfield, Farmington, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Osseo, Anoka and Elk River, at which point the loop would diverge, one route going north thru Princeton, Milaca, Onamia, thence around the shore of Mille Lacs Lake and west to Brainerd, thence northwesterly thru the Gull Lake country, Pine River, Walker, Cass Lake, Bemidji, Bagley, Clearbrook, Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls, thence west to the Pembina trail. The other section of the loop again commencing at Elk River, thence northwesterly thru St. Cloud, Sauk Center, Alexandria, Henning, Frazee, Detroit, Moorhead and Crookston, thence north from Crookston to the old railroad grade which has been designated as a State road, thence northwest to the Pembina trail, thence following the Pembina trail and connecting with the eastern route at a point west of Thief River Falls, thence running north on the Pembina trail and connecting roads to Bronson, thence west to Hallock and northwesterly to the internationaly boundary at a point near St. Vincent.

"The Turmoil" at the Princess.

The next release on the regular Metro program is "The Turmoil," a five part picturization of Booth Tarkington's great novel of the same name, produced by Columbia Pictures corporation, which will be shown at the Princess Sunday, July 23. Valli Valli, the versatile English actress, is starred in this production, and George LeGuere, is featured. Others in the cast include Charles H. Prince, Peggy Hopkins, Mrs. Kate Jepson, Florida Kingsley, Frank DeVernon, Fred Tidmarsh, Robert Stowe Gill, Ilean Hume, Frederick Sumner and William Auker.

The story of "The Turmoil," is briefly, as follows:

James Sheridan becomes wealthy and a power in a middle West city, where his entire life is absorbed in the turmoil of his own creation. The only thing he lacks is social standing, and this he strives to gain by methods he has successfully employed in driving a business deal. His two oldest sons, Jim and Roscoe, are like him, products of the turmoil, but Bibbs, the youngest, is a weakling with a penchant for books. The father insists on Bibbs working in the factory, but as it is distasteful to him, and he is physically unfit for the task, his health fails and he is sent to a sanitarium.

In the same city lives the Vertrees family, poor, but true aristocrats. There is a young daughter, Mary Vertrees, and Sheridan determines that his son, Jim, shall marry her, and thus make the wedge for the family into social prominence. He arranges a big dinner, with a vulgar display of luxury, which Mary Vertrees is obliged to attend because of a financial obligation Sheridan holds over her father. That night Mary is made to understand that she is to marry Jim, and she concludes to make the sacrifice.

At the height of the dinner party Bibbs returns from the sanitarium. He is ignored by the family, and Mary is attracted to him out of pity. Roscoe Sheridan, the second son, is married to Sibyl, but their married life is far from happy. Like his father, he is lost in the turmoil of endeavor and she is obliged to seek companionship elsewhere. She becomes infatuated with Robert Lamhorn, a worthless young man, who is secretly engaged to Edith Sheridan, the only daughter of the House of Sheridan.

Jim proposes to Mary Vertrees, and she asks him to wait a while for her answer. Sibyl and Edith quarrel over Lamhorn, and Sibyl knowing Mary's hold over the elder Sheridan, asks her to go to Sheridan and tell him Edith and Robert are engaged, and that Robert is only marrying the girl for her money. Sibyl's words remind Mary that she will be doing the same thing, if she marries Jim. She writes Jim a letter refusing his offer of marriage. Much to the delight of his father, Jim has built a large warehouse in half the time contractors said it could be done. Accompanied by the inspectors, Jim is on the roof of the house when it collapses ,and he is killed.

Sheridan is broken-hearted over his death. His sorrow is doubled over the fact that Roscoe, worried over domestic affairs, has taken to drink. He then strives harder than ever to make Bibbs a thorough business man, and his successor. Edith elopes with Robert, and Bibbs is the only one left to him. Bibbs has become attached to Mary, and on her advice agrees to a business career. She loves him, but thinks his attentions are prompted through pity for her. She refuses his offer of marriage for the same reason she refused his brother. When Bibbs learns of this, he quits his plave with his father and he informs him he does not want any of his fortune. Sheridan awakens to the situation, and pays Mr. Vertrees $50,000 for some worthless street railway stock. Mary's family thus becomes financially comfortable, and she accepts Bibbs' renewed proposal of marriage, and he becomes the leading spirit of Sheridan's enterprises.

MANY NOTABLES IN ATTENDANCE

By The County Chairman

St. Paul—(Special)—The Capital City, Minnesota's one wet spot generally accepted as invulnerable from a dry standpoint, is host to several thousand men and women this week whose one hope is a nonalcoholic nation, but the old town is not hilarious over the fact. The gathering is the national Prohibition convention and those who reap the benefit from an influx of strangers figure it as poor from a cash spending standpoint. However the gathering is not a dead one by any means and if the hopes of its promoters and delegates prevail the nation is going to feel the effects of its deliberations. The gathering is expected to have much weight this winter in a legislative way. It is hoped that its influence will put over either statutory or constitutional prohibition in Minnesota. Though nonalcoholic in principle the convention is not a unit on the methods or men to be named in attaining national prohibition. When the gathering convened on Tuesday the leaders and delegates were badly divided on who would be their national leader. Some wanted to stick to the fathers of the movement, but the more progressive had in mind such men as William Sulzer of New York, Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts and J. Frank Hanly of Indiana. All three are comparatively new in a Prohibition party way. Still another faction favors Henry Ford of Detroit and another Victor Murdock. These two have an anti-liquor leaning, but have never affiliated with the Prohibition party. Press work that would do credit to a three-ring circus has been put forth in the interest of the gathering. Those in charge are determined to make it a success and it looks as if their efforts would be rewarded. Many men of national note are in attendance and the gathering is really one of interest. It is possible that St. Paul will be made the national headquarters of the Prohibition party.

The state Democracy, or at least that section of it represented in the candidacy of D. W. Lawler, the nominee for United States senator, and T. P. Dwyer, the selection for governor, perfected its state organization last week, but it is still shy a state chairman. No one seems to want the job—in fact all the members of the old guard have turned the offer down cold. They simply cannot see any chance of success and they refuse to be tied up to a loser. Possibly there is not more than a score of people outside of Minneapolis who know who T. P. Dwyer, the Democratic nominee for governor, is or what he looks like. In a way he is a character, and to those who have been used to associating the party leaders with the biggest and best to be had he is somewhat of a disappointment. Democracy has given to Minnesota three men of national importance in the past ten years—John Lind, John A. Johnson and W. S. Hammond—and the offering this time is hardly in line with its tenders of the past. However, in uniqueness Dwyer puts them all in the shade and if he does not size up with the others in point of appearance and knowledge he at least is not lacking in courage and honesty. "Boilermaker" Dwyer, as they know him in Minneapolis, is a typical working man and the fact that he is a toiler stands out in every phase of his appearance. His hands are caloused and his language is of the shops, but he has views—decided views, too—and he is not afraid to back them up with arguments. He is against prohibition, has no use for county option and is for personal liberty generally Mr. Dwyer ran for congress several times and once held an office in Hennepin county, but beyond that his connections in a state or political way do not extend. He believes he will be elected and, as he informed the other nominees at the state central committee meeting, he intends to go after the job to the best of his ability.

✣ ✣ ✣

The Progressive party, despite efforts to put in out of business, will figure in the coming state campaign. At a meeting of the state organization held in St. Paul recently it was decided to put a partial state ticket in the field. The reason assigned by the leaders was for the purpose of keeping the party intact. It was decided to offer W. T. Coe for attorney general and to secure men to run for the offices of lieutenant governor and secretary of state. The three offices will go on the state ticket by petition. The organization declared in favor of Justice Hughes for president and decided to ask their candidates for presidential electors to withdraw.

✣ ✣ ✣

It is rather a far cry to the convening of the next Minnesota legislature—nearly six months—but that fact has no deterrent effect on a number who hope to pull down either the job of speaker or chief clerk of the house. Out for speaker at the present time are L. A. Lydiard of Minneapolis, S. Y. Gordon of Browns Valley, C. W. Warner of Aitkin, G. B. Bjornson of Minneota and C. W. Burrows of Wilkin county. There are others to come and they will be heard from later. For chief clerk, a position held the last two sessions by Oscar Arneson, G. O. Hage of Crookston is said to be an active candidate. Others who held positions in the last house are busy trying to cinch their old jobs.

✣ ✣ ✣

An echo of the Walter J. Smith state treasury defalcations was heard when E. L. Erickson, assistant state treasurer, was asked to resign by State Treasurer Gooding. Several transactions which Mr. Gooding alleged Mr. Erickson failed to satisfactorily explain were given as the reason. One of them was the deferred payment of $500 to the widow of Representative Anderson of Alexandria, who died while the 1913 legislature was in session. The money represented salary due Mr. Anderson and it was at one time claimed that it had been paid to him. Erickson was connected with the state treasurer's office for nearly sixteen years and quite a few of his friends are quite indignant over the method of his removal. They claim that he did not get a fair deal. Mr. Erickson denies responsibility for the aliged misdeeds charged against him.

✣ ✣ ✣

Following the resignation of Mr. Erickson, Henry Rines of Mora was tendered the assistant treasurership, but declined the position. Mr. Rines, who is the Republican nominee for treasurer, is sure to be elected and he did not want to be embarrassed with the minor position. It is understood that E. H. Walden of Rochester, a former land clerk in the state auditor's office under S. G. Iverson, has been tendered the position.

CENTRAL ROUTE IS DECIDED ON

Jefferson Highway Commissioners Announce Course to be Taken by Road Through Minnesota.

CITY IS IMPORTANT POINT

Thief River Falls to be Last Over-Night Stop Before Northern Terminal is Reached—Officials Here This Evening.

Manager J. D. Clarkson and other officials of the Jefferson Highway association will arrive in Thief River Falls at 5:18 o'clock this afternoon. They will remain here over night and will leave again on Friday morning on the last leg of the journey to Winnipeg, expecting to arrive at the northern terminus of the highway at 7:48 p. m. The run northward will include stops at Viking, Karlstad, Bronson, Hallock, Northcote. Humbolt and St. Vincent in Minnesota, and Emerson, Manitoba. At a meeting of citizens at the Commercial club last evening a committee was appointed to look after the entertainment of the party while in the city.

Central Route Selected.

The final selection of what is known as the Central route was made at St. Paul on Monday, after the claims of the different aspirants had been carefully considered. A trip over the different lines having Winnipeg as their northern objective had been made by Mr. Clarkson and other officials of the highway, starting from St. Paul on June 25. The Western or Red River Valley route, the Eastern or Cass Lake route and the Central were in competition for the final designation and while all had features recommending them highly to the commission, those of the last-named course through the northern part of the state clearly outweighted the others and its final selection will meet with the approval of every person at all conversant with the conditions.

The Line of Travel.

From St. Paul and Minneapolis northward the Jefferson highway has been laid out to pass through Anoka, St. Cloud, Little Falls, Staples, Wadena, Park Rapids and the Itasca State Park. With this park as one of the particular points of interest, the route will continue through Bemidji, Solway, Shevlin, Bagley, Clearbrook, Gonvick, Gulley, Trail, Oklee, Red Lake Falls and St. Hilaire to Thief River Falls, with the course from this city northward as indicated above. This provides a thoroughfare of unsurpassed scenic beauty, laid out over the state highways now established and, for the greater part of the distance, gravelled and already maintained in the finest possible condition. Although there are certain requirements to be met by the different communities along the line, these are easy of fulfillment and will entail but slight outlay. So well is the line in Pennington county already maintained that competent authorities believe that an expenditure of $200 will meet every demand made by the commission.

Where Credit is Due.

The greater part of the credit for having the Central route selected must unhesitatingly be given to Daniel Shawof Thief River Falls, president of the Northern Minnesota Jefferson Highway association. From the time that the project was first broached Mr. Shaw has maintained that the fortunes of Thief River Falls and Bemidji were allied and identical, and that any scheme having for its object the including of the one must of necessity include the other. Mr. Shaw has given freely of his time, money and energy toward having his home city recognized as the logical point at which to make the last overnight stop on this side of the border, and realization of this fact by the parties making the decision is largely due to his presentations. Mr. Shaw has been ably seconded by C. L. Hansen, of this city, and Frank S. Lycan, of Bemidji, who have both devoted every energy toward having the thoroughfare finally made the choice of the committee having the matter in charge.

What it Means.

When travel over the Jefferson Highway becomes an established fact it will mean more to the different places touched than even its more enthusiastic boosters at present deem possible. Particularly will Thief River Falls be fortunate. Hotels and garages will in all likelihood be most directly benefitted, but inasmuch as no line of business can feel any great stimulus without the influence being noted by the entire community, the advent of the Jefferson Highway will mean much in dollars and cents to every citizen. This, however, will be but a small matter when compared to the value of the advertising which must of necessity follow as a result of an influx of visitors by the thousands.

Noted Engineer Here.

H. C. Lawrence, president of the Lawrence Construction company, the headquarters of which are at Grand Rapids, Minn., was in the city the first of the week. Mr. Lawrence was on his way to make an inspection of the work being done by his company in Marshall county, where a large excavation job is in progress. The season has been very favorable for the prosecution of work of this kind, according to Mr. Lawrence. Besides the Marshall county work the company has large crews on similar operations in Itasca, St. Louis and Koochiching counties.

Legislative Candidate Here.

J. A. Duffy, of Red Lake Falls, president of the First National bank of that city, and candidate for the legislature from this district, was in Thief River Falls for a short time on Saturday. Mr. Duffy said that he would rather talk crop outlook than politics at this time but that he would return at a later date for the purpose of meeting the voters of the city. He reported business very good in Red Lake county and the outlook for a good harvest most excellent.

LIBRARY BOARD MEMBERS RE-APPOINTED BY MAYOR

Mrs. Gambell, Mrs. Korstad and Mr. Herrick Again Named by Mayor —Notes of Meeting.

At the meeting of the city council on Tuesday evening Mayor Gambell presented the names of Mrs. F. H. Gambell, Mrs. William Korstad and F. H. Herrick for re-appointment as libary board members. The appointments were approved.

The city engineer was instructed to draw up plans for the laying of watermains along the line of the new sewer on Tindolf avenue.

Chief Paul Medderigh, of the fire department, reported that the city was withholding the sum of $380 belonging to the department and that the public examiner had suggested that it be turned over. This was ordered done.

Mr. Medderigh, as fire marshal, of the city, also introduced an ordinance providing penalties for neglect to burn all waste paper and rags. The measure provides that all oily rags must be kept in recepticles of a certain kind and size.

The street commissioner was instructed to notify property owners failing to cut the weeds on their premises that they were subject to fines under the state law.

Orders were given to have the incenerator smokestack painted, a resolution was adopted allowing the band $35 for street concerts, the salary of the librarian was fixed at $55 per month, the form of water works bonds was approved, and a number of other minor matters attended to. The bills connected with the special charter election were ordered paid.

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS WEED-CUTTING CAMPAIGN

At the Tuesday night meeting of the City Council complaint was made that in certain parts of the city vacant lots and other unused plots of land are being allowed to carry flourishing crops of weeds. These are a danger to the health of the community and an eyesore to residents and visitors.

Under the laws of Minnesota, each of the following plants has been declared noxious and a common nuisance: wild mustard, wild oats, cockle bur, burdock, tumble mustard, Canada thistle, oxeye daisy, quack grass, French weed, Russian thistle. Persons owning, occupying or controlling lands are forbidden to let the first eight named weeds go to seed on that land. Furthermore, Canada thistle, oxeye daisy and quack grass may not for two successive years be allowed to reproduce themselves by crowns, undergrown stems, or buds. French weed is to be prevented from producing seed for four successive years, and Russian thistle is not to be tolerated at all. In addition, any owner, occupant or person controlling lands is forbidden to permit these weeds and a list of others, including white daisy, snap draggon, sow thistle, sour dock, yellow dock, or other weeds or grasses, to grow on the half of the highway abutting on those lands.

Every person or officer failing to carry out the provisions of this statute on weeds as these provisions bear upon him, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Noxious weeds as listed, when not destroyed by the person owning, occupying or controlling the land shall be ordered cut by the muncipality and the cost charged to owner as a tax.

WILL BEGIN WORK ON DAM AT ONCE

Construction Will Be Rushed, the Object Being to Furnish Power Before Winter.

NEW CONCRETE STRUCTURE

Parties Contemplating Purchase Allow Option to Expire and Kretschmar & Schrieter Interests Will Again Take Over Project.

Work will begin inside of two weeks on the construction of a new cement power dam to replace the one destroyed by the floods last spring, according to W. A. Schrieter, one of the owners of the property. Mr. Schrieter left on Tuesday evening for Minneapolis, at which city he will make all the arrangements for beginning the work as soon as men and material can be gathered.

Will Be of Cement.

The portions of the old dam still remaining in the river will be removed and a concrete structure put in. Mr. Schrieter would give out no estimate as the probable cost of the improvement, but figures furnished the city while the purchase of the property was under consideration was in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Option Expired.

Mr. Schrieter explained that the delay in beginning the work of repairing the dam had been caused by the fact that certain parties have been negotiating for the purchase of the property under an option. This option expired on Wednesday, and the Kretschmar-Schrieter interests at once decided to go ahead with the work.

May Be Patched.

It will be impossible to construct a dam such as is now contemplated in time to furnish power before the short days of fall and winter are upon us. It has been suggested that the old structure may be repaired to such an extent that it can be run to part capacity and thus help out the Diesel engines now employed. Unless this is done the fear is expressed that there will not be sufficinet power for all purposes when the store and street lights are found necessary in the afternoon.

SHOULD ENCOURAGE WORTHY ENTERPRISE

Judge John R. Bane Has No Sympathy For People Who Oppose City's Progress.

In these days of big business baiting, when practically every enterprise of any size or importance is under suspicion, it is refreshing to note that there are still men in public life who do not look with suspicion upon every move for advancement.

John R. Bane, formerly a resident of Thief River Falls and now judge of the superior court at Oelwein, Iowa, is one of these. Judge Bane still owns considerable property in Thief River Falls and is naturally anxious to advance any proposition looking to the city's improvement. He is the owner of practically half the property facing Davis avenue along which the new city ordinance permits the Minnesota Northwestern railway to lay its tracks. In a letter to President Daniel Shaw of the railroad, in which is included a waiver of any damage in the matter of the location of the railway in front of this property, Judge Bane says:

"I am only too glad to aid in any way I can any improvement for your city. I think that the people should help in every way every improvement made by your railroad or the Soo. They have both aided materially in the growth and advancement of Thief River Falls. I think that corporations should be helped instead of all the time finding fault and putting obstacles in the way of any line of improvement."

New Coal Sheds.

The Oen Mercantile company is building a coal shed on the tracks of the Great Northern railway just west of Duluth avenue. The warehouse will be 16x150 and will have a capacity of 150 tons. Ed. O'Hara will soon begin the erection of a building for the same purpose nearby, but this will have a capacity of 200 tons.

It's Hot Today.

Today is the hottest of the year according to figures kept by the local weather observer. At 11 a. m. the thermometer registered at 96 degrees above in the shade and the temperature was still rising.

PENNINGTON FAIR HELD NEXT WEEK

Fifteenth Annual Exhibition of Products of Farm, Field, Orchard, Dairy and Home.

CLIFFTON-KELLY CARNIVAL

Novel and Refined Entertainment Promised—Race Program of Unusual Interest—Base Ball Game For Purse of $100.

When the gates at the Pennington county fair grounds are thrown open next Wednesday morning it will be to admit the crowd to the biggest and best county fair ever held in Northern Minnesota. The general prosperity prevailing throughout the section, the excellent growing season and the increased interest taken in the success of the fair are some of the reasons why this exhibition of agricultural products should be the best ever held here. To this must be added the fact that there are at present more farmers in the county than ever before, as well as that those who have been showing their products in former years are better farmers now than at any previous date.

Dairying to the Fore.

The department in which the greatest progress is expected to be noted is that of dairying. Many farmers who have heretofore devoted practically their entire acreage to grain crops have steadily worked into the cattle industry until Pennington now ranks as one of the foremost dairy counties in the northwest. Scrub cattle have been replaced by blooded stock, and the best individuals of numerous herds will be on exhibition. The premium list contains prizes for exhibits of Shorthorns, Polled Angus, Holstein and Guernsey registered cattle, as well as grade dairy cows of any other breed. The competition in this division will be keen and the judges will have their work cut out for them.

Other Departments.

Hog raising is receiving a great deal of attention in some sections of the county and it is expected that this department will prove one of the most interesting at the fair. Prizes have been provided for animals in all the standard breeds as well as in grades. Chickens and other classes of poultry will be strongly in evidence. Thief River Falls has during the past year achieved considerable of a reputation as an egg market, the produce being brought here from long distances because of the steady demand and uniform high prices. This has stimulated chicken raising to an unusual degree and those who are devoting their time to this business are finding it highly profitable.

Grains and grasses will be prominently displayed as heretofore, and the prizes for the best samples remain about as in former years. Garden products, however, are given a promient position, it being expected that these will be finer than ever before. Potatoes particularly are expected to make a showing, there being an unusually large acreage devoted to this crop in the county this year. Garden vegetables, stock roots and fruits have had a particularly favorable season and will be found in endless variety and of exceptional quality.

Culinary and Household.

These are the departments of particular interest to women and the list of awards covers practically everything made, cooked or used in the home. The fancy work division covers a multitude of articles and there are 84 prizes offered in the fine arts division. The educational exhibit will be a leading feature, liberal cash awards being offered to the boys and girls excelling in the different lines of work.

The Amusement Feature.

The Clfifton-Kelly company will have charge of the entertainment section of the three days' program. This concern opens at the fair grounds on Monday night and continues through the entire week. The company travels on its own special train of eighteen cars and is an attraction far different from the ordinary carnival company. These shows have a reputation throughout the country as the cleanest and best carnival attractions on the road and one from which all objectional features have been eliminated. There is nothing presented which can offend the most sensitive critic, and ladies and children are as safe as they would be at a high class theatre. No gambling devises of any kind are permitted by the management and no questionable characters are tolerated as hangers-on. There are fifteen shows altogether, every one of exceptional merit. One of the features is a musical comedy troup which has just finished a tour of forty-four consecutive weeks on the Orpheum circuit. A big spectacular production, "The Days of '49," is everywhere spoken of as particularly interesting and novel. Then there is the marvelous "Flea Circus." It hardly seems possible that an ordinary pesky flea can be taught to drill, draw carriages, fire cannons, and do other similar tricks, but these fleas perform these stunts to the amazement of all. Prof. Zeno's Big Museum of Wonders is another unusual exhibition. Here you will see more strange and curious people than you ever knew existed. Prof. Clark's Dog and Pony show is a continuous delight to the little folks. Added to these are the three legged girl, the water show, the largest ferris wheel in the world and a $9,000 merry-go-round. Schultz's Concert band and the Misses Gordon and Ellis, vocalists, are also with this peerless organization.

The merchants of Thief River Falls are also offering some special attractions in the way of bargains during fair week. The advertising columns of The Times will be found to contain lists of bargains for fair visitors which will be found money savers for all those who take advantage of them.

Fair week will be the big week of the summer. Instruction and enjoyment is promised for old and young, big and small. Make arrangements to be in attendance during as much of the time as possible. You will never regret the time spent.

ARGYLE CANCELS SUNDAY GAME WITH THIEF RIVER

After Making All Arrangements, Management Offers Poorest of All Excuses.

The parties having the destinies of the Argyle base ball team in charge are mighty poor sportsmen. This team was scheduled to play a return game at Thief River Falls next Sunday, the date having been settled and agreed upon some time ago. On Tuesday Manager C. A. Nason received word from Manager A. E. Brekke of the Argyle team, cancelling the date. The excuse given was that a bigger crowd could be gotten out at Argyle to see a game between the team of that city and Warren, and that they needed the money.

This is undoubtedly the most unsportsmanlike excuse ever handed out by the manager of a base ball team. Mr. Brekke apparently had no concern over whether or not the Thief River Falls team needed money. Neither did he stop to take into consideration the fact that at this late day it will be next to impossible for Manager Nason to secure another team to fill in the date forfeited by Argyle. The only thing counting in any way with the Argyle management was the larger gate receipts to be had by taking on another team.

Argyle owed the game for next Sunday to Thief River Falls. The locals played two dates at the Marshall county town, having a crippled team in both instances. Far better excuses existed for backing out of these games than is now offered by Argyle. Nor was the financial side of the question allowed to play any part whatsoever. The understanding was that all expenses of the trip were to be paid by Argyle, but the management pleaded poverty and said that $35 was all the money available. Manager Nason accepted this with the understanding that when the return game was played here Argyle's share should be a similar sum. When the time for settlement came, however, the manager of the visiting team wanted more money as the portion of his club, and, rather than have any words over the matter, it was given to him.

That is part of the history of the transactions with Argyle to date. Now they add to their popularity by backing out of a Sunday game for which every provision had been made. There was no misunderstanding in the premises. Manager Brekke himself made the dates, and in a letter to Manager Nason he says:

"Your communication of the 7th at hand and contents noted. We shall be glad to give you the Sunday games you mention on your grounds, viz: July 16 and 30, and I am arranging the Argyle schedule accordingly."

It was a shabby deal.

END IS REACHED IN LIQUOR CASES

Eleven Are Tried For Illicit Sale of Intoxicants—But One Found Not Guilty.

FEW RESULT IN DISMISSAL

Most Severe Sentence is That Imposed on Dr. H. B. Newell. Gesell Guilty on Two Counts and Not Guilty on One.

The cases against the men under indictment for violation of the liquor laws in Pennington county were completed yesterday afternoon and the sentences were pronounced by Judge Andrew Grindeland at a session last evening.

There were indictments against eleven different parties. Three cases —those against James Farr, Peter Hanson and Hans Angel—were dismissed at the instance of County Attorney Kjomme for lack of sufficient evidence on which to base a conviction.

First Up Not Guilty.

The first case called on Monday morning was that against G. H. Gaslin, accused by Detectives J. F. Delaney and W. B. Bell of having sold liquor contrary to law. He was defended by Attorney Mike Daly of Perham, and the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty after having been out but a short time.

Harold Provencher was the next case called, he being also defended by Attorney Daly. He was found guilty of acting as an agent in the procuring of liquor. He testified that he had secured the booze from Tom Snell at the request of other parties. Snell has since departed for parts unknown. A stay of 30 days was granted in this case.

Gesell On Two Counts.

Howard E. Gesell was found not guilty of having liquor in his possession for the purpose of sale. He was found guilty of assaulting an officer and also of selling liquor without a license. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and given a jail sentence of 90 days.

Newell's Severe Sentence.

Dr. H. B. Newell, proprietor of drug stores at Thief River Falls and Goodridge, pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license and also selling to minors. For the first-named offense he was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to serve 30 days in jail. For selling to minors the sentence was a fine of $450.00. There were five separate charges against this defendant, the others being dismissed.

Those Pleading Guilty.

Tolef Froisness, Martin Strum and Oliver Severson pleaded guilty to bootlegging. The first two were fined $100 each and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Severson was fined $60 with the same jail sentence. In all three cases the jail sentence was suspended upon payment of the fine.

The Civil Cases.

The case of Henry W. Keogh and Martin Archer against the Thief River Valley Land company came up for trial yesterday and was dismissed without prejudice.

This afternoon the case of L. W. Larson against the Advance Thresher company, et al., is on trial. This will wind up the calendar for the term.

New Third Baseman.

William Whalling, of Grand Rapids, Minn., the new third baseman secured for the Nobles by Manager Nason, played his first game on Tuesday evening. He is a general utility man, capable of playing any place in the field, even putting up a very good article in the pitcher's box. He has also considerable of a reputation as a hitter when hits are needed and should add to the average strength of the aggregation.

The team is at this moment stronger than at any time since its organization and prepared to put up a very good article of base ball. The attendance has been very good to date, but the crowds have not been very loyal in their attitude toward the home players. In fact, it is doubtful if home teams are accorded more shabby treatment anywhere in this section. Proper appreciation adds ginger to a team and many a lagging ball game has had pep injected into it by the attitude of the fans. The boys are playing good ball and are entitled to the enthusiastic support of the people of the town. If you must use a hammer, at least wait until after the game and do not give visitors the impression that you have not sense enough to appreciate good work when you see it nor sufficient loyalty to cheer when the home boys do good work.

The Jefferson Highway.

The fact that this north and south trans-continental artery is to pass through Thief River Falls is a matter for self congratulation by the people of the city. It will mean much in the way of business and in the possibilities it presents for holding forth on the many advantages offered by northern Minnesota as a place for home-building or investment. It is highly probable, however, that the chief value of the new road will lie in the effect its establishment will have upon general highway construction throughout the region it traverses. Shorter lines branching toward it from every direction are sure to result and the value of these in bringing outlying districts in touch with markets is certain to prove of greater importance ultimately than is any traffic over the main highway itself. Already the communities along the other two routes which were considered in the planning of the main north and south line have taken steps to so perfect and unite their roads that tourists over the main line of the Jefferson Highway may conveniently return over either the eastern or western route. The Minneapolis Journal, in commenting on this phase of the matter, says:

"The Jefferson Highway authorities, confronted with a choice of three ways from the Twin Cities to Winnipeg, have selected the central route.

"Whereupon the backers of the eastern and western routes, nothing daunted, devise a plan to join the two together into a sort of grand round, to be called the Northern Minnesota Scenic Highway, touching Mille Lacs, Leech Lake, Cass Lake, Rainy Lake, Lake of the Woods, and hundreds of smaller lakes, and traversing some of the most beautiful regions of the state.

"Thus the planning of one great highway bids fair to bring about the improvement of another. While the official route will run through the center, the improvement of the Scenic Highway, which is thus stimulated, will practically result in giving the tourist his choice of three routes, all picturesque and attractive, and all marked by good roads.

"This is all to the good. The rivalry of the various routes will result in better roads all around, and the benefits will be enjoyed not only by the summer tourist visiting the great playgrounds of the state, but by the all-the-year-round farmer taking his products to market and bringing back supplies."

They Were Not Afraid.

Four Minnesota congressman have gone on record as being opposed to the rivers and harbors pork barrel graft, and among them The Times is glad to find the name of Halvor Steenerson of the Ninth district. The others were Anderson of the First; Ellsworth of the Second, and Lindberg of the Sixth. The bill provides for an expenditure of $43,000,000, and there are so many items of absolutely no merit included in its provisions that many congressmen whose districts might be gainers by its passage could not give it their support.

It takes considerable courage for a Minnesota congressman to vote against a river and harbor measure, no matter how outrageous its provisions may be. With our important water ways in need of development and the popularity to be gained for the moment through the securing of appropriations to be expended within the different districts, the temptation to make a goat of Uncle Sam is decidedly strong and always present. It takes a full-grown man to do what he knows to be right under such circumstances, and his reward very often consists of being misunderstood by his constituents.

These Minnesota congressmen know that if the rivers and harbors of any importance and value to the people of the country are to be improved it is absolutely necessary that the expenditure of millions of dollars every year in an attempt to make the streams of Nevada navigable or the harbors of Montana available for deep sea traffic shall cease. Should they win, it will mean that money for meritorious projects will be on hand when needed, to be expended only after a thorough investigation has been made for the purpose of determining somewhere near just what benefit may be expected as a result of the outlay.

Congressman Freer, of Wisconsin, himself a representative from a state containing waterways of vast importance, is the leader of the revolt, ably aided by men of both parties in congress. Their attitude towards the criminal extravagance know as the rivers and harbors bill is receiving the highest praise from every section of the country.

A Good Record.

The result of the bootlegging trials just completed before Judge Grindeland should go far toward discouraging this traffic in the city of Thief River Falls. There is a tendency in some quarters to find fault with the methods pursued in securing arrests and convictions, but it must be remembered that the final results are the only things that really count in matters of this kind. Certain people would be sure to object because the instruments used in a surgical operation were not built along the lines they would prefer, but the practitioner could hardly be expected to pay much attention to them.

Bootlegging is not only an evil, but a reprehensible crime. People engaging in it cannot be asked to discontinue it because of its being wrong. They care nothing about this view of the matter and they knowingly commit crime for profit. To carefully select the methods for their detection and undoing because they, the culprits themselves, wish to be delicately handled, is asking peace officers and courts to begin operations for their suppression by partly condoning the offense. Just remember that these people were engaged in law-breaking and that society at large is justified in protecting itself against them by any method available.

The cases for the state were well handled. County Attorney Kjomme is entitled to a great deal of credit for the fearless and absolutely impartial manner in which he laid the evidence before the jury. Not a single indictment was found faulty and the evidence was in most cases conclusive. Not all those indicted were found guilty, and those escaping had, according to the law of the land, been wrongfully accused. Enough convictions were secured, however, to prove that blindpigging was a flourishing industry in Thief River Falls, and everyone connected with the movement for its suppression is entitled to credit for good work accomplished. Among these the county attorney and the police department of the city are foremost.

The Crookston Times is going to print a series of articles on the city manager plan of government. This is a good idea. This plan is the modern way of doing business and is being adopted by progressive communities everywhere. Should the people of Crookston decide to make this change in their city government they would not only get the best there is in municipal administrations, but would also secure a lot of excellent advertising as the first city in the state to modernize its method of doing business. Thief River Falls had this opportunity, but the people here are so modest that they just dread to be the first to try anything new for fear they will get their city talked about.

A number—quite a number—of our property owners are going to get into trouble unless they cut the noxious weeds infesting their premises. Some of them even allow the lots on which their homes are built to become overgrown with these weeds until they are not only an eyesore, but a menace to health. Others keep their lawns trimmed but allow the parkway on the outside of the sidewalk to become foul. This is about as thorough a job as the small boy usually makes of washing his face. The city council has taken the matter up and unless the property owners perform this very necessary work, it will be done for them.

There will be no quarrel with President Wilson over the stand he has taken on the child labor law. Southern senators of his own party claim that the passage of this measure by congress will cripple the industries of their section of the country. This, however, does not seem to appeal very strongly to the president. He very likely believes, with the rest of the country, that any industry so delicate and unstable that it must depend upon the labor of little children for its maintenance should be crippled—or killed outright.

The four railway brotherhoods completed their vote on the eight hour day and time and one-half for overtime propositions on Wednesday. The result will not be known until August 8. Reports from the large railroad centers are to the effect that the men are overwhelmingly in favor of giving the leaders the power to call a nation-wide strike. In the meantime the business interests of the country have asked congress to take the matter up with a view to preventing a strike if this is possible.

———o———

Minnesota's share of the $5,000,000 government aid for the construction of roads is $142,000. The amount is available any time between now and July 1, 1917. This is not a particularly vast sum for a state needing roads as badly as does Minnesota, but it will help. The feature of greatest significance in connection with the passage of this bill by congress is the fact that the federal government takes a hand in the most important of all internal improvements.

———o———

The heat in Washington must be something terrific. A report has it that the Democrats thereaway are actually figuring on electing a member of their party to succeed Moses E. Clapp as senator from Minnesota. This simply proves that the people in Washington are not particularly well posted on just how even the Democrats of Minnesota feel toward the candidacy of Dan Lawler.

ENTHUSIASM AT DRY CONVENTION

By The County Chairman

St. Paul — (Special) — The national Prohibition convention, just closed at St. Paul, did not put the Capital City on the water wagon, but it made the old town sit up and take notice. To sit through four days of melting weather and labor in the interest of a cause that, in the minds of many, has not the least chance in the world, would seem ridiculous, but the thousand or more Prohibition delegates gathered in St. Paul tackled the nominating of a president and vice president and the making of a platform with an enthusiasm that knew no bounds. Many left the convention confident that the nominees would prevail, in fact such a prediction was made by more than one speaker. In point of numbers the convention was in a measure a disappointment, but it did not lack interest. From the moment of convening until the selection of former Governor Hanly of Indiana as its presidential nominee there was something doing every minute of the time. The fanaticism shown by some, the almost blind allegiance on the part of others, the total lack of political acumen as demonstrated in much of the platform, possibly furnished food for the scoffers, but to the unprejudiced observer the intensity of purpose, which was a prominent feature, the unswerving faith of a majority of the delegates and the determination to win, which seemed to be dominant with every delegate, was a revelation. There might be a few hyprocites, but the majority were backing a principle and, come weal or woe, as one speaker put it, they were in the fight to the death.

✣ ✣ ✣

Perhaps you never witnessed a national gathering of out and out drys? Well, you missed a lot if you failed to see the St. Paul convention. One observer likened the gathering to an old fashioned camp meeting, and there was much truth in his comparison. The delegates were mostly aged, women were heavily in evidence and the youth present displayed much in the way of religious fervor. Frequently the speeches or accepted prophetic utterances would be interrupted by fervent "Amens," while "Shame, shame," would often puncture some thrilling tale regarding the curse of liquor. The tendency to prayer was often, and when some white headed delegate, imbued with the spirit of the occasion, would suddenly arise and ask the audience to join him in an appeal to the Most High he received respectful attention and a general answer to his request. As I stated in a previous letter the old town was not over demonstrative in its reception to the 2,000 or more visitors to the convention, but it woke up when the dry parade, a feature of the convention, was held. Thousands witnessed the delegates and their floats parade the principal streets of the city and then flocked to the convention hall to see them in action. Prior to that they had been grudging in their attendance. The Prohibition leaders confidentiy expect to heavily increase their vote this fall, and the next two months will be given over to collecting funds for the cause. At the convention subscriptions aggregating almost $75,000 were made, but unfortunately there was a string to the big end of the amount. One subscription of $50,000 was in the shape of a note backed by 12,000 acres of Florida land and it must be realized on first.

✣ ✣ ✣

As stated, former Governor Hanly of Indiana is the standard bearer of the Prohibitionists. His running mate is Dr. Ira J. Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., well known in church and denominational education work. There were no less than five candidates for this particular position, including a woman, Miss Marie C. Brehm, a church temperance lecturer. The anti-Catholic forces offered W. L. Clark of Chicago, but finally withdrew him in favor of Dr. Landrith. Why such a scramble for what is little better than an empty honor, you probably ask? Well, if you want to know, the Chautauqua bureaus are always looking for well advertised material, especially men, and lecturers prominent in such gatherings as the Prohibition convention and candidates for political honors are always in demand.

✣ ✣ ✣

This week Minneapolis is the scene of the national convention of the American Federation of Patriotic Societies, with former Governor Sulzer of New York as the chief attraction. The deposed chief executive of the Empire state was a candidate for presidential honors at the hands of the Prohibitionists, but they turned him down. For the personification of egotism Sulzer easily has the lead. In a speech before the Prohibitionists in St. Paul, in which he practically pleaded for recognition, his entire talk was about himself, and he concluded with the remark that when he died he only wanted a simple headstone with the words, "Well done, Bill."

✣ ✣ ✣

The gathering at which Sulzer is the attraction this week has for its chief object the curtailing of alleged political activity on the part of the Catholic church. For the first time in many years the leaders of this movement are in the open and they propose to put a presidential ticket in the field. They are openly boasting that candidates for office in the state will be compelled to have their endorsement hereafter if they desire to win. At the Prohibition gathering they were heavily in evidence and the Prohibition committee had its hands full in diplomatically sidetracking their various resolutions and demands. In several instances there were open clashes on the floor between members of the movement and those who regarded the controversy as out of keeping with the occasion. The antis prevailed, however, to the extent of forcing an abridged anti-Catholic plank into the platform.

✣ ✣ ✣

Justice Hughes, the Republican presidential nominee, will favor Minnesota with a visit next month, when he will open the state campaign with a speech at the St. Paul Auditorium on the 9th. He may also make a talk at Minneapolis. National Committeenian Congdon of Duluth is largely responsible for the visit. The Republican committee expects that Justice Hughes' presence in the state will do much to ginger up the campaign. They are arranging for the handling of a record crowd.

✣ ✣ ✣

The departure of the Second battalion of the First field artillery brings Minnesota's contribution for border service to about 4,500 men. In comparison with other states that is a most creditable showing. New York furnished only about four times as many men from five times the number of males of military age. Missouri, with one and one-half times the number of eligibles, and California, with about the same comparison, sent quotas about equal to Minnesota's. Mississippi, with practically the same number of men of fighting age, raised only half as many soldiers. But Minnesota has sent only about nine-tenths of 1 per cent of her total number of men of military age, and about one-fifth of 1 per cent of her total population.

✣ ✣ ✣

The final passage of the federal good roads bill means that the government is ready to spend more than $2,000,000 on roads in Minnesota in the next five years, provided the state spends at least as much more, and also maintains in good condition all roads so built.

NASON'S NOBLES HIT THE SLIDE

Steam Shovel Operators From Hibbing Take Three Games in Rapid Succession.

SHUT OUT BY RED LAKE

Second Game Sunday Was One of Best This Season and Visitors Put Up Fine Article of Base Ball.

It can safely be said that the Philadelphia Athletics have nothing on Nason's Nobles when it comes to playing base ball. The former aggregation is holding to the tail-end straw in the American League with a death-grip—and the Nobles lost four games during the last week.

The fast Hibbing aggregation, composed of stars and ex-stars of organized base ball, won its three games on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and then to put a final groan in the agony, the Red Lake Falls bunch, with Keifenheim in the stellar role, turned in and ate of the forbidden fruit with unconcern and freedom. It was a slaughter. The Nobles were aeroplaned, submarined, torpedoed, ditched, dynamited and walloped to a queen's taste. And there was no chance for a come-back.

Hibbing Wins Three.

Friday evening's game with Hibbing was a victory for the visitors by a score of 9 to 1. The guests were "stickers" with a vengeance and pounded out hits at will. Bailey, on the mound for the Nobles, pitched a good game but ragged support at times made it impossible to make a first-class showing. He struck out eight men, walked one and allowed eleven hits. Wilson pitched for Hibbing, struck out six, walked one and allowed but three hits.

Saturday's afternoon contest was a better exhibition, although the locals lost 7 to 6. One "Chesty Jones" whose face was familiar but whose name was not, was in the box for the locals. He struck out five, allowed eight hits and walked two men. Weathers, for the visitors, struck out seven, walked none, and allowed eleven hits. It was Thief River's game until the ninth when a series of hits combined with an error by Berry, netted the Hibbingites two scores. Barber, in left field, for the locals was easily the star of the game, making a sensational one-handed "impossible" stop of Hooker's hit in the fifth frame.

The Sunday Games.

The first half of the Sunday bargain offering was played with Hibbing—and it really was a good game, although the visitors won by a score of 4 to 2. Menzel pitched for the locals, allowing ten hits, striking out three and walking three. He depended upon his support, and the support was "air tight." Ingersoll was on the mound for Hibbing. He allowed seven hits, walked two, and struck out six. Barber's fielding was again a feature of the game, although Menzel made several thrilling stops of seemingly impossible drives.

In the second part of the double bill, Red Lake Falls won by a 3 to 0 score. This game was one of the best played this season. Had the contest been staged before the Hibbing game, it would have been a victory for the locals. The Nobles were unable to stand the pace set by the Hibbing bunch, and when the time came to administer the customary drubbing to the Red Lakers, they lacked the vim and vigor necessary to accomplish the desired end. Bailey pitched a good game, and the contest was lost because the Nobles were unable to hit safely when hits meant runs. They lacked "pep" and the Red Lakers took advantage of the condition. Keifenheim was in the box for the visitors. He allowed but three hits, walked three, hit one, and struck out six. Bailey allowed eight hits, walked two, and struck out four.

The following tables will tell the story of the four defeats:

A Comedy of Errors.

McIntosh and Thief River Falls staged a game of "One Old Cat" on the local grounds Tuesday evening and up to the last half of the ninth, the visitors were ahead by a score of 9 to 4. In the last frame an argument arose, which resulted in the forfeiture of the game by McIntosh to the Nobles by a score of 9 to 0. The game was decidedly ragged, poor judgment on the part of the umpires contributing largely to the punk game played by both teams. Saeter pitched for McIntosh and Menzel performed for the locals. Saeter weakened in the eighth frame, and the Nobles scored three runs. In the ninth, Saeter was relieved by Sky, the aboriginal phenomenom. Sky had clouded up somewhat since the game at McIntosh two weeks ago, and the locals started their last frame with a rush, hitting everything Sky threw in.

Johnson singled. Menzel singled advancing Johnson. Walbaun got on when Stovern fumbled his grounder, filling the bases. Lee singled scoring Johnson and Menzel. The hit was to deep center and when Walbaun tried to make home Narveson threw in. Stovern caught the ball at home tagged Walbaun, and dropped the ball, the pellet rolling down Walbaun's back. Stovern recovered the ball, but Walboun had safely scored. Umpire Hanson, first calling the play safe, changed his decision to an "out"—and the argument started. Before "time" had been called, Lee had reached third and came home, but was sent back. According to the rules, both men were safe and the scores should have counted. After the argument had been prolonged a reasonable time, Umpire Quale, from the pitcher's box, called "play ball," and when the McIntosh team failed in the required time to come onto the field and finish the inning, declared the game forfeited to Thief River Falls, and thus it will be filed in the records.

Menzel struck out six, allowed thirteen hits and passed six, this being due to the fact that he was forced to toss 'em over in order to satisfy the umpires. Saeter struck out two, walked two and allowed six hits. Sky, in a third of the last inning, allowed three hits. The score by innings follows:

T. R. Falls ....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 3 2—6
McIntosh ....0 1 1 5 1 0 1 0 0—9

Walbaun's "out" was the first in the ninth frame.

LAYOFF FROM THE IVY IS THE WARNING GIVEN

Several Cases of Poisoning By This Plant Has Been Reported in This City.

Layoff from picking poison ivy.
Hail it and then side-step.

It is reported that several shady and alluring green spots in and around Thief River Falls abound this treacherous plant, and many of the unwary are as a result—trapped. Cases of this nature are reported every summer to local physicians. Over in Duluth they are trying to run the liar down and find it an impossible task so the next best thing the health department could do was to tell the people how to look out for it and how this is done. The health commissioner describes it as follows:

"Poison ivy is easily distinguished on account of its always having three leaves in a cluster and is sometimes known as three-leaf ivy. It always grows rank and luxurant and in the late fall bears a beautiful scarlet berry. On account of its beautiful foilage and the berries, people who are not familiar with it, frequently gather it to take it home. They would much better leave it alone. It is easily killed by frequent mowing, especially in August. If all vacant lots were kept mowed, the ivy would do little or no harm. Treating with salt will kill the plants, incidentally it will also kill other kinds of vegetation."

"The poison," he adds, "is caused by an oil which exudes from every part of the plant, including the leaves, stems, blossoms, berries and roots. Prompt removal of this poisonous oil by the use of strong soap or alcohol will remove the source of the poison. And if this is done immediately after handling the ivy, no bad results will follow. The arms and hands should be washed downward with strong soap—laundry soap preferable—then treated with alcohol and bound with gauze bandages.

"Should the infection not be discovered until it has made its appearance, the same treatment should be followed, keeping the parts well bandaged and avoid scratching, as this only means the infection of new surfaces."

POLICE AND FIREMEN ARE CITY EMPLOYEES

Supreme Court Hands Down Decision To This Effect Under Compensation Act.

The Supreme Court of the State of Minnesota has handed down a decision stating that policemen and firemen of the city are laboring men so far as their duties are concerned under the compensation act. City officials of Thief River Falls have been advised to this effect.

At the time the compensation act went into effect Attorney General Lyndon Smith gave it as his opinion that it did not apply to policemen and firemen. Since then two cases have been appealed to the Supreme court and this tribunal holds that they are workmen under this act.

This now means that the city of Thief River Falls is liable for the injury of all its firemen as well as its policemen, and unless they carry liability insurance they will be liable for the full amount allowed by the compensation act.

GROCERS LAUD ADVERTISING

At Annual State Meet of Grocers in Duluth, "Advertising" is Discussed.

IS BIG ASSET TO BUSINESS

This is What Grocers and Merchants Decided—Most Prosperous Firms Are Strongest Believers in "Ads."

"Advertising" was a subject of much discussion at the annual convention of Minnesota Retail Grocers and Merchants held in Duluth last week. During an afternoon session this question had a large share of the question box discussions.

The grocers and merchants did not all come to a definite conclusion regarding the extent of advertising advisable, which was contrary to the almost unanimous agreement on a one-price system. A man should go to the limit in advertising, some declared, while others argued for more conservative expenditures. One merchant suggested that the extent of advertising should be governed largely upon the circumstances and local conditions.

H. S. McIntyre, a small town merchant, said that an increase in the amount of advertising from 1 to 3½ percent brought him a 33 percent gain in trade. He found advertising profitable in his locality when it reached not only the people of the town but also the farmers from the rural districts.

It was also pointed out by one grocer that good window displays are of much value in attracting customers into the store. Several delegates showed the excellent results gained from newspaper advertising in various localities.

All the large grocers and merchants agreed unanimously that advertising should be carried to the extreme, while some of the small dealers were uncertain regarding the extent one should advertise.

STAR TOWNSHIP WILL HAVE A NEAT SCHOOL

Building Will Be Completed Before Fall Term Commences in September.

The school building in Star township is being rapidly rushed to a finish this month and will be ready for occupancy before the fall term of school begins. When completed the school will be a state aid institution. It is being built in unorganized territory by the county board of education which is composed of County Superintendent of Schools E. A. Mostue, County Treasurer Theodore Liden and Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners, Peter C. Wold.

The building is 20x38 with a library addition 10x12. "I can't state what the cost will be at this time," said County Superintendent Mostue Saturday, "but it will be finished at the lowest possible cost. The building is a neat one and will be an excellent school building. The farmers are to be commended on the interest they are taking in the work of erecting this structure, they are assisting in the work by taking private subscriptions and also by donating work to a certain extent, and as a result will complete it at a very moderate cost."

Boy Injured.

Herbert Menzel, who resides on a farm with his parents near Mavie, had one of his hands badly injured on Wednesday afternoon of last week when he lighted a match in a cylinder case of a tractor engine, causing a gas explosion. The young man was doing some repair work to the machine and had lighted matches many times during the past in the cylinder case to observe the interior of this particular part. In some manner gas had formulated and on sticking his hand into the case with the match an explosion followed tearing the flesh from his hand. He was rushed to this city in an automobile for medical aid and at present is improving nicely.

TOWN "DADS" NOT LIABLE FOR HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

Justice Dibell of Supreme Court Handed Down This Decision Last Week.

Because of their failure to keep a highway in repair, town officers are not liable to one injured on such a road. This is the substance of the decision of Justice Dibell, of the state Supreme court, in a decision handed down last week in the case of Otto A. Bolland and Wm. Bolland against the members of the town board and road overseer of Hay Creek township in Goodhue county.

A suit was brought by the Bollands to recover $335 damages to their threshing outfit, which went through a bridge in Hay Creek township. That the bridge was out of repair is the charge made by the Bollands, and further that the town officers neglected to keep it in safe condition for travel.

The case went to the Goodhue county district court. A demurrer was filed by attorneys for the defense, contending that the officers as individuals could not be made a party to the action. The demurrer was sustained. The Bollands then appealed to the Supreme court.

This decision is the first of its kind bearing upon the liability of town officers as individuals and their responsibility for accidents on highways.

New Mavie Settler.

H. O. Sveiwen, former prosperous farmer in the southern part of the state, has purchased the Martin Evenson farm one mile south of Mavie on the state road, and has already moved his family onto the land. A large house and barn are now in the course of construction. Mr. Sveiven has received two carloads of stock, which have been placed on the farm.

Post (NEW) Toasties

Avoids Breakfast Cooking---

New Post Toasties are ready to eat direct from the package. They have a fine new flavour—self-developed by a new patented process. It's the rare, true flavour of prime, white Indian corn itself, and these New Toasties are the first corn flakes that do not depend on cream and sugar for palatability.

The proof of this superior flavour is found by eating some from the package dry. They're deliciously good thdt way, but of course are usually served with cream or good milk.

Examine the New Post Toasties flakes. The quick, fierce heat of the new process of manufacture, not only raises distinguishing little bubbles on each flake, but gives a body and firmness that makes the New Toasties a more substantial food than ordinary "corn flakes."

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package and they don't mush down when cream is added. They come to you untouched by hand, and in moisture-proof packages that preserve their delightful oven-crispness until served at your table.

Well worth trying—these

Grocery Prices

There is but little difference in the price of good groceries, no matter where you buy them. The difference in grocery stores lies in Quality and Service, and we have decided to make this the motto of our store. No matter what price reductions are held out to us, we shall never, under any circumstances, skimp on quality or permit our service to fall below the standard we have set.

Our supply houses must add their guarantee to ours, and we will deem it a favor if anything not satisfactory is called to our attention in order that we may make it right. We are going to secure customers—but we want them to be satisfied customers.

Deliveries will be made when promised. This fact alone should make a strong appeal to methodical housekeepers.

It the above system of doing business meets with your approval, we shall be pleased to devote our best efforts toward pleasing you.

INDICATIONS ARE FOR EXCEPTIONAL RYE CROP

Cutting of This Grain Will Begin Next Week—Wheat Promises Well.

From all sections of Pennington county come reports to the effect that the rye crop will be exceptionally good and that cutting will begin next week. The acreage devoted to this grain is considerably larger than for many years past and the indications are that the Red River Valley will report a bumper crop.

The wheat crop is progressing nicely and promises a better than average yield if the weather is not too hot during the critical period of filling. A cool wave has prevailed over the valley during the past week and the prospects are good for favorable filling weather.

There has been a few complaints of red rust among the farmers in fife wheat fields. The durum and macaroni fields are not affected thus far. The red rust has as yet attacked only the leaves thus doing no damage. Black rust has been reported in but two or three localities in Northwestern Minnesota, and no great apprehension is felt on that score unless the weather should turn damp and extremely hot again, in which case serious damage would result.

At the Princess.

The bill for next week at the Princess theatre is one of exceptional merit, and includes such stars as Edmund Breese, Edith Reeves, Dorothy Durand and Bessie Bariscole. A number of Keystone-Triangle pictures of the very highest order are down on the week's program, which is printed in full in another column. This cool, well-ventilated theatre is enjoying a splendid patronage these days, and the high-class productions presented are deserving of it.

Auto Accident.

As a result of endeavoring to give a passing automobile enough of the road to pass, the car of Phil Zeh, driven by Elmer Zeh, tumbled down a six foot embankment a short ways out of St. Hilaire last Friday evening about ten o'clock. The fact that the road was particularly narrow at that point and also that two glaring auto lights were thrown into Mr. Zeh's face, were causes of the accident. The car fell over with Mr. Zeh and three passengers, all being pinned underneath the machine. Mr. Zeh escaped injury while the others received a bad shaking up and a few scratches. The only damage that resulted to the car was a broken windshield and steering wheel. Saturday morning the car was turned over in the ditch and made the run up the embankment with little difficulty.

Band Concerts.

Director Joe Greenfield, of the Minnesota State band of Thief River Falls, announces two concerts for this week. The first will be held on Friday evening at the corner of Fourth street and LaBree avenue, and a sacred concert has been arranged to be played Sunday afternoon at "Lovers' Lane" park, situated at the foot of Riverside avenue. At Sunday's concert a selection will be played which has been composed by Director Greenfield and dedicated to N. J. Anderson, pioneer musician of the Northwest, and who has worked so conscientiously for the maintainance of a band in this city. The march is entitled "Pennington City."

ROADS AND CROPS GOOD TO THE NORTH

Thief River Falls Travelers Find Conditions Excellent as Far as Lake of the Woods.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson and family returned Monday from a two-day trip over the Pembina trail and the new state road in Roseau county, having been on a visit to Warroad. Mr. Anderson went for the purpose of attending the picnic of the Odd Fellows of Warroad, at the annual outing of the lodge at Buffalo point. He states that the roads are in fine shape, the state highway into Warroad being in particularly good condition. In common with others acquainted with the region thereabout, Mr. Anderson believes that travellers over the Jefferson highway will find the side trip to the Lake of the Woods one of the most interesting along the entire line.

The distance from Karlstad to Warroad is about 70 miles, and Mr. Anderson travelled the distance often in the days of old when there was nothing but a passable winter road from the lake westward. Because of the swampy nature of the soil summer travel was impossible. Now one of the best all-year highways in the north traverses the section and the territory on each side is being tilled by well-to-do farmers. The county auditor says that anyone seeing the country twenty years ago would never believe that it would one day be a flourishing farming community, and the change only demonstrates what drainage and good roads will do in this section. The party enjoyed every mile of the interesting trip.

SOO EXCURSION TO CASS LAKE SUNDAY

Entire Day Will be Spent at One of Minnesota's Most Beautiful Lakes.

The Soo railroad will run an excursion train on Sunday, July 30, from Warren and Thief River Falls to Cass Lake and return. The train will leave Warren at 6 o'clock and Thief River Falls at 7 o'clock in the morning. Returning, will leave Cass Lake at 9 p. m., arriving at Thief River Falls 11:59 p.m. Stops will be made at all points along the line and the railroad officials say that ample car accommodations will be provided.

The Cass Lake Commercial club has issued invitations to all the people of this section to spend the day at one of the most beautiful lakes in Minnesota. Besides Cass Lake itself, there is Windego lake and the Mississippi river, the entire region being one with most picturesque surroundings. The Indian villages of the neighborhood will be visited, launch and sail boat excursions on the lake enjoyed, a good baseball game will be witnessed, and a day filled with general good time is guaranteed. The railroad fare for the round trip will be $3.90.

Improvements at Mavie.

Joseph DuCamp, nestor of the town of Mavie, and Assistant Cashier Finnemore of the Farmers State bank at the same place, were in town over Sunday. They state that their little town is booming, a number of buildings having just been completed, while more are in course of construction. Besides much work being done by private parties there is considerable improvement of a public nature going on. Nearly 400 feet of cement sidewalk is being laid along Nelson avenue and crosswalks of the same material is being put in at the street intersections. A cement walk and platform has been put in at the depot site and hopes are expressed that a new station will be the next improvement. Crops in the neighborhood are in good condition and everything looks most promising.

Returned From Chicago.

A. S. Lieberman returned Saturday evening from a business trip to Chicago. While absent Mr. Lieberman made the rounds of the wholesale and manufacturing establishments handling the lines in which he is interested and will have some particularly fine showing to offer in clothing and furnishings for fall and winter. Manufacturers of men's wear are still handicapped by the lack of reliable dye stuffs, but the genuine article can still be had if you can manage to get on the right trail. The Thief River Falls merchant was fortunate in this respect and will be able to guarantee his wares as heretofore. Mr. Lieberman says that business in the cities is very good in practically all lines and that everybody is looking forward to a good season's business.

When the safety zone was reached Johnson looked to see where his fellow passengers were and to his surprise found the two husky railroaders and the cigarmaker huddled closely together on the floor of the automobile.

Judge Tarrant Complimented..

A. L. Sorter, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee which successfully conducted the Hammond campaign two years ago, this week notified all the old members of the organization that the statute of limitations had overtaken their job and that a new committee would soon take charge of things. Judge N. W. Tarrant of Thief River Falls, who was the member from Pennington county, is highly complimented by the retiring chairman for the good work done, and continues: "The Democratic party may have had as good committees in the past, but none better. Governor Hammond frequently said that if Mr. Lee had such a committee he would have been elected."

LEVY MADE FOR COUNTY EXPENSE

Commissioners at Semi-Annual Meeting Provide For Outlay During Year of $42,000.

BRIDGE OVER THIEF RIVER

Building of Structure Let to Local Concern For $4,197.00—Warren Jail Selected For County Prisoners—Good Cash Balance.

The commissioners of Pennington county at the semi-annual meeting last week levied a total of $42,000 for the purpose of meeting the expenses of the coming year. This sum was divided among the funds as follows: County revenue, $21,000; road and bridge, $13,000; bond and interest, $4,000; sanitarium, $5,000; sanitarium maintenance, $2,000.

Funds in Good Shape.

The accounts of the auditor and treasurer were checked up and found correct. The financial condition of the county was also deemed satisfactory, there being a cash balance on hand of $58,349.55. The actual amounts remaining unused to the credit of the different funds were as follows: County revenue, $6,461.54; road and bridge, $10,060.80, with $1,725.00 outstanding on contracts; sinking fund, $3,345.20; bond and interest, $4,535.92.

Bridge Contract Let.

The contract for the construction of a bridge over the Thief river just north of Thief River Falls was let to the Northern Construction company of this city for $4,197.00. The specifications call for a steel bridge with a span of 107 feet to cross the river between the sections 21 and 22 in the town of North. This is the structure toward which the farmers of that section contributed about $1,800, the county and city assuming the balance. When completed the bridge will prove one of great convenience to the people residing in northern Pennington and southern Marshall counties as they will be enabled to reach the city without making the long detour heretofore made necessary because of lack of means for getting across the river.

To Build More Ditches.

The commissioners at this meeting also took the preliminary steps for the sale of bonds in a sufficient amount to cover the cost of constructing county ditches No. 63 and 64, and judicial ditch No. 14. The first-named two are to cost $3,000 each, while the estimated cost of No. 14 is $2,000.

The Marshall county jail at Warren was designated as the place for keeping the minor offenders sentenced from Pennington. The county superintendent of schools was allowed an assistant at a salary not to exceed $50 per month.

A large amount of routine business was transacted, the full proceedings of which will be found in another column of this issue. The next meeting will be held on August 7.

Big Picnic at Rhoda.

A neighborhood picnic is announced to take place at the George Singer place at Rhoda on Sunday. Music will be furnished by the Oklee band, and it is expected that about 300 people will be present from that town. Besides those invitations have been sent to Plummer and other nearby places and it is expected that there will be a general turnout. Many Thief River Falls autoists have already signified their intention of attending, improving the occasion to do a little boosting for the county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Effinger returned Sunday from an extended trip through the west. They were accompanied on their return by Miss Rose Effinger, of Westby, Mont., a niece of Mr. Effinger.

ENTIRE VILLAGE HELD BY BRITISH

Oust Teutons From Pozieres After Hard Fighting.

STRONG STRATGETIC POINT

Loss of Position Endangers German Forces Battling in Sailent From Thiepval to Pozieres—Turks Evacuate Erzingan.

London, July 27.—After three days of desperate hand-to-hand fighting, grubbing in mud and crumbled masonry, the Anzac soldiers of Great Britain's armies have finally taken the whole of the village of Pozieres.

"The whole of Pozieres is now in our hands," General Haig reports, adding: "Westward the territorials have further advanced, capturing two trenches and a number of prisoners, including five officers. Elsewhere there is no change."

The war has seen no more desperate fighting than that which has resulted in the ejection of the Teutons from this French village. An important point on the main highway toward Bapaume it was the objective of the first great thrust of the British offensive.

Last week Australian and New Zealand soldiers gained a foothold in the village itself. A series of furious German counter attacks failed to dislodge them.

Capture of the whole of Pozieres endangers the German forces fighting in the salient from Thiepval to Pozieres.

The territorials, having ejected the Teutons from the village, immediately began a westward encircling movement, menacing the enemy contained in this loop of the line.

A retirement from this curve is expected.

A further British enveloping movement eastward from Thiepval was anticipated to increase the pressure on this "kink" in the line, forcing the Germans to straighten it out by a retreat.

The impetuous Russian drive in Turkish Armenia has resulted in the evacuation of the fortress of Erzingan by the Turks and its capture by the Russians, according to official dispatches from Petrograd.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IS RAPID

Forces of Grand Duke Nicholas Pushing Toward Angora.

Petrograd, July 27.—The Grand Duke Nicholas and his army have completed nearly one-quarter of the journey to Angora.

Russian troops are forcing back demoralized Turkish forces and establishing almost a record for quick advance.

Their rate of progress has been almost that of a marching army in peace times.

Angora is the eastern terminus of the railroad which leaves Constantinople. It is the immediate objective of the Russian advance.

So far the grand duke has made his phenomenal advance without any railroads to aid in maintaining his supplies.

Great Britain Approves Plan.

London, July 27.—The British government will consent to the plan for rationing the civilian population in the areas occupied by German armies, under supervision of a neutral commission appointed by President Wilson, if the central powers will consent not to remove native food supplies.

British Dreadnought Attacked.

Berlin, July 27.—A German submarine attacked a British dreadnought off the Orkney Islands on July 2[illegible] and obtained two hits with torpedoes, the German admiralty announced.

BUYS TWENTY BIG VESSELS

Commonwealth of Australia Hopes to Relieve Freight Congestion.

San Francisco, July 27.—The commonwealth of Australia has purchased twenty big freighters from the British government for $20,000,000, according to T. J. Ryan, premier of Queensland, en route to Australia after a visit to London.

The steamers will be used to relieve congested freight conditions and operate between Australia and European ports.

Woman Rebel Captain Dead.

Richmond, Va., July 27.—Captain Sally Louisa Tompkins, eighty-three years old, the only woman ever commissioned as an officer in the Confederate army, died in the Home for Confederate Women. She was commissioned captain of cavalry that she might continue to conduct a private hospital after other such institutions were ordered closed.

India's Wheat Crop Decreases.

Washington, July 27.—India's wheat crop this year is put at 16 per cent smaller than last year's in consular advices. The yield forecast is 8,500,000 long tons.

Capital Notes

J. Frank Hanly's candidacy for president on the Prohibition ticket makes Indiana more of a battleground than ever this year. The state is close, with its electoral vote and two United States senators at stake. Each of the great parties went to Indiana for a vice presidential candidate. Hanly, Prohibitionists predict, will poll enough Republican progressive votes to give the state to Wilson. Hanly is expected to make a hard campaign in Indiana and both old parties will center their activities there toward the close.

⁂

Notice of motion for a new hearing on the petition to disqualify Thomas Frankson as Republican candidate for lieutenant governor has been filed in the Ramsey county district court. The motion for a new hearing is based on alleged errors by the court when the case was dismissed a few days previously and is being made as a matter of record before appeal is taken to the state supreme court.

⁂

James A. Larson of Walnut Grove, Charles Moos of St. Paul and Oscar Lundquist, also of the Capital City, have been made members of the executive division of the Republican state central committee. Their appointment was announced by Chairman Thornton recently. They, with the officers of the central organization, constitute the executive committee.

⁂

It cannot be said that Minnesota is in any way niggardly in the burial of its distinguished dead. Bills just presented show that the cost to the state of the funeral of the late Governor Hammond was near the $3,000 mark. The undertaker's bill alone was a trifle over $1,000. The expense of Governor Johnson's funeral was less than $1,500. The bills are paid out of the governor's contingent fund.

⁂

The state Democracy is still shy a chairman for its organization. Fred Wheaton of Minneapolis has been asked to take charge, but so far has not given an answer.

⁂

Bills are being prepared for introduction in the next legislature reducing the size of the state tax commission. Their introduction, however, depends on the election of the particular house candidate who has made the draft. He argues that three members, the present size of the commission, are useless and an unnecessary expense.

PLOT SUSPECTED IN TIMBER FIRES

Destruction in is Intensional in Northern Minnesota.

PROBE IS UNDER WAY

Alleged Flames Now Raging on State Lands Were Started With Object of Covering Up Frauds and to Force Sales at Sacrifice Prices.

St. Paul, July 27.—State Auditor J. A. O. Preus is hurrying to Northern Minnesota, where forest fires are raging in the state's most valuable spruce timber holdings, to investigate suspicions that the fires are incendiary and started to cover up timber frauds and also to force sales at sacrifice prices.

One prosecution has been ordered on alleged violation of slash disposal regulations.

A big fire near Big Falls, in the heart of the best spruce region, is reported. The forest fire in the state's rich timber district north of Ray is reported under control, although it continues to smoke heavily. All available men are out fighting to save the state's holdings, according to advices received at the auditor's office.

Dillon P. Tierney, assistant state forester, reported his observations in the Ray district.

"About 300 acres of valuable spruce has been burned over," he wrote, "and the fallen timber is a great menace from further fire hazard. The tract is far less salable and the loss to the state will be considerable.

"Certain lumber companies are to blame for starting running fires in dry weather. These fires clean up not only the slashings, but all remaining timber on the tracts, and force state sales at sacrifice prices, and also cover up fraud in scaling what has been cut."

TO REHABILITATE FINANCES

American Bankers Agree to Loan China $30,000,000.

Washington, July 27.—Representatives of three big American banking houses informed Acting Secreary Polk that they are willing to advance a $30,000,000 loan desired by China to rehabilitate the finances of the republic.

Their proposal, which is understood to have the full approval of the state department, is to furnish immediately $4,000,000 urgently needed and the remainder as desired.

BUSINESS MEN ACT TO KILL BLACKLIST

New York, July 27.—Copies of resolutions calling upon the United States government to take prompt measures to bring about the recall of commercial restrictions placed upon American citizens by Great Britain were sent to members of the senate and house of representatives and the governors of all the states.

The resolutions were adopted by the Association to Resist British Domination of American Commerce.

The preamble of the resolutions says that the measures adopted by Great Britain are intended "to compel American aid in destroying the commerce of her adversaries, regardless of consequences to American trade or rights."

It also declares that the facts upon which the blacklisting of American firms was based were gained by "unlawful seizure, detention and examination of American mails."

MATERIAL DAMAGE HEAVY

Violent Hurricane Sweeps Over Large Section of Spain.

Madrid, July 27.—A hurricane of unprecedented violence has ravaged the provinces of Saragossa, Soria, Valladolio, Leon and Pontevedra.

The village of Torreon is in ruins and three churches have been swept away by floods in the village of Atrea, in the province of Aragon.

The bodies of eleven victims have been recovered so far and the material damage is enormous.

The minister of the interior will ask for a special appropriation to relieve the farmers in the stricken district.

1,900 Pound Steer Killed.

Stanford, Mont., July 27.—What perhaps is a record steer for Montana has just been killed for home consumption in the Knerrville country. It weighed more than 1,900 pounds and ran 1,100 pounds dressed beef. The steer would have brought $200 at Chicago. It was four years old and had been raised entirely on Montana grass.

Hagerstown, Md., July 27.—Two woman and one man lost their lives when the Vivian restaurant caved in after the walls had been weakened by a cloudburst.

It's constantly turning in your hands, hindering your work and causing blisters.

Possibly you had laid it to your own clumsiness, but it's not that at all.

Next time you had better buy a fork or a hoe, a rake or a spade, by insisting on having the made-for-service kind,—well-balanced and properly shaped and see how much easier your work will be.

The Minnesota State Fair is angling for the services of a noted driver whose home is in Minnesota, and as soon as he has been engaged his name will be announced. Two preliminary heats will be run Wednesday, and the final race, a five-mile one, will be held on Saturday.

A purse of $3,500 has been hung up for a 75-mile continuation race, in which fifteen drivers will compete. The first 25-mile heat will be run on Wednesday. The remaining fifty miles will be run on Saturday, the drivers opening the race as it ended on Wednesday. Le Cocq, Raimey, Endicott, Koetzla, Clarke, Hearne, Horey, Hoffman, Kilpatrick, De Craft, Woodbury, Johnny Mais, Kessler, Kizer and Klem are some of the drivers already entered for this event.

Elfrieda Mais, champion woman driver of the world, will race one mile with De Lloyd Thompson, the famous aviator, each day, both being given a flying start. The aeroplane will not be permitted to cut the corners. A trophy is offered as a prize. Miss Mais will also attempt to break her own one-mile and five-miles world's record each day. She is to drive a Mais Special.

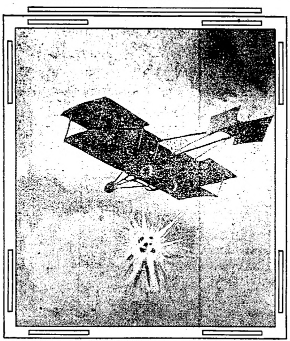
Big Special Race.

A special ten-mile race between Fred Horey of St. Paul and another famous Northwestern driver has been arranged for Saturday, a medal and a championship prize being offered the winner. This is expected to be one of the most grueling races of the program, and fans will be pushed to the limit of excitement.

On Saturday a big feature will consist of an Australian Pursuit race. Cars will be stationed at equal distances about the track and all will be started at once. As soon as one car overtakes another the latter must drop out. If more than one car is running at the end of ten miles the referee will announce the winner.

There will be short world's time trials on both days over a one-mile, five-miles and ten-biles track. A series of short free for all races will also be held. Nothing as good has ever been held anywhere in the Middle West.

TO ATTACK MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.



De Lloyd Thompson, Fearless Aviator, to Demonstrate Probable Results of an Aerial Attack Upon America by an Enemy Air Fleet at Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9.

IS AMERICA prepared for war? Could the United States drive back an aerial war fleet intent upon invading the country?

De Lloyd Thompson, the intrepid birdman who is ranked among the sensations of the year, will give a thrilling preparedness demonstration at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, in imitation of an aerial invasion, dropping bombs upon the principal buildings from a gigantic war plane, now being made for him. Similar demonstrations by Thompson at New York City, Washington and Boston excited wide comment this spring.

Bombs Are Dropped.

Sweeping in from the north at night, Thompson will drop bomb after bomb from his aeroplane in imitation of an aerial attack upon the Fair Grounds. He will attempt to locate the Grandstand, Livestock Pavilion, Agricultural Building, and other big structures with his bombs. The explosion of the bombs at night is a thrilling sight. In addition to his bomb throwing exhibition each evening, Thompson will give two daily flights, looping the loop, tail sliding, flying upside down, dropping in the air, and performing in other ways.

ENTIRE TOWN MOVED.

Suburban Residence District Moved 1,000 Miles to Minnesota State Fair.

Moving an entire suburban residence district over 1,000 miles is the magic task which is being undertaken this year to provide the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, with a new feature.

The model suburb, which is coming from Cleveland, O., in August, cost $10,000, and was designed to demonstrate the value of lumber in the erection of homes. It is to be housed in the new Building Materials Building, adjoining the Art Galleries, and will be one of the biggest educational features at the exposition. A pretentious exhibit of building materials will also be shown.

The White Pine Bureau and the Minnesota Art Commission are co-operating with the State Fair in making the venture a success.

Every One Was Satisfied.

A very angry client entered a New York lawyer's office. He had called upon a debtor and asked him politely to pay a bill of $2.50 and had been abused for his pains. Now he wanted the lawyer to collect it.

The lawyer demurred. The bill was so small that it would cost the whole amount to collect it.

"No matter," said the angry one. "I don't care if I don't get a cent as long as that fellow has to pay it!"

So the lawyer wrote the debtor a letter, and in a day or two the latter appeared in high dudgeon. He did not owe any $2.50, and he would not pay.

"Very well," said the lawyer; "then my instructions are to sue. But I should hardly think it would pay you to stand a suit for so small a sum."

"Who will get the money if I pay it?" asked the man.

The lawyer was obliged to confess that he should.

"Very well," said the debtor, "that's another matter. If Smith isn't going to get it I am perfectly willing to pay it."—Youth's Companion.

Airedale Terriers.

Here is the case of a dog made to order for a very definite purpose and meeting all the specifications. The Airedale as a breed is only a little over half a century old. Yorkshire was his birthplace. As to the work that the new dog was expected to do, there were foxes and badgers in the hills, otters in the streams and hares in the fields and woods. This meant that the all around dog must have courage, a keen nose, strength of legs and jaw and must be equally at home in the water and on land.

The breed found its way to this country in the middle eighties and soon caught on among the fanciers despite the cry that no terrier should run above twenty pounds.

His habit of working for a living has kept the Airedale from becoming too much the top of the shows and has given him many opportunities to show his worth on the farm and in hunting. He has the terrier willingness to tackle anything without regard to size or teeth. One thing the Airedale demands is room. For that reason he is not an ideal house dog. He is at his best in the country with plenty of elbow room and work enough to keep him interested in life.—Outing.

One of the largest of the family known as wolf spiders is the tarantula of southern Europe, which gets its name from the fact that it abounds in the neighborhood of the Italian city of Tarento. These spiders live in holes in the ground or under stones, from which they wander forth like wolves in search of prey. The bite of such a spider was once considered very poisonous and was supposed to cause a nervous disease called tarantism. The cure for this disease was to dance a wild dance called by its name until the person fell exhausted. Now and then a tarantula journeys to the north from Central America in a bunch of bananas. A large species of spider ranging from Missouri to the south is called the Texas tarantula. At one time this spider was eaten by the Indians, who had the idea that it possessed valuable medicinal properties.—Indianapolis News

Ringing the Bells.

Conversation in the smoke room of the hotel had got round to haunted houses, and gruesome yarns of mysterious noises and unaccountable bell ringings in a house in the immediate neighborhood were being recounted. But there was a skeptic in the party who made himself heard.

"Come to that," he said, "I ought to be pretty good in the haunting line. I reckon I could make a dozen bells ring in this very place without touching one of them."

"Nonsense!" was the universal chorus, and the young man said never a word. Instead he opened a cupboard door near by and turned off the gas.

In less than two minutes every bell in the house was ringing, and by the time fresh light was shed on the subject the old hands had to admit that the "young 'un certainly knew something."—London Tit-Bits.

Uncle Eph, an old colored man, was up in court accused of stealing a watch. He pleaded not guilty and, moreover, brought against the complainant a countercharge of assault. The man, he declared, had tried to kill him with an iron kettle.

During the cross examination the attorney, Lawyer Bennet, demanded, "Dare you to say that my client attacked you with an iron kettle?"

"Dat what he done, sah," replied Uncle Eph, with a nervous gulp.

"With an iron kettle, eh?" sarcastically reiterated the lawyer. "That's a fine story for a big, strong fellow like you to try to impose upon this honorable court. And had you nothing with which to defend yourself?"

'Only de watch, sah," was the unwary reply. "But what's a watch agin an iron kettle, sah?"—Harper's Magazine

WHEAT DAMAGE IS CONSIDERABLE

Reports From All Sections of Pennington County Indicate a Considerable Shortage.

OTHER CROPS ARE FAIR

Flax Outlook Particularly Good and a Favorable Change in Weather Conditions Will Yet Help, is General Belief.

There is no question but that the 1916 wheat crop has been severely damaged by drought and rust. Some of the best-posted men in the county on matters of this kind estimate that the wheat yield will not be more than 50 per cent of the 1915 crop. This does not signify that it will by only half the average, because the yield of 1915 was one of the largest in the history of the country and can hardly be used as a basis for comparison.

Oats and Barley.

Oats and barley are reported fair. Rain seems to be badly needed, but in the case of oats it may still arrive in time to prevent any general damage.

Potatoes are looking well everywhere, from all reports. With favorable conditions from now on this crop should average well. A somewhat larger acreage than usual has been devoted to potatoes this year and the outcome is of considerable importance.

Flax Particularly Good.

Everyone reports the flax crop as particularly promising. In fact, everything except wheat seems to be standing the unusual weather in good shape, and there are those who believe that the damage to this cerial will not be as great as at present indicated.

Mr. Keating's Observations.

P. J. Keating, state weighmaster located at Thief River Falls, says that his observations lead him to believe that the wheat crop will not go over nine bushels on an average in Pennington county. Mr. Keating has handled grain for 40 years, and he says that the wheat situation is one of the least promising he has ever noted. Rust and hot winds are responsible for the damage. Other grains will be a fair crop, according to Mr. Keating, with flax particularly good.

What Elevator Men Think.

W. B. Fuller, manager of the Hanson-Barzen Milling company at Thief River Falls, says that reports coming to his plant are mixed and conflicting. While there is no doubt but that there has been some damage, particularly from rust, yet it is his opinion that this will not prove as extensive as at present feared. Manager G. B. Plummer of the Farmers' Elevator company, states that reports reaching him are to the effect that the damage will in some cases reach as high as 25 or 35 per cent in the wheat fields this season. His observations are that the weather of the past few days has helped the oats crop considerably, and there are still hopes that the late sown wheat will pan out better than that sown early in the spring. Joseph Johnson, in charge of the Red Lake Milling company's elevator, reports that his information is to the effect that wheat is in pretty bad shape, but that other grains are doing fairly well, especially barley. He is of the opinion that cool weather will still help oats, but that wheat is too far along to be benefitted by it to any great extent.

From Other Sections.

Paul Borge, Hazel merchant and farmer, says that he estimates the damage to wheat at 50 per cent in his neighborhood. Most of this damage has been done during the past two weeks, and red rust is the cause. Oats are somewhat better, barley good and flax exceptionally fine. He also said that the weather is getting pretty dry for potatoes, but that these are now far along and promise well.

T. H. Smith, Mavie banker, says that wheat in his section is suffering from rust and that the indications are for about 50 per cent of last year's crop. Need cooler weather and rain for oats, while barley promises fair. Flax in excellent condition. Potatoes acreage in his section small, but look well. Mr. Smith also states that reports reaching him from below Highlanding are to the effect that the wheat crop there is practically a failure.

Still Has Hopes.

John B. Conner reports from his North township farm that the wheat in his neighborhood looks like a fair crop in spite of all that is being said to the contrary. There is no flax near his place, but the hay crop turned out excellent and the corn is very good. Peter Engelstad, farming in the town of Rocksbury, reports that the wheat outlook is not very promising because of rust. Oats and barley look somewhat better, while flax is very good, except on low land. Potatoes are a fair crop, but bugs are bad. The hay crop was a bumper.

Dairymen Are All Right.

While those who have pinned their faith entirely to grain will probably suffer some loss this season, the condition is by no means desperate. The prices for wheat are phenominally high and even with a diminished crop the returns will be better than during many years when the average price prevailed. The fortunate farmer, however, is the one who has cut away from the grain-growing idea and has devoted more of his attention to cattle. The hay crop has been phenominal, dairy products are up in price and in good demand. The situation can hardly be called average, but it might be a great deal worse, and farmers seem less concerned over it than many people whom the situation effects but slightly in comparison.

THIEF RIVER BOY ENTERS MINISTRY

Rev. Earl Weeks Ordained on Sunday at the Synod Church—Was Impressive Ceremony.

Theol. Cand. Earl Weeks, graduate of the Thief River Falls high school and also of Park Region Luther college, Fergus Falls, and Luther Seminary, St. Paul, was ordained as a minister of the Gospel before a large concourse of people at the Synod church in this city on Sunday. The ordination service was performed by Rt. Rev. Bjorge, of Red Wing, president of the Minnesota district, assisted by Rev. I. T. Aastad, pastor of the local Synod church; Rev. Bjornson, of Mavie, Rev. Storaasli, of Warren; Rev. Sabo, of Grygla, and Rev. Ordahl, of Holt. The proceedings were very impressive and were followed with the closest attention by the large audience.

After the ordination ceremory a dinner was served for the pastors assisting and other visitors at the home of the candidate's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks, 322 Second street.

In the afternoon a special service was held at the church at which all the pastors who were present at the morning ceremony, as well as Rev. O. P. Staavas, pastor of the United Lutheran church in this city, delivered inspiring farewell addresses to the young minister. Rev. Weeks also delivered an address, in which he thanked all present for their good wishes and encouraging words.

Relatives of the newly ordained pastor who were present at the ceremonies were: Hon. J. J. Dalen, Hayfield, Minn., an uncle, and Mrs. H. J. Lindelien, of Gary, an aunt.

On Monday afternoon Rev. Weeks left for Kirkoven and Grove City, Minn., having received a call to begin his work at those places jointly. He is the first graduate of the Thief River Falls schools who has entered the ministery and his former teachers and classmates will follow his career with much interest and the most sincere good wishes.

KELLOGG INSPECTS FLOOD CONDITIONS

Accompanied by a Committee of Local People He Makes a Journey to Highlanding.

Frank B. Kellogg, Republican candidate for United States senator, arrived in the city last evening, and will deliver an address at the fair grounds this afternoon.

Inasmuch as Mr. Kellogg will in all probability have considerable to do with the framing of legislation for some years to come, this was deemed an excellent opportunity for impressing on him the need of some relief from the flood conditions on the upper Red Lake river. He therefore consented to form one of a party making a tour of inspection as far as Highlanding.

An early breakfast was served for the party at the Hotel Brumund and the start made shortly after six o'clock. The members of the party are: Mr. Kellogg, W. B. Fuller, C. L. Hanson, I. C. Richardson, Senator D. P. O'Neill, George G. Johnson, Math Barzen, W. E. Baker and R. H. Ross.

DON'T CUT RUSTED GRAIN TOO EARLY

There's nothing to be gained by cutting rusted grain early, according to H. L. Bolley, pure seed commissioner of North Dakota, in a statement issued this week.

Farmers, Mr. Bolley says, have been under the impression that rusted grain should be cut early. In adopting this process, he says, the farmers nip the wheat in the milk, and the result is that the entire crop shrivels.

By noon today all the exhibits for the fifteenth annual fair of the Pennington County Agricultural society will be in place. The first day is always largely given over to the classifying and placing of exhibits, and yesterday's showing was no indication of what the fair will become when everything is properly arranged.

Good First-Day Crowd.

The attendance on the first day was very satisfactory. It was, however, a drifting crowd, and the consequence was that the grand stand was but thinly populated when the ball game between Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls was called. People would not sit still long enough to watch a performance of this kind when on every hand attractions of a more unusual nature called them.

The Carnival Popular.

The Clifton-Kelly carnival company, the concern having charge of the amusement features of the fair, is proving very popular. They are presenting a class of attractions decidedly out of the ordinary and their several tents, merry-go-around, ferris wheel, etc., are being liberally patronized. This concern opened at the fair grounds on Monday evening and will remain during the balance of the week. Besides the regular shows for which admission is charged, the Cliffton-Kelly people put on several free exhibitions in front of the grand stand every day. One of these, the diving dog, proved a great novelty for the children.

In the Women's Building.

In this department the exhibits were early in place and are particularly fine. Fancy work of every kind and description is here displayed in profusion, as well as household articles of rare design and artistic workmanship. The woman's building has thus far received much the greatest attention from visitors, this being partly because the exhibits there were early in place, but more particularly because of the really artistic manner in which the displays had been assembled.

The Cattle Display.

The big feature of this fair will be the display of dairy cattle. Prof. A. J. McGuire, of St. Anthony Park, lecturer and demonstrator of the agricultural extension division of the university of Minnesota, is the judge in this division, and as he is recognized as one of the foremost cattle authorities in the state his verdicts will be of more than usual importance and interest. Prof. McGuire was formerly superintendent of the North Central Experiment station at Grand Rapids, and had visited Thief River Falls on a number of occasions before.

While representatives from all the herds to be exhibited were not in place this morning, practically all the stall room had been reserved and it is certain that the display of stock of this kind will be the best ever seen in any one county of Northwestern Minnesota this year. Dairying is coming to the front with leaps and bounds in Pennington county, and conditions this year are such as to give it an added impetus.

The Holstein cattle exhibited by Henry Woolson and John Conklin are exceptional specimens and visitors from other sections said that they had seen none better anywhere. The Conklin herd is headed by Governor DuChien, one of the finest bulls in the state, while at the head of the Woolson herd is a son of this same famous animal. The Shorthorn display of R. L. Muzzy also attracted much attention, as did the Guernsey cattle shown.

The Sheep and Hogs.

But one pen of sheep had been entered for exhibition last evening, but more will be in place today. Sheep raising is an industry to which more and more attention is being paid in the county and the specimens shown bore evidence to the fact that it might prove a paying proposition to devote more time to the possibilities offered in this line.

But few hogs were on the ground yesterday, the bulk being of the Poland-China breed. This exhibit will also be filled up by noon today, up to which time it is likely entries will be permitted.

Some Fine Potatoes.

From the number of displays at hand the first day it is certain that the potato exhibit will be larger and better than in any previous year. The Early Ohio and Burbank seem to be the varieties most favored and those shown are as fine as any grown in this country. The season has been good for this kind of crop and it is attracting a great deal of attention.

Garden products, such as beans, peas, beets and onions were liberally in evidence on the first day, and the display will be largely augmented this forenoon.

The Poultry Display.

Perhaps in no department with the one exception of dairy cattle has such strides apparently been made as in poultry. The fence along the south side of the fair grounds is lined with coops containing hens and cocks of all the best laying varieties as well as the heavier breeds raised principally for their value as table fowl. Chickens of practically every known variety seem to be represented in the display. There are Asiatics, in which division the Brahmas, Cochins and Langshangs belong, as well as the better known American varieties—the Plymouth Rock (buff, barred and white), Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds and Dominiques. Duck, geese, turkeys, and every pair of peacocks were interesting parts of this department.

Barns Full of Horses.

While no horses were entered for exhibition yesterday, the racing stalls were practically all filled. There were in the neighborhood of fifty head on the ground, and there will be some good sport this afternoon. The race card is published at the head of the column.

The mule race yesterday was an amusing event. These mules have proven a big drawing card everywhere they have been shown this summer and they added to their reputation by their performance yesterday. The owner permits local parties

MASONS REMODEL LODGE QUARTERS

Improvements to Cost About $1,800, and Entire Second Story to be Occupied.

The Masons of Thief River Falls are making improvements in the lodge quarters which will entail an outlay of approximately $1,800. The entire second floor of their building on Main avenue will be devoted to the use of the fraternity and will provide the finest lodge accommodations possessed by any secret organization in this section. The room on the north side of the building, formerly occupied by the Antlers' club, has been taken over and will be the billiard parlor under the new arrangement. The reading room of the lodge will occupy the south half of the Main avenue front of the building, while the regular lodge room will take up the entire west half of the building as heretofore, this room being 30x80 feet.

Adjoining the reading room will be a ladies' dressing and waiting room, fitted up with a dresser, tables and lounging chairs. Next to this appartment is the kitchen, a room 12x18 feet having been provided for this purpose. Double sound-proof doors have been placed between this last room and the lodge quarters proper in order that all preparations for lunch or banquet may be made in the first-named department and the finished tables rolled into the lodge room.

On the north side of the entrance hall are located the ante room and the preparation and property quarters. These have been allowed ample space, the entire plan having been laid out with a view solely to convenience.

The floors throughout will be of white maple, with a wainscotting of the same wood four feet high. Above this the rooms will be plastered and calsomined. The old radiators have been taken out and the narrow style of wall radiator put in along the north and west sides. The floor will be covered with strip carpets which may be rolled up and removed in case the room is to be used for other than lodge purposes.

The Brascolite type of light of an appropriate design is to be installed throughout. The kitchen and two toilets will be finished in white tile and the floors and furniture will be varnished.

The work is expected to be completed about Sept. 1.

BOARD OF REVIEW IN DAILY SESSION

City Personal Property Lists Have Been Gone Over and But Few Changes Made.

The entire city council has been in session this week, sitting as a board of review, the subject of their deliberations being the books of City Assessor B. E. Dahlquist.

The personal property division has been practically completed and but few alterations from the figures made by the assessor were found necessary. The real estate assessments are now in process of adjustment, and the council expects to be through by the end of the week. A notice in another column of this issue of The Times informs property owners that they may appear before the board on Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of registering any kick they may have against the figures submitted.

Assessor Dahlquist, according to members of the board, has presented the most thorough assessment roll ever handed in to a board in this section. He has followed out a system which not only simplifies the work for this year, but which will prove of great value in fixing valuations in the future.

WARROAD RUN ON AUGUST 19

Annual Socialbility Tour of Thief River Falls Boosters Will Be Made on That Date.

ASK OTHER CLUBS TO JOIN

Secretary Lincoln Will Suggest That Communities Along the Route Arrange Their Outing Dates to Conform With Above.

The long-anticipated auto run to Warroad and the Lake of the Woods under Commercial club auspices will probably be held Saturday, August 19, although the date has not been definitely settled. The tour will be held sometime in the month of August, according to the plans suggested by Chairman J. H. McKinney of the good roads committee of the club.

The plan is to leave here in the morning, arriving at Warroad in the evening, spend the night there and make a lake trip Sunday to some of the many pretty islands, where a fish dinner is to be served. The ladies will be taken on the trip and it will be more in the nature of an outing than a trade extension tour. Business may be combined with pleasure and many will meet business acquaintances in different towns enroute, as a portion of the journey has already been covered in the auto run to Roseau last year.

Others May Join.

The secretary will issue invitations to other clubs to join the party, either here or enroute, and it is expected that at least 75 cars will make the journey. It will be an ideal trip over good roads and with every possible courtesy shown members of the party at Warroad. Correspondence already had by the club with Warroad boosters indicates that they expect to entertain the visitors in a pleasant manner. To many it will be the first trip to this beautiful lake, recognized as one of the most attractive sheets of inland water in the United States.

Will Make One Stop.

It is probable that the party will stop at either Greenbush or Roseau for dinner. These details will all be worked out before the day of the trip. Those who expect to make the journey should make their arrangements early, plan to carry a Thief River Falls banner and to be on time promptly at the club rooms in order that the start may be made without delay. The secretary is planning a small folder, seting forth some of the possibilities afforded in Thief River Falls and Pennington county and these may be used as an advertising medium, in a way, and to introduce the members of the party as a complete list of those who are to make the trip will be contained in the folder, providing the secretary is notified in time to get this folder issued before the tour is made.

BASE BALL OVER FOR THE SEASON

Action of Surrounding Teams in Disbanding Force Action on Thief River Falls.

The 1916 base ball season has come to a close, so far as the Thief River Falls team is concerned. Inability to longer get teams in the neighborhood as opponents is the principal reason for quitting the field this early, but it is understood that finances were also running low and it was considered best to stop before a large deficit resulted. The teams at practically all the towns in the neighborhood have disbanded for the season and Manager C. A. Nason found it impossible longer to book desirable dates. Some of the neighbors quit the field before their schedule was played out and Thief River Falls has a number of games coming on the home grounds which will not now be played.

The ball team has not been a financial success and the management finds itself some $500 in arrears. The sum has been guaranteed by a few men and all debts will be paid, but it has been suggested that a more general distribution of the burden would look well. The team has done pretty good work on the average and it is not the fault of the organization that matters did not turn out well. The evening games attempted during the week days proved losing propositions and the Sunday attendance, while generally good, was not sufficient to overcome the loss.

But whatever the cause of the shortage may be, the fact remains that it must be made up, and it would hardly be right to ask five men to bear it all.

"The Curse of American Cities."

Under the above caption the Duluth Evening Herald prints a powerful editorial on the subject of city rule by minorities, and takes the result of the recent charter election in Thief River Falls as an example. The showing made by the people of this city is even worse than the Herald seems aware, for instead of the three thousand people with which that paper credits us, we have at least six thousand. The Duluth paper characterizes the lack of interest in a matter of such importance as "disgraceful," and the fact that the people of Thief River Falls are by no means singled out for censure helps the case but little. The rejection of the charter was a mistake, but its being defeated because there were 241 votes cast against it in a city of six thousand people is a "disgrace," and nothing else. The Herald's article follows:

> The great curse of our American cities is the fact that they are ruled by minorities. That fact is contrary to general supposition, contrary to the theory of our government, and diametrically opposed to the conception of government mapped out by our forefathers. But it is no less a fact, for all that.
>
> What would you think, for instance, of a city of ninety thousand people which allowed less than seventy-five hundred of its inhabitants to decide for or against any given policy of importance? ; It sounds impossible, perhaps; and yet that is exactly what is done in our cities time and again. And the disgusting thing is that the minorities are allowed to get away with it without serious hindrance.
>
> We've had an example of the way things go right in Minnesota within a few days. Thief River Falls, with something considerably better than three thousand population, was considering the proposition of adopting a new charter; but the decision went against the change. Who made the decision? Was it the three thousand? Not by a good deal. Just two hundred and forty-one of the more than three thousand made the decision—and what the two hundred and forty-one decided was what determined the action for the other seven hundred and fifty-nine. And all but about six score of the seven hundred and fifty-nine stood for it without a protest.
>
> Maybe the charter shouldn't have been changed. That is beside the question. The fact is this: That in an election in which the basic government of their home city was concerned, less than a third of the voters of Thief River Falls took the trouble to go to the polls and vote either yes or no on the proposition. There are more than 1,000 voters there and only 358 of them voted.
>
> It's a disgraceful thing, of course, but Thief River Falls isn't all alone in being so disgraced. Every city in the country suffers from the same sort of thing. Almost never is the full voting strength of a locality represented at the polls, no matter what the question at issue. The proportion will run anywhere from five-sixths in a case of unusual excitement over some person or plan, down to lower than one-tenth, which was all the vote amounted to in Duluth's recent school election.
>
> If anybody wants to know why it is that grafters and incompetents flourish so easily in American cities, he can find the answer right there—in the fact that most of those who have to pay taxes to raise the sums the grafters steal and the incompetents waste, don't seem to care. And under such circumstances, the grafters naturally take all they can get their hands on, and unless they find the established methods too slow and resort to black hand and lead pipe systems, they frequently go on for years without serious opposition.
>
> Minority rule is the curse of our cities—and the minority rule is due to nothing in the world except indifference on the part of the citizens. Maybe it will be different when women vote—there are those who say it will. But human nature, both male and female, being what it is, a safer prediction is that the minority will continue to rule until the majority wake up to the fact that they are systematically throwing away their birthright, without getting even a smell of pottage in return.

Nothing is to be gained by trying to hide the fact that the wheat crop of the Northwest has been seriously injured by rust. The extent of the damage cannot be even approximately estimated, but certain sections have suffered severely. A few years ago a similar condition would have proved of vastly greater importance to the farmer than it will now. The gradual breaking away from the one crop system and the devoting of a greater acreage to the maintaining of cattle has placed the farmer in a position which enables him to withstand the effect of a short wheat crop better than ever before. People are coming to realize the fact that, no matter how high the price of wheat may go, the crop is subject to so many different vicissitudes which may set it back or cause its total destruction that it is the height of folly and improvidence for them to place their total dependance upon it. A grass failure is practically unheard of and there is always a market for the products of the cow.

———o———

It doesn't require very much courage to drift with the crowd, nor any vast amount of originality to find out first what the majority thinks and then trim your own opinions to fit. Conscientious men and newspapers are very often alligned on the temporarily loosing side of a proposition, but this is a small price for them to pay for the satisfaction of knowing they are right.

And, appropos of nothing in particular, the defeat of the charter providing for the city manager form of government for Thief River Falls is not one of the things pointed to with pride by the city's boosters right at this minute. That charter, or one very similar, will finally be adopted by the people, and they will then wonder how they ever could have been unwise enough to oppose it the first time.

———o———

The price of common print paper still keeps soaring. For stock formerly costing $2.10 per hundred pounds over $5.00 is now asked—and the end is not yet. While some raise in price is undoubtedly justified, any such advance as this is out of reason and publishers everywhere are howling. The paper makers claim that the scarcity of materials is the cause of the trouble, and blame the war. But the conflict in Europe should have no very great effect on American spruce. As for the inability to secure bleaching material, this should not make any great difference inasmuch as no white stock is being turned out. A federal inquiry on the subject will probably result, and while these are generally unsatisfactory as far as the public is concerned, the facts might be brought out. No one will want the mills to lose money on their product, but these advances have been too heavy and numerous.

———o———

A Georgia paper says: "If you see an editor who pleases everybody, there will be a glass plate over his face and he will not be standing up." This does not, however, mean that an editor should be absolutely devoid of opinions, nor that he should lack the courage to express any he may have, nor wait to see if they will be popular before expressing them. Editors who follow this plan may last quite a while, but they are of about as much value to their community and command as much respect and influence as though they were already reposing under a glass plate, dressed in one garment, open at the back.

———o———

It seems to be a particularly hard matter for Democratic editors to get the fact properly assimilated that Theodore Roosevelt is not a candidate for president of the United States They are dividing their time about equally between avoiding Hughes and abusing Roosevelt, claiming that the colonel left the Progressive party to die in the desert and that therefore Hughes cannot and should not be elected. These editors would be in an awful fix if their dependable boogie man should die and leave them to fight the campaign out on the record made by their party during the past four years.

———o———

The Red Lake Falls Gazette says that the Jefferson Highway "will be so made and marked that a cross-eyed Thief River Falls man can go all the way to New Orleans without asking a question." And the Gazette might very truthfully have added that were it not for certain Thief River men who are able to see and walk and talk most particularly straight it is altogether likely that the Jefferson highway would never have been laid out so as to run through the enterprising city of Red Lake Falls.

———o———

After giving a number of reasons why the eastern route should have been chosen by the Jefferson Highway commission instead of the central, the Brainerd Journal-Press adds: "It means hardship and sacrifice for a long time to come for the counties through which it will pass and who will reap only a minimum amount of benefit for the money expended." And yet the people of Brainerd put forth every argument at their command in favor of the selection of the route on which their city is situated.

———o———

Congressman Lindbergh, of the Sixth district, seems to think that this country simply cannot get along unless he is in Washington to look after things. The people of the state intimated at the primaries that they did not care for the Little Falls statesman as a United States senator, but Charlie evidently believes that he was beaten for that office simply because his constituents could not get along without him in the lower house. There's nothing stuck-up about Lindberg. He is willing to serve most any place.

———o———

The speech of Charles E. Hughes accepting the Republican nomination as candidate for president, is just the kind of an utterance all good Americans hoped it would be. Mr. Hughes goes to the heart of the problems now confronting the American people and there is no attempt at evasion. It is patriotic, fearless and positive.

FIRST TRIP OVER ENTIRE HIGHWAY

Jefferson Road Officials Stop Over Enroute to Northern Terminus at Winnipeg.

ALL IN SHAPE FOR TRAVEL

Meeting Requirements of Commission Will be Small Matter, Cost Being But Nine Dollars Per Mile For Mileage Within County.

The first official trip over the route selected by the Jefferson highway managers was made last week, the party reaching Thief River Falls on Thursday afternoon. So correctly had they been able to arrange their schedule that it was but a few minutes past the time set when they arrived. The members of the party were: J. D. Clarkson, Missouri, general manager of the Jefferson Highway association; Walter Parker, New Orleans, secretary of the association; S. Wolstencroft, Des Moines, publicity manager of the highway; Paul Nesbitt, Macalester, Okla., president of the Oklahoma Jefferson Highway association; Paul Russell, Paola, Kan.; O. England, Bethany, Mo., and Edward Alderman, Nevada, Mo. Besides these the officials were accompanied by the following: Earl Cardoff, Owatonna; A. P. Toupin, Oklee; J. A. Duffy, G. F. Henning and W. H. Gilfillan, Red Lake Falls, and Roy K. Bliler, Bemidji.

Entertained Here.

The party was taken in charge upon their arrival here by a committee from the Commercial club, and given supper at the Hotel Evelyn. The tourists were hungry and no attempt was made to get them to talk during the progress of the meal. At its close the visitors were escorted to the Commercial club rooms, where a sort of informal reception was held. No set speeches were delivered, but a number of the members of the party spoke of the progress made in the laying out of the highway and of the enthusiasm with which the project had been received everywhere. The fact that the Jefferson highway would pass through this section had already proven a great stimulus to road building throughout districts traversed, and indications were that that the main road would be tapped by arteries from the east and west along practically its entire length.

Enthusiasm on Trip.

In every city or village through the party passed the people turned out and gave the members an enthusiastic welcome. Everywhere they were promised that whatever it was necessary to do locally in order to secure and maintain the highway would be done with a will and at once. As an indication of the way people feel toward the project the following was told by Manager Clarkson: "Near Staples the worst hill on the entire trip was encountered, and the official car had considerable trouble in negotiating the grade. This was referred to as soon as Staples was reached, and the suggestion made that it would improve the route if this grade were cut down. At the next stop Manager Clarkson received a telegram from Staples informing him that $1,500 had been raised by private subscription for the purpose of performing the work. In every city passed through the same spirit was manifested and the visitors were highly pleased with the interest evidently taken in the undertaking.

Leave for the North.

The journey to the north was continued on Friday morning, the party leaving at 8 o'clock. The official car was accompanied by the following representatives of Thief River Falls: Daniel Shaw, president of the Northern Minnesota Jefferson Highway association; C. L. Hanson, member of the executive committee of the same organization; J. H. McKinney, Judge J. M. Bishop, Senator D. P. O'Neil, M. C. Cutter and Math Barzen. The car belonging to the last-named gentleman has perhaps been more often in service during this campaign for the highway than any in this section. Mr. Barzen has always been the first to volunteer for any trip and he has been among the most consistent boosters for the project since it was first broached.

Engineer to Winnipeg.

W. E. Monks, district state engineer for Pennington and Red Lake counties, accompanied the official car through to Winnipeg at the request of Mr. Clarkson. Mr. Monks will have charge of the highway for a considerable stretch and his knowledge of road building and upkeep enabled him to supply some valuable information along the line. Senator O'Neill accompanied the party as far as the boundary, the remainder turning back at Karlstad.

The people of the last-named village and also of Bronson gave the party an enthusiastic reception, and a number of cars from both places accompanied the officials as far as Halleck.

Will Appoint Committee.

Each county will have a committee of seven citizens to look after the work within its own borders. These committees have not yet been appointed, but this will be the next thing on the program. In addition to these committees, the general manager will make regular trips along the line to see that the highway is kept in proper condition. The entire stretch will be in good shape for travel by next summer, there being very few places needing any great amount of repair, even at the present time.

The First Cost.

Considerable has been said concerning the cost of the road to the different counties. This has been placed at the sum of $9.00 per mile the road traverses, this amounting to about $250 for Pennington country.

The highway will have to be properly kept up and marked, but in this the people themselves are more interested than the road officials, as travel would cease if this were not done even though the road continued as the official route of the highway. In proportion to the benefits to be derived the cost is a bagatele.

The trip was made in a Chalmers car, presented to the highway managers by the manufacturers.

The Party Returns.

The party again passed through Thief River Falls on the south-bound trip yesterday morning. Secretary Lincoln hastily called together about 20 members of the Commercial club and these met with Mr. Clarkson and the other officers of the highway association for the purpose of discussing the necessary county organization. Mr. Clarkson went over the plan of finances and membership for the different counties along the line. The county units will consist of seven members, as follows: A chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer and a board of three directors. The county organization will be part of the state board, which in turn will be headed by vice president and three directors.

Membership fees will be in the nature of voluntary contributions, and will range from $1,000 to $5.00. The state and county organizations for Minnesota have not yet been perfected, but the membership will be announced at an early date.

Glad Hand at Winnipeg.

Mr. Clarkson stated that the party had been received with much enthusiasm at Winnipeg and had been assured that the people of the Canadian city will do everything in their power to aid the project. According to the manager, there is no question but that the extreme northern end of the highway will be well looked after. Mr. Parker assured the gathering that the roads over the southern stretch were already in excellent condition and would be made better. Mr. Clarkson spoke for the central portion of the route and said that this section would certainly not allow the two ends to outstrip it in the race for good roads.

The officials were very much pleased with the reception they received on their northward journey, and were now more positive than ever that the project will be a success.

Court Adjourned.

The regular June term of the district court was adjourned on Thursday evening after having been in session since June 26, with the exception of a short adjournment over the Fourth of July.

The last case to be tried was that of Laurence W. Larson against Betsey Martinson and others, involving the portion of certain lands in Pennington county. After hearing the testimony Judge Grindeland took the case under advisement.

A special session will be held on August 24 for the purpose of hearing the case of J. C. Remi Charest against J. M. Bishop.

Sunday's Concert.

The weather was too hot for any sensible purpose on Sunday and the crowd attending the band concert at South Side park was consequently not as large as it should have been. The music was highly appreciated, however, and the concerts will be continued on Sunday afternoons throughout the summer. Some of the band boys are absent on their vacations but there are always enough on hand to make a much better band than most cities in the neighborhood can produce.

Rain Spoiled Excursion.

The excursion over the Soo railroad to Cass Lake on Sunday was not patronized as well as expected. The rain early in the morning had the effect of stopping many who had intended making the trip from going. Only about 25 tickets were sold at the station here, and the patronage all along the line was correspondingly light. Those who went, however, report having had a delightful outing.

New Flag Pole.

A new flag pole, 30 feet in length, now adorns the dome of the court house. A new flag was also recently secured and was unfurled to the breeze for the first time on Wednesday, the opening day of the Pennington county fair. The pole is of western fir and of sufficient diameter to withstand the strain put upon it when the flag is up and any ordinary wind blowing.

Returns From Vacation.

Secretary F. T. Lincoln returned Saturday from his vacation, which was spent at his former home, Grand Forks. While there Mr. Lincoln took much interest in the success of the fair, which he says was a hummer. He also took the opportunity to do some boosting for the Pennington county exhibition. and says that a number of people from the North Dakota metropolis will swell the crowd at Thief River Falls this week.

Fine New Signs.

O. E. Mogensen, the clothier, has placed a large electric flash sign at the entrance to his store. The new devise is of the upright variety, is very attractive and can be seen for a long distance. The Oen Mercantile company will soon complete the installation of a similar sign on the corner occupied by them. Roy Lambert of the Peoples' Drug store, is another merchant who will employ this means of advertising his place of business. Besides these, Maurice Giller, the clothier, announces that the finest gilt-letter sign in the city will soon adorn the entrance to his store. These signs are all of the latest and best to be procured and adds much to the live appearance of the city, especially at night.

Big Reduction in Fords.

M. McFarland, local agent for the Ford automobile, on Saturday received word that on August 1, there would be a reduction of $80 in the selling price of this popular machine. The notice stated that the price on touring cars at Detroit after that date would be $360, which would bring it down to $388.65 laid down in Thief River Falls. The former price on these machines with the freight paid was $468. The McFarland agency has an announcement in another column of this issue.

Case Examinations Held.

O. C. Olwin, of Fargo, chief clerk in the railway mail service for this district, conducted what is known as "case examinations" for section B of Minnesota, at the post office in this city last week, F. H. Gobler and H. R. Rice being the parties examined as to their qualifications.

C. J. Hoffman, carrier on rural route No. 2 who has been on the sick list has returned to work.

Carrier E. M. Jaranson on city route No. 1, left yesterday on his annual vacation of two weeks.

Harry Bakken, R. F. D. carrier on route No. 1, is making deliveries with a new Ford automobile and is greatly delighting the patrons on the line by quick service.

Are in the Show Business.

Familiar faces greet everyone out at the fair grounds, not only among the spectators and visitors, but also among the other attractions. C. J. Jellhaug, for instance, is captain of the big merry-go-round; Doc Bailey, the twirler, sees to it that no one enters the tent of the dog and pony show without the proper credentials; Harold Provencher is performing the same duty at the tent wherein "The Days of '49" are being depicted, while Roeland Thompson disports himself in front of the Mac-Joe show. Secretary F. T. Lincoln of the Commercial club, with Tom Stauff as his assistant, are checking up on the whole shooting match, their duty being to see that the proper percentage of all receipts are turned back to the fair association.

Will Erect Bungalow.

Architect Joseph C. Lutz has completed the plans for a $3,000 bungalow to be erected at First street and Knight avenue for H. O. Loken. This residence will be thoroughly modern in all its appointments and will be one of the best in the western part of the city.

Card of Thanks.

Commercial Club Notes

With the passing of the summer months and the near approach of Autumn the activities of the Commercial club will be renewed with keen vigor by those who have taken an active part in the business men's organization. The auto run to Warroad this month, beginning of market days, which are to be conducted during August, September and October. resumption of the club dinners, with interesting programs and round table discussions in October; a big community picnic at some one of the many pretty farm homes on the river. and preliminary preparations for the big dairymen's convention this fall, will liven things up and give those interested plenty to do.

The directors will meet Wednesday, August 9, and the regular club meeting will be held Thursday, August 24. Club meetings will be held twice a month beginning with September and at the August meeting it is hoped and expected that there will be a good attendance. During the warm months of the summer it has been impossible to get members out to meetings and for this reason they have been discontinued only as special occassion demanded them. With the coming of cooler weather it is expected that members will again enter into the spirit of Commercial club work and plan to be present at meetings.

Plans for publicity along somewhat different lines this year are being made by the secretary and the newspapers will be used as much as possible to put Pennington county interests to the fore, especially the farming interests, while Thief River Falls will come in for its share as in the past. Generally speaking, a lively fall and winter in club circles is planned and members are urged to participate with the same interest as has marked the successful year now a matter of history.

FIFTEENTH FAIR IS A BIG EVENT

to do the driving, there being four entries. Clarence Lumans was the winner in the race yesterday, Heinnie Anderson being second, and Joseph Lutz third. The other starter was disqualified for some reason or other.

The Ball Game.

Thief River Falls—erstwhile Nason's Nobles—sipped of the sweet syrup of revenge, in the only real sport feature of the fair's first day, when they defeated Red Lake Falls by a score of 8 to 1. The game demonstrated the veracity of the statement that had the game with the down-river team been played before the Hibbing game in the double-header of two weeks ago, the result would have been different.

"Doc" Bailey was on the mound for the locals, and was opposed by "Kief" Keifenheim. Bailey let the visitors down with but two hits, one of which was a scratch bingle, while his team-mates garnered a goodly harvest of swats during the contest.

Thief River started the game with a rush, the first five men rapped the pellet for safe bingles. These hits netted four runs, and gave the locals a lead that could not be overcome, also tending to dishearten the ambitious young gentlemen from the French settlement down the creek. The lone tally for the Red Lakers came as the result of a little donation party, a couple of errors and a bad case of locomotor ataxia contributing to make the affair a success.

Whaling, at third for the locals, added to the "free act" section of the afternoon program by the Clifton-Kelly shows, by making a thrilling one-handed grab of a hard hit ball. The entire team played gilt-edge ball, and the treat was relished by the fans. Being the last game of the season for the locals, each member of the team felt it his bounden duty to "be there" and assist in the festivities attendant upon the administration of severe chastisement to the over-ambitious satellites from Red Lake Falls, who have soared high and glistened mightily on the base-ball diamonds of northwestern Minnesota during the past four months.

A. E. Roese, until recently publisher of the Todd County Argus, accompanied by his son, Harry E. Roese, and R. L. Hagg, the latter a resident of Gully, passed through here on Monday on their way to Warroad and Baudette. Mr. Roese a short time ago disposed of his newspaper at Long Prairie and is enjoying a series of long-distance auto tours before again engaging in business.

Editor E. M. Wilson, of Newfolden, and a party of business men were in the city yesterday for the purpose of seeing what could be done in regards to having the "Jeff" highway pass through that village.

RED LAKE DRAINAGE PROJECT IS ONE OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE

Those who would have it that the state of Minnesota and bona fide settlers as well as all other resident and non-resident, tax-paying farmers within the bounds of the Red Lake Valley Watershed should bear the bulk of the expenses of the Red Lake Drainage Project, now under construction, would do well to secure a copy of the July 15th issue of "Farm, Stock and Home" and read carefully the article on first editorial page entitled "Drainage and Its Problems."

Anyone interested who might not have handy a copy of same could, no doubt, procure one by enclosing the price of five cents with request to F. S. and H., Minneapolis, in case the entire article is desired. However, the following are a few pertinent extracts from the editorial:

"The suit brought against the state of Minnesota by the state of North Dakota for damage done to the later state through over-flow water from Minnesota ditches calls attention in a broad way to the problems of drainage. In matters of drainage, as well as in some other matters, we do not live to ourselves alone. The point is that our drainage problems must be taken as a whole. Open ditches and rapid transfer of water from where it falls to the narrow and constructed channels thru which it must later go are bound to bring inundations. The more complete the net-work of these ditches and the more rapidly the excess surface water is removed, the more certain will be such overflow in the future and the more wide-spread will be the ruin caused by such floods. The expense for damages to the over-flowed lands of the drainage systems should and must be borne by the Federal government if the states from which the over-flow waters come are not to be held responsible. The right to open and maintain drainage ditches, radically altering the normal outflow of water, must, in the end, become a Federal matter."

Yes, there are a lot of STRONG FACTS to prove that the U. S. government should take hold of the matter immediately and not only dilly dally with "surveys" but MAKE GOOD by an EARLY APPROPRIATION LARGE ENOUGH TO CARRY THE WORK THRU TO A FINISH. Furthermore, considering (if not wrongly informed) that there is a fall of only 87 feet in the Red river from Grand Forks, N. D., to Winnipeg, the writer will hazard a statement that the project might even be of international importance, requiring improvement of the Red river in and along its course both in U. S. and Canada. But, leaving all "speculation" aside for the present, "Uncle Sam" had better get busy right away. Here's a chance to make good for the people. We've had enough "surveys," Halvor. ON WITH THE RED LAKE DRAINAGE PROJECT. Out of the Red Lake Sloughs, I saw a new life arise.

SEN. CLAPP THINKS HUGHES WILL WIN

Candidate Will Receive Entire Normal Republican Vote Which Will Insure Victory.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—That Charles Evans Hughes will be victorious in the presidential election next November was the opinion expressed here today by Senator Moses Clapp of Minnesota, who will retire from the senate at the close of this session of congress.

Senator Clapp stated that from all indications Minnesota will contribute a substantial Republican pluraility in favor of former Supreme Court Justice Hughes, and that this example would be followed by Wisconsin. The progressive vote, he said. will favor Hughes.

"Mr. Hughes will be elected, in my judgment, beyond a doubt. I base this opinion upon the belief that the Republican vote is very much larger in normal times than the Democratic vote. Times were not normal in 1912. I have never been partial to the use of more than one name for a party. A Republican is a Republican. Those who were formerly Republicans will undoubtedly vote for Mr. Hughes and with a Republican vote of some millions greater than the Democratic vote. I am confident of a Republican victory in November."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Rose Noesen.

Death called Mrs. Rose Moesen, of Crookston, mother of Mrs. Wm. Mulry, of this city, on Friday evening at 11:45 o'clock after an illness of a week. A stroke followed by the severe heat of a week ago caused her death.

The deceased was 72 years of age and leaves a husband and ten children all of whom reside in Crookston with the exception of two daughters, one of whom resides in St. Paul, and Mrs. William Mulry, of Thief River Falls. Funeral services were conducted in Crookston Monday morning at 9:30 from the cathederal, where solemn Requiem was sung. Rev. Father M. Noesen, of Park Rapids, a son of the deceased, was celebrant assisted by Father A. Junghans deacon and Father M. Dufault, subdeacon. Right Rev. Bishop Corbett preached the sermon. There were a large number of the deceased's friends present to pay a final respect to this grand old woman. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Anton Anderson.

Mrs. Anton Anderson, for over thirteen years a resident of Pennington county, passed away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Angell, 409 Kendall avenue south, Saturday, July 29, at 10:45 a. m., death being due to pulmonary tuberculosis, from which the deceased had been suffering for the past year. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Norwegian Synod church. Rev. Bjornson, officiating. Interment followed in Greenwood cemetery. A large number of the true and staunch friends of the deceased attended the services to pay a final tribute of esteem to the memory of their departed friend.

Mrs. Anton Anderson was born at Bindalen, Norway, September 2, 1878, making her age at time of death 37 years, 10 months and 27 days. She came to America with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Angell, in the year 1900 and went to Kittson county, where she resided for three years. In 1903 she came to Thief River Falls with her parents. In 1906 she was united in marriage to Anton Anderson and to this union were born three children, ranging between the age of 3 to 9 years, and all surviving as follows: Clifford, Rolfe and Gudrun. She is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Angell, and brothers, Hans and Carl, both of this city, and Elias, who resides at Kratka on a farm, and sisters, Mrs. P. A. Kolden, of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. John Borgen, of Pelan. Her husband also survives her.

For the past months Mrs. Anderson has been in the city at the home of her parents receiving medical aid, her home being located on a farm 9 miles east of here. Mrs. Anderson was a member of the church in her community and was a regular attendant at the services so long as the condition of her health permitted.

In the death of Mrs. Anderson a beloved wife and mother as well as daughter and sister has been taken from this earthly life and a vancacy has been caused that cannot be filled. She was a woman of rigid honesty, sterling worth of character and unfailing friendship, and will be greatly missed. One of her chief characteristics was kindness to others. The Times extends its sincerest sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Mrs. Anna Moe.

The deceased was born in Norway October 14, 1852, making her age at time of death 83 years, 9 months and 14 days. THIEF RIVER FALLS ASTONISHED BY SIMPLE MIXTURE.

Thief River Falls people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. Because Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. F. J. Stebbins, druggist.

Will Help Everybody.

Todd County Argus: Minnesota has always been anxious to advertise her agricultural qualities and could have realized much upon the ambition had the Jefferson highway been routed over either the western or central route. As it is, the road from Little Falls to Bemidji passes through a country that is far below the average in every way than that to be found in the real farming districts farther west. The selected route has us beaten for distance, sand and jackpine—that is all. While local enthusiasts are naturally disappointed because of the selection, it is conceded that the controversy over the famous trail has had beneficial results in advertising this section and creating additional good roads sentiment. The loss, while still a loss, is not such a bitter one if these things are taken into consideration.

Those Responsible.

Clearbrook Journal.—L. Jensen, of Clearbrook, C. L. Hansen and Daniel Shaw, of Thief River Falls, Dr. Watson and Fred L. Farley, of Red Lake Falls, and Frank Lycan, of Bemidji, and many other moving spirits are directly responsible for our success in every respect for securing this National Highway. Hats off to them.

Should Be Made the Best.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The Jefferson highway from New Orleans to Winnipeg, from palm to pine, should be made the best of the great international highways. It will bring the people of the Mississippi valley in closer fellowship.

NATIONAL STRIKE IS R. R. MEN'S VOTE

Nearly Unanimous Report is Made by Four Brotherhoods in Authorizing Walkouts.

Nearly Every Railroad in U. S. is Effected and Takes in Approximately 450,000 Men.

The strike vote of the four railway brotherhoods has resulted overwhelmingly in favor of a nation-wide strike. A vote was taken among those affected in this city about three weeks ago.

The vote in itself does not mean strike, and no one has a right to term it a strike until the union chiefs call one. It is only an authorization to the union chiefs to declare a strike unless a reasonable settlement can be reached.

Between 90 and 95 per cent of the members of the brotherhoods have voted in favor of a nation-wide strike, thereby justifying the forecast, and affects practically every railroad in the United States and approximately 450,000 men.

The vote in the St. Louis district will probably exceed 95 per cent, while in San Francisco it is estimated that 99 per cent went on record in favor of the "walkout."

On the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad it is estimated at 98 per cent. 97 per cent was the strike percentage on the Missouri Pacific.

It is expected that the joint congessional committee named to investigate the railway situation will be deferred until after the November elections. House members are in favor of getting at it at once, while senators want it postponed. The committee will report at the next session of congress.

SOO BRIDGE FOREMAN MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Joe Weirus Falls From Ladder While At Work Near Karlstad And Is Injured.

Joseph Weirus, Soo bridge foreman, is confined to his home at 933 Horace avenue north, with injuries to his back as the result of having fallen from a ladder while at work near Karlstad, on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Although the injuries are painful they are not of a serious nature and he is now rapidly improving.

Foreman Weirus was doing some repair work with his crew and had placed the ladder on a cement block in order to reach a certain place where the work was being done. After he had reached the center of the ladder, it slipped in some manner at the base and as a result Mr. Weirus fell backwards onto the ground. He was brought to his home here the same evening.

Promoted.—Ole Eggerud, who has for some time been employed by the Soo Line here at the railroad yards as car repairer, has been promoted to car inspector.

PRESIDENT OF SOO LINE IS HOPEFUL

That Wheat Crop Will Yet Be Developed in North Dakota is His Belief.

Much Depends on Future Condition—Damage Has Been Overestimated is Impression.

Reports of black rust and blight coming into Minneapolis last Saturday caused more fear over the conditions of the grain crop of North Dakota than ever before this season.

Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo Line, said: "Notwithstanding bad reports, the grain crop along our line has been standing well against adverse weather conditions.

"We are making no effort to conceal our anxiety or to minimize the seriousness of the menace," Mr. Pennington said, "neither are we drawing conclusions from the extreme reports."

"It is true that there is black rust in many parts of North Dakota and that the hot weather has been trying. It is also true that to this time the crop has stood it well without damage serious enough to impair tonnage materially. I think it is impossible at this time to speak authoritatively in percentage figures as to damage. It is a question of weather from now on with the probability that if the weather turns favorable the damage will be found to have been somewhat overestimated."

While serious damage has been done, good judgment at the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce is that the crop will measure out well on a commercial basis if the weather takes a turn for the better.

HUGHES TO SPEAK IN TWIN CITIES

Republican Candidate For President Will Make Two Addresses in Minnesota on August 9.

The first important political rally of the 1916 campaign in the state of Minnesota will take place in the Twin Cities on August 9. Chairman E. L. Thornton of the State Central committee has appointed a local committee to have charge of the meeting and it is expected that large crowds will be present from all over the state.

Minneapolis has formed a Hughes' club, which is approaching the two thousand mark. It is proposed to form marching clubs which will be composed of several thousand, who will greet Mr. Hughes on his arrival. Other localities are also expected to organize Hughes' clubs. The republican league of Minnesota, which has a membership of several thousand, will hold its convention o nthe morning of August 9th, and a call for this purpose will be issued shortly.

NEGLECTED SILO-FIRE IS VERY SERIOUS MENACE

Ensilage Kept Too Long Develops An Alcohol Which May Cause Spontaneous Combustion.

A neglected silo is one of the most dangerous structures on the farm says R. W. Hargadine, state fire marshal.

The fire marshal is desirious of warning all farmers not to allow ensilage to remain too long confined. It develops an alcohol which not only is hard to combat, but it is a serious menace to those called upon to extinguish a silo fire.

Robert Carmichael, Dakota county farmer, and member of the Legislature, had a serious experience with his silo that should be a warning to all farmers.

It was a wooden silo and contained over 200 tons of 1914 ensilage. July 3rd he discovered fire ensuing from the top, and upon investigation found fire all through the center from top to bottom. Sixty neighbors, worked for 24 hours, helped him extinguish the blaze, and it was only by wetting down and throwing out the contents that the fire was controlled.

"It was the most stubborn blaze I ever saw," said Mr. Carmichael. "A man couldn't work in it but a few minutes before being overcome with fumes and reel about as though drunk. In fact, it was really burning alcohol. Advise farmers not to keep ensilgae too long, nor put wet or green hay in a barn. Spontaneous combustion is no myth."

Ted Burns, of Minneapolis, arrived in Thief River Falls Monday morning to take up a position at Furan & Benson's barber shop.

REPORT IS MADE OF SOIL SURVEY

Bureau of Soils Will Soon Issue Report on Investigations in Pennington County.

SOILS ARE FARGO SERIES

Advise is Given as to Drainage and Fertilization—Intimated That Best Results Are Not Now Being Obtained.

A report of the soil survey of Pennington County, Minnesota, made by the Bureau of Soils, will shortly be issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This report consists of 28 pages of text and includes a large map in colors, showing the location of the several types of soil in the county with reference to roads, schools, watercourses, and other landmarks.

The investigators found three series of soils, including nine different soil types, and Peat. Of the soils the Fargo clay loam is first in point of area,. with 141,632 acres; Fargo loam second, with 67,328 acres; Peat third, with 66,176 acres; and Benoit loam fourth, with 56,512 acres.

Of the handling of the soils in the county in general, the report says that crop rotation is not practised in the county, at least not designedly for the purpose of conserving the producing power of the soils. Under the present practise, the investigators state, weeds which are difficult to eradicate have gained a strong foothold. A rotation to include small grains, tame grasses, including clover and corn or other infertilled crops, has proved elsewhere its value in maintaining the productiveness of the soils as well as in controlling, to a considerable degree, weed growth and crop diseases. Such a system is most effective when accompanied by the use of barnyard manure and proper cultivation.

The soils of the Fargo series are dark brown to black, underlain by gray, yellowish or greenish-yellow, calcareous subsoils as heavy as or heavier than the soil.

Fargo Fine Sandy Loam.

This soil is inextensive and is confined largely to the east-central part of the county. Its surface shows less tendency to bake or become compact than the surface soils of the other Fargo soils. The type naturally drains more rapidly and and warms up earlier in the spring than do the others in the series. It is easily cultivated under a wide range of moisture conditions, and is a better corn soil than the heavier types of the series. Other crops common to the region, including potatoes, small fruit and garden vegetables, do well. The soil responds readily to good cultivation. The occasional growing of clover and the application of barnyard manure are beneficial. The investigators feel that the present methods of farming on this type are not such as to tend to conserve or increase its crop-producing power.

The Fargo Loam.

This class of soil consists of a dark-brown to black loam, underlain at about 12 to 18 inches by a rather heavy, gray, calcareous clay or silty clay, which extends to a depth of 3 feet or more. Fargo loam is extensively developed in the western part of the county; less so in the eastern part. Most of this soil has been made available for agriculture by drainage ditches. It is naturally strong, productive soil, well suited to staple crops, and can be cultivated under a somewhat wider range of moisture conditions than the clay loam of this series.

The Fargo Clay Loam.

This consists of about 6 to 18 inches of dark-brown to black clay loam, underlain by a rather heavy, gray, gravelly, calcareous silty clay or clay extending to a depth of three feet or more. The subsoil is a clay to silty clay, and is highly calcareous, meaning that it contains considerable deposits of lime or chalk.

In native sod land and in grain fields this soil becomes hard and compact in dry weather, with wide cracks showing in the surface material.

This type is extensive in Pennington county. It is developed only to a small extent, however, in the two western tiers of townships.

The Fargo clay loam is regarded as one of the best soils for general farm crops. Corn is not extensively grown on this soil as yet, although the yields obtained in some instances are held to be encouraging. Potatoes seem to do fairly well, but receive little attention. Small fruits and various garden and truck crops succeed. The investigators point out that this is a naturally strong soil, but that little effort has been made as yet to maintain or increase its productiveness.

Benoit Series.

The surface soils of the Benoit series are characteristically dark brown to black and are underlain by clean, more or less stratified, sandy and gravelly material about 3 to 5 feet in thickness, which in turn rests on gray, calcareous bowlder clay.

The Benoit Fine Sand occurs in the southwestern part of the county, where it is associated with other types of this series.

The native vegetation is similar to that of the Fargo soils. The Benoit fine sand produces good yields of the staple crops of the county in seasons of abundant rainfall but owing to its rather leachy character, crops suffer in dry seasons. Of the grain crops, rye is the most certain, owing to its earlier maturity. The type warms up quickly in the spring and is well suited to the growing of corn, potatoes and garden vegetables.

Benoit Fine Sandy Loam.

This soil is rather poorly drained naturally, but under the present systems of artificial drains is well to excessively drained. With good cultural methods and the use of some practical means of controlling overdrainage, reasonably good yields can be obtained under a wide range of climatic conditions.

There is also a heavy-substratum phase of this fine sandy loam which warms up quickly in the spring and is well suited to growing corn, potatoes, and other truck crops which do well with abundant rainfall.

The Benoit Loam.

Some fairly large areas of the Benoit loam are mapped in the western part of the county, adjoining the beaches classed as the Sioux soil. In seasons of abundant rainfall it is fairly productive of the crops common to the region, but since it is susceptible to drougth, the early maturing crops, such as rye, are the most dependable. In general the type is in need of good cultural methods, coupled with some practical means of controlling overdrainage. Temporary damming of the large drainage ditches at proper times would doubtless prove beneficial.

The Benoit Silt Loam.

Some large as well as small bodies of this type occur in the southwestern part of the county, adjoining the sand ridges mapped as Sioux soil.

The Benoit silt loam is productive, equaling the Fargo soils in crop-producing power, except possibly in very dry seasons.

The Peat Situation.

There are two phases of Peat, the typical Peat and the shallow phase. Only a small part of the Peat is in cultivation. Clover and timothy, corn, small grain, and potatoes do well, although the small grain crops produce rather low yields in proportion to the growth of straw. This indicates a need of potash and phosphate fertilizers. In places the addition of manure has proved beneficial. Compression of the Peat by the use of heavy traction engines and heavy horse or ox teams in plowing, as well as thorough trampling by live stock, improves land for cultivation.

Peat, shallow phase, is adapted to the same agricultural uses and requires the same treatment as the typical soil. Flax is usually the first crop grown on new broken areas, though oats, barley, and other grains are sometimes used. In older fields corn, small grains, potatoes, and certain truck crops are grown with a fair degree of success. The small grains make a heavy growth of straw but give relatively low yields.

The report also discusses in detail the Sioux series, consisting of dark brown to black terrace soils, occurring extensively in two western tiers of townships.

FEDERAL ROAD LAW IS POPULAR

One Measure Passed by Congress Concerning Which There Will Be No Criticism.

FIFTY-FIFTY WITH STATE

Good Roads Advocates Call Epoch-Making-Method of Distribution Fair and Impartial—Extends Over Period of Five Years.

No "pork barrel scandals" will result from the new Shackleford good roads law just signed by President Wilson, the authors declare. Instead they expect the system established—that of contributing federal aid to the states for the construction of good roads—will be free from criticism and so helpful in building up a system of internal improvements, that Congress will be willing, after the $75,000,000 is spent, to vote new appropriations.

Improve County Conditions.

Good roads advocates say the new law is epochmaking. It is intended, together with the rural credit system, to improve the conditions of country life and to stop the flow of population from the country to the city.

Good roads, with the automobile, will destroy the lonely existence of the farmer. Opportunities of association with neighbors, it is believed will make the country boy more willing to stay on the farm. It the automobile owners think the Shackleford law is intended solely for them, they are badly fooled. So says Representative Saunders of Virginia, one of the authors.

"There will be a howl going up to heaven if the Department of Agriculture picks for improvement only such main roads as the automobile owners prefer," said Representative Saunders. He is an automobile owner himself. "We want the backroads improved for the man who now is hemmed in on all sides in winter by impassible roads."

The appropriations, under the provision of the law, will be paid to the states in five installments—$5,000,000 the first year, $10,000,000 the second year, $15,000,000 the third year, $20,000,000 the fourth year, and $25,000,000 the fifth year.

The money will be divided among the states, one third in the ratio of the area, one third on the basis of population and one third on the basis of the number of miles of rural delivery routes.

Govenment Pays Half.

Payment for the construction of roads will be on a fifty-fifty basis. If the state agrees to provide half the cost, the federal government will furnish the rest. Road projects must be approved by the Department of Agriculture and the law is entirely silent on the nature of the improvement, whether it is a brick, macadam, or common dirt roads. These details are left entirely to the state.

"If this law fails to work, responsibility will rest on the Department of Agriculture, for it is vested with all power," said Representative Saunders. "Congress leaves hands off, and there will be no opportunity to say that Congress has played politics."

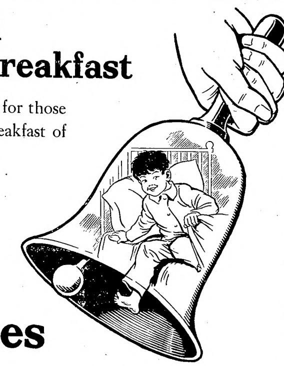
The Call To Breakfast

Has a new appeal for those who awake to a breakfast of

New Post Toasties



These new corn flakes bear a unique deliciousness because of their self-developed flavor and improved form. The flavor is the true essence of choice, ripe Indian corn. Unlike ordinary "corn flakes," the New Toasties do not depend upon cream and sugar for their palatability.

Try some dry—they're good that way and the test will demonstrate their flavor. Then try some with cream or rich milk. Note that New Post Toasties are not "chaffy" in the package; and they don't mush down when cream is added.

New Post Toasties are known by the tiny "bubbles" on each flake, produced by the quick, intense heat of the new process of making. They come in a wax-sealed package that preserves their oven crispness and delightful flavor—the most perfect corn flakes ever produced.

The Proper Selection.

Gonvick Banner: The choice of the central route through Minnesota as the course for the great Jefferson highway was a proper selection by the officials of the association. It is the most feasible route from the outset. Tourists over this route will see the best parts of Minnesota. It will traverse the state's choicest agricultural lands, the timbered and lake regions where the fertility and scenic beauties of the common wealth may be viewed in a no better way.

Perhaps Not.

St. Hilaire Spectator: We note the Thief River Falls papers have no mention of this village, nor have they ever, in connection with the county fair about to be held at that place. Knowing that a good share of the best exhibits come from this part of the county and that a great many people attend the fair from here, would it be amiss if there was a St. Hilaire Day?

Dave Gustafson and Miss Julia Peterson, who were united in marriage at Crookston the 20th of July, returned to this city last Friday morning after a short honeymoon to the southern part of the state. They will be at home after September 15 at 331 Kendall avenue north.

AWAKEN INTEREST IN SWIMMING POOL

Commercial Club and Park Board May Take Definite Steps in Matter Soon.

J. B. Arpin, of Grand Rapids, Wis., connected with the Northwestern Drainage company of Thief River Falls, was in the city the first of the week and interested certain members of the Commercial club and park board by his report of the success of the public swimming pool at his home city and in other places coming under his observation. It is too late in the season for the project to be taken up this year, but a move has been started to have the matter brought up early next spring.

Mr. Arpin and a committee from the club made an inspection for available sites along the banks of the river and found an ideal location near the Hanson & Barzen mill. The pool is made and ready to hand, the only requirement being that it be cleaned up and deepened. The expenditure of a small amount for gravelling the bottom and a slight daming of the stream would make a pool of ample capacity and one that would be kept clean by the overflow at all times.

The intention is to ask the city council to aid financially in the project and to place the maintenance of the pool in the hands of the park board. It is a good move and deserving of support from everyone.

BADGER SCHOOL CONTRACT AWARDED

Holt & George, of Thief River Falls, Are Successful Bidders on Plumbing Job.

The contracts for the $40,000 grade and high school building to be erected at Badger in Roseau county was awarded on Monday. Holt & George, of Thief River Falls, were among the successful bidders, securing the contract for the plumbing and sewage disposal plant. The general construction contract was let to the National Contracting company, of Alexandria; the heating and ventilating plants will be put in by the Virginia Plumbing & Heating company.

The new structure is one of the finest and most thoroughly equipped in Northern Minnesota. It will accommodate a total of 350 pupils and will contain five grade rooms, besides departments for manual training, domestic science and agricultural instruction. There will be three high school recitation rooms, lavatory and a large gymnasium and assembly room. This will be complete, with stage and library. The building will be of brick and frame.

J. C. Lutz, of Thief River Falls, is the architect.

Well-Known Editor Marries.

Attorney E. M. Stanton returned last evening from Bemidji, where he has been to attend the wedding of his kinsman, H. Mayne Stanton, editor of the Bemidji Sentinel, to Miss Gladys Stanton, also of Bemidji. The groom is one of the best-known and best-liked of the younger generation of newspaper men of the state and if he devotes the same amount of judgment and good sense to his new role that he has to the Sentinel since becoming its editor, the future should present but few vexatious problems. The bride is one of the most charming young ladies of the Beltrami metropolis, and we understand that this is really some praise. The newly married couple have the congratulations and well-wishes of a host of friends, not least among whom the newspaper bunch of the state wishes to be enumerated.

The Ladies' Aid of the Swedish Mission church meets next Wednesday afternoon, August 9, at 2:30. Mrs. Lars Johnson, 403 Tindolph avenue north, will entertain.

* * *

Thief River Falls society is interested in the engagement of Miss Nina Pennington, of Minneapolis, to George F. Piper, Jr., also of that city. This announcement was made the latter part of last week. Miss Pennington, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Pennington, her father being president of the Soo Line, was presented to society two years ago and has now become one of the most popular of the younger society girls.

* * *

On Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, at the home of Rev. O. P. Staavas, occurred the wedding ceremony which united Miss Cecilia Anderson and Mr. Elmer Roll. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Staavas, pastor of the United Lutheran church, and there were only a few in attendance. The bride wore a blue traveling suit and the groom wore a suit of blue. They were attended by Mrs. C. Anderson, aunt of the bride, and her cousin, Alfie. They left the same evening for Glenwood, the home of the groom's parents, to spend some time visiting before returning to this city to make their future home. The bride has made her home in Thief River Falls for a number of years having attended the public schools and she has also been employed as clerk in several of the city stores. The groom is at present employed by the Soo Line as switchman.

MANY CARS FOR WARROAD TRIP

All Pilgrims Should Announce Intention in Time to Get Names Into Booster Circular.

BIG RUN OF THE SEASON

People at Other End of Line Will Have All Preparations Made For One of the Biggest Outings Ever Seen.

The annual auto run of the Thief River Falls Commercial club will be made on August 19, Warroad being the objective point. This will not be a trade-extension tour in any way, the object being simply to get better acquainted with our neighbors and to note the improvements being made in the country between this city and the wonderful lake on the border.

Secretary F. T. Lincoln, of the Commercial club, has by common consent been selected to look after the preliminaries—at any rate these have, as usual, been left to him. He says that by the time Warroad is reached there should be 75 automobiles in line, the greater number of which will make the start from here. A number will also be picked up along the road, everyone wishing to join the party being cordially invited to do so.

It is very desirable that those intending to make the trip notify Mr. Lincoln of their intention before next Monday night. It is his intention to have printed a circular setting forth the object of the trip, the names of those making it, and a little dope telling the natives how easy it is to reach Thief River Falls from their place of residence and how well they will be used whenever they find it convenient to drop in.. Notifying the secretary of your intention to accompany the expedition is a mighty small matter in itself, but it will aid him greatly in the work to be done before the date of the event. Remember also, that there is no possible way in which you can get your name into introductory circular unless you make this notification. Do it now.

Facts to Bear in Mind.

Everything points to a large number of tourists taking advantage of this run to Warroad, and the committee, in order that there may be no misunderstanding, wishes to emphasize certain facts in connection with the run. The hospitable citizens of Warroad will undoubtedly do their part in the entertainment of the visitors but they are not expected to care for between two and three hundred people gratis, and the committee wishes it understood that individuals making the trip will be expected to pay their own expenses so far as the lake trip is concerned. The auto expense can be arranged by parties individually.

But Few Boats.

Advices from Warroad received by the secretary indicate that they are prepared to house and feed a large number of visitors, but that the matter of securing boats for a lake trip is more difficult. The Kenora is out of commission and there are three or four launches at Warroad with a capacity of perhaps twenty-five passengers each. These will care for about one hundred people and plans are being made to secure launches from Baudette and other lake points and have them available for the visitors for a Sunday morning trip. The expense of these launches must be borne by the tourists.

No Speeding.

Speeding on the trip will be positively prohibited. All autos will be required to keep a certain distance apart, remain in position indicated by W. J. LaBree, official starter, and leave different towns on signal. To avoid confusion it is absolutely necessary for autoists to be guided by the rules and instructions, otherwise the tour will be a Rube parade and a joke. Invitations have been sent to auto clubs and commercial clbus of nearby towns and along the route to join the tour and the same rules as govern autoists will apply to them if they join the party. More definite data as to the number of machines to be expected from other towns will be available when letters sent out by the secretary are acknowledged.

Hand in Names.

Only a few have heeded the request to hand in their names in order that they may be incorporated in the list to be published in the floder. It is important that this be done at once and every auto owner who expects to go will do the club and the ones who are promoting this run a great favor if he will advise the secretary of his intentions in the matter. Parties may be made up later and reported, but it is positively neecssary to get the list started, and the time is short at best.

Stanton State Committeeamn.

Judge E. M. Stanton was this week notified that he had been appointed as the Pennington county member of the Democratic State Central committee. The judge will make a good, energetic committeeman, but he has rather an uphill job when it comes to convincing the people of this neighborhood that Tom Dwyer ought to be elected governor.

Theatre Manager Leaves.

H. O. Mugridge, formerly manager of the Lyceum theatre, returned last week from a visit to Saskatchewan, where he had been to dispose of the wheat crop grown on his land last season. He had 4,000 bushels in storage, and as wheat was quoted at around $1.40 per bushel at the time he made his sale he became the possessor of a right tidy sum. Mr. Mugridge will visit a short time with relatives in Milwaukee, after which he will open a large moving picture house in one of the western states. He will be joined at Little Falls by Mrs. Mugridge, who has been visiting at that city for about two weeks.

FINES ARE PAID IN LIQUOR CASES

Bondsmen Will Be Asked to Make Good in But One Case, That of George Larson.

County Attorney Hans O. Kjomme has served notice on the bondsmen of George Larson, under bonds to appear at the last term of the district court to answer to a charge of illicit liquor selling, calling their attention to the fact that he failed to show up and has therefore forfeited said bond. Larson is the only one indicated and out on bail who failed to put in an appearance.

The fines assessed have been paid in every case but one, this being that of Louis Fensand who is in jail at Warren, but who is expected to secure the sum needed within a day or two. The largest amount collected in any one case was $500, this being the sum imposed against Dr. H. B. Newell. In addition to this Dr. Newell was this week taken to Warren to begin the serving of a 30-day sentence. Other offenders receiving a fine sentence and who have since paid up are: Arnt Auli, $100; Tallack Froisness, $100; Martin Strom, $100; Oscar Severson, $60. Execution of judgment in the cases of Howard Gesell and Harold Provencher has been stayed, notice of appeal to the supreme court having been filed in each of these.

This accounts for every case coming before the court at the last session in which convicitions were secured.

WILL GO TO INDIA AS A MISSIONARY

Application For Passport Made At Office of Clerk of Court Ives This Morning.

Miss Clara Bjoland, well known in Thief River Falls, having been employed at the Thief River Grocery company's office as bookkeeper a few years ago, will sail from Seattle, Washington, for India on September 1 to engage in the missionary work. Miss Bjoland is the daughter of Mrs. Ingeborg Bjoland, who resides at the end of Horace avenue, and came to Thief River Falls about seven years ago from Climax, Minn. For the past four years Miss Bjoland has been studying in various colleges. She spent three years at the Moody Institute of Chicago, after which she left for New Arc, N. Y., a small town lying outside of New York City, and has spent the past year at that school. During the summer she has been employed in New York as bookkeeper. On the trip to India Miss Bjoland will be accompanied by three or four additional missionaries, some having had previous experience in the far East.

Miss Bjoland arrived in this city last week from New York and has begun making preparations for her trip to the Old World. Application for a passport was made before Clerk of Court Harry Ives this morning

Band Concert Tomorrow.

An open-air concert will be given by the Minnesota State band of Thief River Falls at the stand on Friday evening. Owing to fairs and parades these concerts were discontinued for a short time, but will again become a regular weekly feature. Practically the entire personel of the band is now in the city and the concerts will be the best of the year.

FIFTEENTH FAIR IS NOW HISTORY

Attendance Throughout Good and Exhibits Fully Up to Standard of Former Years.

NEED MORE STOCK SHEDS

All Available Space Taken Up by Displays in This Division—Good Race Program—Many Visitors From Nearby Counties.

It would perhaps be a mistake to say that the county fair of 1916 was the most successful ever held. Crop conditions were backward since early spring, and the later season did not tend to greatly improve them. The attendance fell somewhat below that of last year, but the interest was in many respects greater.

The exhibits were good, being generally better than those of any neighboring county holding a fair at this early date. And brings up the remark frequently heard both on the fair grounds and streets of the city, to-wit: That the first week in August is too early in the year for Pennington county products to be shown at their best. A month later would serve the purpose much better, as at that time the farmers would have been pretty well through with the grain harvest, the season would have been better for the movement of cattle to and from the grounds, and vegetables and fruits would have needed time to become more generally matured.

Old Hands at the Helm.

The fair officers, superintendents of divisions, and everyone in any way connected with the exhibition, grounds or arrangements, worked hard and unremitently from early in the evening of the day before the fair opened until it closed on Saturday night. The old-timers were in evidence all the time, the success of the fair being largely due to their efforts. Among these should be mentioned Fred Beerbauer, R. L. Muzzy, H. C. Woolson and F. B. Conklin. These and others were untiring in their efforts to make the event a success. The Minnesota State band of Thief River Falls, also added much to the carnival aspect of the occasion, the organization being on hand every day during the exhibition. On Thursday afternoon the Juvenille band, under the direction of Prof. Joe Greenfield, rendered a number of selections and surprised the big audience with the proficiency which they have attained in the short time they have been practicing.

Races Were Good.

The big racing events of the fair were staged on Thursday afternoon. The harness and riding races were of the usual county fair order. No records were broken in any of the classes, but many heats were close enough to furnish considerable excitement for the spectators. No local horses were entered and the results consequently created no great excitement.

The motorcycle events were very good. There was one entry from Thief River Falls, Leon Beauclee, but engine trouble forced him to drop out before the three mile race was finished and he did not enter in the five mile event. St. Paul and Crookston riders were the winners.

The Cliffton-Kelly people furnished the amusement for the crowd and there is no fault to find with their exhibitions. These were clean and deserved the very liberal support accorded them.

The Ford automobile given away by the fair management went to H. L. Anderson, assistant cashier at the First National bank.

The official wind-up was scheduled for Friday evening, but as there were many farmers who found it almost impossible to get to town before that day, and for the further reason that the Cliffton-Kelly Carnival company would remain on the grounds until Sunday morning, it was decided to continue the fair over another day. The attendance on Saturday afternoon was not large, many of the exhibits had been removed, but some good horse races were pulled off, as well as a long-distance motorcycle race.

Building New Residence.

County Treasurer Theodore Liden has begun the erection of a fine one-story brick dwelling house at the corner of sixth street and Arnold avenue. He expects to have the structure completed by October 1. Mr. Liden was, prior to his being elected county treasurer, engaged in the carpenter trade and owing to the fact that business at his office is not rushing at this time he has taken a hand in the work of building.

INCREASE NOTED IN DAIRY CATTLE

Assessors' Reports Show That There Are a Total of 5,770 Milch Cows in County.

FORTY-FIVE EVERY MONTH

This is Rate of Increase in 1915—Indications Are That Even Greater Strides Will Be Made During the Present Year.

There are 5,770 milch cows in Pennington county, according to the returns of the township assessors whose reports were this week gone over by the board of equalization. A year ago there were 5,300 of these cows reported for taxation, an increase of 470. This does not include the cows owned by people in the city of Thief River Falls, the report on these not being available when this was written.

Three Every Two Days.

An increase of 470 in the cow population of the county does not look very imposing when put just that way. It means, however, that every month saw an increase of practically 40 milch cattle during the entire year. If you know what one cow is supposed to bring in during a week or month, it will be an easy matter to discover approximately the wealth represented by these simple figures.

Rocksbury is Leader.

Four townships show a decrease in the number of cattle assessed—Black River, Hickory, Highlanding and River Falls. In every case the falling off is so slight that it may be due to any number of causes. The most probably reason is that farmers are feeding better stock and have thus been able to weed out the non-profitable animals. It is certain that as regards quality the cattle this year are even further ahead of last year than they are numerically.

The township of Reiner is the leader in the increase column with 81. Rocksbury township still holds the belt for the largest number, there being 572 enumerated in that enterprising baliwick. The smallest number, both this year and last is in Goodridge township, although the increase is very satisfactory when the cows of the villagers are counted in with those in the township.

How They Stand.

The following table gives the number of cows in each township for the last two years respectfully:

	1916	1915
Bray	154	141
Black River	193	197

DO NOT RECOGNIZE SQUATTERS' CLAIMS

Decision in Mud Lake Land Cases Are in Favor of Those Making Regular Entry.

The first person filing on a claim in the Mud Lake basin after nine o'clock on the morning of April 12, is the one entitled to entryman's rights to that land. This is the decision handed down this week by the register and receiver of the United States land office at Crookston. It is expected that in most cases an appeal to the department at Washington will be taken.

The Crookston officials declared the squatter's claims were untenable under the regulations laid down for filing on these lands. The fact that the contestants had been squatters argued against their legal possession, inasmuch as it proved their violation of instructions in regard to the opening of the lands. It may also be that the land officials wish to discourage the practice of the sooner or squatter as it continually brings contests and consequent delays in the actual settlement of the lands.

All decisions were rendered subject to suit by what are known as the riparian owners. This involves title to the land made available by the drainage of the lake proper and is a matter for the state courts to decide. The riparian owners claim that their holdings extend to the middle of the lake, with the entire shore line fronting on their holdings acting as a base. From this base they insist that they are entitled to the strip running in the shape of a wedge to a point in the exact center of the lake. Thus all claims would come together at a common point in the drained area. This is an interesting subject and will have to be decided before ownership to lands in the Mud lake basin is finally established.

FAIRS WILL BE A THING OF THE PAST

Lack of Interest by Farmers May Decide Trustees in Disposing of Property.

Officers of the Pennington Fair association are seriously considering the advisability of selling the 25 acres now used for the holding of the annual county fairs in the western portion of the city. They maintain that a lack of interest on the part of the farmers makes it next to impossible to conduct a creditable exhibition.

The suggestion has been made that the place for holding the fair be designated as St. Hilaire. There are many counties in Minnesota whose people do not hold their fairs at the county seat, and these are always well attended and successful. The Polk county fair in Fretile is an example; so is also the St. Louis county fair at Hibbing, and a half dozen others.

Math Barzen, from whom the site was bought, has offered to take it back at an advance of $5.00 per acre in case the association decides to sell it.

ELEVATOR COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS

P. O. Sorlum Chosen President For Year—New Board of Directors Also Elected.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Elevator comany was held at the Auditorium last week and the following board of directors elected: H. B. Rude, J. F. Dablow, T. H. Bjerke, P. O. Sorlum, John Lundgren, Emil Johnson and R. Gausen. A meeting for the purpose of organization was held on Sunday afternoon, and the directors chose the following as officers for the ensuing year: President, P. O Sorlum; secretary, T. H. Bjerke; treasurer, R. A. Gausen.

Owing to the unfavorable crop season it was decided to hold the elevator at Thief River Falls open only for a period of three or four months this year, dating from the first of September. The directors found that conditions did not justify the keeping of a man on the premises continuously as in the past and considered it best to cut expenses to this extent until another crop year alters the outlook.

The statement of condition published by the company about a month ago showed that a very satisfactory business had been transacted during the past year and a larger volume was expected during the 1916-17 season. The shortage in the crop, however, rather upsets all calculations for the present.

RESIDENCE IS DAMAGED BY LIGHTNING'S PRANK

During the electrical storm which passed over the city early Sunday morning, the residence of N. J. Anderson, 804 Horace avenue north, was struck by lightning, causing considerable damage to the building. Mr. Anderson had been detained down town and a 16-year-old daughter was spending the night with a girl friend, so that Mrs. Anderson was alone with the two smaller children when the bolt struck.

A large hole was torn in the root near the chimney, which was entirely demolished, bricks being thrown for a distance of 200 feet. The wood fibre plastering was stripped from the walls in many places, the furniture overturned and the front wall badly splintered. The building did not catch on fire, but the gas or fumes were so powerful that it was almost impossible to breathe in the house for hours afterward.

Mrs. Anderson and the children were naturally badly frightened, but otherwise sustained no injury.

VALUATION NOW NEAR $2,000,000

Assessor's Report Shows Nearly $250,000 Gain in Three Principal Items of Taxation.

PERSONAL PROPERTY GAIN

An Increase of $85,000 Shown in Moneys and Credits—Over 300,000 Bushels of Grain Handled in Elevators.

The assessed taxable valuation of the different classes of property in the city of Thief River Falls is, in round numbers, $2,000,000. This is according to the books submitted for inspection to the city council and county board of equalization by Assessor B E. Dalquist. It shows an increase for the year of approximately $250,000. As the above valuation of all property for taxation purposes is from one-third to one-quarter less than the actual value, the report indicates a most gratifying growth.

Real Estate $83,000 Higher.

The assessed value of the real estate in the city is shown to be approximately $1,054,000. Last year this item totaled $971,000, an increase of $83,000.

Moneys and credits amounting to $461,118 were found, this being an increase of $85,488 over the previous report covering this item. There were 343,648 bushels of grain subject to taxation handled by the elevators of the city, this being 119,095 bushels more than was reported for 1915. The rate of taxation on this class of property is one-fourth of one mill on wheat and flax, and one-eighth of a mill on other grain.

The Personal Property.

In the personal property list the increase is $95,000, the total at this time aggregating $370,000 as compared with $275,000 a year ago.

This showing is most remarkable when the fact is taken into consideration that lumber contained in mill yards, together with the horses, wagons and other peraphernalia used in the operation of saw mills last year aggregated in the neighborhood of $100,000, and that this is entirely absent in the current assessment report. Last year the personal property necessary for the conduting of the saloons and beer warehouses was a considerable item, and this is also missing in the present roll. When these matters are all considered it will be seen that personal property values must have raised to a very decided extent. This was not achieved by an increase in the rate so much as in the discovery of much property heretofore escaping taxation entirely or which up until this year had been grossly under-assessed.

A Thorough Job.

Both the city and county boards of equalization complimented Assessor Dalquist on the apparent conscientious manner in which the work had been performed. Not only is the assessment for this year the best and most thorough ever made for city of Thief River Falls, but the work of assessing the different kinds of property has been brought under a system which will make it a comparatively easy matter for any succeeding assessor to get at proper values and keep in touch with increases made from year to year. While in many cases the assessments are considerably above those of a year ago, yet the figures are based on deductions so absolutely fair and impartial that the different equalizing bodies found but few instances in which corrections were necessary. Assessor Dalquist has performed an invaluable service for the city, not only in the thoroughness of this one assessment, but because of the manner in which the work of discovering the different property values has been systematized.

Well Drillers at Work.

L. S. Olson, of Wylie, who has the contract for sinking four test wells for the city of Thief River Falls, began work last week. The first location is in block 39 on the west side of the city.

Mr. Olson will first drive a two-inch pipe for the purpose of testing the location. If water in sufficient quantities is struck, a fourteen-inch pipe will be driven in the same place. If no indication of water is found within a reasonable depth, another place will be selected.

There is no question but that good water will be found by this means. There are a number of private wells in the city, and these are meeting all demands made upon them. Notably may be mentioned those at the Great Northern depot, the Lincoln school and the Model laundry. These have never failed, although at times the demands upon them have been great.

The County Fair Dates.

The general impression prevails that the Pennington county fair is held too early in the season. The first week in August is not an ideal time for an exhibition of this kind in Northern Minnesota, and most counties hold their fairs at a considerably latter date.

Under normal conditions the wheat harvest comes on about this time. Barley is ready for the binder even before this, and the farmer man generally has his hands pretty full. He does not feel that he can take a day or two during the busiest season of the entire year to come to the county seat. He is usually also about at his lowest ebb financially at this time, and there are many who cannot afford the outlay incident to a trip of this kind just at that time. If you doubt this, just ask a few farmers with whom you happen to be in conversation.

The first part of August is also the hottest time of the year in this latitude. For this reason farmers often object to driving their best stock to the place of exhibition. It means that cows, for instance, must stand amid strange surroundings for three days during the most uncomfortable part of the year, and everyone knows that this is not the best thing in the world for them. Milking periods are naturally interferred with and this is something the careful dairyman wishes to avoid. This same objection might hold good even at a later date, but the discomfort of heat and flies would to a considerable extent be lessened a month later.

No showing of vegetables can possibly be made in this section on the first of August. Certain varieties of early potatoes may be fit for display, but even these would be better for being allowed to remain in the ground for a longer period. Any exhibit of corn grown the same season is out of the question. No fruits, with the exception of certain berries, can be displayed until at a much later date. In fact, the county fair would be better patronized, more representative and of vastly greater value if the dates were changed so as to fall after the grain harvest.

For some reason not very clear to the ordinary observer the northwestern counties of Pennington, Polk, Norman and Marshall hold their fairs during July and August. It is likely that one of them first managed to get started wrong, and the balance followed suit. Other northern counties hold their annual exhibitions at a much later date, and experience has proven their idea to be the best. Going alphabetically down the list, the dates of some nearby fairs are as follows: Aitkin, Sept. 19; Becker, Oct. 4; Beltrami, Sept. 13; Benton, Sept. 12; Carlton, Sept. 13; Clearwater, Sept. 28; Itasca, Sept. 13; Koochiching, Sept. 19; Roseau, Sept. 18; St. Louis, Sept. 1.

Conditions in many of the above counties are very similar to those of Pennington. The dates for this county were fixed when grain was practically the only farm product to which any consideration was given. Conditions have changed since that time and a later date is advisable from every point of view.

A Peculiar View.

Now that the long term of the district court has finally adjourned many may well ask, what good did it accomplish? A number of supposed-to-be blindpiggers were prosecuted, but in the main they were only small fry and the real trafficers went scot free. When one looks at the heavy expense and the burden to the farmers kept from their work, one can well say it was not worth while. The character of the witnesses and the nature of the offense makes the convictions a travesty on justice. It would be well to use a little more discretion hereafter in order not to make the whole matter a complete farce.—Goodridge Eleven Towns.

Does Editor Smith consider it a waste of money for the county of Pennington to prosecute lawbreakers? The "supposed-to-be" blindpiggers referred to nearly all pleaded guilty to the offense charged against them. Is it a travesty on justice to secure convictions in every case but one coming up for trial? Does he wish to have the small offender go free until such time as he shall become a big one? If Editor Smith is so certain that guilty parties were allowed to escape, why did he not bring his information before the grand jury? That body showed every indication of a willingness to act on reliable testimony of this character.

One of the most costly cases coming up at the late term of the district court was brought against a man charged with manslaughter. He was drunk when he committed the deed which landed him in prison for a term of years. The liquor was sold to him in Pennington county, contrary to law. Was it a waste of money to prosecute the parties selling it?

Does the Eleven Towns believe any kind of law enforcement worth the while? If so, will its editor point out just where he would draw the line?

It is true that in the case of many of those sentenced this was the first offense. Would it have been wiser to wait for the second or third before taking measures to discourage them and show them that laws were passed for the purpose of being lived up to?

The Goodridge paper is guilty of some mighty poor reasoning.

Why Is It?

The annual invasion of the mail order catalogue is now on. The postoffice of every farming community in the country is fairly swamped with this bulky matter, designed to impress upon the farmer the desirability of parting with good money for something he has not seen and knows nothing about. In spite of all that is said and written, the money still continues to flow into the coffers of mail order millionaires who have no interest whatever in the community from which their trade comes.

These gentlemen are keen students of human nature. They know that even though the local merchant stands at all times ready to meet their prices—or even better them—the orders will pour in. There seems to be something in the mere fact of ordering by mail—in the wait for the article to arrive, in the slight excitement of unwrapping, and in the constant wondering whether or not it is going to turn out as good or better than expected—that has a strange fascination for some people. Mail order patrons are almost invariably of the class to whom even slight expectations, variations or excitements come as a welcome relief. The receipt by parcels post of a package from Chicago is an event in which the entire family is interested and every member will gather around as greatly excited as though they did not already know what it contained. The fact that the wrappings very often enclose a keen disappointment does not matter. Even the sensation of disappointment seems to afford some sort of relief, because it furnishes a culmination to a long-anticipated event. The whole proceeding is more of a psycological study than a trade problem.

Somehow or other the attitude of many newspapers toward this impending railroad strike does not appeal to The Times as being consistent. These papers, while claiming that a strike should not be allowed, seem to blame the condition now confronting the country on the railroad men. They say that wide-spread disaster will follow a strike order on the part of the brotherhoods, and that therefore it must be avoided at all costs. They have apparently no concern over whether or not the demands of the men are reasonable, just and of such nature that they should be granted. The fact that the roads and public will be greatly inconvenienced by a strike are the reasons why one should not take place, according to this reasoning. The fact that the men may be justified in their attitude does not enter into the calculations. And yet this is the only point at all worth considering. Are the demands of the men unreasonable? If so, they should not be granted. If, however, the position of the brotherhoods is well taken it looks like a crying injustice to ask them to back up from their position because to grant them justice will inconvenience someone else. It is sincerely to be hoped that no strike will take place, but if such calamity does befall, everyone should look closely into the matter before laying the blame at the door of the striking employees.

Beltrami county is to hold a county option election next Tuesday. A considerable section of the county is already dry under the provisions of the Indian treaty, but the villages of Spooner and Baudette are still wet and it is probable that they will put up quite a fight in order to remain so. There is hardly a doubt as to the outcome, however. The drys will win as they have in every county but one in this section.

MAY RESULT IN CHANGE OF LAWS

By The County Chairman

St. Paul—(Special)—If there is a madder set of fellows in the state than the lumbermen then you'll have to find them. Their grievances are the charges and insinuations now being circulated regarding wholesale thefts in the shape of trespass and tampered measurements which, according to the city press, have resulted in the loss of thousands of dollars to the state. One story intimated that recent forest fires in the northern part of the state were due to the activity of certain lumber companies who desired to cover up past state timber thefts and at the same time create a hazard that would compel the placing of coveted state timber on the market. It later developed that the fire swept territory had been cut over and what state timber remained was under contract. The lumbermen feel they are being used for advertising purposes for the benefit of others. Because of acknowledged irregularities of the past and the fortunes piled up by certain men whose activities have been confined to the purchase and cutting of state and government timber the average taxpayer is inclined to believe almost anything of those concerned in reducing Minnesota's visible supply of timber. It is a case of giving a dog a bad name—the thing sticks. Of late years, however, there has been a marked change for the better and those lumbermen who honestly try to carry out their contracts resent the insinuations indulged in. They declare that they are without foundation. If the truth is to be told there are more failures than successes in the lumber business and this particularly refers to the purchase and cutting of state timber. To the failures the cry of fraud is particularly irritating, hence the ill feeling. That the next legislature will be asked to pass on the matter is certain.

Commenting further on the state timber controversy it is declared that the laws regulating the sale and disposal of timber are ancient and that the method of scaling is archaic. It is alleged that men are employed by the state as scalers and estimators who have absolutely no knowledge of the work. One lumberman tells of the employment of a scaler whose previous activities were limited to sorting clothes in a laundry. Another source of trouble is the sale of state timber under one auditor and its measurement under another. The two do not agree. This, I am told, is largely the basis of the present controversy. In the sale of small lots of timber former State Auditor Iverson allowed certain concessions and now State Auditor Preus demands the full pound of flesh. Undoubtedly he is right in his contention that a foot is a foot. What is needed is a complete revision of the laws covering the sale and cutting of state timber and the centering of its control and supervision in the hands of one department, instead of scattering the job between several, which is now the case. A department of public domain is needed.

The chief clerkship of the next house of representatives is going to be some bone of contention when that body meets. Already candidates are preparing for the fray and a stiff fight is expected. Oscar Arneson, now prominently connected with the state auditor's office and a former clerk of the house, is generally believed to be preparing to go after his old job, but from all accounts he is going to have strong opposition in the candidacy of Asa Wallace, the well known Sauk Center publisher and at one time assistant state fire marshal. That Mr. Wallace has consented to the use of his name is not known, but friends are boosting his cause just the same. State Auditor Preus, it is understood, is willing to allow Mr. Arneson to go after his old job, he announcing that he will lend his chief clerk to the house if it thinks his services and experience are necessary. Other possible candidates are being mentioned, but the two named have the spotlight now.

✣ ✣ ✣

Any troubles or worries that Governor Burnquist may have are just now centered on the Iron Range, where a miners' strike is in progress. Last week the governor's connection with the strike was made somewhat embarrassing by the report from Washington, made by certain labor propagandists, that his excellency was giving the strikers the worst of it. The intimation was that the Steel corporation was being favored. That the charge is untrue is borne out by facts, but there is one thing certain and that is that the governor's representative, Gustav Lindquist, whom his excellency selected to personally visit the strike country and report on conditions, is not delivering the goods. Lindquist, to be plain about it, is not big enough for the job. The cry on the range, and it has to be admitted that this cry does not come from persons entirely friendly to the governor, is that Lindquist ignored everybody but a certain few in his visit to the district and that things were misrepresented. What the controversy needs, as far as his excellency is concerned, is the services of a diplomat, and until such is secured the growling will continue. Fortunately the strike has been fairly free from rioting to date, but some of the Twin City papers have taken up the cause of the strikers and this only means a continuation of the controversy.

✣ ✣ ✣

The next legislature will undoubtedly be asked to adjust the financial troubles of Koochiching and Cass result from a full investigation of the now being made by Attorney General Smith and Public Examiner Fritz. From all accounts both counties are in desperate shape and something will have to be done in the way of relief. Little has been given out concerning the investigation, but from what can be ascertained the troubles of the two are due largely to the activities of persons concerned in forcing big issues of bonds. For the floating of about $1,000,000 of bonds agents, it is said, netted over $90,000 in the case of one of the counties. This was paid out in the shape of commissions. The taxes which have resulted are reported to be burdensome.

✣ ✣ ✣

With politics almost at a standstill state capitol circles are concerned with possible discrepancies which may result from a full investiigation of the handling of the state's trust funds. Two small losses in the shape of interest pocketed by R. C. Pickit, former chief clerk in the state fund investment department and now serving a sentence in the Stillwater prison, are responsible. The locating of these additional discrepancies has prompted Mr. Preus to intimate that more might be found if the funds were given a good overhauling and as a start in that direction he has instructed one of his clerks to dig deep. Naturally the public prints, in discussing the matter, have enlarged the figures and speak of a possible loss to the state of thousands of dollars, but the chances are that the charges will not be borne out by the facts. Investigations made by the state board of audit so far have failed to locate any large amount.

O. P. B. Jacobson of the state railway and warehouse commission is authority for the statement that United States Senator Nelson is serving his last term as a representative of Minnesota at Washington. He says he has it positive from the old warhorse that he will not allow the use of his name when his present term expires. He will insist on being permitted to retire to private life. That there will be a grand rush for the Douglas county man's job when he gives the word of retirement is certain. Any mention of available timber is hardly possible at this time. That the country will demand the place is certain.

If the Democratic forces try to enlarge their state ticket, which is now confined to governor, lieutenant governor and railroad commissioner, it will not be with the permission of Secretary of State Schmahl. He says that the unwashed have had their day in court and that there is no possible chance of further recognition. The Democratic leaders had hoped to fill out the ticket by petition. This, Mr. Schmahl says, is not permitted under the election laws.

W. E. Verity, president of the Minnesota Republican Voters' league, announces that he will call a meeting of prominent Republicans shortly to consider the draft of a proposed revision of the state election and primary laws. This draft is to be submitted for adoption at a convention of the league to be held in St. Paul this week. Mr. Verity's idea is to have the state returned to a modified convention system, the delegates to such to be named at legally held primaries.

The state emergency board, consisting of the governor, attorney general, treasurer and auditor, have set aside $5,000 to aid in the prevention and possible cure of the dread infantile paralysis. Minnesota fortunately has been spared an epidemic, but the state board of health does not want to take any chances, hence the appropriation.

✣ ✣ ✣

T. P. Dwyer, the Democratic candidate for governor, announces that he is going to carry his campaign for personal liberty into every county in the state. He is against prohibition, county option and woman suffrage. He believes in home rule in all things.

Secretary of State Schmahl celebrated his forty-ninth birthday anniversary the other day. He is just completing his fourth consecutive term as secretary of state.

Representative L. C. Spooner of Morris is now a full fledged moving picture promoter. He heads the board of directors of a moving picture concern lately incorporated by the state.

The Proper Spirit.

Walker Pilot: The Pilot certainly congratulates the towns along the central route of the Jefferson highway which has been officially decided upon, and we wish to state that neither this paper nor the local automobile association are to be numbered with those who show an inclination to be sore over the final announcement as given out by Mr. Clarkson, who responded to the invitation to come to Minnesota and decide the matter. The rivalry for this highway has been a great thing for northeastern and northern Minnesota. It means better roads everywhere, and the fact that Walker, as well as other live towns, will devote time, money and energy to either tap the Jefferson highway or interest themselves in other popular trails through the state, does not signify that this time, energy and money is being spent to discredit the original gulf-to-boundary highway. When it comes to a matter of good roads, the game is plenty big enough for all of us.

Won on its Merits.

Wadena Pioneer Journal: While scenery counted ten per cent in the 100 per cent total, it may be stated that neither the eastern nor the western route is more beautiful than the central route. The central route excelled in all other respects beyond question. It has the best road making materials, it has the good roads, the population, the good hotels and garages. Along the eastern highway there are stretches of nearly fifty miles with no garages and one stretch of about that distance with but a single hotel. The roads in the main are far inferior. Around the shore of Mille Lacs lake the much vaunted fine road is but a couple of wheel tracks and mud holes are so frequent that speed is impossible to the careful driver. The western route was through a gumbo country where driving is practically an impossibility in wet weather. For the boosters east and west to say they do not understand the reason why the central route was chosen is ridiculous. That officers of the Jefferson Highway association were impervious to "inducements" is to their credit.

The central route won on its merits, and we hope the newly organized Northern Scenic Highway association will win in like manner. The more good roads the better, but the men back of the new association should start right, adopting business not political methods for the conduct of their organization.

NO COWS SOON MEANS NO CROP

Prof. A. J. McGuire Says That Lack of Fertility is Responsible For Small Crop Yields.

10 COWS TO THE QUARTER

If This Ratio is Maintained Farms Will Every Year Grow Bigger and Better Crops Instead of Becoming Poorer.

"Lack of fertility is more to blame for the poor crops of the present season than lact of moisture, rust or anything else," said Prof. A. J. McGuire, lecturer and demonstrator of the agricultural division of the university of Minnesota. Prof. McGuire was in Thief River Falls last week as live stock judge at the Pennington county fair.

"On the farms where no cows are kept there are no crops this year," said Mr. McGuire. "It seems to be taking the farmers a long time to realize the fact that the cow is the salvation of this section of the country, but they will all have to come to a realization of it before long. The neglect of the soil of the Red River valley—naturally the richest in the world—is bringing the only result possible."

Steadily Decreasing Yields.

"Everywhere you go the bumper crop of last year is pointed to by the people as an indication that the farms of the northwest are as capable of great production as ever they were. These same people would be surprised if they knew the per acre yield of wheat for the entire section in 1915. In a few places it was very good, and it will be generally found that in these same places there are fairly good crops this year. It will also be found that this is becauce of the fact that the farmer has maintained the fertility of his acres by keeping his barns full of cows."

A Wasteful Policy.

"But many of the farmers who have found it profitable to take more interest in live stock do not get everything possible out of their cattle. In many places I passed in coming here I noticed manure standing around the barns. If this was on the fields, where it belongs, it would be worth between $2.50 and $3.00 a ton. And it should be hauled out once a week."

"The reason given by many farmers for not keeping cattle is that they do not wish to bother with the milking. These should secure a beef type and make a business of raising stock of this kind for the market. But I recommend the dairy herd. Milk and cream production is profitable and certain. A hay shortage is practically unheard of in northern Minnesota, and the grains and roots necessary are also an abundant crop. The feeding of these to stock—either for milk and beef—and selling it off the farm as finished product is the most profitable and only sensible method."

That Little Cream Check.

"Creameries dot the landscape in every direction," said Prof. McGuire, "and these are sure signs of a prosperous and contented community. The cream check every two weeks is what provides all the necessaries and many of the comforts of the long-headed Minnesota farmer today. It is providing a high school and college education for his boys and girls and has furnished these with a greater interest in farm life. It has changed the entire outlook from the farmer's point of view. An unfavorable season has no great terrors for him, and the total failure of one crop will not have the effect of sweeping away the result of many years of hard work."

Ten Cows on Every 160 Acres.

"There should be at least ten cows on every 160 acres," continued Mr. McGuire. "Any man having this many will soon have more. He will learn of their value to the farm and be surprised at their earning ability. He need not stop raising grain. In fact he will raise more grain on less ground because of the fact that the cows are on the place. Prof. H. R. Smith, of the Great Northern, told your people this not long ago, and it is a proven fact. A man can devote one-third of his acreage to the maintenance of cattle and raise more grain on the remaining two-thirds than he ever did on the entire piece before the cattle came. If he does not wish to produce milk for market he can turn to beef, but he will surely come to one or the other soon if his farm is to grow anything but weeds."

"This fact is becoming better understood as the wheat crop keeps growing smaller, and I expect to see a truly remarkable development in the cattle-raising industry in this section before long."

Pennington Stock Good.

Prof. McGuire said that the cattle at the Pennington county fair averaged very well, some being particularly good. The farmers engaged in the pursuit of stock production he found to be the best satisfied and possessed of the most cheerful outlook as regards the future. This has been the case in every community visited by him and he is certain that this condition will be more prevalent as the value of cattle becomes better known in the districts heretofore devoted exclusively to grain.

Knows the North Well.

For eleven years Prof. McGuire was superintendent of the north-central experiment station at Grand Rapids, and is considered the best authority in the state on north-Minnesota conditions. He has made famous the slogan, "Cows, Clover and Contentment," as applied to the section to which he has devoted so much attention, and some years ago rather startled the big-farm advocates by proving that fory well-tiled acres, ten cows and 200 chickens meant a competency for a man and his family on the cut-over lands of the state.

STATE FARM AGAIN ISSUES WARNING

Calls Attention to Danger From Sow Thistle and Gives Advice For Its Irradication.

It is possible that some farmers are not familiar with the perennial sow thistle and are permitting small patches to mature seed and are in this way storing up a great deal of trouble for the future, says F. L. Kennard, agriculturist at the Northwest Agricultural College, Crookston.

In passing through the country one can see a great many patches which are now in bloom and which must have immediate attention or seed sufficient to sow the entire county will be produced. The sow thistle plant in its early stages is not unlike the dandelion. The leaves are lighter in color and are narrower, with only a suggestion of spine or thorns. Usually about July 15 they send up branching seed stems two to four feet in height which bear flowers very similar to dandelions. When these are mature, the seed is distributed by the wind.

The only sure way to eradicate this pest is by concerted action on the part of every farmer whether he be owner or tenant. The first step naturally is to prevent seed formation by cutting these tall seed stems now. The patches can be hendled with a view to complete eradication later. Eradication methods are similar to those used for quack grass or Canadian thistle, namely, the use of thorough summer tillage and the absolute prevention of the production of green leaves. This may be done by summer fallow or by the growing of corn or potatoes. If it is kept in mind that plants elaborate their food in and through the leaf system it is very obvious that if no leaf is present no food is being transferred to the root and death is inevitable. When failure follows this treatment one can always trace the fault to the farmer himself and it is always found that during busy seasons the pest is neglected for a period and leaf growth develops.

There is upon the statutes of Minnesota a weed law which, if enforced rigidly, would within two years rid the entire Red River Valley of all noxious weeds. This law makes it a misdemeanor to allow noxious weeds to mature seed and provides for the cutting of such weeds by order of the road overseers or supervisors and the cost added to the taxes of the property. This law does not bind the owner of land alone but also the tenant of such land. It is needless to say that the law has not been obeyed and in many cases has not been enforced by those who have the authority to enforce it.

DAMAGE IN PENNINGTON COUNTY IS VERY LIGHT

Sections to the South and West Were Hard Hit by Thursday Night's Storm.

A severe storm, in places reaching to clyclonic proportions, passed over the section between Grand Forks and Crookston last Thursday night. The crops between the two cities named and north to the Canadian boundary, through northern Norman, Polk, Marshall and Kittson counties are reported as flat as though a steam roller had passed over them, while a small section of Red Lake county also suffered considerably. Practically no damage was done in Pennington county, the storm passing to the south and west. Practically all the damage reported in the immediate vicinity of Thief River Falls was the blowing over of one or two tents of the Cliffton-Kelly Carnival company on the fair grounds.

Reports from the most severely stricken district are to the effect that where the grain is not extremely vigorous, it will not straighten up and will be a 30 or 40 per cent loss. Grain that is rusted badly will be practically a total loss, as it is broken off and all crumpled up. It is estimated that in the territory referred to above damage from the storm will run into millions.

A Woman's Back

The Advice of This Thief River Falls Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Oftimes 'tis the kidney's fault.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Thief River Falls women know this.

Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. P. Eberhardt, 215 Atlantic Ave. N., Thief River Falls, says: "I suffered from weak kidneys. My back was lame and ached badly and bothered me for some time. When I did any washing or heavy work, I suffered more severely. Soon after using Doan's Kidney Pills, I felt better and it wasn't long before they rid me of the trouble. I have always tried to keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house and when I don't feel just right, I can depend on them to give me quick relief. Last winter I had pain in my back and felt sick all over, as the result of a cold. Doan's Kidney Pills soon made me feel all right."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Eberhardt had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—A3-10.

Wong Fong Hang returned to his home at Grand Forks last Saturday afternoon, after spending several days assisting with the work at the Chicago cafe. Mr Hang intends to open a restaurant in Grand Forks shortly.

ROME CELEBRATES AUSTRIAN DEFEAT

Rome, Aug. 10.—Two million men are battling fiercely along the Isonzo front in a great struggle centering about Goritz, that may prove the turning point of the war.

With the Goritz bridgehead and surrounding heights strongly in Italian hands Italian troops are pouring across the river for the assault upon Goritz itself, singing gayly as they advance under hot fire, their helmets decked with flowers.

Scores of great guns already are pounding the Austrian stronghold.

The battle is spreading along the Isonzo. In the first two days of the great offensive more than 15,000 Austrian prisoners were captured. The Austrians resisted with the greatest stubbornness and suffered frightful losses.

Rome was swept with a tremendous wave of enthusiasm as fresh dispatches from the front brought fragmentary details of the fighting around Goritz.

The whole city was beflagged when announcement of the capture of the Goritz bridgehead was made.

A huge crowd gathered in Piazzi Colonna and cheered the army, King Victor and General Cadorna.

Similar demonstrations occurred in the theaters and cafes.

FOUR PERSONS ARE KILLED

German Airships Again Raid Coast of England.

London, Aug. 10.—German airships raided the east coast of England and the southeast coast of Scotland, according to an official statement issued by the war office.

Three women and a child were killed and fourteen persons injured.

At several places the airships were engaged by anti-aircraft guns and driven off from their objectives.

No damage of military importance is reported.

ROOSEVELT FOR SUFFRAGE

Endorses Women's Hughes Organizations Where They Vote.

New York, Aug. 10.—In a letter to Miss Alice Carpenter of the women's committee of the Hughes alliance Colonel Theodore Roosevelt gave his endorsement to the formation of an organization especially established in the suffrage states to obtain the passage of a federal amendment providing for woman suffrage.

May Close Lutheran Schools.

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 10.—The government of Victoria has under consideration a proposal to close all the Lutheran schools in the state. It is expected that action will be taken in the near future.

BROTHERHOODS WILL MEDIATE

Threatened Rail Strike Probably Averted.

ROADS REFUSE DEMANDS

Managers' Conference Again Turns Down Request for Eight-Hour Day and Then Appeals to United States Board of Conciliation.

New York, Aug. 10.—The threatened strike of the 400,000 railway employes of the United States was averted when the railroad brotherhoods accepted a proffer of the United States board of mediation and conciliation to mediate their differences with the railroads.

Prior to this action the national conference of railroad managers again rejected the demands of the four railroad brotherhoods for an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime and proposed submission of their differences with the men to the United States board of mediation and conciliation.

Elisha Lee, chairman of the railroad conference, in proposing that their differences be mediated by the federal board, called attention to the fact that the brotherhoods had previously declined arbitration under the Newlands act.

Mr. Garretson reiterated the contention of the brotherhoods that in previous attempts to settle differences with the railroads through the federal boards the brotherhoods had failed to obtain satisfactory awards.

Chairman Lee immediately appealed to the federal board of mediation and conciliation, which followed with a communication to the brotherhoods.

GREETED BY GREAT CROWDS

Candidate Hughes at St. Paul on Campaign Tour.

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—Charles Evans Hughes of New York, Republican candidate for president, was welcomed royally when he arrived in St. Paul for the third day of his campaign tour which will take him from New York to the Pacific coast and back again.

Cheering thousands were waiting at the Union depot when the Hughes special arrived from Chicago and other thousands stood along the downtown streets to shout their approval of the candidate and wave flags as he was driven to the Saint Paul hotel.

Mr. Hughes was in the best of spirits. The welcome accorded him in St. Paul had been foretold at every stop along the way in Minnesota, where crowds awaited the train at the stations and listened to the candidate's brief speeches or participated in impromptu receptions on the depot platforms.

SENSATIONAL JUMP IN WHEAT PRICES

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Wheat prices shot upward 8 cents a bushel right at the start. The December option touched $1.45 on first trading, as against $1.37 at the previous day's finish.

Sensational crop damage confirmed by the government report was the cause of the extraordinary advance.

So much excitement ruled in the pit that transactions in many cases were 3 cents apart at the same instant. The initial range on December varied from $1.42 to $1.45.

Jumps in the value of other options than December, although radical, were not quite as large.

After midday the fever to buy grew more intense and the market soared to 10 cents a bushel above the previous close, December wheat touching $1.47. At times the market appeared to be entirely bare of offerings.

RESULTS IN FIFTY DEATHS

Terrific Explosion of Ammunition in East Prussia.

Koenigsberg, East Prussia, Aug. 10.—An explosion of ammunition which was about to be shipped from the depot here caused the death of thirty men and twenty women. Fourteen other persons were injured severely and fifty-eight received minor injuries.

The explosion caused a fire, which was soon brought under control.

Ex-Senator Thurston Dead.

Omaha, Aug. 10.—John M. Thurston, former senator from Nebraska, is dead here. He had been critically ill for four weeks, following a heat prostration, and his death had been momentarily expected for several days.

Goethals Starts for Canal.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Major General Goethals, governor of the Panama canal, has left Washington for the canal zone to prepare his last annual report and put affairs in shape for his retirement in December.

NEW GAINS HELD BY THE ALLIES

French and British Repulse German Attacks.

ITALIANS ARE AT GORIZIA

Ousting of Austrians Marks Greatest Victory for King Emmanuel's Forces Since the Entrance of Italy Into the European War.

London, Aug. 10.—The new gains of the allies on the Somme front in Northern France are being held firmly in the face of heavy counter attacks by the Germans, according to the Paris official statement.

Two such attacks on the positions recently taken by the French north of Hem wood are declared to have been repulsed.

Northeast of Verdun the bitter struggle for the Thiaumont work and the village of Fleury is continuing. The Germans have driven further into the Thiaumont positions and only its outskirts are now held by the French, says the official statement from Paris.

In the Fleury sector, however, General Nivelle's forces have been more successful, making some progress in the village.

The driving of the Austrians from the Gorizia bridgehead marks only the beginning of the Italian offensive along the Isonzo, according to Italian expectations. At last accounts Gorizia itself was about to fall.

Announcement was made by the war office at Petrograd that the Russians have occupied Tysmenietsa, in Galicia.

On Aug. 7 General Lechitzky's army took 7,400 prisoners, including 3,500 Germans, and sixty-three machine guns.

Officials in London confirmed news dispatches to the effect that Gorizia is entirely in the hands of the Italians, who captured 10,000 Austrians.

South of the Dniester river the forces of the central powers have been withdrawn behind the Niznioff-Tysmienitsa-Ottynia line, according to an official announcement by the German army headquarters.

Contractor S. L. Olson, who has the job of sinking test wells for a new water supply for the city of Thief River Falls, has reported to the superintendent of public utilities that he has struck gravel at a depth of 56 feet and that water was found by going 12 feet deeper. This water is unfit for use, however, and he will keep on drilling until good water is struck or it shall have been proven that it does not exist in that particular locality.

Superintendent Peterson suggested to the council at the meeting last evening that the second well be attempted near the power house. This would leave the two wells just half a mile apart and provide a very convenient arrangement. His suggestion was ordered followed.

Sewer Contracts Let.

Robinson-Van Alstine & Co., of Grand Forks were awarded the contracts for the sewer to be laid on the East side and along Atlantic avenue. The price to be paid for the first-named job is $8,000.24, while the second will cost $2,234. There were two bidders for this second piece of work besides the successful one—John McDonald of Duluth, and Holt & George of Thief River Falls. The bids were very close, that of Mr. McDonald being for $2,435, while Holt & George offered to do the work for $2,346. The sewer will be four blocks in length.

Must Move Water Tank.

City Attorney Theodore Quale was instructed to notify the Great Northern Railway company to move the water tank facing Knight avenue within 60 days in order to comply with the provisions of a city ordinance recently passed.

A bill presented by the Physicians' Hospital for the care of a strange woman who recently applied there for aid was laid over for future consideration. The woman gave birth to a girl baby while at the institution and all attempts to find out who she was or where she hailed from were in vain. Under the circumstances the council members seemed rather doubtful of their obligations in the matter.

Much routine matter was gone over and a whole grist of bills passed.

CARLOTTA STOCKDILL AT THE NEW PRINCESS

Carlotta Stockdill, who has scored one of the greatest successes of any singer on the Sullivan & Considine vaudeville circuit during the past season, arrived in Thief River Falls on Sunday for a visit with her husband during the summer vacation. Complying with the many requests sent in by patrons of the Princess that Miss Stockdill sing some of the successes of the past season, she has consented and will appear every feature night, commencing next Tuesday. Miss Stockdill has a beautiful contralto voice of wide range and excellent training. Her engagement will prove quite a treat to the lovers of good singing, her work being something decidedly out of the ordinary, even for the bigger cities.

Miss Stockdill, who off the stage is Mrs. W. H. Seitzler, wife of the Princess manager, will remain in the city until shortly before the opening of the next vaudeville season, when she will return to Chicago in time to look after the designing of her wardrobe for the road.

The newspaper critics, both east and west, speak in the highest terms of Miss Stockdill's singing, the Butte Miner containing the following: "Carlotta Stockdill is a delightful vocalist. It is not alone her remarkable charm of personality, voice and talent that have made her such a famous and appreciated vocalist, but her delightful manner of song interpretation has done its part in making her a star in songdom. She has made a most emphatic hit in the present show at the Sullivan & Considine Empress theatre here since the present show was inaugurated in Butte last Saturday afternoon, and thousands have accorded her enthusiastic praise for her charming singing."

The Republican says: "Carlotta Stockdill, who was formerly a regular singer on the Orpheum bills, is appearing at the Grand for the last half of the week, and the reception accorded her is a hearty one. Miss Stockdill, always a good singer, shows an improvement in her work since last here. Her rich mezzo soprano voice is heard to fine advantage and her stage presence is most pleasing."

The Anaconda Standard says: "Carlotta Stockdill, noted vocalist, appearing at the Sullivan & Considine Empress theatre, is a vocalist of great ability."

Seattle Times: "Carlotto Stockdill, a good looking young woman with a fine contralto voice and a lot of personality, is the hit of the bill at the Empress this week."

Los Angeles Record: "Carlotta Stockdill, with a sweet voice of wonderful range, scores a decided hit at the Hippodrome this week."

DAM SITUATION TOPIC OF MUCH INTEREST

Minneapolis Expert in Consultation With Local Owners.—Plans Are Nearly Completed.

President Bogart of the Power Engineering company of Minneapolis, was in the city on Tuesday in consultation with the owners of the Kretschmar dam. Mr. Powers' concern is drawing the plans for the work soon to be started for the repair work on this structure and he was much interested in the undertaking. In conversation with city officials the head of the Minneapolis concern stated that in his opinion an entirely new dam would be advisable, and this suggestion is being considered.

The first intention was to rebuild from the log chute westward, allowing the balance to remain, as it is not greatly damaged. This scheme also had the advantage of time-saving to recommend it, and a quick job is by all means desired. Mr. Bogart would make no estimate as to the length of time it would take to repair the dam.

Superintendent Leonard Peterson of the water and light department, stated last evening that it might prove feasible to build a coffer dam in such manner as to direct sufficient flowage toward the west side to enable the city to make partial use of the power. This would help the engines now employed to such an extent that no further work would be required at once in order to meet the demands of the city. It is certain that the street lights will have to be shut off when winter arrives unless some such scheme is worked.

Still Improving Service.

George R. Comer, representing the World Feature Film corporation, was in the city last week making arrangements for placing these productions with Manager Seitzler of the Princess theatre. These are the famous "Brady-Made" pictures and unquestionably the very best yet produced. Because of the high cost of these features it will be impossible to put them on in Thief River Falls before fall, but arrangements were made for showing the next best things in this line through the medium of the Equitable films. Announcements of the first of the new bookings will be made before long.

The people themselves dictate the kind of pictures a manager puts on. If they will patronize the best they will get the best. If they indicate by their patronage that anything is good enough, a manager cannot be blamed if he furnishes the cheapest service he can get by with. The Princess is furnishing the best procurable at present and Mr. Seitzler is steadily looking around for something just a little better.

Physicians' Hospital Notes.

Mrs. Severson took treatment from Dr. Doran some 8 or 9 years ago. We take pleasure of announcing the Doctor's next visit to Thief River Falls, Evelyn Hotel, Friday, August 25. Hours: 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.—A3-10-17-P.

One Way to Help.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The county commissioners of Morrison county have appropriated $9 for each mile of the Jefferson highway, that passes through that county. As the highway passes through so short a distance of Stearns county, the Commercial club will prove this assessment, and may help out one of the neighboring counties, if it is necessary. Sauk Rapids business men have raised Benton county's share. The highway will be nailed down all right, and will eventually be made one of the best roads in the county.

W. W. PRICHARD CHOSEN AS SCHOOL BOARD HEAD

Board Holds Meeting on Monday Night and Organizes for Coming Year's Work.

The first regular meeting for the present school year was held by the board members on Monday evening. W. W. Prichard, Sr., was elected president, Dr. O. F. Mellby, vice president; C. A. Pitkin, clerk, and Lars Backe, treasurer, the two last-named officers being re-elected. The selection was by the unanimous vote of the board in each case. The committees on school buildings will remain as during the past year, being as follows: Central building, Dr. H. F. Gambell and W. W. Prichard; Lincoln and Washington buildings, Lars Backe and C. A. Pitkin; Knox building, Dr. Mellby and H. S. Dahlen. The salary of the clerk was fixed at $200 per year, and that of the treasurer at $150.

Another meeting will be held on Monday next, at which time the question of changing the water supply in the Washington and Lincoln schools will come up for discussion. The newly drilled well on the premises furnishes an ample supply of excellent water, but no satisfactory provision has yet been made for getting it pumped through the buildings.

TESTIMONY IN PHONE MATTER IS PRESENTED

Official of State Commission Hears Testimony Presented in Goodridge Controversy.

James W. Howatt, supervisor of telephones for the state railroad and warehouse commission, conducted a hearing in the Goodridge telephone case in this city last week. The commission has not yet acted on his report but a decision is expected within a short time.

This case is somewhat unusual, inasmuch as one company is asking that a rival concern be compelled to raise its rates of service. The Red Lake and Eastern Marshall farmers' line put in a central office at Goodridge before there was any town there. Later the Eastern Development Telephone company entered the field, put in two 'phones and have maintained a sort of service. According to the Red Lake people that concern has been charging from $2.50 to $3.00 per month as rental, while the opposition has charged as low as 25 cents for a similar service. The former company now asks the commission to establish an equitable rate, claiming that prices charged by the Eastern Development people are inadequate and destructive. The latter reply that they are a going concern and are able to meet expenses at the present rate.

Theodore Quale is attorney for the Red Lake Telephone company, and Hans O. Kjomme represents the Eastern Development interests.

OBITUARY

Nels Berg.

Nels Berg, for over twenty-four years a resident of Thief River Falls, was called away by death at his home on 419 Knight avenue north, last Thursday afternoon, August 3, at two o'clock, death coming as a result of cancer of the left cheek, after an illness of ten months. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Zion church, of which the deceased had been a member for 20 years, Rev. George Larson, officiating. Prayer was given by Rev. Skogerbo, of the Hauges church, after which a vocal solo was rendered by Dr. P. L. Vistaunet. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. George Larson, after which followed a vocal solo, entitled, "Face to Face" by Miss Dora Holmes. Rev. Helen, a student in Augburg seminary at Minneapolis, spoke in English at the services. Interment followed in Greenwood cemetery. The funeral services were attended by a very large number of the true and staunch friends of the deceased, and a large procession was formed and went to the cemetery to attend the exercises and pay a final tribute of esteem to the memory of their departed companion, who has answered the Master's summons.

Mr. Berg was born in Winnechick county, Iowa, on a farm, October 17, 1865, making his age at the time of death 50 years, 9 months and 26 days. He was married to Miss Inga Nyhus in this city May 12, 1896, and to this union were born two children, both surviving as follows: Myrtle and Elrie. The deceased is aslo survived by his wife, a brother residing at Seattle, Washington, Mrs. T. Eiland of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Anderson, of Lime Springs, Iowa. P. O. Berg, of Seattle, was unable to attend the services. Mr. Berg gradauted from the Decorah, Iowa, Business college in 1890, and after that came to Thief River Falls to engage in the grocery business. Mr. Berg was a long-time member of the Zion church and was a regular attendant upon the services of that denomination, and was a hard-working member. He also took an active part in the Pennington county option fight in June 1915 and did much to promote his side of the cause.

In the death of Mr. Berg Thief River Falls has lost one of its very best citizens. He was a man of rigid honesty and unfailing friendship. The Times feels a personal loss in the death of Mr. Berg, who was one of the paper's staunchest friends, and extends its sincerest sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors, who assisted us during the illness and death of a beloved husband and father. We also wish to extend thanks to our friends for the many beautiful floral offerings.

HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED.

Thief River Falls people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This simple mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Adler-i-ka has easiest and most thorough action of anything we ever sold. F. J. Stebbins, druggist.

BUSINESS VENTURE OF A NEW ORDER

Modern Greenhouses to be Erected Here—Products on Market by Christmas Time.

The erection of modern greenhouse buildings will be begun in Thief River Falls on Sept. 1. Martin Bothun of this city, and William J. Olson, of Rugby, N. D., have formed a partnership for the purpose of conducting a business of this kind and have secured the entire block between Arnold and State avenues north and between Tenth and Eleventh streets as a site for the enterprise.

As a starter there will be two buildings erected, each 30x70 feet. A hot water heating plant of sufficient capacity to properly heat both buildings will be installed, the work room and office being placed above this plant. The completed buildings will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

It is the intention to furnish hothouse vegetables and flowers at all seasons of the year, and as no enterprise of this character is now in operation in the neighborhood, the products should be in demand over a large section.

Mr. Olson is a native of Christiania, Norway, at wheih city he was formerly engaged in horticultural experimentation and landscape gardening. He is said to be an expert in matters of this kind. Mr. Olson will move his family from Rugby as soon as suitable quarters can be found for their accommodation.

Mr. Bothun has been a resident of Thief River Falls for the past 26 years and has a wide acquaintance in all parts of the northwest which will prove of great value to him in this undertaking. He was successful as a gardener near this city for 11 years and will bring an invaluable fund of practical knowledge to the business.

It is the intention of the new concern to conduct a down-town store in connection with the greenhouses, but this will probably not be opened until next spring.

VOLUME 6 THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN., THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1916 NUMBER 24

SOW THISTLE IS SERIOUS MENACE

Unless Steps Are Taken to Eradicate Pest Untold Damage is Sure to Result.

LOSS IS ALREADY SEVERE

Permitting Weed to Go to Seed Along Highway Sets at Naught All Attempts by Farmers to Prevent Its Spread.

The Times is not an alarmist and would be the last to spread an unfavorable report of local conditions among its readers. Duty demands, however, that the danger threatened by the presence of the sow thistle on the farms of Pennington and adjoining counties be given the widest publicity in order that sensible and effective measures may be taken at once for its eradication. Luckily the pest is not hard to get rid of, but every agency must co-operate to the fullest extent in the work. For one farmer, or the farmers of any one section, to make war against the encroachments of the weed would avail nothing. Action will have to be concerted and general.

Is New Thing Here.

In company with John Bratrud, a representative of The Times made a trip north and east of Thief River Falls on Saturday, and conditions were found even worse than general reports made them appear. Fields on which two years ago not a sow thistle appeared are now covered with the blight, and conditions will steadily grow worse. Some acreage on which cultivated crops were planted last year are practically free from the thistle, but on fields devoted to grain for any length of time it is invariably present to a greater or less degree.

Kills Everything Else.

Where the thistle has secured a good foothold there is nothing else growing. Unlike many other weeds, its presence seems to blight everything growing near it. Wherever the yellow blossoms of the thistle are found nothing else is allowed to live. There are fields just outside of the city and northward to the Marshall county line that are not worth cutting because the thistle has killed off everything. It seems to thrive particularly during seasons when other vegetation is held back by adverse conditions. And it only seems to take one season for it to get in its deadly work.

Farmers Discouraged.

Under existing conditions it will not help matters any for one farmer to try and keep his fields clean. The roads on each side are lined with this thistle in every state of development. from the green shoot to the silky pappus, which is the ripened state of the plant. At the root of each hair of this pappus is situated a flat, brown, heart-shaped seed for which the former acts as a conveyor. The entire mass is of a fluffy lightness, and when the wind blows this is sometimes carried for miles. Wherever it lands a thistle springs up, the frosts of winter having apparently no effect upon it. For any one farmer to attempt to keep it out of his fields would therefore prove absolutely useless unless all his neighbors did likewise. So menacing has the situation become that many of our best farmers are discouraged and are thinking of seeking other fields for their endeavors.

The March Southward.

The sow thistle was first noted near the Canadian boundary about nine years ago and its progress southward has been steady until now practically all the northwestern counties have the fight on their hands. Kittson, eastern Marshall and Roseau are perhaps a little worse off than are Pennington and Red Lake, but another year will see all in the same fix unless some drastic measure is taken. As sections more generally devoted to diversified farming are reached the trouble diminishes. Where clover and alfalfa are grown the weed cannot get a foothold, and crop rotation of any kind is the surest way of killing it out. Sow thistle does not possess the hardihood of quack grass and certain other pests, and a general war on it will stamp it out.

Road Sides Greatest Danger.

It will be absolutely necessary for the county and the different townships to take measures for the cutting of the weeds along the roadsides before these can go to seed. It is likely that legislative aid will be asked, and the noxious weed law already on the statute books will help greatly if properly applied. An energetic county agent, with authority to compell the cutting of plots overgrown with sow thistle could do much in forcing negligent farmers to do their duty in the matter. An educational campaign holding forth on the danger of allowing the weed to get any kind of a start in a community should be inaugurated at once. It is too late for anything in the nature of preventative measures to be taken during the present year, but everyone should be in readiness to begin the war with the opening of spring. No one farmer, nor one neighborhood, or even a county can stop the spread of the sow thistle. The danger calls for united action at the same time all along the line.

Two Accidents in One Day.

The automobile belonging to Carl Skaalmo on Sunday figured in more accidents than any one car is entitled to. A party composed of Mr. Skaalmo, C. J. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Klemmentson were in the machine and on their way to the Sons of Norway picnic at Maple Lake. Going down a hill in the negihborhood of Red Lake Falls the brakes refused to work and Mr. Skalmo turned the machine into the bank to prevent a more serious result. After the damage had been repaired the trip was continued, but about two miles further along the auto went into a ditch. The occupants were pretty badly bruised up in this mishap and the machine was considerably stove in.

WORK START NEXT WEEK ON NEW DAM

Will Rush Work With a View to Furnishing Power Before Winter Sets in

W. A. Schreiter, who is the active manager in charge of the Kretschmar dam property in this city, was here this week making the necessary preparations to begin the work of rebuilding the dam next week. He ordered 50 cords of stone to be delivered at the site, and the steel is expected to arrive within a day or two.

While the intention of the company is not given out at this time, it is generally supposed that an entirely new dam will be put in. Such an undertaking, however, would take more time than is at the disposal of the company at present, the aim being now to put the dam in such condition as will enable the city to secure power from it before the short days arrive. This can be done by the building of a wing dam so as to divert a portion of the flowage toward the intact section of the old structure at the power house.

WATER STRUCK IN FIRST WELL TRIED

Drillers Tap Vein at a Depth of 130 Feet—Clear, Soft and Abundant

Water of excellent quality has been struck by Contractor L. S. Olson in the first test well attempted for the city. This well is located at the corner of Second street and Duluth avenue, and the vein encountered at a depth of 130 feet. Samples secured disclose but little sediment of any kind, is of good color and possesses no discernable foreign taste. A sample has been bottled and sent to the state university for analysis.

WAS CAUGHT UNDER OVERTURNED AUTO

Henry Froseth Has Rather Exciting Experience on Sunday, But Came Out Lucky

To have a big Veilie car turn completely over and settle down on top of you would not be a particularly pleasing experience, and but few have had it occur without very serious consequences. This is just what happened to Henry Froseth on Sunday, however, and the only serious damage to record was that sustained by the car.

Mr. Froseth and a young lady companion was out for a run along the West road on Sunday. When about seven miles west of town Mr. Froseth lost control, with the result that the car went into the ditch and turned completely over. Mr. Froseth was pinned under the car, but his companion was luckily thrown clear and escaped uninjured. Displaying rare presence of mind under the circumstances she at once made for the nearest telephone and called up the Haug garage in this city. Mr. Haug hastened to the scecne and found that Mr. Froseth had managed to get out from under the overturned car. He was somewhat stunned and considerably briused up, but not seriously injured. Mr. Haug brought the passengers to the city and had the car towed in.

Mr. Froseth says he cannot account for the accident as he was running at a very moderate rate of speed. He is also well acquainted with the machine as it is the property of the family. It is one of those things that "just happen."

ARRANGEMENTS ALL MADE FOR SATURDAY AUTO RUN

Thief River Falls Business Men Will Practically All Join Sociability Run to Lake of the Woods.

PLAN EXCURSIONS BY LAND AND WATER

Citizens of Warroad Have Made Preparations For Entertainment and Accommodation of the Visitors. Short Stop at Roseau.

Rules Governing Tour

Positively no speeding allowed. Cars must retain position assigned them in line by official starter.

Cars should keep a distance of at least 200 yards apart to avoid dust and possibilties of accidents.

If a car is disabled, it is to be retired to the side of the road and await the arrival of the repair car. It will be assigned its original position at the next town after overtaking the party.

Red signal flags mark plaecs in the road where there are bad spots, or will indicate turns. Note the red flag at a corner and turn where it is placed.

Lunch will be served at Roseau between 12 noon and 1:00 o'clock. A stop of one hour is scheduled here.

The party will spend Saturday night and Sunday in Warroad, returning Sunday afternoon or early in the evening.

Unless the elements conspire to prevent it, the great sociability run of the Thief River Falls Commercial club for the summer season of 1916 will take place next Saturday morning. The objective point is Warroad and the Lake of the Woods, and every indication points to the most enjoyable and popular trip of its kind ever attempted by the business and professional men of any city in this section.

Preparations For Reception.

The Commercial club of Warroad has prepared the people of that enterprising village for the coming of the crowd, and everything will be in readiness for their reception and entertainment. The town and the lake will be turned over to the visitors and and there will be a diversity of amusements on both land and sea.

They Will All Be There

It is expected that at least fifty autos will be in line by the time Warroad is reached. Over half of this number will start out from Thief River Falls and the balance will be added at the different points along the line. Viking will furnish its quota; the people of Karlstad have signified their intention of turning out strong, and every available automobile in Roseau and along the road between these towns has been chartered and will join the merrymakers.

Big Dance Saturday Night

One of the features provided for the entertainment of the visitors will be a dance in the pavillion at Warroad on Saturday night. This pavillion overhangs the lake and is in itself an object worth coming a long distance to see. The Lake of the Woods, with its myriad islands, is said to present one of the most beautiful sights in this country when the shadows of evening fall across its waters. The party will be there for the sunset on Saturday evening and the sunrise on Sunday morning, and so can thus take their choice.

Accomodations For the Night

Warroad's hotel accomodations will in all likelihood be taxed to the limit for sleeping room on Saturtay night, but this fact should prevent no one from going, as the citizens have volunteered to look after the surplus at private houses. The hotels are ample to take care of the ladies and children of the party and any man who cannot find a place to put in the time between the closing of the dance pavillion and the arrival of daybreak is a mollycodle anyway, and sleeping out will do him good.

Boat Excursion On Sunday

The lake trip on Sunday will perhaps be the greatest event for those who have never seen the Lake of the Woods, with its bays, inlets, islands and wooded shores. It is a scene of ever increasing interest and beauty, located in a region which in a few years will be the favorite summer play ground for all America. A charge of fifty cents will be made for this steamboat trip, which is lower than the usual rate. The Commercial club of Warroad has assured those coming on this trip that the prices of everything have been reduced to the lowest possible figure and that anyone even attempting to make any money on Saturday night and Sunday will be forever ostracised from good society.

Are You Going?

If you have made up your mind to go and wish to be counted among the regular representatives of your city, notify Secretary F. T. Lincoln at once of the fact. There is a whole lot of preliminary work to be done before an event of this kind can be successfully launched, and Mr. Lincoln is attending to these. If you own a car, telephone and inform him of whom you are going to have ride with you. The more complete the list he has the more certain all will be of being properly cared for when Warroad is reached. And don't wait until the last minute. The more thoroughly the arrangements can be attended to before hand the less confusion and delay there will be in getting properly started.

Those Who Will Go.

The pilot car will contain the following officers of the Commercial club: Geo. C. Johnson, president; M. C. Cutter, vice president; Fred T. Lincoln, secretary; C. A. Pitkin and C. W. McDaniel, members of the executive committee. The following have thus far sent in their names to Secretary Lincoln and signified their intention of making the trip. N. J. S. SAPERO PURCHASES STORE OF WOLD & CO.

Business Will Be Continued And High Standard Will Be Maintained By New Owner.

A business deal of more than ordinary importance was closed today when the Wold & Co. store was sold to S. Sapero of Chisholm, Minn. The business will be continued along the same lines as at present and the stock will be maintained at the same high standard as has been characteristic of the store under the management of Mr. Wold.

Mr. Sapero is the senior member of the firm of Sapero & Sons, proprietors of a large department store at Chischolm, the finest store of its kind on the iron range. His son, A. Sapero, will arrive in a few days to take active charge of the local store and as he has had a wide range of experience in the ladies' ready-to-wear line the business is certain to prosper under his management. Mr. Sapero Sr., will leave in a few days for New York City to purchase the fall and winter stock of ladies' ready-to-wear garments and announces that the line will be the finest ever seen in this city. It is the intention of the new owner to make the store the leading establishment of its kind in this section of the state and nothing will be left undone to accomplish that purpose.

Mr. Wold, who has been in active charge of the store since it was first opened, is undecided at present as to what he will engage in. He has been one of the foremost business men of the city and will be greatly missed in business circles as a live "booster" for Thief River Falls. He has always taken an active interest in any movement that had as its object the advancement of the city's welfare and has been a leading member of the Commercial club. He is a keen business man and is certain to be successful wherever he decides to locate.

FAMILY ROW ENDS IN SERIOUS CHARGE

Anton Fensand Bound Over, Accused by Wife of Assault With Intent to Kill.

Anton Fensand was on Tuesday bound over to appear at the January term of the grand jury to answer to a charge of assault with attempt to kill, the complainant being his wife. Bonds were fixed in the sum of $200 by Judge Tarrant.

The couple reside upstairs over the offices of the Thief River Valley Land company, and people in the neighborhood were startled about nine o'clock on Monday night to hear cries of "murder" coming from the direction of their appartments. A large crowd quickly formed and the word went about that Fensand had almost killed his wife. Patrolman Alexander entered the house and found Mrs. Fensand nearly unconscious from being choked and otherwise mistreated by her husband. It was some time before she was able to talk and give any account of what had happened.

Fensand was marched to the jail, where the officer was met by a large crowd evidently gathered for the purpose of teaching the prisoner the error of his ways. Lynching was even spoken of as about the proper punishment to be meted out, but before anything serious could happen Fensand was placed behind the bars.

On Tuesday the accused waived examination. He explained to Judge Tarrant that every so often it was absolutely necessary for him to take some such action against his spouse, as otherwise there would be no living with her.

YOUNG STORM PUTS CITY IN DARKNESS

Lights Are Out One Hour For First Time Since Plant Was Installed

Quite an ambitious wind storm passed over this section of Pennington county last evening, but so far as can be learned no very great damage resulted. The city was thrown into complete darkness for about an hour because of the storm. A small house on the fair grounds was picked up by the wind, carried into the air about 30 feet and dropped across the electric light wires, putting the entire circuit out of business. Superintendent Leonard Peterson and a crew of men started out to hunt the trouble. There are between 15 and 30 miles of wires strung about the city, and it looked to the linemen as if they were in for an all night search in the pelting rain. They were fortunate to locate the trouble after a short search, however, and by nine o'clock everything was in running order. This is the first time since the plant was installed that lights have failed for this length of time.

The theatres were practically the only sufferers, these being forced to return the admission money taken in and closing up for the night.

Big Fixture Job Landed.

The Thief River Falls Manufacturing company is putting the finishing touches on the fixtures for a big store at Grafton, N. D. The company has also been informed that they have been awarded the contract for the fixtures for the new Citizens' State bank at Roseau. A complete set of marble fixtures are being turned out for a bank at Sherwood, N. D., this being one of the finest interiors ever put out by the concern. The officers report business as picking up again after a somewhat dull season.

STRIKE OUTLOOK MUCH IMPROVED

Thief River Falls People Think a Way Will be Found Out of the Difficulty

WOULD PARALYZE TRAFFIC

Cities of Farming Districts Would be Best Able to Withstand Isolation—Gasoline Famine Among First Felt

Reports this morning are to the effect that President Wilson has summoned a committee of 640 union delegates to Washington for the purpose of conference, with a view to evolving some plan whereby a general railroad strike may be averted. The negotiations came to a temporary halt yesterday while the president awaited the arrival of this committee from New York. It is said that the chief executive will make an attempt to get concessions from the roads if the men will waive the overtime demands made.

Most Serious Strike In History

A general strike at this time would no doubt prove the most serious and costly in the histor yof the country. There is no question but that the railroad men themselves sincerely hope that a way will be found out of the difficulty other than a general walkout, but it is also very apparent that they are determined to insist upon at least the greater part of their demands being met.

The Local Situation

There are about 175 men working in the different branches of railroading involved living in Thief River Falls. This is by no means the total that would be effected by a general strike however. With no trains running there would be no need of workers in any of the co-related branches and the number thrown out of employment would be much greater.

One of the results of any prolonged tie-up would be that the city would be in total darkness. Practically all manufacturing plants in the city also depend upon the municiapl plant for current and these would have to close down. There is on hand at present sufficient oil to run the Deisel engines for a month or more, after which time they would have to close down entirely. Automobiles would become unknown in a very short time. From every direction comes the report that gasoline supplies are low and that the price of the fuel would be the first thing to go skyward should the supply be shut off even for a short time. There is no very great demand for coal in this section at this time of the year, and the fuel question would not be acute.

Pretty Well Fixed.

As concerns general provisions, any farming community is naturally better off than the big cities. For instance, the failure of the regular milk trains to arrive in cities like New York and Chicago would mean an appalling infant mortality. Forty-eight hours without the regular supply trains would mean that many would face actual starvation. A similar situation can hardly be imagined for the country districts, but prices might go to a point that would make it a hard matter even for these to pull through without serious inconvenience.

Everybody hopes that a strike will not be called. Every agency is being bent toward securing a settlement of the difficulty, and the brotherhoods are certainly as anxious as the balance of the country that things will turn out all right without having to resort to extreme measures. The men are evidently determined to insist on most of their demands being met however. At this moment the situation appears more hopeful than for weeks past.

Are Good Suggestions

J. H. Spink, of White Bear, Minn., father of H. H. Spink, arrived the first of the week for a few days visit with his son and daughter-in-law. Mr. Spink, sr., has for years been one of the leading business men of the Ramsey county village and considers it in many respects the finest little residence town in the state. He stated while here that he liked the business aspect of Thief River Falls very much, but that we should make certain improvements now while it can be done comparatively cheap. Coming from a town where the people pride themselves on the beauty of the parks and boulevards, he is strongly of the opinion that these are matters which should be looked into at once by our city authorities. Another suggestion made by him was that the streets be given a coating of oil. This is done in nearly all progressive cities and villages farther to the south and proves decidedly a paying proposition. It preserves the streets, keeps the dust down, and is withall decidedly cheap.

An Incomplete Argument

In another column of this issue of The Times will be found a communication from Mr. W. A. Barnard of Thief River Falls, division superintendent of the Soo railroad, in which that gentleman sets forth his views as a railroad official on the threatened strike of railway employes.

In his letter calling attention to the table of figures contained in the communication, Mr. Barnard says that many of the roads are now in the hands of receivers. This is unfortunately true, but it seems to us that in order to make this apply as an argument against granting the demands of the men it will not only have to be shown that the wages paid at present are a major contributing factor in bringing about this condition, but also that the wages as they now stand are higher than they should be. If the existing wage scale shall be found to be but one of many causes why certain roads are not paying their way, or if it is proven that these wages are by no means chiefly to blame, then it would seem to us that Mr. Barnard's argument is not well taken.

All industries have learned through bitter experience that the paying of low wages to employes is one of the most unsatisfactory of all modes of retrenchment. If, therefore, it is true—and the railroad brotherhoods claim it is—that the reason for the inability of the roads to meet these demands is that useless expenditure and absolute waste are permitted in departments with which the brotherhoods have nothing to do, then the wage scale cannot be charged with absorbing an undue share of the revenue.

Mr. Barnard furnishes certain figures showing the amount of wages paid to enginemen and trainmen. There is not the slightest doubt but that these figures are absolutely correct, so far as they go. In order to mean much of anything, however, the number of hours per day or per month the men of the different divisions were required to work in order to earn these wages would have to be known. If they represent the averages paid for eight hours work per day they indicate that men in the railway service are among the best paid of all skilled workers. If these wages are averaged up for the year without regard to the number of hours per day worked the figures may indicate a decidedly low earning average.

But it seems to us that the main point is lost sight of in this communication, as well as in practically all arguments we have seen having a similar purport. It is this: Are the demands of the men unreasonable? Will the railroads, in granting them, be paying a higher price than do other industries for the same proportionate services? Eight hours per day and time and one-half for overtime is the rule in all skilled trades. At the present scale of wages, would the amount received by a railroader for eight hours work be disproportionate to the service he renders during those eight hours? To say that he can make better wages if he will only consent to work longer does not answer the question satisfactorily. You might as well claim that the railroads could cut the price of hauling a bushel of wheat and still receive the same amount for the service by hauling it a little farther.

The fact that certain railroads are now in the hands of receivers has nothing to do with this matter. If it is true that under existing laws the railroads are not permitted to charge enough for the service furnished by them and are thus unable to meet the demands made by the men, then the laws should be changed—provided always, that these demands are just and reasonable. If they are not just and reasonable they should not be granted, no matter what the financial conditions of the railroads might be.

"The New Editors"

Under the above caption the Duluth Evening Herald gives some very good advice to a lot of us fellows who have become publishers of newspapers during the past year. The Herald does not stop there, however, but also devotes a little of its attention to the duty a community owes a newspeper. If both will conscientiously attempt to perform this duty the newspapers will be better and the communities more prosperous. We believe that, with very few exceptions, the editors are upholding their end of this combination and the people served seem to be coming to a more thorough realization of the fact that the local edtor and his newspaper are entitled to vastly more consideration than has generally been bestowed upon them in the past. The Herald's article follows:

> A good many of the state papers, during the last few months, have come under the guardianship of new editors. It seems as if an unusual number of men have found themselves in a position they have long wished for—able to buy or start weekly papers—and on the other hand many have taken off the harness they have worn for years and have retired from active work of that kind, disposing of their plants to the younger men.
>
> Naturally the new editors will be subjected to pretty close scrutiny by the older residents of their respective communities. Naturally there will be a passing of judgment and a more or less determinative criticism of them and their work. They will find they have no easy rows to hoe, for the demands of the people upon men in their position are many and insistent, and the fault-finding is fluent and unsparing.
>
> These new editors are going to learn the truth of the often repeated sayings that while other men can hide their mistakes and dodge responsibility for them, the editor must always make his in black and white, and can never dodge.
>
> But we would like to give just a word of advice to the new editors, and another word of advice to the people of the communities in which they are taking up their work. And we believe that the advice is exceptionally sound, as advice goes.
>
> To the people of the community we would say: Back up your local editor. He is furnishing the best possible boosting medium for your locality, and you will find him untiring in his efforts in that direction. His paper will be the sole means by which many outsiders will know your town and its possibilities and promise. If your support is lacking he will not be able to publish a paper that will be a credit to the place, or to give you what you know to be good newspaper service.
>
> Support him in every way. Give him advertising, when you want to get something before the people. Give him news when you know of something the folks in general would be interested in. And give him the printing you have to have done, for the chances are that that sort of work will go a long way towards determining the character and success of the newspaper. Meanwhile remember that the space in his paper is as much a subject for commercial sale as are the goods on the merchant's shelves, and that when you ask for free space it is equivalent to asking for free dress goods or free groceries. You will find him remarkably generous with his space, all things considered. But do not expect him to donate it for everything that seeks publicity.
>
> To the new editor we would say: Boost your town. Point out the good and commendable things in it. Point out errors, too, but at the same time point out a remedy; be a constructive critic, not a common knocker. Give the public a square deal and the public will see that you are able to work up a circulation that will itself draw advertising.
>
> And have opinions—and print them. You may not be a marvel in the art of expression, but no man ever attained to the position you have without being capable of having ideas on some subjects, at least. Syndicate stuff in the editorial columns will only come back at you like a boomerang, for when other editors see that the opinions you print are not your own, but are being printed at the same time in a dozen or so other papers, they will be afraid to clip and quote your paper, lest they be giving credit where it doesn't belong. It is YOUR opinions your friends want—not those that some unknown is spreading broadcast.
>
> These aren't all the things that could be said to and for the new editors, but we'll let it go at that. And in the meanwhile, here's wishing good luck, courage, and prosperity to the most valuable human assets the several communities can have—the editors of the local papers.

Is Making Them Think

The enthusiasm with which Charles E. Hughes has been received throughout the west must prove particularly gratifying to his supporters. The impression had gone forth that the next president was a distant, unaproachable sort of man, with a vast amount of dignity and but a slight understanding of the common run. This idea has been dispelled by the trip. It has been discovered that Mr. Hughes is "just folks" the same as the rest of us. He speaks in language that all can understand and presents facts none can refute, although this has been attempted by the opposition.

The size of the crowds greeting a candidate for the presidency on these cross-country trips are not in themselves certain indications of his popularity, nor is it likely that every man shouting for Mr. Hughes will vote for him. President Wilson will likely make a similar trip and the crowds will be just as large and just as enthusiastic. No man in America was ever greeted by larger and more enthusiastic audiences that was William J. Bryan, but the people—quite a few of them—did not vote the way they shouted. Most anyone will turn out to see and hear a celebrity, and the enthusiasm of the moment will make them applaud vociferously. It is what the speaker has said—the argument contained in his discourse—that counts after he has gone away, however. The people then begin thinking over his words and sifting his arguments, and it is in accordance with conclusions then reached that they vote.

Mr. Hughes' speeches have been crisp, convincing and to the point. He has laid bare the danger of continuing a policy of vaciliation as well as called attention to the humiliating position into which this policy has already thrust the country. The mistakes of the present Democratic administration have been pointed out and remedies for their correction suggested. The Republican candidate has impressed everyone with his evident sincerity of purpose and his demand that America and Americans be considered first in everything coming up for consideration or discussion in this country. He has scored the hyphenate harder than he has criticised the administration, maintaining that the influence of the former must not be allowed in any manner to influence the action of Americans.

The trip of Mr. Hughes has perhaps not been a triumphal tour, but neither will be that of Mr. Wilson. The American people are in too serious a mood for anything of the kind at the present time.

Just One Little Creamery

The farmer who devotes all his land to the raising of wheat or other grain must do his figuring just after seeding time in the spring and then make his calculations on the basis of a bumper crop every year: If he did not so figure he would not continue the mistaken policy. The number doing this is every year growing smaller, but there are still many who pin their faith to the one thing that made the northwest famous forty years ago.

Just compare the condition of the sections of country still depending on grain to that of the farmers near Grygla, a little town about forty miles northeast of Thief River Falls. Grygla is twenty-five miles from a railroad—and that an electric line with transferring facilities at but one end—yet it has one of the best creameries in the state of Minnesota. The report for the month of June shows that butter to the amount of $5,550.26 was shipped, and that of this sum $4,769.48 was distributed among the patrons of the creamery. This was not made possible by reason of enormous demand in nearby markets, a total of 21,752 pounds being shipped direct to New York.

Just figure out the wheat acreage this would represent. Then add to the difference the loss of fertility incident to the growing of this wheat as against the steadily increasing productiveness made possible by the keeping of cattle on the place.

And the Grygla creamery is no different from similar institutions in other localities. Dairying is not a "coming" industry for northwestern Minnesota. It is "the" industry, and the farmer who does not realize the fact is blind to his own interests.

The movement started by the park board having as its aim the establishment of a bathing beach at some convenient point on the river should receive the support of every good citizen, and particularly of parents. One fatal accident is chargeable to swimming in the river this season, and this danger is always present where the bathing places are not supervised. The money outlay necessary for a properly conducted bathing beach would be small in comparison with the benefits which would accrue. Children, and particularly boys, will go swimimng, and nothing is better for them. To establish for them a place in which they can enjoy this healthful pastime without danger is something the community owes to itself.

THE RAILROAD'S SIDE

Thief River Falls, Minn.
August 14th, 1916.

Dear Sir:—The train and engine service employes who are threatening to tie up the commerce of the entire country by a general strike unless the railroads will grant their demands for increases in wages amounting to $100,000,000.00 are already the highest paid class of employes in railway service and are among the best paid men in any line of industry.

The average yearly wage payments to all Western train employes (including those who worked only part of the year) as shown by the 1915 payrolls are:

	Pass'g'r	Freight	Yard
Engineers	$2,038	$1,737	$1,218
Conductors	1,772	1,624	1,292
Firemen	1,218	973	832
Brakemen	921	1,000	1,026

Three quarters of these men (including all who put in a full year's service) earned these wages:

Engineers—road, $1,537 to $3,094; yard, $1,056 to $2,445.

Conductors—road, $1,454 to $2,933; yard, $1,151 to $2,045.

Firemen—road, $751 to $2,078; yard, $418 to $1,552.

Brakemen—road, $854 to $1,961; yard, $852 to $1,821.

For the whole country the average wages of three-quarters of the employes were:

	Pass'g'r	Freight	Yard
Engineers	$2,067	$1,892	$1,526
Conductors	1,850	1,719	1,310
Firemen	1,203	1,117	924
Brakemen	1,095	1,013	1,076

The railroads have considered every man whose name appears on the January and December payrolls as an employee for a year no matter how little service he performed in the other ten months. It is pointed out by the managers that these averages are, in consequence, an understatement of the earning power of these employes.

Under existing rules employes in train and engine service have most favorable working conditions. If they do any work at all in a day they are given a full day's pay, no matter how short a time they may work or how few miles they may run. If they are called on to work over time they are paid for it at the regular hourly rate. They are paid extra for every mile over 100 they may run. They cannot make less than a full day's pay and if they do anything extra they get extra pay.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the Employes' representatives Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the government determine this issue?

If the train and engine service employes insist on resorting to a strike, to enforce their demands for higher wages, the blame will be entirely upon them, for the railroads have offered to submit the demands to arbitration and have done everything possible to bring about a peaceable settlement.

Yours truly,
W. A. BARNARD,
Superintendent.

A BATHING BEACH TO OUR HAND

By IRA C. RICHARDSON

A wealth in which every citizen will be a shareholder, has been discovered by the lowering of the river.

At the west end of Johnson street, directly across the river from the Soo depot and city terminal of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railroad, there is a strip of land, now dry, that will be flooded and maintained at a known surface level upon the rebuilding of the Kretzschmar dam.

Clear off this season's growth of weeds, pick up the flood-wood and take out a few stumps and the "Baths" are ready for use—in clean water and above all sewers—as long as the dam shall last. It is a five-minute walk from the iron bridge, or a ferry at a slight expense will connect it with the east end of Third street north. A few loads of gravel spread over it before the water raises will make an ideal bottom.

Deposit more gravel on the bank at the end of Johnson street and there will be a close imitation of the Sea Beach at Coney Island. There is a high river bank and a lower level or terrace of land so there will be different depths of the baths—some may wade and others swim.

When desired, make a flower garden of the high bank all the way to the Soo railroad bridge, and you have a veritable beauty spot. The large sign "Public Baths" will be a valuable advertisement of this city forever.

There is unimproved land covered with timber on both sides of Johnson street as far as Markley avenue adapted to park purposes. There will be plenty of water at this point, while a long drought would make a pool below the dam, while below the outlet of the sewer system the place would resemble a hog-wallow.

Besides the depth and current of the stream below the dam will fluctuate, in either high or low water, more than it would above the dam. And what advertisement would the city derive from a swimming pool below the dam?

The plan I propose is the one that has been in use at St. Paul public baths for years and—has an advantage over St. Paul, because its baths are affected by a strong current that is dangerous to bathers.

Let some public spirited citizen pay two men for a day or two to clean the ground, and others pay for the gravel, and the thing is done. The safe depths can be marked by booms with wire netting suspended from them to the bottom. These can be taken in before winter to avoid damage by ice in the spring.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Isabel F. Bryant.

Mrs. Isabel F. Bryant, wife of David R. Bryant, 302 Conley avenue, died on Monday at the Physician's hospital after an illness of but a few days.

Mrs. Bryant was born in St. Paul on Oct. 31, 1865, the daughter of Daniel and Isabel Flynn. With her parents she moved to Mandan, N. D., in 1880, and was married in that city to David K. Bryant on Nov. 28, 1889. In 1904 the family moved to Thief River Falls, and this city has been their home since that time.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Bryant is survived by three sons: Robert R., Philip, and Arthur K. Bryant. There are also three sisters and two brothers, these being: Mrs. E. J. Steele, Portland, Ore., Mrs. Charles F. Kellogg, New Salem, N. D., Mrs. Oliver Leverson, Hazen, N. D.; Hugh A. Flynn, Spokane, and Dr. Harry V. Flynn of Montpelier, Idaho.

In the death of Mrs. Bryant the city loses one of its best known and most highly respected ladies. In every undertaking for the betterment of the city and its people she was ever foremost, and took a particularly lively interest in the work being done by the women of the country for the betterment of the race. She was invariably called upon to give of her time and energy to practically every enterprise in which women take an interest, her last service being that of superintendent of the women's building at the Pennington county fair. She was not in the best of health even at that time, but her sudden demise came as a decided shock to her host of acquaintances.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning from the Catholic church and the large concourse following the remains to their last resting place, as well as the many beautiful floral offerings, bore testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was everywhere held.

MANY IN THIEF RIVER FALLS TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE.

Many Thief River Falls people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE spoonful relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-l-ka is astonishing. F. J. Stebbins, druggist.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Thief River Falls man is confirmed after a year.

E. T. Emerson, retired farmer, 417 LaBree Ave. N., Thief River Falls, says: "I was greatly annoyed by a lame and aching back and pains across my loins I was in misery. My kidneys were weak and didn't act as they should and the kidney secretions were unnatural I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Curtis' Drug Store and two boxes brought me fine relief." (Statement given March 16, 1912).

OVER A YEAR LATER, Mr. Emerson said: "This last fall, I felt a return of backache and again used Doan's Kidney Pills. One box removed the trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Emerson has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Aug. 17-24.

The Meaning of Satisfaction

YOUR being satisfied with the goods you buy at this store means a great deal more to us than it does to you. You would only be inconvenienced for the moment; we would sustain a lasting and actual loss. We cannot afford this and try to avoid it by securing for you the very best groceries on the market. Sometimes the most conscientious merchant has an inferior article foisted onto him, and this is often not discovered until the can is opened or the bundle unwrapped. When this occurs with goods purchased here, bring them back. We do not want you to use them. Our motto is "QUALITY and SERVICE" and if you do not get the very highest quality and the best of service, please tell us about it. We are going to stay here a long time and your opinion of our store makes all the difference in the world.

PRINCESS SINGER PLEASES

First Appearance of Carlotta Stockdill Greeted by Good House at Popular Theatre

Carlotta Stockdill, the Sullivan & Sonsidine star, made her first appearance before a Thief River Falls audience on Tuesday evening and scored a distinct success. Her voice is a rich coloratura contralto of wide range and excellent power. Besides, she possesses also the personality and stage presence deemed so necessary to any artist in this age of unsparing criticism. Miss Stockdill has appeared in all of the leading theatres of the country and everywhere her work is regarded as being among the best. It is seldom that the people of cities the size of Thief River Falls are enabled to see and hear an artist of Miss Stockdill's class, and then only at prices greatly in excess of those charged by the princess.

Miss Stockdill will appear at the Princess every feature night during her stay in the city, which will be until the opening of the regular vaudeville season sometime in September, when she will go to Chicago to again take up her regular work.

SONS OF NORWAY AT MAPLE LAKE

Local Lodge Members Enjoy Outing in Company With Grand Forks and Crookston.

Forty automobiles containing members of the local lodge of the Sons of Norway, together with their wives and families, enjoyed an outing to Maple Lake, about 42 miles distant, in Polk county on Sunday. It was the annual picnic day of Varden lodge of Grand Forks, and the members of the organization at Thief River Falls and Crookston had been invited to join in the outing. Bjarna chorus of Grand Forks, assisted by Dr. Vistaunet of Thief River Falls, sang at different periods throughout the day, this being a feature particularly enjoyed by the big assemblage. A number of addresses were made, among these being one by County Attorney Hans O. Kjomme, of this city. The day was ideal for outing purposes and the excursionists report one of the most enjoyable and successful affairs of its kind ever attempted by the lodge. HAVE WONDERFUL CANAL PROJECT

Enthusiastics Would Spend $25,000,000 to Reclaim 225,000 Acres Near Red Lakes.

WRONG IDEA OF SITUAUION

All Lands With Exception of Indian Reservation Already Reclaimed. Red Lake River Improvement Would Solve the Problem.

Northern Minnesota has perhaps suffered more from the misrepresentations of its misguided friends than any other section of the United States. For a long time it was the particular delight of newspaper correspondents to make a devastating forest fire out of every burning brushheap, and the damage caused by this foolish practice has not yet been entirely overcome.

These "swamp land" reclamation projects are almost as bad in some respects. The trouble is that the nature of these lands is not sufficiently explained. A "swamp" is regarded by most people as being a bottomless morass, fit only for the propogation of mosquitos and bull frogs, whereas the lands referred to under the head of "swamp lands" in northern Minnesota are the stretches lacking in natural drainage, this permitting the surface water to remain too long to make their cultivation possible. Draining and clearing these lands makes them the most fertile acres in the country, but some of the schemes brought forward for the accomplishment of this work would lead anyone not acquainted with the true conditions to believe that changing the course of the gulf stream would be an easy job in comparison.

A Wonderful Scheme.

The latest proposition brought forward having some such purpose in view involves the expenditure of $25,000,000 for reclaiming the overflowed lands in the neighborhood of the Red lakes. This would be all right were it not for the fact that all the lands in the Red lake drainage basin have already been drained, with the exception of about 225,000 acres included in the Indian reservation, and congress has now under consideration a bill for the carrying out of this project. These lands are on the west side of the lakes. On the south side the country is rugged and rolling, and an irregation project for their benefit would contain more elements of common sense than does this drainage notion. North of the Red lakes there is only about five miles of territory naturally draining toward the south. There are no streams flowing into these lakes from that direction, the natural watershed being toward the Rainy river. Inasmuch as the last-named stream is causing a great deal of trouble because of its inclination to overflow it might prevent international complications if this watershed were cut through and the northward-running streams diverted into the Red lakes. This does not seem to be the aim, however.

Nothing Left to Reclaim.

There is no possible way in which more than the 225,000 acres of the Indian reservation land can be reclaimed in the vicinity of Red lake, and that body of water is surely able to take care of this additional amount. The entire drainage basin for which these lakes form a reservoir is, according to government survey, about 2,000 square miles in extent. The surface of the two lakes covers 440 square miles. Spreading the drainage from this amount of territory over a surface of this size would certainly not raise the level to any alarming extent.

An expenditure of $25,000,000 for the reclamation of this area of 225,000 acres would mean that the process would cost a triffle over $111 per acre. This is probably about all the land will be worth for some little time to come—although much of it is very excellent land.

The Only Solution.

The work of draining the lands of northern Minnesota has been going on for some years. The entire section is gridironed with ditches, many of which find their final outflow into the Red lakes. In the construction of these ditches more earth has been moved than in the building of the Panama canal. There is very little left to be done. The deepening and straightening of the Red Lake river and the placing of controlling works at the headwaters of that stream will solve the entire problem, and congress has now under consideration a bill with this purpose in view.

The Wrong Direction.

A canal from the Red lake, 100 miles long and connecting with the headwaters of the Minnesota river, is part of this $25,000,000 project. The people in the valley of the Minnesota do not want the overflow waters from the north. They have taken pattern after the drainage system inaugurated in this section and are ditching to get rid of their surplus. Traverse and Big Stone lakes have more trouble in taking care of the water drained into them than the Red lakes can ever possibly have, and the proposition to divert the waters from the latter to swell the abundance already present in the lower lakes would not meet with any great amount of encouragement.

"Millions of Acres."

And this vast enterprise, according to the advance notices, is for the purpose of draining the "millions of acres to the north, east and south of Red lake." To the north there is no drainage problem; the south and east are already interlaced with ditches, and these are doing their work well. What is needed is an increase in the capacity of the Red Lake river to carry off the spring surplus from the Red lakes, and this is forthcoming.

Some Figures In Altitudes.

Red lake is approximately 1,200 feet above sea level. The altitude of Thief River Falls is 1,114, that of Grand Forks 835, and Fargo 901. One of the objects of this canal scheme is to prevent floods from inundating the last named city. The Red Lake river empties into the Red River of the North at Grand Forks. Before Fargo could be in any manner injured by the back-water it would have to raise 66 feet at Grand Forks, and in order for this canal scheme to help matters in any way the Red Lake river would have to be responsible for this entire raise.

The fall from Grand Forks to St. Vincent is 42 feet, which is not great, but nothing done at the headwaters of the Red Lake river will in any way accelerate the flow of the Red River of the North at this point.

The Fall is Sufficient.

The Red Lake river flows so rapidly that it furnishes enormous water powers every few miles along its course. All that is needed is the straigntening out of the channel, the removal of certain accumulated obstructions, and controlling works a short distance below the outlet for the purpose of holding back the spring surplus, after which there will be no trouble from floods. All this talk of $25,000,000 canals is pure buncomb.

INSPECT THE SCHOOLS BEFORE OPENING DATE

State Fire Marshall Says in Basements, Flues and Corners Lurks Danger.

Now is the time for school boards to see that the school buildings are put into safe condition from fire for the coming sessions.

During the summer vacation preiod, many schools are closed and not looked after again until just before the term begins in the fall, says Robert W. Hargadine, state fire marshal.

Have an inspection made of the basements, closets, attics and out-of-the-way corners in each school building. See that the chimneys are cleaned so as to reduce the danger of fire from soot, and above all, get rid of all rubbish in and about the school buildings before the children return.

In this manner many school buildings will be made safe for the children and instructors, and incidentally will save the community possibly hundreds of dollars.

Last year there were 29 school houses burned in Minnesota with an aggregate loss of $183,528. Undoubtedly much of this loss was due to neglect or carelessness.

LOCAL PERISCOPE

Miss Mary Prichard was hostess to the Campfire Girls at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Prichard Sr., last Friday evening. The usual good time was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. T. Kiland is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Anderson, at Lime Springs, Iowa. She left on Wednesday evening of last week in company with her sister, who was called to this city by the death of her brother, Nels Berg.

One of the pleasing social affairs of the week was the entertainment of twenty-six girl friends by Miss Blanche Johnson at the delightful farm home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson last Saturday evening. Miss Johnson proved a versatile hostess and pleased her guests with novel forms of entertainment.

Doris Provencher left Monday morning for Dakota, where he expects to go to work in the harvest fields. According to reports from that section there will be less need of laborers of this character there this year than for some seasons past, but Doris figured that as long as one man was needed his chances for getting the job was as good as the next fellow's.

Miss Hilda Rathjen, who has for the past year been employed at the Times office as bookkeeper, took her departure Saturday evening for the home of her parents at Luverne, Minn., to spend three weeks visiting. Later Miss Rathjen will leave for Mankato to take up an advanced course at one of the business colleges. During her stay in Thief River Falls she has resided at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. H. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Graettinger arrived here last week from Alberta, Minn., to make their home in this city. Mr. Graettinger owns a fine farm east of the city and intends to move onto it in the spring. He has had considerable experience in farming and realizes fully how this section is particularly adapted to stock raising and dairying, which line of farming he will follow.

F. H. Stauff, of Lake City, who is engaged as salesman for a nursery at that place, was a business caller in Thief River Falls last Friday while enroute to points south of here. Mr. Stauff visited Middle River last week and while there made arrangements with the board of education of that place, whereby he is to come to that village some time in September and deliver a series of lectures on educational lines.

Mrs. Louis Rayson and Mrs. C. A. Nason entertained at the Rayson home last Friday afternoon for Mrs. Ben Christianson of Gulfport, Miss. The ladies spent the afternoon with their needlework and at an appropriate hour refreshments were served. The guests present were: Mesdames O. Finberg, T. L. Melgaard, J. H. Hay, A. H. Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Brokke on Monday took their five-year old son to Warren for the purpose of having an x-ray examination made of his back. About two weeks ago the little fellow was out in the country, and in playing fell from a fence to the ground. Nothing much was thought of the matter at the time, but he has since complained constantly of pains across his back and the parents feared that something not discoverable by the ordinary examination might be troubling him.

Word received from H. C. Rowberg by friends here is to the effect that Battery B. First Minnesota, is expecting to be called for duty at the border on a moment's notice. The order issued on Saturday by President Wilson calling on 25,000 additional troops for border duty will probably hasten the departure of the First, although it was expected that this unit would soon be called upon in any event. Reports are to the effect that the boys are in fine condition and are anxious to be sent south.

Moreland Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bishop, who left this city for Minneapolis about a week ago, departed from that place last Friday for Boston where he will be the guest of Prof. James, an instructor at the University of Minnesota. Enroute he expected to stop at Chicago, Pittsburg and New York. He will return about Sept 1st in company with Prof. James by way of Niagara Falls and the Great Lakes, Prof. James to take up his work at the university and Mr. Bishop to enter upon his duties as principle of the Oklee schools.

O. E. Mogenson says he is not going to stop making improvements until he has by all odds the finest clothing store in this section of the state. Workmen have this week been busy putting in place double deck clothing racks along the north wall of the big salesroom. These will practically double the display facilities for this class of goods. It is Mr. Mogenson's intention also to place two rows of display tables down the center of the store, each being devoted to some particular line handled by him. The entire arrangement will make for convenience in handling as well as economize on space.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carson and daughters, Natalia and Rosalie, of Chicago, who have been visiting at the K. A. Sundahl home in this city for two weeks, left Wednesday morning in their automobile for Winnipeg where they will visit for a few days before returning to their home. They made the trip from Chicago to Thief River Falls in their 60 horsepower Stearns-Knight machine and had a most satisfactory trip. Mr. Carson is one of the leading Chicago building contractors and has just completed a large armory building there which covers an entire block. He was also the contractor in charge of the construction of the famous greenhouses which were built in Chicago several years ago and claimed to be the largest in the world. Mr. Carson is a brother of Mrs. Sundahl.

C. E. Solibakke, cashier of a bank at Drayton, N. D., and Hilmer Lindberg, a merchant from the same city, accompanied by their families, passed through Thief River Falls on Saturday, enroute to the lakes in the neighborhood of Bemidji, where they will spend about a week camping. They arrived by way of Newfolden and Karlstad, report the roads in excellent shape throughout the entire journey, and considered the Pembina ridge a most wonderful stretch. These gentlemen reported crop conditions in their section to be pretty much the same as in those further to the east, wheat being expected to run from six to eight bushels to the acre. Oats and barley are turning out better than was expected two weeks ago.

This Overland is the world's most powerful low-priced car.

Has a 31½ horsepower en bloc motor that is a perfect marvel for speed, power and endurance.

By increasing the bore of the motor from 3⅛ to 3⅜ we are able to offer a power plant which at 150 R. P. M. develops full 31½ horsepower.

Tests under every condition in all parts of the country demonstrate that it easily develops better than fifty miles per hour on the road.

Speed of course varies under different codnitions, but in practically every instance it has been getting fifty miles an hour and with ease.

We have scores of telegrams showing that twenty to twenty-five miles per gallon of gasoline is not unusual.

The performance of this car is almost beyond belief.

Take any other low-priced car on the market. Pit it against this new Overland. Compare them for sheer speed, for abundance of power, for riding comfort and economy, and you'll find this cars will back anything else clean off the boards.

That's a strong statement, but a fact nevertheless.

Try it yourself and see.

Here are more important facts.

It has four inch tires which are more than generous for a car of this size.

Not only has it a large and roomy body, but it has an attractive, up-to-date streamline body.

It has the latest system of ignition.

It has the cantilever springs—the easiest riding springs in the world.

What's more, it's complete. Not a thing to buy. You get the finest Auto-Lite electric starting and lighting system, magnetic speedometer, one-man top, practically every accessory found on the highest priced cars.

It only goes to prove how big production can cut cost and save you money.

First come, first served. Place your order now.

ASK TELEPHONE POLE REMOVAL

City Council Takes First Step Toward Having Unsightly Nuisance Abated.

ONE MORE WELL ORDERED

Excellent Water Found at Present Location and Work Will be Continued in Order to Determine Extent of Vein.

The city of Thief River Falls will attempt to force the telephone companies operating within the municipal limits to remove their poles from the business and resident streets and place them in alleys or under ground. At the regular meeting on Tuesday night City Attorney Theodore Quale was instructed to draw up the necessary ordinance and the matter will be urged for early passage.

Certain of the councilmen stated that in some portions of the city the poles of the companies now stand in clusters and carry a perfect network of wires. This arrangement is unsightly and at times causes a great deal of inconvenience. The matter must have received considerable attention before being brought up as the city dads seemed well acquainted with different localities in which the most annoying conditions were found.

Will Mean a Fight.

It was freely predicted that there would be a fight on as soon as any move looking toward a change in the present system was broached, but the council figured that a fight over the matter would be coming anyway, and concluded that this was as good a time as any to bring it on.

During the discussion of the proposition it was admitted that a mistake had been made when the telephone companies were permitted to use the streets as they pleased. The laws governing these public utilities now makes it a somewhat difficult matter to force an alteration, but attorneys believe that it can be done.

Sewer Work Ordered.

The preliminary steps were ordered for the installation of a sewer along Main avenue from Ninth street to the city limits. Also a similar sewer along Zeh street for a distance of one block. It is the intention to get this work done before fall.

The hearing on the assessment ordered for the construction of sewers in District No. 2 will be held Sept. 12.

Salaries Are Raised.

An application for a raise in salaries was received from Charles Krause, engineer at the lighting plant, and Ole Lagvald, superintendent of lines, asking that their wages be raised to $90 per month. The applications were granted. To further show that they considered good men worthy of their hire the council unanimously voted to raise the salary of P. C. Peterson, bookkeeper in the department of the city utilities, to $75 per month. This proceeding will meet with general approval as the men are all experts in their line and it is doubtful if any of them could be replaced even at the new salaries.

Auditorium Roof Troubles

Councilman Bakken stated that while he was sorry to disagree with any architect, yet the fact remained that the man who designed the covering for the Auditorium did not understand northern Minnesota winters. Considerable damage has been done to the appearance of the interior of the building by reason of the water leaking through the roof and running down the walls. Mr. Bakken suggested a system of interior spoutes such as are now used on nearly all buildings of any size in the north. Holt & George submitted an estimate which showed that the necessary work could be done for about $150, and they were told to go ahead, taking their orders from the building committee.

Minor Matters

The water works extension bonding ordinance was placed upon its final reading and passed. The ordinance providing for the removal of rubbish was amended so as to read as applying to people living within the fire limits instead of the entire city.

The sample of water taken from he first city well was examined by the councilmen and pronounced all right as far as appearances went. Samples were also ordered sent to the state board of health for analysis.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE BUSINESS LOOKING UP

Another Teacher to be Transferred Here From Bismarck by Pres. Langum

A letter received by the Times from G. M. Langum, president of the Thief River Falls Business college, states that he has decided to continue the branch in this city, the matter of abandoning it for the time being having been under consideration. A number of new students have lately been enrolled and there are promises of more for the winter months.

Mr. Langum also states that another instructor will be taken from the Bismarck school and added to the teaching force at Thief River Falls. He is expected to arrive with Mr. Langum in a few days, when a campaign for the securing of students for the fall term will be begun.

The attendance during the summer months has not been quite up to expectations, but indications are that a greater interest will be shown from now on. The school is turning out the best equipped pupils of any similar institution in this section of the state and the demands for graduates has been greater than the supply ever since the school was established.

ATTEMPTS ASSAULT ON YOUNG WOMAN

Sunday Evening Stroll With Stranger Proves to be Rather Unsafe Proceeding

One young woman in Thief River Falls has received a scare that should have a strong tendency to make her repulse the advances of strange men in the future.

Two girls, out for a Sunday evening stroll, were accosted by two men near the Salvation army headquarters. One of the accosting parties was slightly known to one of the girls, and the quartet paired off, continuing their journey down Main avenue toward what is known as "Lover's Lane." Arriving in the neighborhood of the last houses on the street the rear couple found themselves quite a distance behind their companions. At this point, so the story of the girl in question goes, her "friend" made certain advances which were resented. He persisted and she screamed, whereupon he grabbed her by the throat and began to otherwise mishandle her. Her outcries were heard by the nearby residents, and Milton Forder, who lives across the street from where the struggle took place, started out to investigate. On his approach the man let go of his intended victim and struck out for the woods. In his haste he dropped his hat. Upon attempting to return to secure this Mr. Forder again tried to nab him, but he managed to get away and the hat remains as evidence against him.

The other young man refused to divulge the name of his companion and both girls plead ignorance as to his identity. The sheriff's office and police department are searching for him, however, and are sure of their ability to get him.

There is rather serious lesson for parents as well as girls in this occurance. The latter should not go walking with strangers and the former should know where their girls are spending their evenings as well as something of the parties with whom they are associating. The Times is purposely withholding the names of all those connected with this episode.

THE CITY'S SHARE OF TAX IS $728.95

Different Divisions Traversed Divide Total of $1,767.16 as Public's Share of Electric Earnings

The returns made by the Minnesota Tax commission show that the gross earnings of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway amounted to $35,343.31 during its first year of operation. The rate of taxation for all purposes is five per cent of this sum, amounting to $1,767.16. Out of this total the city of Thief River Falls receives $728.95, the remainder being divided as follows: Town of North, $269.67; town of Silverton, $328.87; town of Cloverleaf, $324.80; town of Goodridge, $114.87. These figures are based on the following division of gross earnings: City of Thief River Falls, $14,579.11; town of North, $5,393.39; town of Silverton, $6,577.39; town of Cloverleaf, $6,496.10; town of Goodridge, $2,297.32.

This stretch of road is steadily growing in importance to the section it serves. While the amount of taxes returned is already considerable, these will grow with the business, and indications are that this will be more than doubled during the present year. The country tributary to this electric line is being settled more rapidly than any other similar stretch in the northwest, a fact primarily due to the ease with which markets can be reached.

Contractor Carlson Home.

Contractor C. M. Carlson returned last evening from Stephen, where he is superintending the erection of a new school house, to spend a short time attending to business matters.

LEG CRUSHED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Harold Brown is Thrown Under Wheels at Plummer in Attempt to Steal Ride.

NOW AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Railroad Officials Disclaim Any Responsibility in Matter and Thief River Falls is Under no Obligation to Support Patient.

Harold Brown, apparently a member of the tramp fraternity, was run over by a freight rain on he Soo railroad at Plummer last Thursday. He was taken to the Physician's hospital in this city where amputation of the left leg was found necessary. Other injuries also contributed toward placing him in a serious condition for some time, but it is thought he will recover. Brown's mother lives in England and he claims to have an uncle in New Jersey.

Tried to Board Freight Train

Brown, of whom nothing is known either here or at Plummer, attempted to climb onto the rapidly moving freight train when he was thrown between the cars, a number of which passed over his leg. Dr. J. C. R. Charest was called and had taken charge of the case wehn the passenger train pulled in. Dr. F. H. Gambell of this city was on board this train and he was asked to look after the injured man. On a request from the station agent at Plummer, Dr. Gambell had Brown taken to Thief River Falls, being given to understand that the railroad physicians at this place would look after the case upon the arrival of the train here.

Railroad Denies Responsibility

Doctors O. F. Mellby and J. E. Douglass are the accredited physicians of the Soo at this point. They assumed charge of Brown when he was removed from the train and took him to the Physician's hospital. An examination showed his condition to be such that an amputation of the crushed leg at that time would probably prove fatal and the doctors decided to postpone this until the following day. Before this could be accomplished, however, the railroad's doctors received word from the company to the effect that the latter was to be in no wise responsible, which meant that the case would revert to the doctor originally in charge. Doctor Gambell preformed the operation and the man will probably remain at the hospital until the first of the year. He is without money or friends and no one is apparently under any obligation to look after him excepting Dr. Gambell, who cannot drop the case.

Railroad Hardly to Blame

The city of Thief River Falls naturally refuses to consider itself responsible for the keep of a man hurt at Plummer, and Pennington county will pay no hospital bills for a patient from Red Lake county. It is also very clear that the railroad cannot well admit responsibility for the accident by assuming the burden of his maintenance. Everyone knowing anything about the occurence states positively that the crew was in nowise to blame, as the man was attempting to board a train without any right whatever to do so. The Physician's hospital will hold Dr. Gambell responsible for the bill at that institution and it looks as if he were to be penalized for aiding a fellow-being in distress.

Happens Too Often

This city and county is too often called upon to provide for people injured at Red Lake county towns. When an accident happens the train crews naturally rush the victim to the nearest place where proper hospital facilities are to be had. It would be criminal negligence on their part to do otherwise. But the city authorities here are getting tired of meeting the bills of people for whom they are in no way responsible. In this latest case it would seem that the village of Plummer should stand the expense and it is likely that an attempt will be made to enforce payment from that municipality.

Brakeman Injured.

Harry Fry, Soo Line brakeman running between Thief River Falls and Federal Dam on way freights 186-187, had his left arm crushed near Bemidji Tuesday afternoon. The brakeman was at once rushed to the Bemidji hospital and up to yesterday afternoon it was not found necessary to amputate the injured arm.

Will Visit Former Pastor.

Mrs. H. R. Pope left the latter part of last week for Staples, Minn., where she will visit at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Smith. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Gladys Smith, who had been visiting at the Pope home for several weeks.

SCHOOL OPENING TUESDAY, SEPT. 5

Question of Taking Care of All Pupils Again Confronts the Board Members

DOUBLE SESSIONS OR RENT

Because of High Cost of Material Members Believe it Would be Inadvisable to Put Up More Buildings This Year.

School opens for the fall term on September 5, and the question again confronting those in charge of educational matters in Thief River Falls is: "What shall we do with the surplus?"

There are but two ways of meeting the difficulty. One is to rent sufficient room to enable the pupils to attend in the regular way, and the other is to divide the school day between two different sets of classes. This was the scheme followed out during the latter part of last term, and while it may present certain drawbacks, it worked out very satisfactorily. Prof. H. J. Hay, city superintendent, is understood to be strongly in favor of the continuation of this plan until such time as more room is provided.

No Building This Year.

The situation within the school board is pretty much the same as during the past year, which means that in all likelihood no building operations will be attempted for some time. But even though all the members were agreed it is likely that the erection of additional school houses would be postponed for the present, if such course were found possible. Labor and materials are at an abnormally high price, and the general disposition seems to be to wait and see if things do not assume a more nearly normal status.

Following are the teachers with whom contracts have been made for the schools of the city:

Lincoln high school—Miss Synneva Grindeland, principal; Miss Avis Akre, German; Miss Evelyn Grindeland, music; Albert Johnson, science and athletics; Miss Patience Lockhart, commercial; Miss Belle McKenzie, English; Miss Ruth Storli, Norse and science; Miss Gertrude Swanson, mathematics; M. C. A. Pitkin, clerk of the school board, states that there are still three positions to be filled, but that he expects to hear from the candidates by wire today. At any rate, there will be a full complement on hand when school opens.

ELKS WILL PICNIC ALL DAY SUNDAY

Squaw Point to Be the Scene of Annual Outing Given by Antlered Herd

The annual outing and picnic of Thief River Falls lodge No. 1308, B. P. O. E., will be held at Squaw Point on Sunday next, and the committee in charge have made arrangements which indicate that this will be the biggest and most enjoyable gathering of the summer. George G. Johnson is chairman of the standing entertainment committee of the lodge and he has selected the following to have charge of the coming event:

Committee on lunch and to assist at grounds—K. O. Dock, Emil Zeh, Thomas Majers, A. H. Fasel and Jos. R. Lutz. Sports—Fred Niclai, Chris Storholm, Ed. Dolan. Rereshments—Jack Keating, Judge N. W. Tarrant. Committee on transportation to the grounds—Andy Anderson and owners of automobiles. Band committee—N. J. Anderson and George Loken.

The Elks picnics are considered the really big events of the year wherever they are given and the local lodge members are determined that their's shall be one of the best. The selection of Squaw Point as the place for holding this outing was a sensible move. It is conveniently located almost within the city's limits and is besides one of the prettiest spots in the neighborhood.

Dinner will be served at the grounds and there will be an unusual program of sports and games.

FATHER DINGMAN WILL LEAVE SOON

Transferred to Church at Park Rapids—Father Noeson to Succeed Him Here

Rev. Father Adolph Dingman, for twelve years priest in charge of the congregation of St. Barnard's Catholic church in this city, leaves shortly after the first of September, having been transferred to the church at Park Rapids. Father Noesan, at present stationed at Park Rapids, will assume charge here at the same time.

A great many changes are being made throughout the Catholic church in America for reasons that the ordinary laymen does not understand. "Father Adolph," as he is called by everyone in the city where he has served so long and well, is one of the best known and most popular clergymen in this section, and his departure will be noted with regret by people of all classes and of whatsoever denomination.

Father Noeson, who succeeds to the charge here, is a brother of Mrs. William Mulry of this city and was raised in Crookston. He is therefore almost a home product and thoroughly well acquainted with the conditions to be found here.

FIRST MARKET DAY EARLY NEXT MONTH

Merchants Will Take Opportunity to Start Campaign Against Mail Order Buying.

The first market day of the present season will be held early in September under the auspices of the Thief River Falls Commercial club. Secretary Lincoln has been interesting the merchants of the city in the matter and they will present special inducements to all farmers in order to bring them into town on that day. The business men will take advantage of the occasion to start an educational campaign against the practice of mail order buying by proving through artual demonstrations and tests that money can be saved by purchasing at home. The catalogue articles will be placed side by side with the articles sold in the stores and the prices marked for comparison.

It is certain that the people all over the country are yearly being defrauded out of millions of dollars by the misrepresentations of mail order houses and merchants everywhere are organizing for the purpose of showing just how the thing is done.

PRINCESS PRICES ARE CUT IN TWO

Popular Play House Will Hereafter Show Feature Films at Five and Ten Cents

As will be seen by the advertisement of the Princess theatre in another column, Manager Seitzler has decided to cut the admission prices in two during the remainder of the summer months. This means that the high grade pictures heretofore shown at 10 and 20 cents will hereafter be put on at 5 and 10 cents. While the shows have been worth all that has been heretofore charged for them—in fact, the same pictures have been shown for which a much higher admission is asked in the cities—the indications are that better results will be obtained by filling the house up even at the small price.

As an indication of the class of service Mr. Seitzler intends to maintain it might be mentioned that the famous Chaplin picture, "One A. M." will be shown at the popular prices on Monday night. Others of a similar degree of excellence will follow, it being the intention to keep the bookings up to the highest possible standard.

A NEW $50,000 HOSPITAL HERE

Parties Have Been Looking Location Over For Some Time With This Plan in View.

WORK TO BEGIN THIS FALL

Site Has Been Selected and Plans For Building Are Being Pushed, According to Reports From Reliable Sources.

Thief River Falls is to have a new $50,000 hospital. The site for the building has been selected and work will begin this fall. This is the report given to The Times this morning, and careful inquiry brings to light facts which point to the story being true.

S. D. Lonyer, of Chicago, has been in the city during the week, being commissioned it is understood, by parties who stand ready to back a hospital enterprise to be located here. The ground has been carefully gone over and those in charge have reached the conclusion that this city offers an unusual opportunity for a hospital such as they contemplate putting up.

It is asserted that architects are already at work drawing the plans for the building, but just where this will be erected is as yet kept a secret.

The medical staff for the new institution has been chosen, according to the report, its head being a famous surgeon from the city of New York.

CHIEF DISPATCHER GOES TO SUPERIOR

W. D. Boyce, For Ten Years With Soo Here, Succeeded by A. J. Odin of Minneapolis.

W. D. Boyce, chief train dispatcher of the Winnipeg division, will leave in a day or two for Superior, to which point he has been transferred. Mr. Boyce has held down the post on this division for ten years and during that time has proven himself an efficient and capable employee, giving satisfaction to his superiors and being highly popular with his fellow workers. His transfer to Superior is something of a promotion, the division at the head of the lakes being a very important one on the system.

A. J. Odin, formerly dispatcher at the Minneapolis offices of the road, will succeed Mr. Boyce as chief dispatcher at this point.

The Sensible Way

Indications are that the railroad heads will yield to the suggestions made by President Wilson granting certain of the demands of the brotherhoods, thus averting a disastrous strike. For this everyone will be most profoundly thankful. The consequences of a strike at this time would be so costly that its effects would be felt for years to come—by the railroads, the men, and, in far greater degree, by the public.

The Times has contended from the outset that if the demands of the men were just, the fact that the railroads were in no shape financially to meet them could be hardly used as an argument against their being granted. It is pretty generally admitted by those best posted on railroads that the laws enacted for their regulation have often gone far beyond this and practically prevented their natural expansion. Everything used by a railroad—in labor, material or equipment—has increased in price during the past few years to an enormous degree, while the tendency of legislatures and courts has been to steadily lower the freight and passenger rates. This policy was begun some years ago, and it is likely that the people have lost more through the inability of the roads to make needed improvements and extensions than has been gained by the reduced rates.

But this has nothing to do with the primary causes leading up to the present situation. The railroad workers did not make these laws, nor is their repeal or modification any part of the men's business. Their contention is that they are entitled to certain wages and working conditions. This has been met by the roads with the simple statement that they are unable to pay because the laws do not permit them to secure a sufficient revenue from the service they perform. There is something to be said for the roads in this matter. In practically any other business where men ask for more wages and these are granted, the additional burden is at once distributed all the way down the line until the ultimate consumer is reached. This, however, cannot be done in railroading. The charges there are fixed. If more money is granted for any purpose there is no way of making the revenue stretch to cover the outlay. It would therefore seem only just that if the men are granted additional wages, the railroads should be allowed to increase their charges sufficiently to cover the difference. This should only be permitted, however, in case it were proven that the present limitations make it impossible to grant this increase and still leave a sufficient surplus for reasonable and natural expansion as well as a fair return on the money-investment made.

As concerns the justice of the demands made by the brotherhoods, it is pretty generally conceded that these are neither unreasonable nor arbitrary. When the comparitively high wages paid in certain lines of railroading are pointed out, the men reply: "The only fair basis of stating wages is to show how much a man receives per hour for his work. The railroad train service employees receive less per hour compensation than almost any other trade—a hod carrier gets $4.50 for eight hours, or 56 cents per hour."

The railroader claims that his work is extra hazardous, and as proof of this shows by statistics that the average length of service is eleven and one-half years. A train employee is killed on an average of every four hours and forty minutes, and one is crippled every three minutes and thirty seconds. This is according to the last report of the Interstate Commerce commission.

Engineers and conductors on passenger trains receive very good wages, but these should hardly enter into the average, as it is claimed that out of every 100 men who start work as firemen, only 17 ever become engineers; out of every 100 men who become engineers, only six become passenger engineers. The physical examination required is more severe than that demanded for enlistment in the army or navy. Thus the very best men physically are drafted into the service. Such men should be entitled to as much pay and as favorable hours as those engaged in occupations in which the requirements are not so exacting.

But whatever their opinion as to the merits of the present controversy, everyone will be pleased that it is apparently near settlement.

Easily Explained

Emma Johnson Harwood, publisher of the Roosevelt Reporter, cannot understand why the price of common print paper should have more than doubled while at the same time the price paid for pulp wood delivered on the tracks at Roosevelt is 60 cents per cord lower than a year ago. The Times is very glad to be in a position to enlighten the sister. You see, this European war——

But isn't it just like a woman to ask a question of that kind?

Cows, clover and creameries—this is the combination that enables the progressive farmer to sympathize with his neighbor whose grain crop fails. Creameries never fail and there never yet has been an overproduction of their commodity. Whereever there is a creamery you will find a prosperous and progressive neighborhood. This industry has proven the emancipation of the farmer wherever it has been intelligently followed, although the surroundings may not always have been the most promising. One example of what cows will do is furnished by the county of Baron, Wisconsin. This is a region formerly heavily timbered and the farmers have had the same problems to meet as the settlers on the cutover lands of Minnesota. According to the last report of the creamery at Baron, the county seat, that institution paid out to its patrons the sum of $54,400 for milk and cream for the month of July. And there are seven other creameries and a cheese factory within a radius of twelve miles. Such reports are not unusual.

Are there going to be any state and congressional campaigns in Minnesota this year? It is understood that Tom Frankson is still running for lieutenant governor and that Harold Knutson is a candidate for congress in the Sixth. Outside of these two there is nothing stirring and it is necessary to look back over the files to find out who was the winner in the primaries in order to be seen.

The saw mill company at Spooner was forced to quit operating its night shift last week because of the scarcity of laborers. Most of those laid off on this night shift were transferred to the day gang with the idea of keeping production up to the highest possible point. The men are well paid and satisfied, and it is hard to understand how the I. W. W. overlooked such a splendid field for their operations.

FOR CONTROL OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

By The County Chairman

St. Paul—(Special)—This is an era of centralization, and the fact is due to be emphasized at the coming session of the Minnesota legislature, when numerous bills covering many subjects and calling for such centralization and control will be introduced. A number are in preparation now. Many things heretofore regarded as purely local are involved. For instance, the water powers of the state, which are now even without local or state control, the transmission of power, light and heat, better control of the telephone and telegraph companies operating in the state, the transmission of electrical energy of all kinds and the regulation of water companies whose operations extend beyond their source of supply. Two prominent members of the senate are reported to be collaborating on a bill that will embrace everything mentioned and there are other members of both the house and senate who are directing their energies toward the centralization of other lines of endeavor. Of course all this can only result in one thing, the creation of a commission, something abhorrent to many who believe that the state is overburdened with commissions, but it has to come. Other progressive states are doing it and Minnesota eventually will have to fall in line. While it may add to the burdens of the state it will mean the killing off of a horde of commissions and boards whose pickings are the villages, towns and cities where the activities mentioned operate and to which the local consumers contribute. That the measures contemplated will have opposition on the part of the commercial activities concerned is certain, but those behind the movement do not intend to let such worry them. They declare such centralization to be a progressive move and of undoubted benefit to every taxpayer and patron of the utilities named. The bills proposed are going to be among the principal activities of the next legislature.

✣ ✣ ✣

Continuing on this subject of centralization and consolidation two bills are under draft which will have for their object the consolidation of the several state departments having to do with game and fish and forestry. One of these will likely be the product of the new efficiency and economy commission. Another will bring under one head the state insurance and fire departments, and still another will attempt the creation of a department of public domain. Under it will be gathered those activities generally agreed as beyond the legitimate sphere of the state auditor. These activities include the state lands, timber and minerals. So you see it is going to be a busy session of the legislature and one fraught with much good for the state at large if the legislation mentioned gets by. There is not a county in the state that has not a water power of some kind, the energy of which if put to work would be of incalculable value to every locality. If the control and regulation of these utilities alone prevails something toward the carrying out of the new idea will have been accomplished. Then, too, there are the telephone companies of the state. While the state has control, such control cannot be said to be entirely on the side of the people. This will have to be corrected. Representative L. C. Spooner of Morris is said to have some decided views concerning the handling of the latter and when he gets busy you can expect to see the fur flying.

✣ ✣ ✣

Word received by Minnesota Democratic leaders is to the effect that President Wilson has put his foot down on a general campaign tour of the United States preliminary to the November election. However, he will be available on invitation and might accept a call to speak in St. Paul sometime in October. That the invitation will be extended is certain and it is probable that the arrangements for his visit and reception will be placed in the hands of F. B. Lynch, the national committeeman. Mr. Lynch is now in the East.

✣ ✣ ✣

Governor Burnquist has not yet taken unto himself a private secretary of his own political faith, all of which is not worrying C. M. Andrist, the Democratic incumbent, in the least. Close friends of the governor, however, think he should close up the gap and that without delay. James S. Arneson, it was thought at one time, was slated for the place, but it can now be said without fear of contradiction that he is out of the running. Another mentioned for the place is Representative Sanborn of St. Paul, but it is said he will not take it. The most likely one now is Gust Lindquist, who is a close friend of the governor. However, the job of private secretary is one in which outside interests have no concern and Governor Burnquist is likely to fill the place when, how, and with whom he pleases.

✣ ✣ ✣

C. C. Brown, former state deputy Auditor, recently dropped by State Auditor Preus, has been taken into the office of Attorney General Smith. He will have charge of the inheritance tax department.

✣ ✣ ✣

Dr. H. M. Bracken of the state board is very much in the spotlight as the result of charges that his department is not up to the standard. Local prints have been insinuating that the board's control of contagious diseases, especially the latest malady, infantile paralysis, is not what it should be. If there is a more valiant scrapper in the state capitol than Dr. Bracken he is yet to be found, and those who have set out to get the doctor's goat have taken over some job. The trouble with the state board of health is that the last legislature badly crippled it by cutting its appropriation nearly one-half. As a result its usefulness has, in a measure, been impaired.

✣ ✣ ✣

To the state labor department has been assigned the task of investigating strike conditions on the Iron Range, also the reasonableness of the complaints made. This is what should have been done at first, for despite stories to the contrary Governor Burnquist, I know, is most anxious to bring the controversy to a close and without damage to either side. Early investigators were inclined to furnish Governor Burnquist with information to the effect that the strikers were without grievances, but the report of the state labor department tells a different story. Those in charge found that everything is not as had been reported.

✣ ✣ ✣

Though the November election may tell a different tale all signs point to the election of Dar Reese as congressman from the Fourth district. Carl C. Van Dyke, the Democratic incumbent and a candidate for re-election, is seldom heard of in the political talk indulged in. It was Congressman Van Dyke who put Fred C. Stevens of St. Paul out of business. He made a remarkable run, but after that little was heard of him.

✣ ✣ ✣

At the option election held in Beltrami county recently license prevailed by a small majority. The larger part of the county is dry under the Indian treaty, the only saloons being located at Spooner and Baudette.

✣ ✣ ✣

Friends of Asa Wallace, Sauk Center publisher, are out after legislative support for Mr. Wallace for chief clerk of the house. Practically every candidate for the house has been written to. Oscar Arneson, who is also talked of for the place, says he has not reached any decision as to the future. He is now chief clerk under State Auditor Preus and is in doubt what to do.

✣ ✣ ✣

With the election of Frank B. Kellogg, Republican candidate for United States senator, practically assured any further activity on his part would seem useless, but the St. Paul man evidently is determined that the people of the state shall have a chance to see who they are voting for next November. Ever since the primaries Mr. Kellogg has been continually on the go and few gatherings have had to ask twice to have him as their chief guest. His managers have protested on several occasions, declaring that his physical condition would not stand it, but Mr. Kellogg insists that the voters are entitled to hear what he has to say.

✣ ✣ ✣

Attorney General Smith and A. H. Turrittin, head of the state banking department, have caused the arrest of R. R. Livingston, a prominent capitalist and promoter of Brainerd. He is charged with irregularities in connection with the management of the Security National Loan company. In addition to being prominent financially Livingston dabbled quite a bit in local politics.

✣ ✣ ✣

It is rather early to discuss the possible organization of the next senate, but the report is that interested parties are busy trying to swing the upper body their way. Of course to do such will require the sanction of the lieutenant governor, who this year probably will be Thomas Frankson. That Mr. Frankson will stand for any combine is regarded as improbable. The old guard, it is said, wants control of the senate.

✣ ✣ ✣

August 1 was the time for turning in balances into the state treasury. The contribution for the state university was less than $12.

Warroad Pioneer.—Warroad extends welcome to the first auto club excursion to reach our city from the outside, and takes pleasure in the fact that it comes from Thief River Falls—the best city of its age and size in the north country.

Like Warroad, the home city of our visitors began as an outpost of civilization only a few years ago, and by the hustling qualities of its citizens has become a wholesome clean and populous city with all modern conveniences.

The coming of the excursion is somewhat in the nature of a dedication of the new road between Warroad and Roseau. It has been in use for some time, but there has been some uncertainty about using it in some quarters. This excursion will end that.

NOTICE

Owing to the unsettled condition the flour market and the high price of all other raw materials, we have been forced to discontinue our practice of selling bread three and six for a quarter. Knowing the consumer would rather have us maintain the present high quality of our goods rather than use inferior materials, thereby impairing the quality, we are raising the price to five and ten cents straight. This change to take effect August 28th.

OUR LAST SALE OF SUMMER MERCHANDISE THIS YEAR

WARROAD FOLKS WELCOME CROWD

Turn Everything in Their Beautiful City Over to Visitors on Saturday and Sunday.

LAKE PROVES REVELATION

Section is Bound to Become of Vast Importance When Possibilities Are Fully Realized—Fine Weather For Visit.

Everybody had a good time and all are glad they went.

The sociability run of the Thief River Falls Commercial club for the present summer was made on Saturday, the point of interest picked for the excursion being Warroad and the Lake of the Woods.

The start on Saturday morning was prompt, everybody being in line before nine o'clock. When starter W. J. La Bree managed to get things straightened out he found there were 25 cars in line, each containing from four to seven passengers, the total number starting at this time being estimated at 150 by Secretary Lincoln of the club. Besides these a number who could not get away with the procession kept stringing along the line during the day and evening. There were also three or four auto loads arriving at Warroad on Sunday, so that there were probably 200 people present when the entire company was assembled.

Roads in Fine Condition

It is likely that the rain of Friday night held back a number who had intended making the trip. This shower, however, only made the drive all the more pleasant. The day was bright, and in spite of the long string of cars, no dust was raised and they were enabled to keep in close formation throughout. There were no accidents of importance, and Fred Haug, chief mechanican of the cavalcade, was not called on until Greenbush was reached, and then only to rectify some minor troubles.

Greenbush Looks Good

After leaving Karlstad the Pembina ridge was followed until Greenbush was reached. At this thriving Roseau county village the citizens turned out and welcomed the visitors, finding many old acquaintances among them. After a few selections by the Thief River Falls band the journey was continued, it being the intention to reach Roseau in time for dinner. The journey took the travelers through Badger, another prosperous community, but it was thought best not to make a stop there at this time.

Dinner at Roseau.

Roseau was reached about three o'clock in the afternoon, and everyone was glad that a halt was to be made for dinner, which was served on the lawn at the Haganah hotel. Here quite a stop was made and the services of the band were constantly in demand. The people of the Roseau county capital were very glad to see the Commercial club excursionists again, their city having been the terminus of a similar outing last year. In fact, many of them suggested that it might be well to stop right there this time. Although everyone knew that they would be well used if they remained, this did not fit in with the plans made for this trip, and the journey was continued at about five o'clock.

Found Everything Ready

The committee in charge of the arrangements at Warroad had made all possible preparations for the reception of the tourists. Among those taking the lead in this work should be mentioned A. M. Arpin, who belongs in Thief River Falls but is at present at work on a large ditching contract near Roseau; George Marvin, J. S. Sperling, Syvert Selvog, Dr. Parker, J. G. Brown, Charles Moody and A. B. Clair. Electric light wires had been strung out to Moody park and tents had been erected for the housing of such as could not be accomodated by the hotels of the town. Many preferred the hotels to the tents, but those occupying the latter found themselves well equipped with such conveniences as it had been possible to gather in the short time allowed.

A dancing platform had been erected in the park at which the visitors and townspeople enjoyed themselves until about midnight, the music being furnished by the Warroad orchestra.

Arpin's three ring circus was a feature of the program, the entertainment furnished for the visitors being the last to be given before the circus goes into winter quarters.

A Wonderful Lake

On Sunday morning the water craft on the river was kept busy taking excursionists out for short rides on the Lake of the Woods. This is a body of water regarded by most people as being chiefly valuable as forming part of the boundary line between the United States and Canada. Very few have any idea of its extent or the possibilities it possesses as a carrier of commerce. This lake has an area of 7,650 square miles. It is therefore just 550 miles larger than lake Ontario, regarded as one of the really great bodies of fresh water in the world. Its extent is but 150 miles less than that of lake Erie, another of the great lakes, while it is considerably larger than Albert Nyanza in Africa. Eleven thousand of its islands have been charted by the Canadian government, and it is claimed that there are in the neighborhood of 15,000 all told. Most of these are on the Canadian side. It will some day be the greatest summer resort in the world.

Good Land and Crops.

Warroad is situated in the midst of a fine farming country, some of the best crops to be found in the northwest this year being noticed a short distance south of the town. This section is just now becoming fully known and settlement is rapid. The roads are the best to be found anywhere. It is only a year ago that the first automobile made the trip between Roseau and Warroad, this highway being now one of the finest in the north.

A Look of Stability

The village itself contains fine brick houses and handsome residences. The depots and schools are rather better than those noted in towns of the same size located farther to the south. There are two railroads—the Canadian Northern and Great Northern. The people have been assured that their city will become a division point on the former system as soon as the war situation has cleared up sufficiently to warrant Canadian companies in making extensions of any kind.

The people are hospitable and enterprising. They have an unbounded faith in the future of their town and their optimism seems more than justified. With an exceptionally rich farming section back of them, the estuary of a navigable river along which to construct docks, and one of the largest lakes in the world at their doors it will be only a matter of a short time until the attention of the very largest enterprises is called to the advantages so long overlooked.

Dredging Operations.

A large government dredge is constantly kept on the Lake of the Woods, the engineers and crew making their headquarters at Warroad. Much work has been done during the past few years and this will be continued to a much greater extent as the commerce on the lake makes its demands felt. Surveys and soundings, the placing of lights and bouys, and the more thorough charting of the many bays and inlets occupy the time of these government employees when not engaged in actual dredging operations.

Back Through Middle River.

Many made the return trip through Middle River and found the roads in this direction in excellent condition. Mechanican Haug had the most serious car accident of the trip while fording the stream on this lap of the journey. He broke the shaft of his machine and was forced to put in the night at a farm house, towing himself into town the next day with the car of Mr. Myrom of Viking.

Taken as a whole, the trip was a success.

The Forfeited Land Sale.

At the sale of lands forfeited for non-payment of taxes held last Monday at the office of County Auditor Anderson, nearly all the tracts offered were bought in. The greater part of the property sold consisted of lots in the village of St. Hilaire, but there were also a small amount of farm property on the list.

Lot Auction at Warroad.

On Thursday, Sept. 28, an auction of town lots will be held at Warroad. The property to be sold at this time is part of the original Moody park plot, facing the river and within the village limits. It is very desirable property, high, dry and cleared ready for the erection of buildings. The lots will be sold to the highest bidder and a number of people from this section have signified their intention of going up there for the purpose of securing a site for a summer home. They will never have a better opportunity. Warroad river and the Lake of the Woods are just beginning to be recognized as an ideal summer resort location in the north and property will advance in price by leaps and bounds. These lots will prove good holdings as an investment even if the buyer does not care to make any further improvements.

STEAL BRASS FROM MILL ENGINE ROOM

Four Boys Brought Before Judge Tarrant on Serious Charge—Buyers Are Responsible.

Four boys, ranging in age from nine to 18 years old, were brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant of the municipal court this week charged with having stolen brass and copper to the value of about $300 from the engine room at the T. R. F. Lumber Co. mill. Entrance had been gained through one of the windows, and practically everything in the line of valuable metal had been removed.

One of the boys was caught in the act and he gave the information leading to the arrest of the others. Manager Chas. A. Nason, in charge of the mill yards and properties here, asked the court to give the boys another chance as he did not wish to be too severe. County Attorney Hans O. Kjomme also gave it as his opinion that it might be better to allow them to go at this time with a warning. They were accordingly released after a serious lecture by Judge Tarrant.

There is a state law making it a serious offense for anyone to buy articles of this kind from boys, and the authorities would rather have the purchasers to deal with than the juvenile culprits. Local junk dealers say that the stuff is very seldom offered for sale in the city, but is held until some dealer from a neighboring town comes along. This makes its tracing often a very difficult matter.

BIG GERMAN CAR CREATES INTEREST

"Mercedes," 120 Horsepower and Costing $10,000 Property of Visitor From Pacific Coast

H. O. Vogel, a retired capitalist of Los Angeles, Cal., accompanied by his chaffeur, L. Fazen, has been sojourning in this vicinity during the past two weeks. He has been spending part of the time fishing at Twin Lakes and has put in the balance inspecting the surrounding country. Mr. Vogel left on Tuesday for Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where he will visit for some time, intending to return this way later in the fall.

Mr. Vogel uses a German Mercedes car in his travels, this being the subject of much curiosity while at the Haug garage here. It is a six cylinder machine with overhead valves and cam shaft, costing $10,000 in Germany. A duty of $2,000 was paid in order to get it into this country, which makes it a fairly expensive machine, as automobiles go.

It was shipped to this country just after the European war broke out and was held up for some time by the British government before being allowed to proceed to its destination. The motor is of the same type as that used in the aeroplanes of the German army, and develops 120 horse power. The total weight of the machine is 4,500 pounds and the speedometer dial registers up to 100 miles per hour. A big Pierce-Arrow standing beside this car looked rather dinky in comparison.

New Advertising Concern

The Thief River Falls Poster Advertising company, composed of Fred Kettleson and C. S. Dow of Grand Forks, have purchased the bill posting business and boards of Bert Davis and will hereafter conduct a branch here in connection with those already located at Grand Forks and Crookston. There are at present about 400 feet of bill boards in the city and this amount will be largely increased. Mr. Kittleson will give his entire attention to the business here. Mr. Dow is connected with the E. J. Lander company, one of the largest real estate firms in North Dakota.

INFANT PARALYSIS SPREADING RAPIDLY

No Cases Reported in Pennington County, But Neighbors On All Sides Are Invaded

The epidemic of infant paralysis that has been causing a vast amount of alarm in the more populous centers of the country seems to have reached Northern Minnesota. Pennington county is as yet free from the disease, but neighboring counties on each side of us have reported its presence. Red Lake county has had one case, this resulting in death; there have been two cases reported from Beltrami county; Mahnomen has had one. Marshall county, our immediate neighbor to the north, has reported two cases, both resulting fatally, while in Norman county there have been three cases with one death. In spite of its larger area and population Polk county has thus far escaped.

Dr. A. J. Chesney, director of the division of preventable diseases of the state board of health, reports that there have been a total of 309 cases and 27 deaths. The disease seems to be on the increase, 262 cases having been reported during the past month, there having been 17 deaths.

POLK COUNTY PEOPLE ARE SWINDLED BY PEDDLERS

Chicago Grocery House Finds It Necessary to "Back Order" on Decoy Article.

It seems almost impossible to teach some people that no business house can sell its goods for less than they cost them. No matter how impossible the scheme sprung, there are always those who are willing to believe that this kind of merchandising is a common thing among the "big houses." The Crookson Times tells a story of how the citizens of Polk county have been taken in by the plausable-sounding jargon of clever grafters and we republish it because it is altogether likely that Pennington county will be the next field picked for exploitation:

"A grocery peddler mounted on a motorcycle, has made a cleaning in the county during the past few weeks. Many sales were made where bargains in groceries, so alluring that most people were tempted and fell, were offered. Sugar, for example, was offered for two and a half to three dollars less than Crookston merchants would sell it. Other staples were offered at similar low prices and the buyer had at last found a way to cut the high cost of living. But—other goods were ordered at the same time,—goods that were not such bargains, but orders were given because the agent was a good fellow, and sold sugar so cheap. Then—when the shipment arrived—there was no sugar and there were none of the other great bargains in the lot, but the regular priced goods were there, also a nice letter telling that the wholesale house was out of sugar and the other bargains and they would "be shipped as soon as possible."

Thus again those who patronized the stranger are stung, for of course, the sugar will never arrive, nor will the other bargains, and the purchaser has paid a higher price in cash than he would have paid on time with the local merchant. It's a pretty safe bet to play fair with the home merchant. He's always here where you can get at him if he misrepresents."

Biggest Cattle Show in America This Year Predicted for the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9—All Records to Be Broken in the Swine Show.

INDICATIONS are that the cattle show at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 4 to 9, will be the largest exposition of its kind in America this year. Last year the Hamline cattle show was the largest in the country, and more entries have been promised in the last few weeks than were obtained a year ago.

The splendid crop conditions in the Northwest, and the greater attention which is being paid to pure-bred livestock, are said to be the principal reasons for the interest which is being taken in the cattle show at the Minnesota State Fair. Breeders in other parts of America are desirous of meeting the farmers of the Northwest, to sell them the pure-bred stock which is being bought in such numbers to raise the standard of livestock breeding in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North and South Dakota.

Records Shattered.

The Swine Show will break all records this fall, and it is expected that pen room will be taxed to the limit to accommodate all the swine which is coming. The first national show ever promoted by the American Yorkshire Club is to be held at the Minnesota State Fair this year, and the cream of all American herds will be exhibited. The Duroc-Jersey and Poland-China organizations are offering large futurities and special premiums. The Chester White and Hampshire associations have put up special prizes of value. Hundreds of boys are working hard in the Pig Club contest, and there will be more entries in the Pig Club show than ever before.

Big Draft Show.

The show of draft horses is to be larger than for several years. A number of breeders that have never visited the Northwest are coming this year to show their wares to lovers of horses. Farmers are being urged to attend the State Fair and make their arrangements for any pure-bred mares and stallions they intend to buy. An effort will be made to present an unusual opportunity of studying types and breeds of horses, so farmers may be more familiar with the kinds of horses which bring the most money on the market.

As formerly all stock will be judged at the opening of the State Fair, making a visit to the Fair the first part of the week more valuable than one at the latter part. Judging will probably be over by Thursday, Sept. 7.

Picnic at Kratka.

A community picnic will be held by the people of Kratka and vicinity on Sunday next. The outing will be held near the creamery on the Red Lake river. An old fashioned dinner will be served at noon by the Ladies' Aid society. Refreshments will be served throughout the day, and several addresses will be made on the subject of better farming and a greater community spirit. The committee in charge have made arrangements for a large attendance.

COMMITTEE WILL APPRAISE DAMAGE

When Work of This Body is Completed, Electric Line Will Run Up-Town

At a special session of the district court today, Judge Grindeland appointed a commission to appraise the damage caused by the laying of the tracks of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric line along the west side of Davis avenue. When the work of this commission is completed the trains of this road will run as far as Third street instead of stoping at Eighth street as at present. The company was fined $25 on a technicality, having failed to comply in some minor respect with a previous ruling of the court.

About a month ago the Minnesota Northwestern was given a franchise by the city of Thief River Falls permitting the employment of the western part of Davis avenue as a place for laying a railway track. This proceeding was entirely legal and the money bid for the franchise had been paid over. Company officials were of the opinion that by moving the tracks over to the side of the road, the use of which had been purchased from the city, they were complying with all requirements. George Larson and other residents brought suit to compell the execution of the original court order, which meant the removal of the tracks from the thoroughfare entirely.

The case of Dr. J. C. Remi Charest against J. M. Bishop was next taken up. This is an outgrowth of a trial in which the doctor figured last winter. He claims to at that time have given Mr. Bishop, his attorney, two checks for $500 each for the purpose of protecting the men on his bond. The attorney claims that the checks were given him as a retainer.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE.

One of interest to our readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Thief River Falls man is confirmed after a year.

E. T. Emerson, retired farmer, 417 LaBree Ave. N., Thief River Falls, says: "I was greatly annoyed by a lame and aching back and pains across my loins. I was in misery. My kidneys were weak and didn't act as they should and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Curtis' Drug store and two boxes brought me fine relief." (Statement given March 16, 1912).

OVER A YEAR LATER, Mr. Emerson said: "This last fall, I felt a return of backache and again used Doan's Kidney Pills. One box removed the trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Emerson recommended. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Bufalo, N. Y.

Arthur Loken, who until recently had charge of Loken Brothers Grocery annex, left Saturday evening for Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, to spend an indefinite period on a pleasure trip. He will stop off in Minneapolis for a short time, after which he will go to San Francisco—boarding a steamer from that place for his final destination. Mr. Loken was undecided as to how long he would be absent, but xpected to be gone during the winter months at least.

Why Not "My Husband?"

In "Questions of Good Form" the query "How should a woman refer to her husband?" was recently asked and answered. Should not the reply have included with "Mr. Smith" and "John" the term "my husband?"—Saxon.

This good old-fashioned term is unfortunately not considered as good form as "Mr. Smith" and "John" or "Jack." In fact, it is hardly heard at all in the smart set, as it sounds too possessive for their fancy.

It is not sufficiently formal to use to an acquaintance or a tradesman, and to an intimate friend it is too stilted. For these reasons it has fallen into disfavor with fashionable people.

The Size of Raindrops.

Raindrops do not always have the same size or weight, and this is primarily due to the fact that they are not formed like the drops of water that fell from a wet cloth or the spout of a pitcher, or the drops that rush out of the small holes in a garden sprinkler. In all these latter cases a solid stream of water is broken up into drops; but the raindrop is formed in the cloud by the accumulation of minute atoms of water drawn together into one drop, and sometimes by the melting of a large snowflake or a solid little icy hailstone. When a drop is thus formed in the clouds, it begins to fall, no matter whether it be large or small, and observers in balloons state that all sizes of drops are to be found within the clouds themselves, from the finest fog and drizzling mist up to the heavy rain. It is commonly said that the bigger drops fall faster than the smaller ones and overtake them and grow bigger. This sounds reasonable, but no one has really proven it.—"Nature and Science," St. Nicholas.

Engineer Eplains Candle-Power.

"Although the term candle-power is comparatively common," says an expert illuminating engineer, "its meaning to those who seldom use it is largely a matter of conjecture."

"Candle-power is not a measure of the quantity of light emitted in all directions by a light source, but is a measure of the intensity of a light source in a particular direction. For example, a standard sandle will give one candle-power in a horizontal direction. In measuring the candle-power of a lamp, the lamp is compared with a light source of known intensity. The light source of known intensity is called the standard. Candles made according to exact specifications were at one time used as standards; however, there are so many factors that may vary the intensity of the light given by a candle that standard lamps have been designed which are capable of very close adjustment. The standard unit of light intensity in this country and in several European countries is called the international candle-power. The original or primary standard is maintained by the bureau of standards at Washington.

"When a lamp is rated as giving a certain candle-power, the meaning is that the lamp will give light of an average intensity of that candle-power i na horizontal direction when the lamp is held in a vertical position. It is of interest to know that the ordinary large size tallow candle gives but about 0.9 candle-power. This at first seems a very low value when we compare the light of a candle to the light of an electric lamp of say 36-candle-power. This is due to the fact that when a candle is used the pupil of the eye expands, automatically adjusting itself to the low intensity of light, with the result that the light seems stronger than it really is."

There are 16 maples in the United States, most of them being eastern species. The most valuable, not only because of the product of its sap but also of the lumber, is sugar maple.

Poet Views Matrimony.

Edward Fitzgerald, the translator of the Persian poet, Omar Khayyam, was a more or less genial opponent of matrimony as a state.

One day he said to his friend, Miss Ellen Churchyard of Woodbridge:

"Do you know, Nell, what marriage is?"

Miss Churchyard thought not.

"Then I'll tell you," said he. "Marriage is standing at one's desk, nicely settled to work, when a great big bonnet pushes in at the door and asks you to go for a walk with it."—Cleveland Leader.

The Advice-Seeker.

"When a man asks me for advice," said the good-natured person, "I always find myself getting into a discussion."

"Well," replied Mr. Sirius Barker, "most of us ask for advice because we would rather argue than work."—Washington Star.

Rhubarb.

While rhubarb had been cultivated in this country since 1573, it is only lately that it has been grown as a substitute for fruit. The early cultivation of the plant was altogether for the sake of the root, which was used to prepare the medicinal rhubarb. As regards the date of the introduction of the rhubarb into this country we may note that E. M. Holmes in the "Encyclopaedia Britannica" states that it "was introduced into England through Sir Matthew Lister, physician to Charles I., who gave seed obtained by him in Italy to the botanist Parkinson."

The rhubarb of our gardens is a native of Siberia and the basin of the Volga, and its name recalls its Russian origin. The ancient name of the Volga was the Rha, and the name came to be applied to the root of the plant imported from thence. So the Romans called it Rha barbarum, the foreign root. From this come the French rhubarb and the English rhubarb. During its cultivation in this country many new varieties of rhubarb have been raised from seed.—The Field.

THE HOUSE OF QUALITY

POOR SEED MEANS A POOR STAND.

If Every Ear of Corn Intended for Planting Was Harvested at the Proper Time, and Properly Stored and Tested Before Planting, Millions of Dollars Would Be Added to the Value of the Corn Crop Every Year.

Corn growers should remember that poor seed is the chief cause of a poor stand, and that a poor stand means a small yield. It means missing hills, weak stalks producing little or nothing. It means less than 30 bushels per acre instead of 60. It means that we produce on an average, just one small ear of corn to each hill instead of two or three. It means wasted land and wasted labor.

BAD PLACES TO STORE SEED.

1. Stable over or near stock.
2. Over oats or corn.
3. Damp cellar.
4. Closed attic over kitchen.
5. Any damp, closed place.
6. Out in the sunshine.

"SEED CORN WEEK."

The Last Week in September or the First Week in October Should Be Set Aside as Seed Corn Week in the Corn Belt.

We have "Arbor Day." Would it not also be well to have a "Seed Corn Day?" A day when everyone should begin the harvesting and storing of his seed for the following spring. We laugh at our grandfathers for planting their potatoes and sowing their grain "in the moon," that is, in certain phases of the moon. The value of this practice lay, not in the fact as supposed by many that the moon exercised any influence on the crop, but in the having of a definite time and plan for the doing of various things on the farm.

If the harvesting of seed corn, like the feeding of stock, came every day, it would be attended to on time, but it is nothing more nor less than human that the work which comes only occasionally or once a year, as in the case of the harvesting of seed corn should be put off or neglected altogether, unless there is a definite time and plan for the work.

Oatmeal and Stature.

Archdeacon Sinclair was the guest of Mr. Burdett-Coutts, M. P., at a display of gymnastics given by members of the Shoreditch Working Lads' Club, London, which was founded by the late Baroness Burdett-Coutts. In congratulating the members the Archdeacon said: "I go through many of your exercises myself even to the present day, and as a Scotsman I should like to recommend what I consider one of the best preparations for them, namely, good old Scotch oatmeal. I had four brothers, all six feet high, and my father had fourteen brothers and sisters, ranging from six feet to six feet eight inches—all brought up on Scotch oatmeal porridge."

Irish Bulls.

The origin of the word "bull," as the definition of a confused utterance, is doubtful. Some philologists say it comes from the French boule—"fraud"; and others that it is derived from the Icelandic bull—"nonsense." Many definitions have been attempted, but the best probably is that of Sydney Smith. Writing of the difference between wit and "bulls," he says, "Wit discovers real relations that are apparent, 'bulls' admit apparent relations that are not real. The stronger the apparent connection and the more complete the real disconnection of the ideas the greater the surprise and the better the 'bull.'"

Before deciding on a new evening gown it is a good plan to squeeze a tiny piece of the material in your hand, to see if it creases easily. Some soft materials crease more easily than others, and if one is pressed for a time it is a great nuisance to have to iron one's frock out every time it is to be worn.

The weeds along the curbs on the outlying streets of the city are being cut under the direction of Street Commissioner Helmer Ostrom. This work was ordered done by the council some time ago and has been prosecuted with vigor. Having the curbs clear will mean much in the spring when the water begins seeking an outlet, besides adding much to the good appearance of the city streets. Now if the owners of vacant lots would do their duty, this unsightly and detrimental nuisance would be at an end. However, Mr. Ostrom is after these lax property owners and if they do not comply with the regulations he will have the weeds cut and charge the cost against the property.

She was presented with a fine bed room rocker by her fellow members. The lunch, served in the lodge room, was a very pleasant affair, only marred by the knowledge that all were present for the purpose of practically bidding good-bye to their popular co-worker.

NO DECISION IN SIGHT IN TELEPHONE CASES

City Attorney Quale May Decide to Bring Independent Action For This City

The question of a physical connection between the lines of the two telephone companies operating in Thief River Falls is again receiving considerable attention. The state railroad and warehouse commission claims that the reason that no decision has been reached in the Owatonna case—which is identical with that of Thief River Falls—is that no transcript of the testimony has been received for review.

City Attorney Theodore Quale is considering the advisability of bringing action on the part of the people of Thief River Falls independent of any decision reached in the Owatonna case, it being altogether likely that such would have to be the eventual proceeding in any event.

Action by the committee appointed by the Commercial club to look into the matter is awaited with interest. It will be necessary to make arrangements for some help in the way of testimony and affidavits if this city brings the matter up at this time, and the city attorney has not decided on just how far he is justified in going It is expected that the club will take the matter up at its next meeting with a view to a final settlement.

RAILROAD TIEUP NOW LESS LIKELY

Carriers' Officials Seem More Inclined to Yield to Plans of President Wilson.

RATE INCREASE IS HINTED

Chief Executive Intimates That He Will Use Influence to Permit an Advance in Freight Rates as an Offset

The latest advices from Washington are to the effect that President Wilson and the leaders of the railroad executives have laid the foundation for an agreement which it is believed will result in the settlement of the wage controversy between the carriers and their employees.

According to reports, the railroad chiefs decided at a session held late yesterday afternoon to make terms with the president, and are ready to yield the establishment of the eight hour day with the understanding that the carriers shall be granted an advance of freight rates sufficient to offset the increase in wages granted the employees.

The executives also are ready to accept the president's plan for commission investigation of overtime compensation, with the understanding that legislation be enacted to promote the settlement of future disputes by arbitration instead of force. The president encouraged the officials to believe that his powerful influence will be exerted to satisfy the carriers in both of these particulars. The proposition now is to work out a definite understanding of the agreement.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The railroad employes' committee of 640 showed such marked signs of unrest at the delay in the negotiations between President Wilson and the railway executives that leaders of the men were alarmed and openly expressed fears of their ability to hold them much longer.

An employes' meeting was thrown into an uproar by speeches of a minority which demanded immediate action unless the roads accept the president's plan, but the leaders succeeded in adjourning it before a vote could be taken on any of the various proposals.

They said afterward that while the pressure for immediate action came from a minority it was strong, but they believed the majority would be willing to give the president a little more time.

Some of the men urged that most of the delegates go home, leaving the brotherhood heads with authority to call a strike if the railroads do not accept the president's plans.

"It is our belief," one of the committeemen said, "that the railroads are playing for time with the president just as they have done with us for many months.

See No Reason for Delay.

"There is no reason why they should not have given the president an answer by this time. They are tiring us out all right, and the men are getting disgusted with the whole situation."

While the railroad executives continued deliberations on which form of counter proposal they shall make to President Wilson's plan, the president conferred with Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson about the bill to increase the membership of the interstate commerce commission by two.

Senator Newlands afterward announced he would push his bill immediately.

The development was taken to indicate a movement for sending the investigation features of the president's plan to the commission.

Possibility of passing an eight-hour law for railroads was discussed among several congressional leaders, but no definite program was evolved and it was understood no action would be taken unless the president's efforts failed.

SHIP SINKS IN MIDOCEAN

Nine of Crew of Oil Steamer Lose Their Lives.

Philadelphia, Aug. 24.—Nine members of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Cossack, bound for Grangemouth with a $1,100,000 cargo of gasoline in drums, were lost in midocean when the steamer, completely on fire, was abandoned on Aug. 12.

The remaining thirteen seamen of the Cossack, formerly the British steamer Peeress, were brought here by the British steamer Tampaqua, which rescued the men from a small boat after they had been tossed about for two days in heavy weather.

According to the survivors some of the gasoline drums burst when tossed about by the rolling steamer in the heavy sea, the gasoline reaching the fire room. There was an explosion and the interior of the ship became a mass of flames.

The cargo of the Cossack was valued at $1,100,000.

BALKAN ARMIES READY FOR WAR

Interest Centers There as Forces Close In.

FRENCH HARD PRESSED

Germans In Counter Attack South of the Somme Gain Foothold in the Trenches Lost Earlier in the Week. British Positions Also Assaulted.

London, Aug. 24.—Political developments in the Balkans overshadow in interest for the moment even the important military operations in progress there.

In connection with the attitude of Roumania the course of the Russian campaign in Bukowina close to the Roumanian frontier is being closely watched.

The latest advices from Teutonic sources, however, declare that the Russians are being held up by the Teutonic resistance, not only in the Carpathian fighting but along the entire front to the north in Galicia and Volhynia.

With Russian and Italian troops added to the French, British and Serbian forces already in the field the allies have a formidable array of fighting men on the Macedonian front. So far, however, its strength has not been exerted to marked effect.

On the Western front, along the Somme, the British continue closing in on Thiepval, on their left flank, and apparently have Guillemont, on their right, almost within their grip.

French Are Hard Pressed.

South of the Somme the French are now being forced to fight hard for retention of the trenches captured early this week in the vicinity of Estrees, and Paris reports that the Germans, through a strong counter attack, were able to gain a footing in their former trenches.

Two heavy assaults on the position newly won by the British south of Thiepval, on the Somme front, were made by the Germans. They gained a footing in the British trenches, but were driven out again, the British war office announced.

The Italians are continuing passive in the Gorizia area, so far as their infantry is concerned, but their artillery is showing marked activity, while the work of consolidating the ground won east and southeast of the captured town is being completed.

The Germans resumed the offensive south of Brody, where the Russians are attempting to approach Lemberg from the northeast. The Russian war office statement says the Germans were repulsed. The Russians captured two heights on the Hungarian front.

AWARDS MONEY TO SAILORS

British Prize Court Allows Naval Squadron £12,100.

London, Aug. 24.—A prize court awarded £12,100 prize money to the officers and crews of the squadron of Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Sturdee, which destroyed the German Pacific squadron in the battle off the Falkland Islands in December of 1914.

The bounty was determined by the number of men aboard the destroyed ships, £5 being awarded for each man.

This is the largest amount of prize money awarded since the outbreak of the war.

Imprisonment Report Denied.

London, Aug. 24.—There is no foundation for the Berlin report that Norman Angell, the pacifist, has been sentenced to prison for refusal to perform military service. Mr. Angell is beyond the age limit of liability for such service.

TURKEY SENDS TROOPS TO HELP BULGARIANS

London, Aug. 24.—A great battle of nations, with the troops of nearly every European belligerent involved, is gradually developing in the Balkans as the fighting along the 150-mile front increases in fury.

Turkey is sending reinforcements into Bulgaria, according to an Athens dispatch.

At least one division of Turkish soldiers is en route to join the Bulgars in the attack on the allied lines, while another division will be so placed as to threaten Roumania, should that country enter the war on the side of the allies.

Austria will be asked to send a few detachments to the Greek border to join the Bulgars, Germans and Turks in resisting the combined attacks of French, English, Russians, Italians, Serbians and Montenegrins.

In no engagement of modern history have the armies of so many nations been in clash along one battle front.

BUTTE MINE WAGES RISE

Higher Rate for Copper Causes Increase in Pay.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 24.—Butte's pay scale for miners returns to $4.50 for August from the July wages of $4.25. Last month's lowest rate was due to a fall in copper below 25 cents a pound. During the first half of August, however, copper reacted to a point above 25 cents and the old scale was restored. The miners work on a sliding scale.

To Rebuild European Towns.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—American contractors will undertake plans of rebuilding towns in the European war zones, according to lumbermen here who are receiving contracts to send lumber and other materials.

Mrs. D. P. O'Neill left last evening for Detroit, Michigan, to spend an indefinite period visiting with her mother.

NEW FIRM STARTS IN WITH BIG SALE

The Sapero Company Will Sacrifice the Fine Stock Secured From Wold & Co.

The most remarkable sale of women's rady-to-wear goods ever seen in northern Minnesota will be inaugurated on Friday morning when Sapero & Co. open the doors of the store formerly conducted by Wold & Co. to the public. This stock is one of the most famous ever carried by a similar store in this section, having been selected by Mr. Wold from the best lines procurable in the country.

This week has been given over to the re-pricing of every article in the big store. Not an item from the narrowest ribbon to the newest coat but what has been reduced to a price which will insure its early sale. The bargains offered are different from those put forward by merchants for the purpose of cleaning out unseasonable goods. Much of the apparel offered was purchased with a view to meeting the demands of the present and coming season's demands, but instead of offering it in the general way Mr. Sapero has found it advisable to clear it up and thus close the affairs of the old concern. A glance at the page advertisement in this issue will convince anyone that another such opportunity to secure absolutely standard goods at anywhere near the prices asked will never again be offered the people of this community.

The Times advises all to be on hand and thus get the pick of the offerings. The outer garments placed on sale are the famous "Wooltex" and "Printzess" brands and in most cases there is but one pattern in each lot. The buyer will therefore not only secure the best at a ridiculously low price, but will feel assured that no one else will be wearing a dress or wrap of the same kind and style.

Is Pleased With Outlook.

Mr. A. Sapero, who will be the resident manager of the local store, is a business man whom our people will be glad to meet. He intends making Thief River Falls his home and is contemplating the building of a residence in the spring. Mrs. Sapero arrived from Chisholm yesterday and the couple have taken up their residence in the Meehan apartments.

Carl Gjelhaug returned Saturday afternoon from Beaudette, where he had visited at the home of his parents. He also touched points on the Iron Range while on his trip.

LOOKING OVER LAKE FLOWAGE

Harold Knutson Gathers Information on High Water Stage at Leech Lake.

"It isn't everyone who has the happy faculty of being able to combine business with pleasure," says the Walker Pilot in last week's issue, "but Harold Knutson, the Republican nominee for congress from this district. can do it without letting one interfere with the other."

While attending the annual summer outing of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, of which he is a member, he took occasion to spend a day with Editor Dare at Federal Dam, at which point is located the dam which has so much to do with the damage to shore line at Leech Lake, as well as to valuable hay meadows for many miles back from the lake.

HAROLD KNUTSON.

Accompanied by a representative delegation of Federal Dam boosters Mr. Knutson made a trip over a portion of the affected territory and he was shown the ravages wrought by the policy now being maintained by the federal government. At one point the high stage of water had washed away forty acres of rich tillable land and undermined the buildings, which had toppled into the lake where they lay like derelict vessels. At another place portions of an old Indian burial ground had been washed away, exposing bones and skulls of departed Indians who had since journeyed to the "happy hunting grounds."

Along the shore and for miles back sugar maples, elms, oaks and pines stood dead or dying as a result of the high stage of water maintained by the government dams, creating an impression of desolation not pleasing to behold.

Before leaving Mr. Knutson interviewed a number of residents in the territory visited and he signified his intention of making the artificial flooding of agricultural lands in Northern Minnesota one of the first things to receive his attention in case of his election to congress, and as there is not any doubt on that score the settlers residing in the reservoir territory may look for relief at no distant date.

Made Wonderful Improvement.

Carl P. Bakken a well-known farmer in the town of Star, returned this week from Minneapolis, where he had been undergoing treatment for rheumatism at the state hospital. His improvement is remarkable. For a long time he was crippled up so that it was impossible for him to move without the greatest suffering, while one of his arms was entirely useless. The doctors at the institution found the trouble to lie principally in his teeth, which were decayed to a considerable extent. Having these extracted at once eased the missery which had kept Mr. Bakken a sufferer for years and the doctors said that if they had been consulted a year ago a complete cure would have resulted. The patient is so much improved, however, that he has been requested to appear before the meeting of the state medical association next fall and pose as an example of just how much trouble unsound molars are able to cause.

Improvements at Holt.

The village of Holt this week let the contract for the machinery at the lighting and pumping station. The power will be furnished by a 35 horsepower gasoline engine and the plant is expected to be in working order before fall.

Forging to the Front

Grygla Eagle—Down in Pennington county, dairy cattle increased during 1915, at the rate of 45 every month. This increase does not include the report from Thief River Falls. It is through such strides that Pennington county is forging to the front as a dairy county. The old style, single crop farming is gradually working itself into the discard, and what better evidence could be introduced than the report of the Pennington assessors. The farmer who depended solely on his grain crop this year, will find himself asking for an extension on his mortgage this fall, while his neighbor who "planted" cows with his wheat, will continue to pay 23 cents per gallon for gasoline for his automobile when his family go to town of an afternoon to do their shopping—and pay cash for what they buy.

THE FALL STYLES TO BE FEATURED

Loken Brothers Will Convert Auditorium Into Fashion Bazaar on Sepetember 20.

DISPLAY LIVING MODELS

Many of the Famous Costumes Shown at Bismarck Gardens, Chicago, Will be Sent Here For This Unusual Occasion.

The first genuine style show in the history of Thief River Falls will be put on at the Auditorium on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, Sept. 20. The latest creations of the fashion marts will here be displayed on living models, the entire affair being patterned after the big Chicago show recently held at the Bismarck gardens.

H. O. Loken of the firm, of Loken Brothers, was present at this great showing of fall wear for women and he conceived the idea that the people of Thief River Falls would appreciate an opportunity to witness something of a similar nature. He therefore made arrangements with certain of the big exhibiting manufacturers for the loan of certain costumes in case he could make the proper arrangements for a style show in this city. This request was gladly granted, and on the evening of the show at the Auditorium there will be on display garments the cost of which run quite a distance into the hundreds. Mr. Loken says these will be for sale should anyone care to buy them, but that he does not expect to do any rushing business in goods of this class.

Appropriate Stage Settings

For this occasion Loken Brothers have engaged an orchestra of 12 pieces. A chorus composed of a like number of young ladies will sing the latest songs appropriate to the occasion. The members of this chorus will be attired in special costumes secured specially for the show.

The stage proper will be set as a park scene with a background having a pergola effect. A platform the same height as the stage will be built out into the Auditorium and the models will parade on this and near the spectators during the exhibition. All kinds of outer wearing apparel for women will be shown, including dresses, coats, wraps and furs. Fabrics and styles suitable for all ages will be presented, the youngest model being a little girl three years of age.

Joins Buying Corporation

While in Chicago Mr. Loken became a member of the Avery Buying corporation, organized for the purpose of keeping track of the latest styles and furnishing its members with information concerning changes, prices, buying opportunities, etc. There are 150 merchants scattered through different sections of the country who are members of this corporation, it being the idea to so scatter them that anything bought or secured through the agency of the organization would be exclusive in the neighborhood to which it is sent.

A buying office is maintained at 214 South Franklin street and scouts are constantly on the lookout for desirable goods. It should prove a big advantage to the members as it keeps them constantly in touch with the very latest in the goods they handle.

Loken's store expects to do a big fall business and are preparing for it in every way possible.

Arson Cloutier, wire chief at the Tri-State offices, spent Wednesday at Badger repairing a number of phones.

SITUATION NOT VERY SERIOUS

Leading Agricultural Paper Says That Wheat Yield Will Be Almost Normal

LAST YEAR NO COMPARISON

"Prosperity of Northwest Would Remain Unshaken Even Though the Wheat Crop Was Total Failure." is Opinion of This Authority

The crop outlook is not nearly so bad as was indicated by reports two weeks ago. While there is no question but what the wheat crop of northwestern Minnesota is pretty much of a failure, yet authorities everywhere are of the opinion that the farmer will be but little effected. One of the foremost of these, Farm, Stock and Home, published in Minneapolis, does not even regard the situation as a serious set-back. So much good common sense is contained in this article reviewing the matter, that the Times is glad to give it space. It will be found that this publication agrees with Prof. Mc Guire and others in the statement that the careless farmer will be ahe one hardest hit. But this is the case in anything but a bumper year. The article of Farm, Stock and Home follows:

"In spite of the serious losses occasioned by the extreme hot weather of the past three weeks, there will be almost, if not quite, a normal crop of wheat in the Northwest this year. We must remember that we are constantly comparing conditions this year with the abnormal conditions of last year. Last year we harvested a crop such as we had not had for many years and may not have for years to come. It is no doubt true, that the extreme heat and the rust have damaged some fields and some neighborhoods beyond repair. Such damage has been felt most severely where the poorest farming has been done, and reports coming to F., S. & H. show that an unusually large acreage was stubbled this year.

"This shrunken grain presents a difficult problem to the farmer. Under somewhat similar conditions in the rust year of 1904 the writer succeeded in saving an acreage of 10c a bushel on 1,000 bushels of shrunken wheat by grading it at home, using the ordinary fanning mill for that purpose. Similar action can save many a farmer a good sum on his shrunken crop of 1916.

"However, we are in danger of over-estimating the losses of the wheat crop. They have been foreshadowed for some time in the past and prices have advanced to a degree that at least partially covers the losses that have actually occurred.

"It must be remembered also that the weather which brought about the wheat crop situation was the salvation of the corn crop and that over against a reduced wheat crop we may properly set a corn crop now normally advanced for the season as more than equivalent in value to the wheat losses. In fact, this corn crop could not have materialized had it not been for the weather conditions of the past month. Its value for the Dakotas and Minnesota may reasonably be placed at not less than $125,000,000.

"Nor should the reader forget the further fact that the greater diversification of crops and the large attention given to live stock greatly reduces the position which wheat formerly held in the public mind and in the yearly accounting of the farmer. Were the wheat crop to be an entire failure, the prosperity of the Northwest would remain unshaken. With the wheat crop as good as it is and the corn crop promising excellent quality, with live stock prices at their present favorable level, the Northwest as a whole is in a fortunate situation. The losses are individual and personal, rather than general, and the lesson taught is that of further diversification and especially that of live stock farming."

GLYCERINE AND BARK PREVENT APPENDICITIS.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, astonishes Thief River Falls people. Because Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is astonishing. We Believe the Maxwell is Greatest Motor Car Value on the Market

BUT our opinion would not be of any particular importance to you if it did not coincide with the facts. We only want you to look the market over carefully. Then we absolutely know that you will agree with us.

In the first place there is the remarkable Maxwell engine. No four cylinder motor of its size has more "pep" or go to it regardless of the price of the car it drives. It will climb hills on high gear in a manner that will astonish you. It is quiet and works day in and day out with a sound, business-like hum that is good to hear.

Any engineer will compliment the design of the chassis. And those who are not engineers cannot fail to note its simplicity and staunch construction. As for what it is made of, we can truthfully say that better material cannot be bought.

The operation of the car is simplicity itself—the brakes are powerful—the springs are long and flexible—the axles are strong and the steering apparatus, like the rest of the chassis, is built to stand the most severe service the car may ever have to face, wherever or however it is used.

Then if you consider looks important, and most people do, you will not find a more attractive car than the Maxwell at anywhere near the price.

And it comes to you fully equipped with all the attachments you will ever want or need; electric starter and lights, demountable rims, one man top, self-ventilating, rain-vision windshield, etc.

We know you can't beat it.

"BILLIE BURKE" AT PRINCESS

"Gloria's Romance" to Be Presented With This Peerless Actress in Leading Role.

FREE MATINEE SATURDAY

"The Times" Has Made Arrangements For An Absolutely Free Production of the Opening Chapters of This Wonderful Story

Everybody will be admitted free to see the first chapter of "Gloria's Romance" at the Princess theatre on Saturday afternoon. There are no strings on this offer. You do not have to buy anything, nor guess at anything, nor save any coupons—just go to the Princess theatre on Saturday afternoon and walk right in. The publisher of The Times has made all the arrangements with Manager Seitzler, and you are welcome to go and see the opening chapters of the greatest photo play ever filmed, produced by a cast of incomparable artists, these being headed by the most fascinating actress on the stage or filmland—Billie Burke.

First Read the Story

The first chapters of this wonderful tale is printed in this issue of The Times. The installments will appear weekly during the progress of the play, and as the story printed on Thursday can be seen on the screen on Saturday it makes a particularly interesting combination. There will be a matinee every Saturday during the 20 week's run of the play. Theatres in the big cities have been charging from 25 cents to $1.00 as admission for this picture, but the Princess prices will not be raised—five and ten cents will be the cost—except on the first afternoon when everyone will be admitted absolutely free. Take advantage of this. You will never have another opportunity to see a play of this character played by a star of the first magnitude under any such conditions.

The Best of All

In securing the booking of "Gloria's Romance" for the Princess theatre, Manager Seitzler believes that he has arranged for the best film attraction for his patrons that money can secure. Billie Burke, the fascinating international actress, has been featured as the star of the production, though it took a salary of $4,000 a week to induce the titian-haired Billie to place her name on the dotted line of a contract calling for her appearance in the story. The scenario of "Gloria's Romance" originated in the minds of those famous novelists, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes, who are known to people everywhere through their successful stories in the Saturday evening Post, Cosmopolitan Magazine and the Red Book, for nearly everyone has read "What Will People Say?" "Clipped Wings" or "The Thirteenth Commandment"—and Mr. Hughes himself has declared that "Gloria's Romance" is the best of them all.

A George Klein Production

As for the film production of the Hughes tale, it need only be mentioned that the story is being staged at the George Klein studios, to guarantee its merit, for the public instantly recalls such wonderful attractions as "Quo Vadis?" The Last Days of Pompeii," "Sparticus" and others equally famous, when the name of George Klein is mentioned. Never before, in fact, has a motion picture subject combined to such a degree the best in the way of stars, the best in the way of authors and the best in the way of producers that make "Gloria's Romance" stand out from the ordinary run of photo-play productions. Names like Billie Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes, and George Klein stand for all that is supreme in the field of art, literature and motion pictures, and the combination of the three should result in an epoch making production.

Marvelous Costumes

The screen novel will se an absolutely new standard in literary merit of motion picture stories, for it is not to be a blood-and-thunder, slap dash, knock-down-and-drag-out tale, but a logically developed, carefully plotted and interest- compelling tale of the romance of a young society woman. Miss Burke in her role of Gloria Stafford, the daughter of a New York banker, appears as a youthful and vivacious girl, bubbling over with good spirits and cheerfulness and her love for Richard Freneau, a young broker whom she meets while wintering at Palm Beach. A fascinating mystery develops when Freneau suddenly disappears and Gloria sets out to discover what became of him. The story opens at fashionable Palm Beach and later scenes are laid in the homes of the wealthy along Riverside Drive, New York. During the production Miss Burke will wear a score or more of specially designed gowns from the studios of Henri Bendel, Lucile and Balcom, and in this respect femine patrons will find the film a regular fashion bazaar.

COUNTY HOSPITAL PLANS ACCEPTED

Main Building Will be 32 x 80 Feet, Two Stories High and With Full Basement.

The commission appointed to have charge of the erection at Thief River Falls of a joint tubercular hospital for the counties of Pennington, Marshall and Roseau, met here yesterday for the purpose of going over the plans of the architect, H. E. Lund of Minneapolis. Louis Enstrom of Badger, and V. B. Gislason of Roseau, representing Roseau county, were unable to be present, the meeting being attended by the Pennington and Marshall county commissioners—Dr. O. F. Mellby of Thief River Falls, K. O. Gigstad of St. Hilaire, and A. C. Tvedt of Goodridge, for the first-named, and Jonas Sjoberg of Middle River, and Dr. W. Anderson of Warren for Marshall county.

The plans as submitted by Architect Lund were accepted. They provide for a 24-bed hospital, the main building of which will be 32 x 80 feet with an extension at the rear 24 x 40 feet. The structure will be two stories high with a full basement. This basement will be sufficiently high so that full size windows can be used, thus making practically three stories. It has not yet been definitely decided whether the building will be entirely of brick or of brick covered with stucco.

Every modern convenience will be provided. The structure will be fireproof throughout, and will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. This does not include the equipment, for which $5,000 additional has been set aside.

The plans will now have to be passed on by the state board of control, after which the work can begin at any time. It is the intention to do the necessary excavating and put in the foundation this fall, postponing the actual construction until next spring.

Substantial Increases.

The taxable valuation of the real estate and buildings is $1,060,023. In 1915 this item footed up to $970,904, showing an increase for the year of $89,119. The assessment against the personal property is one-third of the actual value, this amounting to $372,263, an increase over last year of $96,886. In the item of monies and credits the increase is $85,488, being $461,118 at the present time against $375,630 a year ago. The amount of grain handled in the local elevators during the year also increased by 119,094 bushels, being 343,648 bushels for 1916.

The Personal Property.

For Class 2 of the personal property list, which includes household furniture, books, sewing machines, watches, jewelery, musical instruments, etc., the assessed valuation is $70,076. The assessment rate for this division is one-fourth of the actual value, which would thus be $280,263. Class 3, in which is included horses, cows and other domestic animals, represents a taxable value of $231,668. Property of this class

ATTORNEY ORDERED TO RETURN MONEY

Sum Given J. M. Bishop by Dr. J. C. R. Charest Was not For Retainer, Court Holds.

A decision was handed down by Judge Andrew Grindeland, sitting in chambers at Warren, requires that J. M. Bishop of Thief River Falls, must return to Dr. J. C. R. Charest the sum of $1,000 claimed to be illegally withheld.

This case came up for hearing at a special term of the district court on Sept. 24. Dr. Charest claimed that last winter Miss Hortense Charest, his daughter, had given the sum of $1,000 to Attorney Bishop, said sum being deposited for the purpose of securing the men on bond of the doctor, who was at that time under indictment to appear before the district court. Bishop set up the claim that the money was given him as a retainer for his work in defending Charest against the indictment.

Mr. Bishop appeared in his own behalf, while Dr. Charest's case was handled by Stanton & Rowberg.

FLAX BUYERS WILL OPERATE TOW MILL

Pennington County Purchasing Agent Will be Appointed to Secure Raw Material

E. O. White, representing the Kroler Manufacturing company, the headquarters of which are at Naperville, Ill., was in the city this morning for the purpose of appointing a local buyer of flax straw for his concern. The Kroehler company operates nine mills, utilizing this straw as a raw product, these being located in different sections of the country.

Mr. White states that it is the intention to install a portable tow mill and convert the staple at some point near the place of purchase. The tow to be shipped to the factory in bales. He is looking over the country in the neighborhood of Goodridge today and may select the agent for the country from among the citizens of that village and make that point a shipping center. This would make it convenient for the flax growers of both Pennington and Marshall counties, the greater part of the flax acreage being located in this neighborhood.

NOTED ARTISTS TO APPEAR HERE

Selections For Chautauqua Meeting at Thief River Falls Are of Exceptional Excellence.

SEPT. 8 TO 12 INCLUSIVE

Ten Great Features and Children's Chautauqua Are Included, All New to Patrons in This Section of the Country.

Thief River Falls is this year to be visited by one of the best Chautauqua organizations in the country, the date of the company's appearance being Friday, Sept. 8. Meetings will be held during five days, closing on Sept. 12. This makes it necessary to have the run include Sunday, but the management assures the people that the program to be given on that occasion will be in keeping with the spirit of the day, and will consist of music and appropriate lectures.

There are ten full programs—one for each afternoon and evening of the five days. Besides these there are the children's meetings, held evry morning from 9 to 11 o'clock for those between the ages of nine and 11, and every afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 for those up to six years. These sessions will be under the direction of an expert supervisor, are a new departure in Chautauqua work and should prove of much value and interest.

Some of the Features

The McDowell Playsingers are great favorites with Chautauqua visitors everywhere. This organization is made up of the McDowell Male quartet and Mrs. Capitolia Billings, harpist. Harry Anderson, musical director at Augsburg seminary, says of these artists: "They are entitled to a high place in the ranks of similar organizations. A pleasing variety of songs they offer from their repertoire." Dean Fletcher of Minneapolis says: "Their voices are genuinely musical."

Dr. Harry Deiman of Minneapolis, who lectures on the subject of "The Basis of American Citizenship," is equipped with exceptional scholarship, the fruit of wide and severe study. He thinks in large units and is never narrow or provincial. He has a rare gift of oratory and as a lecturer is said to have but few equals.

The Parsonians

This troupe has a varied program of instrumental and vocal music and readings that will please and satisfy everyone. L. S. Slighter is a well known reader. Minnie Ledbetter is one of the foremost women violinists of the country, while Florence Ledbetter Phillips has a wonderful voice and sings in four languages. Miss Maude Whealen is the pianist of the troupe and of the same high standard of excellence.

C. E. Booth is a practical and studious Chautauqua lecturer who manages to create and hold the interest of his audiences wherever he appears. He helps everyone with whom he comes in contact by his wholesome philosophy.

"The Good Neighbor"

B. Willoughby, a Canadian by birth and education, is a lecturer, orator and humorist. He knows men and women, boys and girls, and his remarks are helpful to all. His keen logic, refined humor and convincing facts make him much sought after on the Chautauqua platform.

"The Chautauqua Players" are young men and women of splendid talent who have had excellent training in thest forms of the drama They interpret Shakespeare, Ibsen, Suderman and Synge, and also devote considerable of their time to modern comedy.

Jalma's Symphony Ensemble

This will be a high number of the Chautauqua and one that none should miss. Jalma is one of the country's great leaders in band and stringed music, and he has an organization of picked and trained men. Jalma's Symphony Ensemble is both a symphony orchestra and a military band. They have won a wide reputation second to none in the land as a musical organization of the higher class.

The Minneapolitan Trio

This excellent company consists of Ranghild Holmquist, Soprano; Mathilde Hansen, concert pianist; Bertha Maude Pratt, Dramatic Reader. Miss Holmquist is a niece and pupil of Gustaf Holmquist, the eminent Chicago basso, also a pupil of Oscar Seagle, London, England.

Miss Hansen has spent years of study in the east and in Europe, and is an artist in her line. Miss Pratt is a dramatic reader of international note, impersonator and whistling prima donna.

Danish Prima Donna

Mme. Florence Bodinhoff, formerly of the Royal Opera, Copenhagen, is the only Danish grand opera singer in America. She has thrilled thousands with her wonderful voice, which is of unusual quality, having the range of a soprano with the mellow timbre of a mezzo-soprano. Mme. Bodinhoff sings in four languages—English, French, German and Scandinavian.

Get Tickets From Committee

The price of the tickets have been placed at $1.50 for the entire course of ten entertainments, providing the tickets are secured from the committee in charge. This at the rate of 15 cents for each program, a decidedly low figure when the excellence of the features presentd are takn into considration. The committee in charge of the affair is meeting this afternoon at the Commercial club rooms and it is likely that a regular campaign for the sale of tickets will be inaugurated.

The Times will publish a detailed program of each day's proceedings next week.

STORE BUILDING IS DECLARED UNSAFE

State Fire Warden Orders Owners of Structure at 213 La Bree to Remove Same.

The building situated at 213 La Bree avenue north and occupied as a meat market by L. C. Nielsen, has been condemned by State Fire Marshal R. W. Hargadine, who has ordered its removal within 60 days.

The marshal's order reads: "I find from the report of said inspector that the building now used as a meat market is old and dilapidated, especially liable to fire, and so situated as to endanger other buildings or property.

The building is owned by Elias Rolland, and it is understood that the order will be complied with at once. Marshal Hargadine, in his letter to City Fire Marshal Paul Medderigh, says that inasmuch as other buildings in the same neighborhood have been condemned and removed heretofore, and as this particular structure in his opinion is in as bad shape as any of them, he does not wish to seem to show partiality by permitting it to remain.

This order takes another old landmark off La Bree avenue. There are others that might follow without causing any great amonut of grief.

KILLED WHEN CAR UPSETS ON SOUTH ROAD

Chas. Sandberg of Warren, age about 45, was instantly killed about 9:30 this evening when the Ford car that he was driving turned turtle on the St. Hilaire road about 4½ miles soth of the city. The machine went completely over, throwing Sandberg about fifteen feet from the car. The appearance of the car, which was badly damaged, indicated that it must have been going at a high rate of speed. The road at this point is a good, hard grade and the only cause of the accident was reckless driving.

Mr. Pentygrast, the other occupant of the car, escaped uninjured, he having jumped a few seconds before it went over. Mr. Sandberg was driving at a terrific rate and Pentygrast said that he would get out unless Sandberg drove slower. Sandberg replied by saying that "he would drive so fast he couldn't jump out." Mr. Pentygrast then leaped from the car and a few seconds later the machine went over. Mr. Pentygrast rushed to the Wilkins farm nearby and with Mr. Wilkins returned to the car. They turned the machine over but failed to find Mr. Sandberg beneath it. Going a few yards down the road they found the lifeless body of the man.

The body was brought to this city at 10:15 by Wm. Prichard and Dr. J. E. Douglass, in the Prichard car. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Both Sandberg and Pentygrast represented the Foley Bros. & Kelley wholesale house of St. Paul.

Mr. Sandberg leaves a wife and one child, who reside at Warren.

TO RUSH REPAIR WORK TO LIMIT

Intention is to Have New Dam Supply City With Power by First of November

TWO CREWS WILL BE USED

While Weather Permits There Will Be No Let-up in the Proceedings Coffer Dam Will be First Construction Work.

The work of repairing the Kretszchmar dam, damaged by ice last spring, has been begun and will be rushed to an early conclusion.

W. A. Schreiter, manager of the property, has been in the city during the past week, and he states that with good weather and fair luck he expects to have the structure in shape to furnish power by November first. John A Hedlund of Minneapolis, a man having wide experience in work of this kind, is in charge of operations, and he is authority for the statement that the work will be rushed with all possible speed.

May Have to Stop.

While it is the intention to put in an entire new concrete dam in place of the old wooden structure, it is possible that weather conditions will not permit the work to be completed this fall. It may therefore be advisable to place the practically destroyed west section in shape for use, permitting the portion of the dam lying east of the log chute to remain in its present condition until spring. The re-building of the western half of the structure would supply the power needed, but Mr. Schreiter says that a thorough job will be made of it and that when the work contemplated is completed a practically indestructible concrete dam will span the river.

Must Build Coffer Dam

The driving of the piling for the coffer dam will begin as soon as a donkey engine can be put into commission. One of these engines was sent up but it was found to be defective and Mr. Hedlund had to telegraph for another. As soon as this coffer dam is in place power will be available for the Hanson & Barzen mill, the intake for the power plant of this concern being above the point at which this dam will be located. Rather Inconsistent.

The Times—and practically every other newspaper in the state—is constantly calling the attention of its readers to the advisability of buying everything possible at home. Particularly have the farmers come in for long severe lectures on this topic, dire consequences to the community being predicted unless they ceased the unpatriotic and ruinous practice of sending away for their requirements. It seems to be taken for granted that the farmer is the principal offender in this respect. Full often has he been "called down" for the practice and admonished to change his ways in order that home merchants might profit from his trade and thus be the better enabled to meet the demands made upon them for the maintenance of local institutions.

Perhaps the amount of money sent away by the farmer has been particularly noticed because there are more of him, but it is altogether likely that the percentage of those sending out of town for their stuff is as great among the people in any other calling. And this includes many who live right in the city and who can consequently reach the stores in a few minutes and secure what they want. The farmer has to make a trip to town in order to get his wares, and there are times when he finds this more inconvenient than sending for them by mail and having them delivered to his door. This excuse does not hold good in the city. No store is more than a block or two distant and for most purposes it is only as far away as the telephone. It is a mistake for the farmer to send away for his supplies, but it is an absolutely inexcusable proceeding in the case of the town dweller.

This condition was brought rather forcibly to our notice during the past week. An agent for a shirt manufacturer has been in the city and the Times crew were among those solicited for patronage. The salesman was allright. He undoubtedly had very good shirts, but they were probably no better than those on sale at the stores of the local dealers. It was pointed out to him that there were quite a number of men in the city trying to make a living by supplying the people with shirts and other articles of a similar nature, and that to buy them from a total stranger did not seem exactly right. He thereupon showed us that he had received substantial orders from many of our citizens—particularly among the bankers and professional men.

Now these same bankers solicit the accounts of the merchants handling shirts, and these professional men depend, in some degree at least, upon their patronage in order to make a living. They work together in all undertakings for the upbuilding of the town and give freely of their time and money toward any object calculated to help one another. When it comes to the important matter of shirts, however, it seems that the home merchant cannot be trusted.

And so it is with a great many things. It is likely that the amount of money sent out of the city is proportionately as large as that sent from the farms. There is nothing much that can be done about the matter, but newspapers should quit devoting so much time to the farmer and hit a few heads nearer home.

The city assessment just completed by Assessor B. E. Dalquist is without doubt the best and the most complete ever turned in for the people of Thief River Falls. The work has been so systematized that any succeeding assessor will find it a comparatively easy matter to keep track of changes in valuation and a record of the property to be assessed. Mr. Dalquist is simply entitled to the credit that any man should receive for knowing how to do a job he was paid for doing, but the fact that he did know how to do it will mean much to the city in the future.

The Red Lake Falls Gazette has been sold to Grove Willis and H. A. Cutten, formerly of Sauk Centre. The new publishers are experienced both in the editorial and mechanical departments of newspaper making and they should make the premier publication of Red Lake county even better than it has been in the past—which is saying a good deal. The Times wishes them success.

WANT DWYER TO GET OFF TICKET

By The County Chairman

St. Paul—(Special)—Leaders of the state Democracy, anxious for the success of the party this fall, are laying down hard on Thomas P. Dwyer, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, to withdraw in favor of some Democrat better equipped to make the race against Governor Burnquist, the Republican nominee. S. D. Works, state insurance commissioner, is said to be their choice if Mr. Dwyer will hand in his resignation. That the Democratic nominee will pull out, however, hardly seems likely. Dwyer, as I get it, is one of those hard headed lads who believes he has a mission, and he is going to go through with it whatever the cost. Ever since the primaries the Democratic kingmakers have kept pretty much in hiding and their sudden interest in Dwyer to the extent of advising him to withdraw is receiving considerable attention in capitol political circles. It looks pretty much as if they believed they could defeat Governor Burnquist. Though regarded as thoroughly honest and sincere no one takes the Democratic candidate seriously and this fact is undoubtedly responsible for the efforts being made to get him off the ticket. With him at the head it is practically impossible to get any money for campaign purposes, and while this statement may sound rather strong, nevertheless it is true. It takes money to run a campaign, and this applies to the Republican side of the house as well as the Democratic. Some one must supply the sinews of war, and in the case of the Democrats Dwyer, as the head of the ticket, is not overly supplied with this world's goods. No one in this neck of the woods believes for a moment that Governor Burnquist, will not get by, but they do admit that with the proper man on the other side his majority might be cut. Probably this is what the Democratic leaders want. While they may not get by this year, there is always another election coming, and sometimes it pays to be prepared.

✣ ✣ ✣

If "those mentioned" continue to increase the candidates for speaker of the next house will be as numerous as the counties. Every day brings out a possibility. The latest to be mentioned is Knud Wefald of Clay county. Representative Spooner of Morris is reported to be back of the Clay county man's candidacy. So far the house speakership list runs about this way: Knud Wefald, Clay county; H. H. Flowers, Le Sueur county; Thomas Girling, Minneapolis; Magnus Johnson, Meeker county; John B. Sanborn, Ramsey county; C. E. Warner, Aitkin county; S. Y. Gordon, Traverse county, and L. A. Lydiard, Hennepin county. Of course all of those mentioned have to be elected first, but as most of them expect to get by their enthusiasm is to be pardoned. C. E. Warner of Aitkin county, according to friends, is going to be in the fight to the finish. Mr. Warner was one of the leaders of the last house and had a good record. Sam Gordon is another one who intends to fight to the end, and still another is H. H. Flowers. All around it looks as if the battle for control of the next house is going to be some scrap.

✣ ✣ ✣

Governor Burnquist is not going to have any trouble finding material to fill State Insurance Commissioner Works' shoes when it comes time to retire that well known Democrat to private life. Quite a number have placed themselves on the waiting list. Gust Lindquist of St. Paul, a close friend of the governor, is reported to aspire to the position. L. W. Weeks, an assistant attorney general, has his eye on the job, and still another is Dr. Haas of St. Paul. The latter is prominently connected with several fraternal insurance societies. A close in candidate is Ira Peterson, at present assistant insurance commissioner. In the minds of many he has the call.

✣ ✣ ✣

Is the "old guard" going to control the next senate? Quite a few are asking the question, but if an answer is wanted, Thomas Frankson, who will likely be the next presiding officer of that august body, will have to furnish it. As lieutenant governor and president of the senate he alone, in a measure, will be responsible for any assumed control. That an attempt will be made to handle the senate when it meets for organization this winter is only natural. As the smaller and more deliberate legislative body the idea of control naturally appeals, and what is being done now in that respect is only a repetition of what has been going on ever since the state was organized. Accepting this as a fact, what the boys want to know now is who will be boss. Senator Sullivan of Stillwater, it is said, aspires to that honor, and the chances are excellent that he will land.

According to Public Examiner Fritz something like $63,000, a part of the state's trust funds, is unaccounted for. He has just completed an examination of the various transactions involving these funds for the state board of audit and his findings are not at all to the credit of the officials who have been in charge. While his report shows that $63,000 has been lost somewhere in the shuffle, Mr. Fritz does not say outright that the amount has been stolen. The books in the state auditor's office and those of the various county officials having to do with loans from the state trust funds do not agree, hence the discrepancies. He hopes that the next legislature will regard the whole thing as important enough to call for a thorough investigation and the establishment of a better system of handling the funds.

All of the Twin City dailies with the exception of one have withdrawn their representatives from the state capitol and have placed the gathering of news in the big building in the hands of the Associated Press. The gathering of their Northwest news also has been turned over to the same syndicate. The new idea is responsible for the sameness of the news which appears in each. The stuff is without color or individuality. Quoting one of the publishers, the new scheme is in the interest of economy and efficiency and he also hints that the syndicate feature may be extended to other well known sources of news. He calls it the passing of the reporter.

✣ ✣ ✣

At the fall election Ramsey and Dakota counties will vote on the question of the annexation of a part of the latter county by Ramsey county. The idea is to bring into the city limits of St. Paul what is known as West St. Paul, located on the south side of the Mississippi river. The town is, to all intents and purposes, a part of the Capital City, though in another county.

✣ ✣ ✣

According to statements credited to Representative Spooner of Morris, who is putting in a considerable portion of his time in the Twin Cities these days, he has in preparation a number of bills that will make several state departments sit up and take notice when they are introduced at the coming session of the legislature. One of the departments is the state railway and warehouse commission, another is the public examiner's office, and still another is the department of banking.

✣ ✣ ✣

In a previous letter I mentioned the activities of the backers of the Nonpartisan league, which has swept North Dakota off its feet and is now trying to pocket Minnesota. Their work to date has been confined to the counties in the Red River valley. Discussing the movement with one of the leaders of the league, he admitted that success, as far as Minnesota was concerned, was not any too bright, but as every voter enrolled meant more money for the league organizers would be kept at work until the finish. He gave the league an existence of about seven years. It had absorbed the Progressive party in North Dakota, he said, and its natural end would be absorption by some other party or movement.

✣ ✣ ✣

A Southern Minnesota paper is booming Governor Burnquist as the logical successor of United States Senator Nelson, who, it is said, will retire to private life with the close of his present term. His excellency would fill the place with credit to himself and the state, but unfortunately he is located geographically wrong. It is hardly possible that the country would stand for two United States senators from St. Paul.

✣ ✣ ✣

United States Senator Nelson is of the opinion that Minnesota was not properly provided for in the distribution of the federal road aid appropriation and has promised his help if Minnesota will file a protest. As its share Minnesota received about $150,000. Senator Nelson thinks Minnesota is entitled to a larger amount.

✣ ✣ ✣

Along with a short cereal crop Minnesota is due to see a shortage in potatoes. This is the news brought to the state immigration department and it is backed by statements from growers, who say the crop in some sections is almost a failure.

✣ ✣ ✣

Senator William Campbell of Hennepin county proposes a statewide movement to save the statewide primary. He regards the fight being made on the law as a blow at the rights of the people. No matter what Senator Campbell thinks there is going to be an attempt made at the next session of the legislature to amend the law and it is going to have the backing of many influential men and newspapers.

✣ ✣ ✣

For the first time in a number of years the old Merchants hotel in St. Paul will be without a political headquarters. The Republicans have secured quarters in a new hostelry at St. Paul, while the Democrats will have headquarters in Minneapolis.

✣ ✣ ✣

An effort is shortly to be made to put St. Louis county in the dry column. A petition is being prepared for the calling of a special election. Duluth voted dry at the recent primaries and those interested in the dry movement believe the prohibition feature can be extended to the entire county.

THE MAN BEHIND THE JEFFERSON

J. D. Clarkson of Carthage, Mo., Has Immagination, Enthusiasm and Common Sense

"MAKE ROADS A BARGAIN"

Not Only an Advocate of Better Highways But a Demonstrator in the Manner of Their Construction

Who is J. D. Clarkson, and what's his idea?" This question has been asked a thousand times during the present summer, and as concerns this northern portion of the section effected by the road proposition he is advancing, the question has never been very satisfactorily answered. It will be of interest, therefore, to get something of a line on the man himself as well as the work he has set himself to do. The Motor Age for July contains an article under the caption, "The Path That Unites the Pines and Palms of America," which gives one something of an idea as to what this man Clarkson is trying to get at. As Thief River Falls is on the line of this great north and south highway and as the people of the entire section are vitally interested in the success or failure of the scheme, it will prove of interest to Times readers to find out what others think of this road scheme as well as its projector.

Private Car on Tires.

The Motor Age writer starts out by saying that "a private car on rubber tires is to have a showy part in the attempt to hard-surface the Jefferson highway before any other cross-continent highway is completed. It is being designed now—a modern office on a motor car chasis—and J. D. Clarkson, the newly appointed manager of the highway, vows that he will live in it until a 365-day roadway is complete from New Orleans to Winnipeg.

"To those who know "365-day" Clarkson the achievement of this purpose is not impossible. The plan to build a movable office, equip it with a desk, letter files, dictating machine and other necessaries for the efficient handling of the highway business is merely typical of the Clarkson method. He always seeks the unusual and seeks vindication for it in miles of roads built.

Make Friends of Motorists.

"His first promulgation of policy after assuming his new position recently caused consternation along the route. The plain, raw truth would be told of the highway he declared, and all inquiries regarding its condition would be understated rather than overstated. 'We propose to make friends of motorists and not victims.'

"More than that, he declared that an ounce of competition was worth several pounds of argument in building roads and that all a competing section had to do to capture the route was to build a better road. This has proven a big spur to the building activity.

Organization Plan.

The first move of Mr. Clarkson will be to organize the towns. This he does under what he calls the "365-Day Road and Community Club plan," an idea he originated. Following this work he proposes to run a train load of road building machinery over the route and build a demonstration mile of road in every county where encouragement is needed. "Make roads a bargain and people will buy them," says Clarkson.

To mark down the roads in price he advocates the use of common sense and modern road building machinery. His train will consist of a distilate tractor, graders, harrows, a rock crusher, gasoline trucks to haul material, and some devices of his own he is giving to the highway for free use. The real features of this work, however, will be his interesting organization methods.

Quit Scaring Them

"We have scared the public in the Middle West by talking in millions when we speak of roads," says Mr. Clarkson, "rather than telling the farmer his cost will be only a two-cent stamp a year for each front foot of his farm, or will total a four year-old mare for each 80 acres of land he owns. He comprehends the language of the four-year-old mare and he can also understand when you tell him the road really costs him nothing for he can get along with one less horse with a good road, and save the feed besides.

Is Already Mapped.

"With these methods, and others fully as picturesque, the "Jefferson Highway Man" hopes to direct the building of a great north and south road. It is mapped now from Winnipeg through Thief River Falls, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Des Moines, Kansas City, Joplin, Muskogee, Dennison, Shreveport, Alexandria on into New Orleans. It goes from pine to palm through the Food Basket of the Nation and has been called the vacation highway of America because it opens a new game and lake region at the north, pierces the Ozarks with its bass streams and summer resorts and the "Sheperd of the Hills" country at the center and ends at the south in New Orleans, the winter Mecca."

LOCAL COMMITTEE CHOOSES OFFICERS

Will Begin Work at Once Providing Ways and Means For Meeting Requirements.

The committee of seven appointed to have charge of the Jefferson highway work to be done in Pennington county met Friday afternoon at the Commercial club rooms for the purpose of perfecting an organization Daniel Shaw, who has been foremost in the work of getting the highway routed through this section declined the presidency of the county committe, but will remain one of the directors. C. L. Hansen was chosen for this office, and as he has been closely identified with the work thus far done, he should prove an energetic official. A. H. Pitkin of St. Hilaire, was elected vice president; Math Barzen secretary and Ed. Aubol treasurer. Olaf Larson and V. C. Noper are the remaining members of the committee.

These seven started out by pledging five dollars each with which to begin a fund for prosecuting the work, Secretary Lincoln of the Commercial club, and G. W. Hooper of St. Hilaire, who were present, doing likewise. A membership campaign will be started at once, the idea being to raise the necessary nine dollars per mile by this means.

It is expected that a meeting of the state orginazation will be held at St. Paul the first part of September, and President Hanson and Secretary Barzen have signified their intention of attending. These officers were also appointed a committee to confer with the city council with a view to having the streets put in the best possible shape for travel.

It is probable that a meeting of all those interested will be held as soon as the farmers have a little more time to attend to matters of this kind.

INDIAN LID TO COVER RED LAKE

The Report Coming From Washington—Claimed to be in Treaty Zone

PENNINGTON IS INCLUDED

This County, Already Dry, Will Thus be Made More Dry, As All Shipments From Outside Will be Prohibited.

Red Lake Falls and Plummer, both situated in Red Lake county, and the last spots in northwestern Minnesota in which the sale of intoxicating liquors is allowed, will shortly be closed by the federal authorities, according to dispatches to the Minneapolis Journal from Washington These town have been used as shipping points for booze since the balance of the counties went dry and have been receiving a certain degree of notoriety because of the fact. Should the Indian treaty apply, however, it will mean they will be more decidedly dry than any county option could possibly make them.

Pennington Also.

Pennington county is in the same boat. While the sale of liquor here is prohibited under state law, there is nothing to prevent anyone from having a case or a flask sent here by express from the oasis a short distance down the line. Inasmuch as the treaty is said to apply to all that section of country north of the Clay line and west of the present limits created by the 1885 treaty, it would mean that Thief River Falls and all of Pennington county is included.

Are All Ready to Act

That the blow may fall at any moment is indicated by the Journal's article which is as follows:

"Sallons and wholesale liquor houses of Red Lake Falls and Plummer, the only remaining wet towns in northwestern Minnesota, are declared likely to be closed up within a few days by officers of the Indian bureau.

"Instructions just issued by the bureau of Indian affairs indicate that the Indian lid is to be extended by the government to the territory covered by the treaty of Oct. 2, 1863.

"Red Lake county, which went wet in a county option election last fall, is the only wet spot left in that territory, which lies west of the 1855 treaty area, and runs north from Clay county to the Canadian line.

Dry Leader Starts Move

"W. G. Calderwood, Minneapolis prohibition leader, who called the 1863 treaty to the attention of the federal authorities is in Washington today. At prohibition headquarters it was announced that he went east at invitation of the federal authorities, and that he was in Washington two weeks ago on the same errand.

"The 1863 treaty differs from the 1855 treaty, which is being enforced. It prohibits only the introduction and sale of "spirituous" liquors, and brewers claim that beer does not come under that name.

Statute Covers Beer.

"They have been using Red Lake Falls as a distributing point for North Dakota and northern Minnesota since Moorhead and East Grand Forks went dry. The department now declares beer to come under the statutes.

"The provisions of Sections 2140 and 2141 of the Revised Statutes of the United States," the ruling says, "shall also apply to beer and other intoxicating liquors named in the act of Jan. 30, 1897, and the possession by a person of intoxicating liquor in the country where the introduction is prohibited by treaty or federal statutes shall be prima facie evidence of unlawful introduction.."

ELKS HAVE GREAT TIME AT PICNIC

Squaw Point Scene of Much Merry-making at Annual Outing of Local Lodge.

The Elks picnic on Sunday was a great success. Resident and visiting members of this order, with their families, gathered at Squaw Point and proceeded to have all the fun possible. Amusements had been provided for old and young, and it was a question as to which set entered into the spirit of the games with the greater enthusiasm. There were several selections by the band, and the lunch served at noon in regular picnic style was one of the most enjoyable features.

The base ball game between the fats and the leans resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 9 to 2. Some remarkable stunts were pulled off during the progress of this matinee, a batter making three bases on a foul-hit being one of the most unusual features.

In the ladies ball game the team captained by Mrs. G. W. Booren won against that in charge of Mrs. L. G. Larson by the close score of seven to six. They played more than one inning.

Bob McGinn was the winner in the boys running race, he also carrying off the honors in the sack race. In the boy's pie eating contest Helge Hall proved the most competent.

The 50 yard running race for girls under 16 was won by Belle Blaire, while a similar race for girls under 10 was won by Peggy Ives. Harriet Morgan carried off the honors in the cracker eating contest.

Mrs. T. L. Melgaard was the winner in the 50 yard walking race for ladies; Mrs. G. Howard Smith was the champion hoop-roller, and Mrs. John Robinson was declared the most proficient in throwing a base ball overhand.

The serviceable Elks pin awarded as a prize in the 100-yard running race for men was won by G. Howard Smith. This pin is an exact counterpart of the first ever worn by an Elk. John Morgan won the belt in the fat men's race. It was a perfectly good piece of leather belting, and when the jovial postmaster gets tired of showing it around as a memento of his prowess he can have it cut up into shoe soles.

Change the Fair Date

Grygla Eagle.—There is some talk of discontinuing the Pennington county fair because the farmers show too great a lack of interest. It is well, although it is regretable. A county fair is a mighty good thing, provided it is a fair by and for the farmers. However, when a county fair is held early in August it is not giving the farmers a square deal, for there are few seasons in which it is possible to display produce grown that year, to a good advantage, during the first of August. Another phase of the matter is a pecuniary one. The fair associations of the present day are financed by city people—business men who see a chance to increase their already large profits. They offer big prizes for horse races, and the farmer is more interested in blooded stock. They offer big inducements to some transient show company that is after the nickles and dimes—and the farmer sees more entertainment in the produce of his neighbor's plot of ground. They give 50 cents as first prize for the best farm produce—and the farmer watches some out-of-th-state resident take several hundred dollars as first money in a "framed" horse race. All the big prizes are paid out of the money paid by the farmer to see the fair, while the prizes for exhibits are paid out of what is left after all other expenses are paid. Make the county fair a strictly county proposition. Give the ruralite the chance to get the "big change," by holding the fair when the ruralite can take advantage of his best efforts. In that way, and that way only, can a county fair be a success."

MUCH INTEREST IN MARKET DAY

Commercial Club and Merchants Combine to Provide Big Bargain Opportunity.

FREE LUNCH TO VISITORS

Auction of Odds and Ends Brought in By Farmers Will Be Conducted Free of Charge on Hitching Lot

The first Free Auction and Market Day of the early fall for the benefit of the farmers and country trade will be held Saturday, Sept 16, under the auspices of the Commercial club, prominent merchants having decided to put on one of the biggest actual bargain days ever attempted and along the same plan as so successfully carried on last year.

Farmers are invited to bring in odds and ends from the farm—machinery, stock, harness—in fact any thing they desire to convert into ready cash, and it will be sold for them free of cost at the auction grounds used last year at the corner of La Bree avenue and Fourth street north. The auction will be held at 1 p. m. sharp, and continued until everything is disposed of. Competent clerks will be engaged for the auction and the services of an expert auctioneer engaged.

Other Features.

The free noon-time lunch will not be served in the open as it was last year. It was found that many who were neither buyers nor sellers of goods took a keen interest in the lunch just the same and enjoyed the hospitality of the business men at their own invitation. The lunch will be served at the Commercial club rooms and merchants who are back of the Market Day will be given tickets to distribute to their customers and these tickets honored at the club rooms. Local business men who desire to take lunch with their friends from the country are invited to purchase a ticket at a nominal sum. The lunch will not be in the nature of a heavy meal but a good, wholesome noon-time lunch and every farmer supplied with a ticket will be gladly served. This plan has met with the hearty approval of the merchants, the club rooms being admittedly the best place for this purpose.

A Day of Bargains

The two page ad to appear in both local papers next week will carry announcements of merchants in every line of trade and these announcements will indicate real, honest bargains. Prices will be made way below the mail order house's misleading quotations and for goods bearing the stamp of merit on them. In addition, merchants are ready to figure with farmers or any other person on their bill for commodities.

"Bring in your odds and ends from the farm, convert them into cash and then take that dollar to your home merchant—the one who has given you credit when you needed it and who stands back of the goods he sells you," is the message merchants send to the buying public.

That there will be a big get-together day in Thief River Falls on Saturday, September 16, goes without saying, at which object lessons in actual bargains will be afforded the mail order advocate and everyone afforded an opportunity to lay in a stock of merchandise for the fall and winter at rock bottom prices.

This Market Day and auction will afford opportunity to residents of the country districts to attend, unload the superfluous odds and ends in farm machinery and personal effects, lay in a stock of high class goods at honest prices for the fall and winter.

Entertainment.

The business men have planned to entertain their visitors with a band concert early in the evening at the auction grounds, and the Commercial club rooms will be open to them during the day. It has always been the purpose of the Commercial club to make it as pleasant and agreeable for country visitors as is posisble and the use of the rooms for all meetings desired by the farmers have been given gratis. Different organizations have been perfected there and farmers made to feel that they have a congenial place to gather when they come to the city. A number of prominent farmers belong to the Commercial club and they have been active in its affairs so far as matters pertaining to the rural districts are concerned. They are cordially invited to visit the club rooms on Market Day and make themselves perfectly at home in every way.

Lunch Tickets

It must be thoroughly understood that the lunch tickets given merchants are for their country friends exclusively and they are expected to so distribute them. It is no small expense to get up a lunch for from 200 to 300 people, and it is a pleasure to do it where the lunch goes to the persons the business men are aiming to please and whose friendship they are trying to cultivate. It is a little courtesy appreciated by any man when, after a long ride to town he finds that his home merchant has provided for the wants of the inner man as well as for the pocket book. Farmers will only have to call at the store where they trade or at any of the stores where merchants are advertising bargains on the Market day double page ad to appear next week, and they will be freely supplied with tickets. The idea is to have a big gathering of farmers and the merchants who supply them with merchandise. To this end some sort of entertainment, music, short addresses and an exchange of ideas will be held immediately after the auction or during the noon hour.

General Invitation.

The invitation is general and it is expected that there will be at least 500 visitors in the city on that day to be entertained and to profit by the opportunities offered by the live business men of Thief River Falls. The band will give an entertaining program in the early evening or perhaps in the afternoon. The moving picture houses will put on extra good programs, and it is hoped that many of the visitors will remain to spend Saturday evening in the city. The Commercial club committee is busy with the details and everything points to a big success. The double page announcements will appear next week, with full details.

He was assessed $10 and costs, which he promptly paid.

CROOKSTON LIGHTS TO BE TURNED OFF

Spasm of Economy Hits Administration and Salaries Are Cut to the Lowest Notch

The city of Crookston will be in darkness after sundown in a few days. The council has decreed that there shall be but four electric lights permitted, these to be located at the different bridges and viaducts within the corporate limits. The light company has been notified that the city will not pay for more lights after the first of September.

Then, in order to make a good job of the retrenchment, the city dads proceeded to cut the salaries of city officials in two. The mayor and city treasurer were reduced from $300 per year to $150, the city engineer will hereafter have to get along with $900 per year instead of twice that sum and the assessor, if he still cares to hang onto his job, will receive $500 instead of $1000 as heretofore. The city attorney who has been getting $900 per year, will hereafter have to scrimp along with $450 while the street commissioner will receive $45 instead of $90 for his services. These reductions go into effect on Sept. 1.

The office of chief of police was abolished and provision made for two policemen, each drawing $65 per month. It is expected that the saving made possible by these changes will aggregate $15,000 per annum.

A number of the officials affected have already sent in their resignations and more are expected to follow.

SEED QUESTION IS WORRYING FARMERS

This Year's Yield is of Poor Quality, But Considerable 1915 Grain Still on Hand

The extremely hot weather of July, undoubtedly had its influence on the grain which will be used for seed in 1917. It is not too early now for the farmers to think of next year's seed. According to reports of seed prospects made to the Northwest Experiment station through Prof. A. E. Enerson, who is acting as field investigator in Red River Valley counties. The seed produced is of poor quality and light in weight. It will be very inferior for seed purposes and ought not to be used if better seed can be procured. He states that at the present time, however, there are large quantities of 1915 grain still in the valley. He refers to one man who has 9,000 bushels of Marquis wheat held over from last year. Th 1916 crop of oats, especially, will be very inferior for seed purposes as a large per cent of all kernels are only hulls. The Northwest Experiment Station will be glad to receive a list of farmers who have 1915 seed for sale and also those who will need seed in 1917 and thereby put purchaser and seller in touch with each other. Such a seed exchange would be of the greatest value in order to insure a full crop in 1917. Write to the Northwest Experiment Station at Crookston regarding this matter.

Mrs. Jacob Jonas, 204 Markley avenue north, was pleasantly surprised by about twelve of her most intimate friends last Saturday afternoon, the occasion being Mrs. Jonas' fifty-third anniversary of her birth. She was presented with a beautiful silver berry dish and other articles. After spending an enjoyable afternoon a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. Daniel Shaw entertained informally last Friday afternoon about eighteen of her friends in honor of Miss Edith Peterson, of Duluth, who is a guest at the home of Mrs. H. H. Spink, and Mrs. J. C. Ross, of Minneapolis, who is in the city visiting at the home of her son, R. H. Ross. The afternoon was passed in doing fancy work. Refreshments were served.

Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rolland, 914 Duluth avenue north, occurred the marriage of Miss Zella E. Sin Clair to Magnus R. Lund, both young people of Thief River Falls. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Barackman, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Miss Elsie Sincliar acted as bride's maid while George Rice acted as groomsman. Only the mother and step father of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rolland, were present. Miss Sinclair has made Thief River Falls her home for the past seven years and was a member of the Junior class of the Lincoln high school last year. The groom is also a former student at the local high school, coming here three years ago, and finished one year's work. Later he accepted a position with the Tri-State telephone company and held this post until a few weeks ago, when he left for Mahnomen to take charge of the management of the telephone exchange. After the marriage ceremony the newlyweds completely eluded their friends to escape a shower of rice and left the city on the evening flyer for Mahnomen where they will reside. They have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

The sacred concert given by the choir of the Synod church, of Warren, at the Norwegian Synod church in this city Monday evening was a treat long to be remembered and the people turned out in numbers sufficient to fill the church comfortably. The choir on Monday evening decided to give their concert in Thief River Falls in the evening and in spite of their limited time to advertise the event a large attendance was recorded, and all were well paid for coming out. The choir was assisted by Ingolf Grindeland, Annar Myhre, Roy M. Prytz, Miss Olga Hermanson, Miss Evelyn Grindeland, Miss Estelle Grindeland, Miss Gladys Grindeland, accompanist, all of Warren. Ingolf Grindeland, who is attending the university of Minnesota, and who is regarded as the foremost tenor at that institution, delighted the audience in several numbers. Mr. Grindeland is a tenor of rare ability, his range and power of voice commanding much praise. Miss Evelyn Grindeland, music instructor in the Thief River Falls schools, who appeared with the choir, sang in several duets. That the concert as a whole made a very favorable impression upon the audience, was apparent by the spontaneous and hearty applause accorded each number given by the variuos soloists and the choir.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bamford, north of the Soo round house was the scene of one of the prettiest social events of the season Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock, when a double wedding occurred in which their daughter Esther Mary was united in marriage to Clarence E. Francis, of Portland, Oregon, and their daughter, Laura, to Claude Crandall, of Crookston. Rev. G. O. Parish, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated. The brides were attended by their sister, Miss Ruth, while Eber Conklin acted as groomsman. The ceremony was attended by only a few of the most intimate friends of the family and contracting parties, while the second marriage was a complete surprise to everyone present. Miss Esther Bamford wore a beautiful gown of white pussy willow taffeta, cut low and filled in at the neck with rich lace. Her veil was of white tulle and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Laura's gown was of dainty white lace over pale blue, and she too carried a white bridal bouquet. Miss Ruth Bamford, who acted as bride's maid in both ceremonies wore a gown of pink silk and carried a bouquet of pink American beauties. At the beginning of the ceremony Mrs. Albert Johnson rendered a pleasing vocal solo. The wedding march was played by Miss Blanche Johnson, and as this was being executed the grooms and attendants took their places under an arch beautifully bound with pink and white trimmed effectively with flowers and ferns. Later they were joined by the brides and bride's maid.

Following the wedding ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served for those in attendance and the happy couples. Both the parlor and dining rooms were decorated very attractively, the color scheme used in the parlor being white and pink and in the dining room yellow and white. Vases filled with flowers adorned the table and large baskets of golden rods were placed at different points in the room.

Misses Esther and Laura Bamford are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bamford, and have resided near Thief River Falls for the past five years, coming to this city from Illinois. On arriving here Miss Esther entered upon her senior year at the Lincoln high school and graduated with the class of '13 and since that time has been engaged as instructor in various Pennington county schools. She is a charming girl of pleasant personality and agreebale manners and is one of the most popular young ladies of the city. She has made a large circle of friends both in this city and in the community where she has resided, all of whom regret to see her leave. Mr. Francis is a young and enterprising business man of Portland, Oregon, and has been engaged in that city for the past few years as an automobile salesman. Miss Laura Bamford is a talented young lady and previous to her coming to Thief River Falls, was a successful piano instructor. Claude Crandall is also a musician, he being at present employed with the Grand theatre orchestra at Crookston. He is well known in this city, having been connected with the Princess theatre orchestra last winter.

"Gloria stared at the problem and felt herself slipping back into childhood at a breakneck speed. She had no more idea of what it all meant than a new-born babe. She put on a pair of big tortoise-shell spectacles, but they made her look younger than ever and gave her no help. She could see that foolish a + b, but she could not see why anyone should want to know what would happen if you did such a foolish thing as to multiply it by itself."

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes have written an intensely interesting story in

Gloria's Romance

—the new motion picture serial about to appear in this paper. It is a story that will appeal to everyone—man, woman and child. You'll like its sweet sentiment—its romantic charm—its cheerful beauty. It's a page of life—the life of Gloria Stafford, the youthful, vivacious daughter of a bank president.

STILL WORKING TO STOP STRIKE

President Wilson Endeavors to Have Order Calling Strike for Labor Day Rescinded.

HOPE IN EIGHT HOUR DAY

Administration Officials Believe Brotherhood Leaders Would Grant Request Should Congress Enact Legislation Recommended

Washington, Aug. 31.—President Wilson is making efforts to have the railroad brotherhoods call off or postpone the strike order effective Sept. 4. There are indications that unless action is taken soon by the brotherhood leaders the president may publicly ask the railway workers that the strike order be rescinded.

Continued efforts by all agencies of the administration to induce the brotherhoods to recall their strike order are the outstanding features of the situation. All possible influences are being utilized in an effort to convince the leaders that their action in calling a strike while the negotiations were proceeding should be rescinded.

Commissioner Chambers of the federal mediation board seems confident efforts along this line will be successful. Many of those in close touch with the situation believe it can be accomplished if congress promptly enacts the eight-hour day feature of President Wilson's legislative program.

Brotherhood officials, after obtaining copies of the proposed bills affecting the railroad situation, went into conference at the department of labor with Secretary Wilson. It was supposed they intended to consider the proposed legislation as it affects them and discuss it with the secretary of labor.

Must Win or Strike Comes.

Brotherhood heads insisted after the conference that they had not been requested by President Wilson or any other administration official to postpone the strike, and that nothing except a satisfactory settlement of their demands could prevent a walkout.

Despite denials of the labor leaders that President Wilson or any one else had asked them to postpone the strike, there were abundant evidences such was the case, and there was a feeling in congress, in administration circles and in other places that a way would be found to avert a walkout. No one knew what it was, but the feeling prevailed.

With notices of freight embargoes and prospective delays to passenger traffic pouring in from all parts of the country Chairman Howard Elliott of the New Haven issued a statement, on behalf of the railway executives, pointing out that passenger train service as well as freight would be tied up.

While every effort was being made to prevent the strike both sides continued to make preparations to meet it.

NORTHWEST STRIKE HEADQUARTERS OPEN

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—Headquarters from which the threatened railway strike will be managed for the Northwest have been opened here.

A number of the labor leaders have returned from Washington, where they took part in the conferences with President Wilson. Others are to come in later and take charge of the Northwest strike headquarters in St. Paul.

The leaders who are on hand hold out a little hope yet that the strike may be averted if congress takes up President Wilson's legislative program.

"There is no way, though," they said, "of halting the strike in order to wait for congress to act. All that will stop a walkout Monday morning is for the president's program to be rushed through before then. Everything is arranged for the strike to begin at 7 a. m. Monday and there will be no more parleying."

HOPE TO MOVE FOOD TRAINS

New York Rail Officials Preparing for Strike.

New York, Aug. 31.—Railroad traffic, both to and from New York city, shows feverish activity in anticipation of a general strike. It is estimated that before Sept. 4, the date of the threatened tieup, this city will rid itself of a floating population of nearly 350,000 and receive home about the same number of residents who have been on vacation.

Unless the situation changes radically it is expected the other Eastern railroads will follow the example of the New York, New Haven and Hartford and declare a freight embargo to take effect Sept. 4.

Railroad executives here expressed hope that if a strike were called they could run enough food trains to keep the city from privation. The city's milk supply companies have been organizing to meet the situation ever since the strike became imminent.

BRITISH MISTREAT GAFFNEY

Former United States Consul Complains of Treatment.

New York, Aug. 31.—T. St. John Gaffney, former American consul general at Munich, who resigned and came home last October, was a passenger on the Danish steamer Frederick VIII., which arrived here. Mr. Gaffney went back to Germany in January.

In a written statement he complained of his treatment by the British authorities at Kirkwall, saying private letters, papers and bonds were taken from him over his protest. He asserted also he will follow up his protest with an appeal through his attorney to Secretary Lansing.

SUE TO RECOVER LARGE SUM

Stockholders of New Haven Road Want $160,000,000.

New York, Aug. 31.—Former officers, directors and counsel of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad were made defendants in a liability and restitution suit for more than $160,000,000, filed in the United States district court by five Massachusetts stockholders of the road.

The suit is based on evidence taken at the recent trial of William Rockefeller and other former directors of the road for criminal conspiracy under the Sherman anti-trust law.

North Dakota Bank Robbed.

Eckman, N. D., Aug. 31.—Burglars blew open the safe of the First State bank of Eckman during the night and escaped with approximately $3,000 in cash. The bank is housed temporarily in the office of a lumber company while a new bank building is being erected.

Roumanian Towns Shelled.

London, Aug. 31.—Austrian monitors and batteries have bombarded the Roumanian towns of Verciorova, Turnu Severein, a little lower down the Danube, and Giurgevo, where the ferryboat crosses from Rustchuk on the principal route from Sofia to Bucharest.

THE FLOOD SITUATION

Editor Thief River Falls Times: In the issue of the News-Press for Aug. 24, there was published a letter from W. A. Swanson of Deer Park, warning the people of the Red Lake river basin that unless they take time by the forelock and construct a ditch of ample capacity to carry off the surplus waters of the river, commencing at a point at or near Neptune and continuing straight west to a point just south of St. Hilaire, that they will wake up some fine morning and find themselves confronted with a repetition of the Johnstown flood.

Now, Mr. Johnson, you have suggested something, and it is too bad that you were unable to forego politics and confine yourself to the digging of said ditch instead of trying to arraign one interest against another. We certainly need assistance of every interest at this time if anything is to be done to protect the farmers of Deer, Park, Hickory, Star and Highlanding, who have not only lost their crops, but are unable to put up any hay with which to winter their stock. Unless something can be done to relieve them many will be forced to abandon their farms and the hard work of many years will go for nothing.

With these existing conditions, don't you think Mr. Swanson, that it is a little early to start a political campaign and infer that any person trying to alleviate these conditions is actuated by ulterior motives or working either for or against water power interests?

In fact, upon mature deliberation do you not think that it would have been better to have outlined the size and cost of a ditch, and also stated where the money could have been procured? Would the towns of Mayfield, Wyandotte and River Falls be willing to pay their proportionate share of a ditch of such size as would relieve the situation without deepening, straightening and widening the Red Lake river—as you propose? If not, would the towns of Hickory and Deer Park defray the entire expense? If so, whose duty would it be to introduce such a measure?

Furthermore, have you figured on the great drop in the river from Neptune to St. Hilaire? What provision have you made for the control, or would you just let the water run wild and flood out all the towns along the course of the river? What provision have you made for damages to the farmers along the river from Highlanding to St. Hilaire when you divert the waters of the Red Lake river from its natural course?

Any person at all conversant with the situation knows that the river from Neptune to Highlanding is full of sand bars. These have become overgrown with rushes, which in turn have accumulated a vast quanity of debris which would entirely obstruct the flow of the water in the natural bed of the river in case you had a clean, straight ditch with a flow that would prevail, when you take into consideration a drop of over three feet to the mile.

Now, Mr. Swanson, if you solve only part of the many problems confronting those who are seeking a solution of the unnatural conditions now existing in eastern Pennington county, you will not only deserve the highest commendation but you will have proven yourself a deep, thoughtful student as well as a public benefactor.

Awaiting your solution of the problem and with the kindest regards, I beg to remain,

D. P. O'NEILL

GET RICH QUICK SCHEME

The careful man doesn't allow himself to be talked into haphazard investments—he puts his money in the Bank where it is safe for some good business opportunity

Everyone knows the story of the Arab who could not say No, and was finally crowded out of his tent. Some people can't say "No" to the glib stranger who hypnotizes them into investing in something that exists only on a piece of paper. Some of the people "bite" at the "get-rich-quick" scheme because they believe a stranger instead of their own banker.

Listen, if that get-rich-quick scheme is so good why does a smooth stranger have it to peddle to you?

LYCEUM COURSE DATES SELECTED

Series Will Open at Auditorium on October 2, With Philharmonic Orchestral Club

FOUR NUMBERS IN SERIES

Program of Varied Features and Unusual Excellence Has Been Selected For Presentation Here During the Fall and Winter

Manager Charles Anderson of the Auditorium has this week recieved the advance advertising matter of the different attractions which will make up the lyceum course for the fall and early winter months. The selections for this year are the best which will be seen anywhere in this country and are said to be of a higher order than anything heretofore sent on the road by lyceum bureaus.

There are four numbers in the course, the dates for their appearance being as follows: Philharmonic club, October 2; Chicago Operatic company, Nov 2; Faust Opera company, December 20; Hon. Frank Hanly, Jan 29.

A Superior Organization

The Philharmonic club is composed of some of the best known musicians in this country. Many of them have not only had concert experience here, but have appeared at the foremost theatres of Europe. Karl Scheurer is the violin soloist and conductor. He was formerly a member of orchestras at Berlin, Cologne and Boston and is at present connected with the Minneapolis Philharmonic orchestra. The other artists of this company are: Walter S. Hancock, first violin; Franz Dicks, second violin; Jean Koch, viola; Oscar Koch, cello; Frank Kuekyna, bass; Leonardo de Lorenzo, flute; Bruno Labate, oboe; Pierere Perrier, clarinet; James Grubner, first horn, Max Mathieu, second horn; William Thieck, trumpet; Otto Gebhardt, trombone; William L. Factkenheur, tympanies. Miss Martha Cook is the vocal soloist of the club. She is well known to the Lyceum and Chatauqua audiences throughout the country and is the possessor of a beautifully clear, ringing, soprano voice and a charming personality.

The Chicago Operatic Company

The date for the second number on this program is Nov. 2, when the Chicago Operatic company will be the attraction. The personel of this unsurpassed aggregation of musicians is as follows: John B. Miller tenor; Edgar A. Nelson, pianist; Frederica Gerhardt Downing, contralto; Leonora Antonette Allen, soprano; Magnus Schultz, basso; Amy Emerson Neill, violinist; Paul Burke, cellist. These artists have for years been favorites on the concert stage and few lyceum attractions have ever been more enthusiastically received.

The Faust Opera Singers

This is a company of five people, presenting one of the finest programs ever seen on a chautauqua or lyceum course. Joel Mosberg, baritone, has sang in the leading opera companies of America and has an internationl reputation. Mildred Smith, contralto, is fully as well known and is considered among the really great contraltos on the stage. Martha Morck, soprano, is a pupil of Saenger in New York, and of Ella Kinsman Mann, of Chicago. She has appeared in both cities in operatic and concert work. Christian Matheson, tenor, was formerly with the National Opera company of Sweden. Emma Rounds, pianist, was formerly with the Thatcher Opera company and an accompanist at the Chicago Musical college.

Ex. Governor Hanly

Hon. J. Frank Hanly, formerly governor of Indiana, will fill the last date of the series—Jan. 29. During the last four years Gov. Hanly has spoken in 32 states, besides the District of Columbia and Canada. He has spoken in Wisconsin eight times; Missouri 11 times, Michigan 12 times, Nebraska 17 times, Massachusetts 19 times, Ohio, 50 times, Iowa 56 times, Illinois 72 times, and Pennsylvania 94 times. A man for whom there is so much demand must carry a message out of the ordinary. His subjests are: "The World Disarmed," "The Patriotism of Peace," "The Spirit of Democracy," "The Personality of Christ," and "If a Man Die." Which of these lectures will be selected for delivery at Thief River Falls has not yet been definitely decided upon, but all are masterpieces and delivered with a force that has made Mr. Hanly one of the most famous orators in America.

Get a Course Ticket.

Manager Anderson states that the price of the course tickets has been placed at $2.00, while single admissions will be 75 cents. This price is a trifle higher than that charged for the last course, but the cost is $200 greater and the attractions of a correspondingly higher order. Season tickets will soon be placed on sale and all should procure one in order to be certain that they will not miss any of these really superior numbers.

Masons Invited to Grand Forks

The local Masonic lodge has reived an invitation from Arcadia lodge at Grand Forks, asking them to be present in the conferring of the Master Masonic degree on the evening of Sept. 1. Past Grand Master Thomas Morris of Crookston, is to be present on this occasion and it will be made something of an event by the Grand Forks lodge. Any Mason intending to make this trip is requested to notify George Sterns or F. A. Goebler of their intention.

The local lodge of Masons will hold a meeting on Sept. 11. this being the first regular assemblage since the rearrangement of the lodge rooms was begun about two months ago. The work is now rapidly nearing completion and will be in shape for holding meetings by the date set.

Tom Lonson, employed in a bank at Callaway, came up Tuesday evening for a brief visit with relatives and friends.

Gloria's Romance

by MR. and MRS. RUPERT HUGHES

Novelized From the Motion Picture Play of the Same Name by George Kleine

Copyright, 1916, by Adelaide M. Hughes

FIRST EPISODE

Lost in the Everglades.

"Rather remarkable, isn't it," said the sick old lion, Judge Freeman, "that the most expensive hotel and the most luxurious resort in the world should be only a few miles from an almost impenetrable wilderness inhabited by Indians that the United States army could never dislodge?"

"Yes, it is odd," said his young doctor; "but the prices here are almost as impenetrable as the knife grass of the everglades. And as for Indians, the United States navy couldn't dislodge some of these old millionaire squaws from their snobbery."

"I'm afraid my daughter finds it so," the judge agreed. "Here we've been for two whole weeks and Lois doesn't know anybody who is anybody—except Pierpont Stafford's boy, and I'm afraid he's only flirting with her."

Doctor Royce had not been engaged to prescribe for Miss Lois Freeman's ambitions, so he changed the subject. "It's hard to believe that there is a blizzard in New York today when you look at these flowers and see those half-dressed mobs wallowing in the surf."

The judge gave a jump and gasped: "Good Lord, hear that scream! Some woman is being murdered."

Royce checked him with a gesture and a smile.

"Sit still, judge; it's only Gloria Stafford having another battle with her governess."

The judge settled back into his blanket, grumbling: "The little devil—always in hot water."

Doctor Royce came to her defense with a curious warmth. "They're driving her with too tight a rein. She's too big hearted and brave and wise to be treated as a child much longer."

The old man sighed: "We fathers with motherless girls to raise are pretty helpless cattle. I can send a criminal to the chair, but I can't punish my daughter; she does what she pleases, and it rarely pleases me. And Pierpont Stafford can run a string of banks and make a railroad system eat out of his hand, but that girl of his has him—I believe they say 'buffaloed'—or is it 'Pittsburghed'? Isn't that Pierpont out there in the surf now? I wish I could go in. Do you think I might?"

The doctor shook his head: "You run out on the links and play a little golf among the palm trees. Tomorrow I may let you have a dip."

"I don't feel quite up to golf."

"Go on; don't disobey. You're worse than—than—" Another scream from the corridor gave him the missing word. "You're worse than Gloria."

He lifted the judge from his chair, thrust a bag of golf clubs into his arms and ordered him off. The judge pleaded: "Who'll play with me? Will you?"

© GEORGE KLEINE 1916

Miss Billie Burke, Star of "Gloria's Romance."

"Not much! You've had enough of me for today. Here's your daughter. Miss Lois, let me introduce your father. Take him round the links once, won't you?"

Lois obeyed with more grace than graciousness. Her thoughts were on the two strings to her bow. She had had to content herself for her first week at Palm Beach with the attentions of Richard Freneau, a young broker in charge of a branch office at the Royal Poinciana. But recently she had caught the eye of David Stafford, and she had tried to hold it. Freneau was handsome—much too good looking for his own good or the good of any girl or woman he focused his eye upon. Freneau was magnetic and he was great fun, but David Stafford was good business. To capture the son of Pierpont Stafford would be high finance—something tremendous.

The judge, her father, kept his eyes on Lois more than on the golf ball, and landed in the bunkers with regularity. He knew that his daughter was up to some mischief, but he was sure that it was not the innocent mischief of the obstreperous Gloria.

* * * * * * *

Gloria Stafford, exquisite in her bathing suit, was like a bisque figure come to life—very much to life as she stood outside her bedroom door and held the knob against her governess, who tugged in vain at the opposite knob. Then Gloria let go, and the governess went staggering backward across the room, while Gloria with shrieks of laughter made her way off and down the corridor and out to the beach.

The beach being no less than Palm Beach, she dodged among throngs of the well known, the much photographed, who were also making their way, though more sedately, to the surf. It was twelve o'clock, the fashionable bathing time. To be seen in the water more than half an hour earlier or more than half an hour late was socially fatal.

The governess followed the fugitive in hot haste, but Gloria sought refuge in the crowded ocean. She dived and stayed under as long as she could, but Miss Sidney descried her at once and gesticulated violently, commanding her to come back. Gloria merely bobbed her pert little bonnet and splashed in behind her father. Miss Sidney persisted and Gloria gave her father a push, saying: "You go make her let me alone. Tell her she'll be sorry if she doesn't."

The capitalist floundered out with the apologetic manner of an overgrown schoolboy, for even he was afraid of the governess. And he was not very impressive in a bathing suit.

He made his way to Miss Sidney's presence and mumbled: "Would you mind if Gloria had her morning swim, please?"

The governess explained to him, as if she were talking to another child, that since Gloria had positively refused to work out her problem in algebra she had been forbidden to go into the water. Nevertheless she had flagrantly rebelled, secretly arrayed herself for the bath, and fled. It would never do to let her have her own way.

"Er—um—I see," said Stafford. He bowed meekly and returned with still less courage to face his daughter.

A widower with a woman-child of sixteen is pathetic enough at best, but Gloria was so effulgently sixteen, so eagerly alive, and so enchantingly pretty that her father was disarmed by a mere glance at her. His anger was sure to melt in a shamefaced smile.

In the meanwhile Gloria had made the most of her stolen moments and with swift overhand strokes had put a number of gleaming breakers between her and the shore.

She turned just in time to see her father beckoning to her with his best imitation of the stern parent. She knew that the governess had cowed him, and she did not wish to humiliate him by her own disobedience.

So she swam back through the heads floating on the water like apples floating in a Halloween tub. It made her boiling mad to be disgraced before all the important people. She could see some of them grinning at her. Her brother David openly ridiculed her and splashed water over her.

She pretended not to notice him, but, reaching her father at last, she hurled herself upon him and ducked him under the water. Then she scrambled to the beach. When the enraged governess seized her by the wrist Gloria tried to pull her into the froth. But the governess was too big for her and she hauled Gloria out of the romantic sea into a hard world of dry sand and drier mathematics.

Gloria slunk along in a white rage, a storm brewing behind her eyes. She was not often sullen and never morbid. She was made up of joy, sunlight and mischief, all the fresh and sweet of life. But she loathed being told to do things or not to do things, forbidden, commanded—in a word, bossed. She was poised at the nameless stage between childhood and girlhood. She was not what is termed "out," yet her restive spirit made it impossible for her to be kept "in." She was tired of being snubbed.

Her brother David, some four years her senior, made life increasingly lonesome for Gloria by his freedom and the superior, worldly airs he assumed for her especial torment. In earlier years they had been very near to each other, and now it was bitter to Gloria's proud soul to watch David coming and going at will, dancing every night, and flirting desperately with Lois Freeman, whom Gloria did not like because her brother did.

Oh, yes, David could flirt his head off, but her father turned white and her governess turned blue if Gloria so much as mentioned a lover in a novel or suggested that she might have one herself at some time in that future which she was waiting for as the next installment of an exciting serial. Gloria was woman enough to resent restraint and child enough to be capable of making a tragic blunder if she ever broke away.

* * * * * * *

Gloria issued a declaration of independence as soon as she reached her room. It began with "I'm too old to have a governess!"

"Thanks!" Miss Sidney snapped.

"You're more than welcome!" Gloria snapped back. "I want one thing understood. This is the last time I'll stand being treated as a child. I'm not one. At my age my grandmother was the mother of my mother, and if you don't change your treatment of me I'm going to run away and marry the first man I meet."

"People who are always going to do things never do them," said the governess, with the primness of a copybook. "But if you're so old and wise suppose you prove it first by doing your algebra lesson. It's very simple."

"They never made my grandmother learn algebra," Gloria protested.

"They never taught her to run an automobile either."

"That's another thing. My brother has a car of his own and I haven't even a pushmobile. Half the girls of my age have their own motors. I can run one as well as any of them. It's a shame that my father won't buy me one."

"Perhaps if you learned your lessons he might reward you with a car."

This rainbow of hope brought the end of the storm. Gloria beamed and ran to slip out of her bathing suit and into her luncheon frock. The governess almost smiled as she wrote the problem on the blackboard she used for Gloria's lessons. When Gloria came back Miss Sidney pointed to the figures.

"It's very simple, my dear," she said. "You have only to multiply a+b by a+b."

"But—"

"Work it out yourself, dear, and call me when it is finished."

Gloria stared at the problem and felt herself slipping back into childhood at a breakneck speed. She had no more idea of what it all meant than a new-born babe. She put on a pair of big tortoise shell spectacles, but they made her look younger than ever and gave her no help. She could see that foolish a+b, but she could not see why anyone should want to know what would happen if you did such a foolish thing as to multiply it by itself.

When the blackboard blurred before her eyes she moved to the window and stared at the glittering merriment of the crowd. Everybody was at play except Gloria; people in bathing suits, yachting flannels, golf togs, tennis things, bicycle clothes, motor gear. They streamed along the walks, the sand, the piazzas, sat in wicker chairs, or rolled along in "afromobiles."

By and by Gloria saw Lois Freeman come in from the links. When Dick Freneau sauntered up Lois deserted her father at once. Gloria did not like the way she ogled Mr. Freneau. Lois used the same languishing expressions Gloria had seen her working off on David.

Gloria wanted to run out and warn poor Mr. Freneau that Lois was a deceitful minx. Mr. Ferneau had such lovely, trusting eyes; it was a crime to lure him on. Gloria meditated. "They say he's a broker—whatever that is. I wonder what a broker breaks—hearts probably, if Mr. Fer-neau is a sample. Oh, dear, this awful algebra."

She stood pouting at life in general and study in particular. She turned back to her task and stood in so melancholy a posture that Doctor Royce, passing her window and seeing her, paused to study her for a moment as if she were a painted figure in a painted scene. He thought she was painted splendidly well. She was so pretty that she made his heart ache. It ached for himself and then for her, the poor little prisoner. He tapped on the window.

* * * * * * *

Gloria turned and recognized her visitor. Her eyes twinkled with affection. She did like Doctor Royce! David had presented him to her. Doctor Royce had graduated at David's college; they were members of the same fraternity.

"You ought to be out here in the sun," Doctor Royce suggested.

Gloria was shocked at the idea. She pointed to the blackboard. "I'm in jail for a thousand years. It will take me at least that long to do this hateful problem."

Royce could not enter her room to go to the blackboard, so he asked her to bring the blackboard to him. She fetched it joyously and gave him chalk and said: "There isn't any answer, though."

He was too polite to say, "Why, this is the easiest thing in the world," but he showed that it was for him by the speed and smiling ease of his chalk work.

In a moment the riddle was solved. Gloria understood it a little less than before, but it meant a release from captivity, and she was so entranced that she flung her arms about him and gave him a resounding kiss and called him "a wonderful, marvelous, angel man."

To her it was a kiss of childish gratitude for the help of older wisdom. She hurried the blackboard back to the easel and began to copy the doctor's neat figures in her own scrawl.

But Royce stood quivering with the unexpected attack. He knew that it was a young girl's kiss given in confidence and ignorance, and it was therefore sacred. But he could not help feeling a thrill of prophetic hope. Soon she must grow up to womanhood and—she must love someone, and why not him? She was very rich, but his own future was gorgeous in his dreams, and Gloria was the most gorgeous thing in his gorgeous dreams.

Then he reproached himself for the mood and grew sad at the thought of the years that must roll over Gloria's sunlit head before he could even pay court to her. And in those years what dangers might she not encounter—dangers to her health, her soul, her happiness? He longed to protect her through them all.

He saw that Gloria had already forgotten him. She had copied his work and she was rubbing out his calculations. He wondered if that were prophetic, too.

* * * * * * *

When Gloria had the blackboard all shipshape she howled to the governess to come and see her triumph. Gloria regretted the deception; but what other refuge has the weak from the strong?

Miss Sidney raised her eyebrows and doubtless suspected that Gloria had enjoyed outside aid; but she had an engagement of her own with the tutor of a rich young imbecile, and she pretended to be convinced.

Gloria was permitted to call it an algebra lesson, and for a reward she was assigned to the study of a list of the English kings. Gloria did not mind that, for she hid a stolen novel inside the page and read something far more important to her than ancient history—modern romance.

If Gloria had not learned a lesson of any importance that day, neither had her elders.

When dinner time came at last Gloria's maid allowed her to select her newest Paris gown for dinner. And it was a pleasant dinner, on the veranda, with the twilight drawing round like soft curtains, the lamps glowing everywhere in the tropical verdure like little moons, and the glimmering afromobiles spinning everywhere along the walks.

And there was music. The dancing was beginning a little distance away. Gloria tried to sneak a sip of her father's coffee, but Miss Sidney caught her at it and took the cup away. But except for her everything was beautiful and tender; the very atmosphere was full of pleasant reveries. And then Miss Sidney had to look at her watch and ruin everything with the insulting word: "Bedtime!"

Gloria pretended not to hear her and talked vigorously to David. But he only laughed an elder brother's laugh and lighted another cigarette. She ran to her father and nestled in his arms. He hugged her close, but she could tell that he was afraid of that gorgon governess.

"Daddy, darling, let me go to the dance." He shook his head. "Just three dances." He shook his head. "Two? One!" He shook his head. She knew that the governess had given him his orders.

David sniffed. "Little girls aren't allowed to mingle with grownups after dark."

Gloria choked for words and threw him one glance. If looks were smacks in the eye he would have had a good one. But he only laughed the more. Then her father hardened his heart and gave her a run-along-now kiss.

She went along, but she did not run. Once more the rebellion began to simmer in her brain.

Her helplessness was her chief grievance. How could a young girl defend herself from a big governess and a big maid, a flinty-hearted father and a brute of a brother? She was pondering while the maid took off her dinner gown and hung it up and handed her her sleeping suit. A pretty time to go to bed with all Florida calling to her under the moon!

She said her prayers with an absent-minded lack of conviction and crawled into bed. The governess and the maid put out the lights and left her. But they did not put out the moon.

The governess had a prosaic soul and she fell asleep in spite of the moon and the music and the pleading call of all outdoors. She even snored!

Gloria could stand everything but that. She stole from her bed and tiptoed to the governess' room to shake her and beg her not to play that tune on her nose. A better idea occurred to her. Seeing the governess' cloth slippers neatly placed on the bedside rug, Gloria pinned them there, whisked back into her own room and, flinging off her bedgear, slipped into her dinner gown again. She dressed in the dark and got away safely from her room.

She was afraid to face the brilliant lights and the crowd, but she found a nook on the piazza where she could peer in at a window and watch the whirling couples. The tune set her heart to waltzing and she was so famished for a dance that when old Judge Freeman came into sight she asked him to waltz with her. He shook his head dolefully.

"I'm sorry, my child, but I've been sent to bed, too."

She felt sorry for him, but she wished that people would stop calling her "my child."

She peeked at the ballroom again and watched the rivalry of David and Mr. Ferneau for the dances of Lois Freeman. The two men were jealous of each other. David was furious, and Gloria was glad of it.

After a time David had a great scheme. Never dreaming that Gloria was just outside the window, within hearing distance, he asked Lois if she would not enjoy a little moonlight spin in his racer. She said that she would. David said, "Wait right here," and left the ballroom. But Lois did not waste any time waiting. She beckoned Mr. Ferneau and told him that she had a headache and could dance only one more dance before she said goodnight. Gloria knew that she was killing time till David could get to the garage and back.

She heard David's car coming. The lights almost revealed her on the piazza. David stopped the car at a side entrance and ran into the hotel for Lois.

Then Gloria's inspiration came. She would save David from that siren and she would get a bit of moonlight for herself.

She dashed across the lawn and, stepping into the car, commanded it to obey her wild will, and away it went like a magic carpet.

* * * * * * *

Her practiced hands and feet knew the steering wheel and the clutch and the brakes and all, and there was a rapture beyond words in her power, her liberty, her speed. At last she was being obeyed and not obeying. This leaping monster outran the greyhound and bore her down moonlit lanes, shadowed with palms and beautiful strange trees and shrubs of exotic shape and perfume.

The road ran along the sea and the waves laughed with her. Out in the haze she saw a great full-rigged ship, loafing along the gulf stream. But she was in a better ship.

She could imagine the bewilderment of David and Lois when they stepped out for their clandestine escapade and found that somebody else had clandestinely escaped with the car. She laughed aloud at the picture.

She could imagine that governess waking at the racket of her own snores and getting up with a start, then deciding to see if Gloria were still in jail. She could see her putting her feet into her slippers and going kerflop! Gloria shrieked at this vision. It would pay her off for some of those cuffs on the ear that she had given Gloria. Gloria had been too good a sport to tell on her, but she had not forgotten them.

She could imagine the governess picking herself up and running barefoot into Gloria's bedroom—the empty cage whence the bird had flown. She could see the panic she fell into and the funny sight she made in her bathrobe as she dashed out into the corridor and hunted for Gloria's father to give the alarm.

Gloria proved how far she was from having outgrown her childhood by the things that amused and justified her flight. She was a child, but she had possessed herself of this perilous engine. She was flying at forty miles an hour along almost deserted roads, cutting through sleeping villages, little oases in a jungle that closed more and more gloomily, threateningly about the road. She had no idea of the time or the distance. She only knew that at last she was free. At last she was ruling something.

Gloria Found Lessons a Tedious Business.

Then abruptly she lost control of her magic steed. It ceased to obey the wheel. It wavered this way and that with terrifying uncertainty. The steering gear had broken.

* * * * * * *

With a sudden sharp swerve the car shot from the road and out upon the beach. Paralyzed with amazement more than fear, Gloria was carried across the sand straight into the waves. They rushed toward her as if the ocean were hungry for her. But the wheels sank in the wet sand and the breakers did not capture Gloria. They almost drowned her in their warm flood, however, and she made haste to extricate herself and climb out.

No human being saw that strange apparition, unless it were Father Neptune, and he must have thought it was Venus rising from the sea again—this time in a very fashionable but very moist dinner gown.

Gloria was only the more exultant from this new experience. She stood a moment on the car, then jumped off and raced a wave to the shore.

She found herself in a wilderness of sand dunes and mysterious bushes. She plunged among them, thinking less of making her way home than of exploring a little deeper this Eden into which she had stumbled.

She did not know what dangers lurked on every hand. There were multitudes of serpents in this Eden—cold, fierce rattlesnakes under the most beautiful flowers. Beneath the moonlit waters of little bayous were hungry alligators; under the unwary feet the quicksands might open; the paths ended suddenly in entanglements of tall sword grass that slashed the skin at touch.

And deep in the fastnesses were the remnants of the Seminole tribe who had fought the whites for years and baffled them till palefaced treachery overcame the Indian wiles. The redmen had never forgiven the whites, and they regarded their intrusions with hatred.

As children scamper into bloodcurdling danger with laughter, so the child Gloria danced through Paradise not knowing that she was lost in the everglades.

The Most Unkindest Cut.

The truest and most devoted friend that man ever had is the little inanimate bundle of nerves that stands guard by his bedside through the dead hours of the nights, its palpitating little heart spreading cheer and confidence over the surrounding gloom. Yet man often forgets the debt of gratitude he owes this faithful and tireless little friend for the sleepless watchful hours it subjects itself to in order that he may slumber in security and comfort, and when it sings its merry morning lay I have seen him, instead of bestowing fond caresses, reach from his warm quilts, grasp it ruthlessly and slam it into the farthest and darkest corner of the room, crushing the dainty hands that seemed uplifted in an attitude of horror and protection and unworthy reproaches as these, "Damn that blinkety-blank alarm clock anyhow!" then return to his snoring!—Zim, in Cartoons Magazine.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR GOODRIDGE

P. P. Palmer Granted a Twenty-five Year Franchise by the Village Council

The village of Goodridge, organized last spring, is already making rapid strides in the way of municipal improvements. A large amount of cement walks have been put in during the past summer and considerable building of a general nature has been going on. Now comes the announcement that the town is to be lighted by electricity, a franchise for this purpose having been granted last week. The following clipping from the Eleven Towns, tells of the work thus far done:

"P. P. Palmer went to the cities last week, and while there purchased an electric light plant large enough to light up the entire town. The plant will be here inside of a couple of weeks and it will be installed in plenty of time to give us light before the long dark winter evenings set in.

"Monday evening Mr. Palmer met with the village council, who granted him a franchise for 25 years. It is also the intention of the council to put in street lights. Work on wiring will commence as soon as an electrician can be procured. The work on the building to house the plant will begin right away. These lights will add greatly to the appearance of our little city, and most everyone will appreciate it, and wish Mr. Palmer success in this venture.

A FORMER "TIMES" EMPLOYEE MARRIED

Clarence Blunt Surprises Friends by Joining Benedicts Without Giving Them Notice

The following clipping taken from the Todd County Argus published at Long Prairie, concerns a young man who is very well known in Thief River Falls. He is a brother of Claude Blunt, linotype operator in the office of the Times, and so well did Clarence guard his intentions that not even his brother had the slightest knowledge of them. Clarence's many friends here will join in the well wishes extended by the Argus:

"Clarence E. Blunt, pilot of the Argus linotype machine, and Miss Clara M. Kircher, daughter of Mrs. Lena Kircher, of this city, sprung a big surprise on their many friends Saturday by slipping away to Sauk Centre in an automobile where they were married at nine o'clock in the evening. Rev. Duel of the First Methodist church performed the ceremony which took place in his study, and was witnessed only by Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Fuller, the latter a sister of the bride.

"After the ceremony the couple returned to Long Prairie and they will be at home to their friends at the Bremer cottage opposite the West Hotel as soon as the task of furnishing the home is completed.

"Mrs. Blunt was born in Todd county and has spent the most of her life in this city. She attended the local schools and her charming personality has won for her a large circle of warm friends.

"Mr. Blunt is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Blunt of Easton, Ill., where he received his education and learned his trade. He has been a Minnesota resident for several years, having formerly been a partner with his brother in a typesetting plant at Thief River Falls. He came to Long Prairie last October and during his ten months' stay here has made a great many friends. He is an energetic and industrious young man as well as an expert linotype operator.

"The Argus is more than pleased to join the hosts of friends in this loclity who extend congratulations and best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous wedded life."
